STATE NEWS.

Big Meeting in Greenville. Greenville, Dec. 29.—Greenville will attempt to do herself proud on December 31st, when the trustees of the Eastern Carolina Training School for Teachers, Governor Glenn, and Governor-elect Kitchin, and all the state and county officers will meet to inspect and discuss the possibilities of this great institution. In an invitation to the editor of The Times to be present, Mr. F. M. Wooten, president of the chamber of commerce, has the following to say: "North Carolina, and especially eastern North Carolina, is vitally interested in the great school now under construction here, and we wish you to see the magnificent plant being erected and the progress made in the work. Also we have a county and town of which we are proud. Come and be with us that day."

Shot by Unknown Party. Winston-Salem, Dec. 29.—Mrs. Peter Van Durant, whose home is near Francisco, Stokes county, was shot and dangerously wounded last Friday evening by a party unknown to her. She was standing in her house and the shot, which passed through her front door, penetrated her body. Physicians were called and the best of attention is being given the wounded woman, though her condition is regarded serious. Some think the shooting was accidental, while others believe that the shot was intended for Mr. Van Durant, who was at home at the time.

Forger Film-Flams Lawyers. Durham, Dec. 29.—One of the slickest forgery tricks ever done in this town was worked by Robert C. Morris, known as "Kid" Morris. He secured over $700 in money and then stole a horse and buggy from a livery stable and left for parts unknown. The forgery and robbery was made known on Saturday, but the police were loath to give out anything about the matter. Morris skipped town on Saturday. Up to this time the officers have failed to locate him.

The grand climax of the Morris escapade developed on Saturday, and it was then shown that the operations for this triple steal began on November 14. On that date he carried a paper to Lawyer J. E. Pogram and asked that he loan his sister, Mrs. Bessie K. Blackwell, $350. The papers were served, honored, and the money loaned. These papers are forgeries.

On December 26 Morris again applied to Mr. Pogram for a loan, saying that the additional loan would restate the first paper. He wanted $884.40 on the mortgage and deed of trust. On the face of the second paper it was stated that the only indebtedness on the property was the note of $350. The lawyer knew that Mrs. Blackwell was worth the money and there was no question since the paper was signed by her and was witnessed by Justice of the Peace D. C. Gunter. The names of Mrs. Blackwell and Justice Gunter were forged on both of the papers presented. The money was secured from another lawyer, who advanced the funds.

It is learned that as a matter of finding the facts the question has been referred to a number of lawyers here, who will see who are the responsible parties. This does not apply as to the matter of obligation, as it is understood that the two lawyers are not quibbling about that, but that the question is to place the responsibility for being taken in by such a fellow.

Notices have been sent to all sections to get him if possible.

State National Guards Want $50,000. Greensboro, Dec. 29.—At the annual meeting of the North Carolina National Guard Association, in session here yesterday, resolutions were adopted asking for an appropriation from the legislature of $50,000 for the National Guard of North Carolina to be expended by the advisory committee appointed by the association for the maintenance and expense of the national guard of this state.

A resolution was also adopted thanking Governor Glenn for his help and assistance during his administration. Officers for the ensuing year were elected as follows: President, Gen. Francis A. Macon, of Henderson; first vice-president, Maj. W. C. Rodman, of Washington; second vice-president, Capt. Mark W. Williams, of Charlotte; secretary and treasurer Maj. R. T. Daniels, of Weldon; assistant secretary and treasurer, Capt. Cohen, of Goldsboro. A rising vote of thanks was given to the retiring officers.

Train Wrecker Opens Switch. Spring Hope, Dec. 29.—Some unknown miscreant broke the lock at spur switch Morgan's Mill, two miles from here yesterday afternoon, threw switch, and threw lock away. The passenger train due here at 5 o'clock ran into the switch and against a box car. The engine turned across the track and the cab was demolished, the baggage car was smashed and the front passenger coach derailed. Negro fireman, Will Mitchell, jumped and suffered a broken leg. Engineer D. C. Swindell stayed at his post and escaped unharmed, save for a few bruises. One negro passenger went through a window and had his arm bruised.

All the passengers were shaken up, but escaped without serious injuries. Captain Hill was in charge of the train. A majority of the passengers walked to Spring Hope. Engineer Swindell was to retire soon from the service of the road on account of his age. Just after the wreck a man was seen running away from the spot.

Drug Store Burned. Lillington, Dec. 29.—Between four and five o'clock Saturday morning the old well-established drug store of John A. Rogers & Co. was burned. It caught from the attached barber-shop of Ed. Evans. The soda fountain and part of the goods were saved, but very much damaged. There was some insurance, but not enough to cover loss. The firm will open up in a few days in the store next to Hotel Rogers. There was a total loss on the barber-shop, $150 insurance.

PREPARING FOR INAUGURATION

The directors of the chamber of commerce were called together last night to arrange for the inauguration of Governor Kitchin on January 12th. It was decided to make the occasion a memorable one. All of the military companies of the state will be asked to be present and it is expected that there will be at least 12 companies present. The A. & M. cadets will be on hand and join in the parade.

Maj. J. J. Bernard, the ranking line officer of the state militia in Raleigh being present on special invitation with Capt. W. F. Moody, of the Raleigh Light Infantry, stated that the local soldiery will co-operate in every way to make the occasion a great success. There are thirty-six military companies and six or seven divisions of the naval reserves in North Carolina, he said, but thought that not more than twelve companies would participate in the inauguration. The largest number of these companies ever here at one time was sixteen, when President Roosevelt spoke at the state fair. These twelve companies would bring an average of fifty men each, making a total of 600 men upon whom the city could count in providing the means for their entertainment.

Dr. Charles Lee Smith moved that the chamber extend an invitation to the North Carolina National Guard to participate in the inauguration, the citizens of Raleigh to provide for their entertainment. A telegram to this effect was despatched last night to the North Carolina National Guard Association in annual session at Greensboro.

On motion of Mr. Battle, Major Bernard and Captain Moody were requested to co-operate with the chamber of commerce committee. The Military Committee. Major Bernard last night announced the members of the military committee, as follows: Major J. J. Bernard, chairman; Colonel Alfred Williams, Lieutenant-Colonel R. L. Lelander, Major R. M. Albright, Captain W. F. Moody, Lieutenants W. R. Miller, Z. P. Smith, E. B. Parish, S. L. Rotter and Gordon Smith.

On motion of Hon. R. H. Battle the president was authorized to appoint a committee of five, of which the president should be chairman, to make arrangements for the inauguration and have full power to act in all things. On motion Col. Fred. A. Olds, secretary of the chamber of commerce, was added to this committee. The president postponed the naming of the committee until today.

REV. W. R. HUNTINGTON. Rev. W. R. Huntington, rector of Grace Church, whose attempt at resignation, met with a protest in the form of a check for more than $40,000.

AMUSEMENTS

What the Boston Record has to say of this attraction that will appear here next week:

Some of the bolts of laughter excited by the big mirth situations of the musical gaily, "A Knight for a Day," at the Tremont last evening one could have heard over in the subway, across the street. The moonlight elopement scene of the nervous little waiter and the "servant lady" of the piece stands paramount among the laugh episodes of musical gaily offered here in years. The audience was liberally ap- plaudive throughout.

Some one, commencement day at a girls' school, brings to light the fact that somebody has left two lockets and a large fortune for a young couple, provided they marry. They are disinclined to comply, having other plans in view. Scene two is Cornish. The lockets are given to Tilly, the chore maid, and Jonathan Joy, ex-waiter, pseudo-lawyer, carpet-bag "Knight for a Day." Do they get the fortune also? And does Muriel, the adorable, marry Marco, the regulation Adonis? We hope and suppose so.

The chorus deserves praise for its excellent dancing and precision in all maneuvers. It contains a pony ballet. Two electrical features, a game of see-saw in semidarkness and the closing chorus, in which the beat is marked with colored lights, are novel and beautiful. The best song is one of a sentimental nature, "Garden of Dreams," by Clara Kummer. It will be heard in the parlor.

The costumes are fresh and attractive and the stage management is excellent.—Boston Evening Record.

TASTE STILL LINGERS.

Still Feeling Effects of "Dixie Girl" Presentation.

After excusing the management of the Academy again, as he has already apologized for that barn-storming aggregation that brought hail, rain, thunder, and lightning to our city on Christmas day, we still have one factor to contend with. Oh that dark-browed taste, left in our mouth by that elevating comedy drama entitled, "Oh, you Dixie, or did they drop from the clouds?"

Occasionally, when buying eggs, you will find a few good ones in the bunch. In this case, however, nothing doing. All bad and still smelling.

AMBASSADOR GRISCOM TENDERS RESIGNATION

(By Leased Wire to The Times.) Washington, D. C., Dec. 28.—It is stated here on undisputed authority that Ambassador Lloyd C. Griscom has tendered his resignation, to take effect March 4, next, and that on the expiration of the present administration he will retire to private life.

The dispatch from the Italian capital states that Mr. Griscom has informed King Victor Emmanuel of his determination to return to this country to engage in politics. Whether Mr. Griscom will take to politics on his return is not known here. It is not believed that any cabinet place awaits him, as Mr. Taft has chosen the premier of his cabinet from Pennsylvania, Mr. Griscom's state, and it is extremely improbable that that state would be given two cabinet places.

No human tongue can tell how I suffered, and I had given up hope of ever getting well until I began taking Foley's Kidney Remedy. After taking two bottles I felt like a new person, and feel it my duty to tell suffering women what Foley's Kidney Remedy did for me."—King-Crowell Drug Co., Fayetteville and Hargett streets.
