A kiss, a hug and baby slips off his mother's lap into a bowl of clean, warm water.

There he finds a Sponge and a Cake of Ivory Soap.

Mother squeezes the sponge and water runs all over baby's arms, his body, his legs and his little pink toes.

Then she takes the soap, does something with it and baby is covered with a soft creamy lather that takes all the dirt away and leaves his skin as smooth as satin.

Ivory Soap 99 1/2 Per Cent. Pure.

LOCAL BRIEFS

—Mr. N. B. Broughton conducted the services at the Soldiers' Home yesterday afternoon.

—Dr. W. G. Bryan, of Garner, who had his leg crushed sometime ago by a mowing machine, is able to be out again with the aid of crutches.

The Origin of Knitting.

Knitting has been known for centuries and as early as the fifteenth century good examples of knitting work were to be found especially in Italy, Spain and Germany. Among the first knitted stockings were those made of silk by Henry II of France on the day of his sister's wedding to the Duke of Savoy in 1559. Since then silk has been more and more worn for stockings. The stocking itself has been improved also in many ways, and now the latest development is the double tipped stocking made with the re-enforced so called garter top that will not wear out where the hose supporter clasp bites the fabric.

Civic cases only are to be tried in Scotland, Guilford and Wake.

ONE CASE OF INTEREST.

In re Pauline Hammond Phillips, an Infant, Argued Today—Decision Tomorrow.

In the superior court today there was only one case of interest. This was the case of In re Pauline Hammond Phillips, an infant. The case is one of considerable interest and involves the possession of a little girl.

Pauline Phillips is the granddaughter of Mr. W. W. Fowler. Mr. Fowler is fighting for the possession of the child, who is now in care of her stepmother, her father and mother both being dead. Mr. Fowler has many friends who wish him success in the fight for "his baby," as he calls the little girl. Col. J. C. L. Harris and W. L. Watson represent Mr. Fowler. Argo, Holding and Bunn represent the defense. The case was argued this morning. The decision of the court will be announced tomorrow morning.

The calendar for today is as follows: In re Pauline Hammond Phillips, an infant.

Here at a glance—as quick as a flash—you have them before you. Day by day there are new ones offered.

Or perhaps it's the other way. You have a delightful room to rent. Tear down that bill that disfigures your house. The same people pass through your street every day. They have homes. The people who are looking for rooms read The Times. They're looking for that room of yours. Remember The Times, put in your ad. and there the question is solved.

Don't forget, you seek for rooms, that good, large, airy rooms can be had at as small cost usually as dingy, ill-ventilated ones, and the quickest way to find them is to read the Classified Want Columns of The Times.

New York Cotton.

(By Leased Wire to The Times)

New York, Oct. 26—Cables were disappointing and the ginning report was construed as rather bearish at the opening of the cotton market. Sentiment, however, was rather bullish and it seemed that many traders were waiting for the ginning report to purchase cotton which caused prices to rally to Saturday's final prices.
