THE SITUATION IN BULGARIA

War Clouds Still Hover Over Eastern Europe Though Powers Are for Peace

LONG WAR NOT LIKELY

There Has Been No Fighting and Armies Are Not in Fighting Range, But An Advance is Expected at Any Time—Tremendous Influence of Greater European Powers is For Peace and Long and Bloody Warfare is Not Considered Likely.

(By Cable to The Times) Constantinople, Oct. 6.—At the war office today it was unofficially denied that there had been a passage at arms between the Bulgarian and Turkish troops upon the frontier.

So far as can be learned here through the meagre methods of communication the armies are not within fighting range, although it is declared that an advance is expected and that news of firing is imminent.

Whether a skirmish is merely necessary to open the gates of war is something which cannot be definitely settled in the mind. The tremendous influence of the greater European powers is for peace and from advices given forth here so far today it is hardly likely that long and bloody warfare will result. Even before Prince Ferdinand promulgated the proclamation of peace yesterday, the Bulgarian troops had been advanced towards the Turkish borders as though to be held in readiness to repel an invasion. There are no indications of martial activity in Macedonia. Information was brought to the war office today that Austria-Hungary had mobilized two armies. Both armed corps are being held in readiness in case there be an outbreak over the proposed acquisition of Bosnia and Herzegovina.

Many rumors originated here today which were without foundation and great alarm was caused in some quarters by reports of an early morning battle. So far as the situation has crystallized Russia is for a conference of the powers; Austria-Hungary will take the aggressive, supported by Germany; France will act as the mediator save in the event that the Austrian-Hungarian empire persists in its demands for Turkish territory; England probably will support Russia.

For three days Turkey has been shipping rapid-fire guns towards the frontier.

It is said that today the sultan has dictated a long telegram to Emperor William, of Germany, asking his advice in the present situation. The sultan has always looked upon the kaiser as an ally and the news that Germany has supported Austria-Hungary was a shock to him. Kian-von Bieberstein, the German ambassador had a violent dispute with the ambassador, was told that Austria was the ally of Germany and had combined with Bulgaria.

Great Britain as Mediator. London, Oct. 6.—Great Britain has made mediatory propositions to Turkey and Bulgaria; France has also undertaken to act as mediator and Germany has announced she approves Great Britain's propositions.

An eminent English authority on European affairs, who refused to allow his name to be used, for obvious reasons, said today:

"The only real danger of a European war over the happenings in the near east will arise if the European powers summon a congress to deliberate upon the situation. Once Pandora's box of European ambitions, jealousies, rivalries and hatreds is opened, no one can foresee the consequences. If President Roosevelt wishes to deal for peace let him use all his influence to prevent the summoning of a European congress."

There is a disposition here to wait and see what Paris will do in a crisis that is deemed more momentous for her than any in thirty years. In Paris they wait on London, which they say, is far more directly concerned with Bulgaria's freedom and Austria's annexation of Bosnia and Herzegovina than France could possibly be.

It is considered certain that if Bulgaria and Turkey fight no power will interfere on either side, so the quarrel will be strictly limited.

PITIFUL CASE OF RABIES IN HOME

Wife Strapped to Her Bed While Husband Sits in Other Room Fearing Attack

FOUR PEOPLE BITTEN

Another Lady Living in the Immediate Neighborhood Was Bitten by Same Dog and She is Suffering From Nervous Attack—Doctors Fear She Will Develop Hydrophobia—A Mail Carrier Was Also Bitten But Has Continued to Deliver His Mail—Victims Took Pasteur Treatment.

(By Leased Wire to The Times) New York, Oct. 6.—Mrs. Harvey M. Day, of 16 Cherry street, Elizabeth, N. J., died today of rabies from the bite of a pet bull terrier, in spite of the fact that she had been under the Pasteur treatment for the past seven weeks.

Mrs. Day had to be restrained in a straight jacket for the past twenty-four hours, so violent did her struggles become. All hope of saving her had been given up several days ago and her husband was compelled to see her die by inches before his eyes.

(By Leased Wire to The Times) Elizabeth, N. J., Oct. 6.—Mrs. Harvey Day, of 16 Cherry street, is strapped to her bed and dying in her home today, having developed rabies, while her husband sits in an adjoining room, fearing every minute that the disease will attack him and that he, too, will have to be restrained until relieved by death.

In a neighboring house is Mrs. Samuel Doty, an intimate friend of Mrs. Day, who was also bitten by the dog. She, too, is in a state of nervous collapse, and should Mrs. Day die the doctors say she is almost certain to develop hydrophobia. A letter carrier was also bitten.

The dog, which was a pet in the Day home, was being led down the street by Mrs. Day a month ago, when she became entangled in his leash. Suddenly he began to show signs of rabies and attacked his mistress. Five times he sang his teeth in her arm, hurling her to the pavement. Mrs. Doty saw the attack and ran to the rescue of her friend, when the dog set upon her and bit her several times on the hands and arms.

The dog then started up the street and met Mr. Day, who had heard the screams of his wife and Mrs. Doty. The animal fastened his teeth in Mr. Day's leg, and the letter carrier who happened along tried to free Mr. Day from the mad brute, when he was bitten, too. The dog was killed and showed unmistakable signs of hydrophobia.

All four victims came to New York and were treated at the Pasteur Institute. It was thought all danger of rabies was over until a week ago, when Mrs. Day confided to her physician that she knew she was innoculated.

The letter carrier has kept at work constantly, and this has diverted his mind. He, too, is nervous, now that Mrs. Day is dying, and the mental effect on him is feared.

KITCHEN AT APEX. About 2,000 People Hear Democratic Champion Today. (Special to The Times) Apex, Oct. 6.—An immense crowd assembled here today to hear Hon. W. W. Kitchen, the next governor of North Carolina, speak. About 2,000 people heard the speech and the enthusiasm they manifested was spontaneous and unbounded. He made a good speech and carried the crowd with him.

Special trains from Raleigh and Durham brought hundreds of visitors and the regular trains from Dunn and the south also brought quite a number.

After the speaking a barbecue was served. Music was furnished by the Caraleigh band.

Mill Works Burned. (By Leased Wire to The Times) Williamsport, Pa., Oct. 6.—The cutting mill of the Williamsport Nail Works was totally destroyed by fire last night involving a loss from $75,000 to $100,000. About 250 men are thrown out of employment.

Hon. John W. Kern.

John W. Kern Speaks At Old Guilford Battle Ground Today to Many Thousands

(By Leased Wire to The Times) Greensboro, Oct. 6.—John W. Kern, vice-presidential nominee on the democratic ticket, arrived here today to deliver an address on the historic battle ground at Guilford. The day was made a gala occasion and there are barbecues and pic-nics in which practically the entire population has joined.

Great Crowd Greet Speaker. (Special to The Times.) Greensboro, Oct. 6.—Mr. Kern and party did not arrive until after 1 o'clock this afternoon and were driven in automobiles direct to Guilford Battleground, where an audience of 1,000 had assembled this morning. They were entertained from 11 to 1 by able and eloquent and A. L. Brooks, democratic candidate for congress from the fifth district.

William Randolph Hearst Throws Brick at Mr. Kern

(By Leased Wire to The Times) Los Angeles, Cal., Oct. 6.—William Randolph Hearst threw another of his justly celebrated political bricks last night in a speech directed at John Worth Kern, the democratic nominee for vice president.

In part Mr. Hearst said: "Mr. Kern, who has achieved fame as the railroad pass candidate and who aspires to represent the Big Four Railroad in the government of the United States, seems eligible for the retired list in the face of these returns and without the presentation of any further facts."

"Mr. Kern was nominated for the vice presidency by one of the most corrupt bosses in the country—Tom Taggart, of Indiana. You citizens, in your simple, trustful natures, may think that a convention nominated Mr. Kern. A democratic convention does not nominate nowadays—it merely ratifies an appointment. Mr. Bryan for twenty-four hours held up the convention at Denver to offer

OPENING WAS A GRAND SUCCESS

Tomorrow Will Be Children's Day That the Young May Taste Carnival Joys

BIG CROWDS ON STREETS

Go and Carry the Children—That Means Everybody, for Frets and Worries Fly Away and Age is Banned Once Within the Portals of This Palace of Profit and Perfection—Do Not Dare to Deprive the Little Ones of the Gladness That Goes With a Visit to This Promised Land.

The great Masonic Indoor Carnival opened in a burst of glory, fireworks, lights and music last night. Raleigh people like to have somewhere to go and are always ready for a good time. Before dark the crowd began to congregate at the capitol square, on the streets and sidewalks, waiting for the great illumination. It looked like circus day in Raleigh to see the great crowds on the street. Old and young had come out for the great event.

The search light was at work and just before the great building was illuminated the long shaft of white light went flashing over the city, resting for a moment here and there and then all was darkness until the button was pressed and the temple stood out against the dark sky in a glare of lights. The band played, the cannon boomed, and the people cheered—the great carnival was opened. The A. & M. band played at the corner of Hargett and Fayetteville streets, while Levin's Orchestra played in the Temple.

About 8 o'clock the crowds began to pour into the big auditorium and then fun and frolic began, lasting until a late hour. The confetti and serpentine flew fast and furious. There was a battle royal, which covered the floor and powdered the girls' hair and dresses with the bits of colored paper.

The congestion at the entrances was pretty great sometimes, owing to the great crowds, but as the people were going and coming constantly, the crowds were not too great to be unpleasant.

The black art performance was a feature of the evening. The booths were kept busy and everything passed off nicely. There was not an unpleasant occurrence to mar the pleasure of the whole evening.

Many enjoyed the pleasure of dancing on the second floor. Tonight the roof garden will be open with its attractions, the side-shows and the midway will all be going in full blast. The midway and all the shows may be seen tonight for ten cents, the price of one admission. The athletic man from New York, will be there and give a performance with heavy weights. He will break a great pipe in his arms. He can lift nearly a ton. Then there is the "Transfiguration," where two people are merged into one and then into a skeleton. It is weird and wonderful. There is the peep show, the Japanese tumblers or trained mice, the bottomless well, the headless girl, the skeleton and coffin or "See your finish" as it is called, and many other attractions, all on the midway.

Tomorrow afternoon will be children's day. The carnival will be open at 4 o'clock and all the children will be there to enjoy the fun.

The joys and pleasures of the great carnival are too many to be mentioned. The booths are just as attractive as possible with their delightful wares.

There has been some misunderstanding as to the term "free indoor carnival." The small sum of ten cents is charged for an entrance fee but there are many free attractions after entering.

Go and get the carnival spirit, for it is charged with the carnival life and spirit and that is the place to have a good time and to see everybody else.

Marriage License Today. —Marriage licenses have been issued to Fabius J. Haywood, Jr., and Miss Elizabeth Burton, of Raleigh; Charles V. Hiles, of Wadesboro, and Miss Estelle Timberlake, of Raleigh, and to two colored couples: Alf Hinton and Mamie Smith, of Raleigh, and Vestor Evans and Ella Morrison, of New Hill.

Ten New Cases Cholera. Manila, Oct. 6.—Ten new cases of cholera were reported for the last 24 hours. The list includes two Americans, C. O. Hardough, of the civil service, and Charles Ridgeway, known as the "blind poet."

GERMANS TAKE QUAKER CITY

150,000 German-Americans Participate in Parade Preceding Unveiling of Mon't

TEDDY WISHES SUCCESS

Dedication of Corner-stone of a Monument to Founder of Germantown Celebrated by One of Greatest Demonstrations of its Kind Ever Held in the Nation—Not Only Did Germans of Philadelphia Participate, But Thousands of Sons and Daughters of Fatherland From Other Cities Attended.

(By Leased Wire to The Times) Philadelphia, Oct. 6.—The following telegram was received yesterday: "White House, Washington, October 5, 1908.

"C. J. Hexamer, Esq., President National German-American Alliance, Philadelphia, Pa.

"Through you I present my heartiest good wishes for the success of the National German-American Alliance on the occasion of its going to celebrate the 225th anniversary of the first German emigration to this country.

"From that day to this Americans of German birth and descent have borne high and honorable part in the history of this great nation.

"Theodore Roosevelt."

With a street parade, the dedication of the corner-stone of a monument to the founder of Germantown, and a patriotic celebration tonight the German-Americans of Philadelphia today held one of the greatest demonstrations of its kind ever held in this state, if not in the nation.

Not only did all the German-Americans of this city participate in the exercises in commemoration of the landing of the first German colonists under the leadership of Franz Daniel Pastorius in 1683 and the founding of Germantown, but thousands of sons and daughters of the Fatherland were here from other cities.

First of the events today was the street parade preceding the unveiling of the Pastorius monument corner-stone in Vernon Park, Germantown. It formed at Broad street and Erie avenue, with eight divisions and many bands of music.

There were 150,000 men in line with wagons, coaches and floats.

Count Von Hatzfeldt-Wildenburg, charge d'affaires of the German embassy at Washington, and at present acting ambassador to the United States; Captain Von Pritzwitz, the military attaché and Captain Retzmann, the naval attaché, were present as the representatives of Emperor William at the unveiling ceremonies.

ROCKEFELLER, JR. LOCKED IN CELL

(By Leased Wire to The Times) New York, Oct. 6.—William G. Rockefeller, Jr., son of the Standard Oil magnate and nephew of John D., was locked up in a cell in the Morrisania police station today because he was unable to furnish $100 bail.

Young Rockefeller and two men, who gave their names as Walter Giffney and Arthur Gibbons, New Rochelle bankers, were arrested on the Pelham parkway last night charged with over-speeding. The three were unable to raise $100 between them. When the case was called before Magistrate Moss today young Rockefeller was held in $100 bail for special sessions. If he had made any attempt to improve his financial condition over night, he met with but little success. His friends, too, were in the same straitened circumstances as before and as the bail was not forthcoming Rockefeller was locked up. At latest reports Giffney and Gibbons were scouring the city trying to get some one to come to his rescue.

General Fitzgerald Dead. New York, Oct. 6.—General Louis Fitzgerald, former president of the Mercantile Trust Company, of New York, died today at Garrison-on-the-Hudson. He was appointed a brigadier general in 1862.
