

THE HARRIMAN CASE Suits to Dissolve Union Pacific System

Government Began Taking Evidence This Morning—Alleged That Merger of Lines is in Restraint of Trade and Contrary to Law.

(By Leased Wire to The Times) New York, Dec. 1.—The government's suit to dissolve the Union Pacific Railroad system controlled by E. H. Harriman reached the evidence-taking stage today. The government began this morning taking testimony in the litigation in which it is alleged that the railroad merger in question was brought about in restraint of trade and contrary to the Sherman anti-trust statute.

The bill filed in the suit demands that the court set aside the ownership of the Union Pacific Railroad of its subsidiaries, the Southern Pacific and the San Pedro, Los Angeles and Salt Lake Road, and the ownership by either the Union Pacific or the Oregon Short Line, of stock in the Atchafalaya, Topeka & Santa Fe, the Great Northern and the Northern Pacific roads. These railroads are deemed to be competitors of the Union Pacific and are known as Harriman lines.

Several of the attorneys who are engaged in the Standard Oil hearings are also to take part in this litigation. They are Frank Kellogg, who, with C. A. Severance, of St. Paul, will represent the government and John G. Milburn, of Buffalo, who is assistant counsel for the defense.

NUMBER DEAD 140.

All the Bodies in Marianna Mine Have Been Located.

(By Leased Wire to The Times) Marianna, Pa., Dec. 1.—When W. A. Cunningham, state mine inspector, of Greensburg, came up out of the mine at noon today he said that all the bodies had been located. The bodies are under falls of slate and do not number more than seven men. With the 133 bodies already recovered, this would bring the total to 140.

Joshua Clark, twenty-one months; M. T. Ritch, a year and a day; Will Critcher, seventeen months; Joe Beale, Thomas Holman, Sid Boykin, Tom Peele, J. N. Lee, J. H. Hayes and Major Jones, each for a year and a day.

HAYES AND DORANDO WILL RACE AGAIN SOON

(By Leased Wire to The Times)

New York, Dec. 1.—Johnny Hayes, winner of the Marathon, challenged Dorando, who defeated him at Madison Square Garden at Hammerstein's last night to another race. Dorando accepted. Hayes said he was not in condition at the garden race and asked Dorando to give him another chance. The latter readily assented.

DE SAGANS WILL HAVE INNING

(By Cable to The Times.)

Paris, Dec. 1.—"We shall retaliate tomorrow. It will be our day for the laying bare of immoral lives and hidden domestic secrets."

With this declaration uttered with all the emphasis of gesture at his command, Prince Helle De Sagan today dismissed our correspondent when questioned as to the possible trend of events in the Palais De Justice. Tomorrow the third installment of Count Boni De Castellane's suit for the custody of his children will be heard. Incidentally, the count is asking for $60,000 a year for their proper maintenance.

While the children are in the case of their mother, Princess De Sagan, extreme precautions are being taken against their being stolen. The mother, who was formerly Miss Anna Gould, the American heiress, will allow no one to see the children save their tutor, the priest, and the most intimate friends of the family. The vast material money value of the children has excited the French mind to such an extent that a romantic kidnapping for princely ransom would be a fitting climax to the melodramatic domestic life. Mme. Gould according to the French interpretation of the case.

M. Clemenceau, counsel for the Prince and Princess De Sagan, will present his arguments in part tomorrow.

Marked for Death.

"Three years ago I was marked for death. A graveyard cough was tearing my lungs to pieces. Doctors failed to help me, and hope had fled, when my husband got Dr. King's New Discovery," says Mrs. A. C. Williams, of Bac, Ky. "The first dose helped me and improvement kept on until I had gained 58 pounds in weight and my health was fully restored." This medicine holds the world's healing record for coughs and colds and lung and throat diseases. It prevents pneumonia. Sold under guarantee at all drug stores, 50c. and $1.00. Trial bottle free.

Dorando a Professional.

(By Cable to The Times.) Rome, Dec. 1.—The National Gymnastic Federation has resolved to consider Dorando a professional runner on the ground that he was paid to compete with Hayes in the so-called Marathon race in New York.

Standard Oil Secrets Bare

Junct to the business as a whole. The business has outgrown transportation by railroad. The pipe line had to be created to insure regular supply. It would not have been able to develop the oil industry to its present efficiency were it not for the pipe lines."

This closed the direct examination. Frank Kellogg, who has gained the courtriquet of trust buster through his ceaseless warfare against merged capital, slowly arose from his chair and faced the witness squarely. The hour was at hand when he might be able to wring from this witness what he had sought for years in the courts.

The first question was: "Are you the vice president of the Standard Oil Company?" To which the witness stated that he was one of them. Witness could not remember when he was elected. His memory grew bad, with the suddenness of lightning in a peaceful sky.

Mr. Archbold said he has been active in the affairs of the Standard Oil Company since 1899. He was a director in the Anglo-American Company. When Kellogg asked him how many years he had been a leading spirit in the Standard of New York the witness looked embarrassed and replied:

"Always. In just half a dozen questions the witness said for the first time, "I can't remember."

It was when Kellogg asked him whether the Manhattan Oil Company of Ohio owned the Oil Creek Refinery. The witness, after a legal tilt, was called upon to answer that the Manhattan was competing with the Standard in Ohio.

Mr. Archbold refused to produce the books of the Anglo-American Company, saying he had not the authority to do so. Archbold stated that he had resigned from the directorate of the Anglo-American Company but was quick to deny that he had done so on account of an investigation which was pending.

The witness fenced warily to keep it secret who the American directors of the Anglo-American are. He said he had resigned and he thought Jno. D. Rockefeller, H. I. Rogers, Mr. Moffitt and others had resigned, too. He refused to furnish a list of the directors and with this unsatisfactory conclusion a recess was taken.

ELEGANT DINNER IN HONOR OF MISS FORT.

Mrs. Paul C. Lee gave an elegant dinner on last evening in honor of Miss Katherine Fort, whose marriage to Mr. Parker Anderson will be celebrated tomorrow morning.

The table decorations were of the most beautiful, large white chrysanthemums forming the centerpiece, and being used lavishly in the decorations. The color scheme of green and white was tastefully carried out in every detail. Green shaded candles shed a soft glow over the scene. Dainty hand-painted Gibson heads were used as place cards.

The elegant eight course dinner was served in faultless style and was a most sumptuous repast. The leas were especially attractive and dainty, being in the shape of white lilies.

Mrs. Lee was assisted in receiving her guests by her daughter, Miss Margaret Lee, and both were most gracious hostesses. No more delightful event can be numbered among the social events of this season.

Mrs. Lee's guests were: Miss Fort, Mr. Parker Anderson, Mr. Bartlett Wise, and Mr. W. M. Cowles.

LINEN SHOWER GIVEN IN HONOR OF MISS FORT

On yesterday afternoon one of the most pleasant social events of the season was celebrated, when Mrs. W. A. Wynne entertained at a linen shower in honor of the bride-elect, Miss Katherine Fort.

Receiving in the hall were Mrs. Ivan Proctor and Miss Frances Fort, who most charmingly ushered the guests into the parlor to meet Mrs. Wynne and Miss Fort. From here they were ushered into the linen room, where frappe was served by Mrs. K. W. Smead and Miss Mille Fort. In the dining room Mrs. Nathaniel A. Dunn presided, ably assisted by Miss Sarah Hinton Fort, Miss Eliza Wynne and Lotta Watson. Delicious refreshments were served.

At 5:30 came the shower. The parlor was tastefully decorated in green and white. From an arch in the bay window was suspended a white parasol, from which a pouch concealed the linen gifts, among them being beautiful drawn work, embroideries, and batonburg. Here much merriment followed. The hostess first gave a rhyme, which ran thus:

"Here's to our bride-elect,
While seated in queenly effect,
We come to crown her
In a lovely bower
'Tis quite simply called
A linen shower."

Then drawing a cord from the pouch the gifts came showering down on the bride, each one containing a rhyme, which was read by the bride. Then the guests, namely, Mesdames Wade Brown, Wallace Riddick, R. W. Dunn, Geo. A. Martin, Lynn Wilder, F. P. Brown, J. L. Moore, J. P. Ray, R. E. Turner, W. R. Crawford, J. J. Barefoot, Robert Webb Wynne, Misses Emma Taylor, Belle Pescus, Elsie Stockard, Pauline Hill, Henrietta Hardin, Katherine Badger, Janet Badger, Miriam Seawell, Hattie Arrington, Maude Arrington, Margaret Lee, Mary Carter Ray and Mary Wynne, all said "good-bye" to their old friend, "Katherine Fort," and wished her many happy years as "Mrs. Anderson."
