

CLEAR THE COMPLEXION OVERNIGHT.

Pimples, Rash, Eruptions, Etc., Quickly Eradicated by New Skin Remedy.

Since its discovery one year ago posam, the new skin remedy, has, in its extraordinary accomplishments, exceeded the most sanguine expectations of the eminent specialist who gave it to the world. It has cured thousands of cases of eczema and eradicated facial and other disfigurements of years' standing. The terrible itching attending eczema is stopped with the first application, giving proof of its curative properties at the very outset.

In less serious skin affections, such as pimples, rash, herpes, blackheads, acne, harbor's itch, etc., results show after an overnight application, only a small quantity being required to effect a cure. Those who use posam for these minor skin troubles can now avail themselves of the special 50-cent package, recently adopted to meet such needs. Both the 50-cent package and the regular $2 jar may now be obtained in Raleigh at the KingCrownell Drug Co., and other leading drug stores.

Samples for experimental purposes may be had free of charge by writing direct to the Emergency Laboratories, 32 West Twenty-fifth Street, New York City.

Where Bullets Flew.

David Parker, of Fayette, N. Y., a veteran of the civil war, who lost a foot at Gettysburg, says: "The good Electric Bitters have done me worth more than five hundred dollars to me. I spent much money doctoring for a bad case of stomach trouble, to little purpose. I then tried Electric Bitters, and they cured me. I now take them as a tonic, and they keep me strong and well." 50c at all drug-gists.

GEE! 'T WAS JUST GREAT

Large Crowd Showed Their Appreciation by Continuous Outburst of Applause—Song Catchy and Well Rendered by Fine Chorus.

"The White Hat," the opening bill of the Wayne Comedy Company, was one of the snappiest shows that the theatre going public of Raleigh have seen this season. The songs were new and catchy and were superbly rendered by the splendid cast. There was not a dull moment during the entire performance.

Encore upon encore greeted every song, several of them coming back three times. The swinging stunt was new and received hearty applause. The swings were beautifully illuminated with colored lights, the girls swinging far out over the audience and singing a late hit.

This performance was greeted by a far too small audience. It is a good show and doubtless will play to a packed house tonight.

WHAT RICHMOND THINKS OF "BROWN OF HARVARD."

The Richmond Times-Dispatch of September 29th has the following to say of the "Brown of Harvard" attraction, which comes to the Academy of Music Monday night:

"Brown of Harvard" is a love story that draws laughter and thrills from young men and younger women, but smiles for the memories of the long ago from those of more ancient years. The college lad grows chesty with the pride of comradeship; the debutante gleefully pictures herself the belle of the campus, while fathers, mothers and bald-headed, red-faced bachelors grow strangely sentimental over the cherished recollections of the days when college colors, a college song, a college victory, and better still a college love affair made life worth while.

This was the story that was told on the Academy stage last night, with just enough villian added here and there to push the hero well into the limelight and keep him there until at the end of the last act "the girl" falls into his anxious arms, while a "college widow" hat falls like a halo over his martyred head.

The matinee maiden who cannot enthuse over Mr. Tom Brown of any old college had best betake herself speedily to a nunnery, far from the heartaches and joys of life, and the youth falling to find delight in the fetching smiles of Evelyn Kenyon must have his heart buried in the regions of the lower waistcoat buttons like "Tubby" of the play.

Mr. James Young as Tom Brown furnished the thrills for the maidens last night. Good to look upon, a clever actor, and full of personal magnetism, he pictured admirably the popular college boy. Surrounding the star were a dozen capable young actors, who not only looked

As Evelyn Kenyon, Miss Catherine Calvert was as pretty, gushing and big-eyed as only a college girl, to a college boy's mind, can be, and with a heart large enough to find a snug place for the affection of her "men" admirers, even from the first to the very last.

A Word About the Fall and Winter Models in Men's Fine Clothes.

We are now showing the new styles for men; styles of authority every one. They are unusual models in the way clothes should be unusual—unusually good.

There is correct style-certainty to each model, which should be mighty satisfying to the man who respects his appearance, and who realizes that an error in clothes—like an error in conduct—reflects directly against the individual.

They are the sort of clothes that are made for men who have good judgment when it comes to quality, and good taste when it comes to selecting patterns, shades and fabrics.

There are enough of such men in this city to have enabled us to build up a splendid business in our line of goods; a trade sustained, mind you, not by the common demand, but by the uncommon demand of those who know best and reason most clearly, who know what they want, who know values and insist upon getting them.

We know you'll be interested in seeing the new models.
