

SOCIETY.

THE BREAKING.

(The Lord God Speaks to a Youth.)
 Bend now thy body to the common weight;
 (But oh, that vine-clad head, those limbs of morn!)
 Those proud young shoulders, I myself made straight!
 How shall ye wear the yoke that must be worn?)

Look thou, my son, what wisdom comes to thee:
 (But oh, that singing mouth, those radiant eyes!)
 Those dancing feet—that I myself made free!
 How shall I sadden them to make them wise?)

Nay, then, thou shalt! Resist not—have a care!
 (Yea, I must work my plans who sovereign sit;
 Yet do not tremble so! I cannot bear—
 Though I am God—to see thee so submit!)

CHARMING WOODEN WEDDING.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert L. Lumsden Entertain Many Guests On the Occasion of Their Fifth Wedding Anniversary.

Among the most charming social events of the season was the reception given last night by Mr. and Mrs. Robert L. Lumsden at their home on West Hargett street, this being the occasion of the fifth anniversary of their marriage, a wooden wedding reception.

There was a large attendance of friends and the popular young couple during the evening, and as the guests arrived they were received at the door by Miss Mattie Lumsden. The hall was artistically decorated in ivy, ferns and palms, and here the guests were met by Misses Mary Lumsden and Annie Willson. In the parlor they were received by Mr. and Mrs. Robert L. Lumsden and Mrs. Luther White.

The decorations in the parlor, punch room, gift room and dining room were in Japanese effect, lanterns, parasols and Japanese colors, with trailing ivy and palms being used. In the dining room from the central parasol above the handsomely table, there were depended hundreds of ribbons, and as these were drawn the guests received unique small wooden animal figures as souvenirs. The effect of the decorations were charming.

In the punch room a delicious concoction was served by Mrs. Lonnie H. Lumsden and Miss Louise Farmer, the guests being directed to this room by Misses Ruby Lumsden and Marnie White. In the dining room delicious refreshments were served by Mrs. Henry D. Bunch, Miss Emma Cheek, Miss Louise Dugh, Miss Mildred Brown and Miss Alice Willson.

The event was delightful throughout and during the reception hours the most charming music was rendered by Levin's orchestra, which gave many choice selections. Mr. Lumsden and his wife, formerly Miss Willie Hicks, of Holly Springs, were handsomely remembered by their many friends, whose gifts were in many designs of wood, handsome and useful. Among the numerous presents were beautiful wooden gifts from Belgium and also Florida. The event was greatly enjoyed by those who had the pleasure to be present.

DAVID BISPHAM.

Delights Large Audience at St. Mary's—Showed Wonderful Dramatic Powers.

It was a highly delighted audience that greeted David Bispham at St. Mary's last night, and a thoroughly appreciative one, who evidenced their pleasure by hearty applause. The auditorium was filled with a cultured audience, among whom were some of Raleigh's greatest music lovers.

The appearance of the great baritone singer had been looked forward to with great pleasure, especially by those who had heard him before. He was in no way a disappointment but was as great a delight as had been expected.

Mr. Bispham was ably assisted by Mr. Harold Osborne Smith, pianist. Mr. Smith is one of the finest performers ever heard here. His piano solo was greatly enjoyed. He responded to an enthusiastic encore with another selection.

RUBDRY
 THE ONLY TOWEL WORTH A NAME.

The Best Towel

is the one which dries the best. That's just another way of saying RUBDRY.

RUBDRY has a surface that is different and better—"the Towel with the nubs"—a million little knobs of absorbant, long-fibred, loose, twisted yarn.

Like a lot of tiny sponges this nubby surface absorbs the moisture INSTANTLY, and leaves a delightful after-glow—the friction minus the SCRATCH.

Full-blooded and thin-blooded people both use them. The prices are 25c., 50c., and $1.00 each.

TRY THEM.
