New York Cotton. (By Leased Wire to The Times.) New York, Feb. 1.—Weak cables had a bearish effect on the local cotton market at the opening this morning and prices started easy at a decline of 5 to 7 points. There appeared to be a fair demand for May around 9.45 and for October at 9.20 and spot interests continued to buy quietly on all soft spots. Opening: Feb., offered, 9.50; March, 9.52 to 9.53; May, 9.45 to 9.46; July, 9.38 to 9.39; Aug., 9.29 bid; Sept., 9.25 bid; Oct., 9.21 to 9.22; Dec., 9.14 to 9.15.

Raleigh Cotton Market. Good middling, 9 1/2 c. Strict middling, 9 c. Middling, 8 3/4 c. Receipts today, 15 bales.

New York Cotton Letter. (W. B. Hibbs & Company) New York, Feb. 1.—The market slumped 10 points further from Saturday's closing in the initial trading today on further scattered liquidation and Southern selling influenced by the weaker and lower markets at Liverpool and falling off in the outside speculative and investment demand. After March had declined to 9.51, May to 9.42, July to 9.36 and October to 9.19, these prices induced so much rebuying by sold-out old bulls and covering of shorts by bearish traders who sold on the bulge last week that the market rallied in the later trading and recovered all this loss, with July going 3 points above Saturday's before the end of the noon hour. That option ranged to that time from 9.36 to 9.47, May 9.42 to 9.52, March 9.51 to 9.58 and October from 9.19 to 9.28. Spot cotton declined 5 points at Liverpool to 5.21 pence for middling with spinners taking only 6.00 bales, while futures declined 4 to 6 points and finally closed steady at 3 1/4 to 5 1/2 net decline for the day. Estimated receipts at Houston, Galveston and New Orleans tomorrow are 53,000 bales against 72,000 last week and 50,000 last year. Contract stocks of cotton here now is 125,000 against 155,000 on January 1, and 88,000 last year. Indications point to an irregular trading market with a moderate range from present prices until the dry goods trade conditions improve sufficiently to broaden the demand for spot cotton. The option market is only a purchase on May, July and September deliveries on further weak spots or slumps from the present level than only for moderate turns. We would rather adhere to a scalper's position on the bull side for the present as prices have had a reaction of about 30 to 35 points from the recent top and holders in the south are not pressing their offerings to any extent. Moreover, a decline in 9 cents for July would develop a revival of active speculative and investment purchases on the cheapness of the price and the high average quality of the crop and the good prospects which exist for a revival of activity in the dry goods market as soon as the ways and means committee announces the changes in the tariff schedules.

THE TIMES' DAILY FINANCIAL STORY

(By T. C. SHOTWELL) New York, Feb. 1.—Railroad shares were strong features in the early trading in Wall street today. Denver & Rio Grande was the leader, with an advance of nearly 2 points. Reading, Southern Pacific, Union Pacific and Chesapeake & Ohio were also strong with gains of about half a point. The trading was dull and represented the operations of professional traders. The traction stocks were strong under the leadership of Brooklyn Transit which rose 1 point. Interborough Metropolitan shares were higher, but Third Avenue was practically unchanged. Weak features of the market were American Smelting and Refining and Amalgamated Copper. The former declined nearly a point and the latter half a point. In spite of the heaviness of Amalgamated and Smelters, an advance of 1 point was recorded in Anaconda. In London security markets showed a better tone. Hudson Bay shares were the feature, with an advance of 2 1/2 points. In the American department railroad issues were generally higher. On the New York curb market prices were irregular in the mining department. Yukon Gold was strong. The Pennsylvania system issued its traffic statement for December, in which it showed an increase in gross earnings of $375,110; operating expenses decreased $27,900 and net earnings increased $385,009. For the fiscal year gross decreased $28,515,900; operating expenses decreased $22,195,200, and net earnings were smaller by $6,320,700.

FIRE AT ST. AGNES Hospital Damaged to the Extent $1,000

Fire Started From Defective Drum in the Third Story—Burned Very Slowly—Fire Plugs Were Frozen and Had to Be Thawed Out Before the Firemen Could Get Water.

The St. Agnes Hospital was heavily damaged by fire this morning. The total damage by fire will amount to about $1,000, which is fully covered by insurance.

The fire was discovered in the roof of the third story at 8:30 o'clock, the origin of the fire being a defective stove drum. The alarm was sounded from box 19, corner Jones and Elm and the Raleigh fire department responded promptly. On arriving at the box, however, the chief discovered that the fire was out of the city limits. On being informed that the school had its own fire plugs, the chief ordered the Rescue and Victor companies to go out and render every aid. The fire plugs were frozen and it was necessary to thaw them out before the firemen could get a stream of water. As the fire was in the top story and had to burn downwards, it burned very slowly. The fire was under control in a short while after four streams of water were had. The roof and side of the northeastern corner of the building were damaged, the fire being confined where it started. At the time of the fire there were twenty patients in the hospital, but luckily none were ill to be moved. All of the patients were hastily transferred to another building, where a temporary hospital was fitted up. The students of the institution, both male and female, worked heroically and saved all the furniture and other household effects. The conflagration was completely extinguished by 9:30 o'clock.

As only the third floor was damaged, the matron of the hospital is under the impression that it may be arranged in a few days so that the lower floors may be used. It was rumored around the city today that it was the new hospital building that had been burned. The new building, however, is not being used, as yet, on account of a lack of funds to fit it up properly.

JUDGE LYON'S HOME BURNED. Fire Originated in the Kitchen—Loss Partially Covered by Insurance.

Elizabethtown, Feb. 1.—The residence of Judge C. C. Lyon was destroyed by fire yesterday afternoon, between 4 and 5 o'clock, which originated in the kitchen, adjoining the house, while a strong wind was blowing. It was impossible to check the flames. Most of the furniture was saved, but badly damaged. The loss is only partially covered by insurance. The judge's family were here, but he was away, holding Harnett court this week.

BRANDENBURG FORFEITS BOND

(By Leased Wire to The Times) New York, Feb. 1.—Broughton Brandenburg, the writer, charged with having obtained $500 from the New York Times in payment for a letter purporting to have been written by the late Grover Cleveland, but subsequently denounced as a forgery, failed to appear when his case was called for trial today and his bail of $1,500 was forfeited.

Justice Victor Dowling, before whom Brandenburg was to have been tried on an indictment charging grand larceny in the second degree, immediately issued a bench warrant for the writer's arrest. It was given to officers of the court who started out to look for him.

UNDER HYPNOTIC INFLUENCE.

Woman in Trance From Speed of Handsome Strangers. (By Leased Wire to The Times) Allentown, Pa., Feb. 1.—Still insisting that she is under the hypnotic influence of a handsome stranger whom she met on the train while traveling from Chicago to this city, and that she cannot be released from his spell until she has again met and kissed the man, Miss Alice Gerber is lying at her brother's home at South Bethlehem, under the care of nurses. At times she is rational, but she soon relapses into a state resembling a trance. Her body grows rigid, and powerful restoratives are used to revive her.

"That man's face is so imprinted upon my memory," said she in a lucid interval, "that it is impossible to escape it. He accompanied me all the way from Chicago to Allentown and when I left the train he told me he would return Monday afternoon and remove the spell with a kiss."
