

Have You Tried?

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound? We can furnish positive proof that it has made many remarkable cures after all other means had failed.

Women who are suffering with some form of female illness should consider this.

As such evidence read these two unsolicited testimonial letters. We guarantee they are genuine and honest statements of facts.

Gardiner, Maine.—"I was a great sufferer from a female disease and weakness. The doctor said I would have to go to the hospital for an operation but I could not bear to think of it. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound completely cured me in three months."—Mrs. S. A. Williams, R.F.D. No. 14, Box 39, Gardiner, Me.

So. West Harbor, Me.—"I suffered for years with painful periods, backache, headaches, nervousness, irregularities and inflammation. I consulted two physicians and one advised me to have an operation.

"I was completely discouraged when I decided to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and it has made me a well woman. I advise all suffering women to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound."—Mrs. Lillian Robbins, South West Harbor, Me.

Evidence like the above is abundant showing that the derangements of the female organism which breed all kinds of miserable feelings and which ordinary practice does not cure, are the very disorders that give way to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Women who are afflicted with similar troubles, after reading two such letters as the above, should be encouraged to try this wonderfully helpful remedy.

For 30 years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has been the standard remedy for female ills. No sick woman does justice to herself who will not try this famous medicine. Made exclusively from roots and herbs, and has thousands of cures to its credit.

Mrs. Pinkham invites all sick women to write her for advice. She has guided thousands to health free of charge. Address Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass.

WILSON NEWS.

Thieves Rob Grocery Store—Slight Fire Last Night—Ball Game. (Special to The Times)

Wilson, April 20—An interesting game of ball was played yesterday afternoon at the park between the Grove Academy and the Atlantic Christian College. The score stood 4 to 3 in favor of the A. C. C. team. Batteries for the A. C. C.: Davis and Lane, Pitch, Bullwinkle Catch. For the Grove Academy: Wilson twirled the sphere. The features of the game were two catches by Vernon Taylor, a three-bagger by Guerrant, two-bagger by "Bud" Lane. Davis knocked a two-base hit and stole third, making home.

Thieves entered a grocery store kept by Mr. D. K. Lamm some time Saturday night or early Sunday morning and carried away several pairs of shoes, hams, etc. Entrance was effected through a window in the second story of the building. No clue to the robbers.

A slight fire occurred last evening at the home of Capt. W. P. Wooten, caused by defective flue. The alarm was turned in but the blaze was so light it was extinguished by Capt. Wooten before the arrival of the fire company.

DR. MIMS RESIGNS.

Will Travel For a Year and Then Go to Chapel Hill—Other News From Durham.

Durham, April 20—A large crowd of Durhamites went to Greensboro yesterday to witness the game between Virginia and Carolina.

Rev. Dr. J. W. Lynch delighted the Y. M. C. A. audience Sunday afternoon.

Henry Hunt, of Chatham, saw mill man, lost his stables Saturday night by fire, together with eight mules, feed, machinery and other property, amounting in value to about $4,000. His place was 14 miles from Durham.

Trinity College sustains a great loss, and also Durham, in that Dr.

Edwin Mims has tendered his resignation as professor of English, and after a year of travel will succeed Dr. Alphonso Smith in the chair of English at the University. Dr. Mims has caused much regret here in going from us, but such is life. We can't have everything we want all the time. Durham's loss is Chapel Hill's gain and, after all, we are both very close together and it is not like his going to another state. North Carolina still owns him.

Ex-Policeman Sorrell, who wrecked the home life of H. F. Edwards, is still in jail, and although his attorneys have recently made a move towards his release Judge Long did not see it their way, and it looks now as if Sorrell must abide in his cell until his case comes up for trial. Edwards has brought suit for $10,000 for the alienation of his wife's affections and the fight of the plaintiff is exceedingly vigorous.

PORTRAIT PRESENTED

Judge Henderson's Portrait for Supreme Court Room

Ex-Judge Makes an Able Address, Reviewing the Ancestry and the Life Work of Chief Justice Henderson—Chief Justice Walter Clark Makes Speech of Acceptance.

At ten o'clock this morning the Supreme Court room was the scene of a notable gathering. From all parts of North Carolina descendants of that noted jurist, Leonard Henderson, had gathered to present to the Supreme Court of North Carolina the portrait of their distinguished ancestor, who, from 1818 to 1833, was chief justice of the commonwealth.

Judge R. W. Winston, chosen to make the presentation speech, made an address of great power, in which he carefully followed the career of the great jurist and reviewed his ancestry from the early colonial days, showing that his forebears were men of probity, statesmen, jurists and men of high distinction.

Leonard Henderson studied law under Judge Williams. He became a judge of the Superior Court in 1838 and performed the arduous duties of that position for eight years on a salary of $1,600 per year.

After leaving the bench he started a law school, the first law school in the State and probably the first in the United States. This school was established at Williamsboro, at that time one of the most prominent and progressive towns of the state.

Judge Henderson was a strong Federalist—an uncompromising foe of Thomas Jefferson.

Judge Winston described with graphic oratory the great convention at Hillsboro when Federalist and anti-federalist locked horns.

In 1818 Judge Henderson became chief justice and held that high position for 15 years. He did much to help conform to the needs of North Carolina the common law of England.

Judge Henderson was a large man, weighing 212 pounds. He was kind, affable and courteous, domestic in his tastes and possessing in no usual degree the love of his family. He was a man of honesty, dignity and wonderful intellect. He lived a life of austere simplicity, living up to the high title of gentleman. When he lay dying August 15, 1833, he said to those gathered around him: "I have passed the portals and find nothing terrifying."

After Judge Winston's speech of presentation Chief Justice Walter Clark made the speech of acceptance, paying high tribute to the legal wisdom and high worth of Judge Henderson.

The portrait is a beautiful work of art, the production of Raleigh's talented artist, Mr. Jacques Busbee.

Present at the exercises of the presentation this morning were a large number of the lineal and collateral descendants of Chief Justice Henderson.

son, these being Hon. and Mrs. A. M. Scales and children, Mrs. J. P. Scales, Mr. and Mrs. Z. V. Taylor, Mr. J. R. Scales, of Greensboro; Mrs. Wallace N. Scales, of Idaho; Mrs. D. C. Nevitt, of Petersburg, Va.; Miss Effie Cobb, of New York; Mr. and Mrs. Edward Hines, Mrs. Fannie White and Mr. R. B. Henderson, of Henderson; Hon. A. E. Henderson, of Yanceyville; Col. John S. Henderson, of Salisbury; and Dr. Richard Henderson, of Franklinton.

YOUTHFUL APPEARANCE SURPRISING

The Great Andes Interviewed at Hotel St. John --Tells Thrilling Story of Success.

Talks of Phenomenal Work in Other Cities—Will Disperse Charity Broadcast.

Charleston, S. C., April 17.—The Great Andes, famous advertiser and lecturer, whose unprecedented success in conservative Charleston has been noted by the press of Raleigh, was interviewed yesterday at the St. John Hotel, where he and his corps of co-workers are making their headquarters.

Mr. Andes is remarkably youthful in his appearance, surprisingly so, but he betrays a world-wide knowledge of life, of humanity, and other subjects. He is an entertaining talker.

He is the man whose charities along certain lines and whose original methods of introducing several medicinal preparations have brought him fame and fortune in the last few years, he being today one of the wealthiest men in the south.

When asked about his visit to Charleston, The Great Andes said: "I shall be here about ten days longer. I am making an introductory tour of the larger cities of the Carolinas, demonstrating the virtues of my medicines. I shall not do anything here that has not been done in other cities. One thing sure, however, if there are any who doubt the wonderful cures which my remedies have made they can see, now, for themselves.

"As to charitable work it is my belief that every man should share all over what he can use in a rational mode of living. Understand me, however, I do not mean I am 'Old Liberty' personified nor am I 'Mr. E. Z. Mark,' of the comic supplements. Either I or my private secretary personally investigates every appeal made to us and it is one of my sources of recreation to look these cases up, after a hard day's work in the drug store."

When asked about the sensational cures attributed to his remedies Mr. Andes said: "Yes, they are bona fide and at that the half has not been told. I have appeared nightly before audiences of two to ten thousand and offered to cure stiff joints in any part of the body, lameness of back or limbs, or to soften and supple drawn leaders or palsied nerves before the very eyes of my audiences. "Of course, my ability to accomplish these seemingly miraculous things being demonstrated I was immediately overwhelmed with patients, having treated as high as fifty such cases in a single night, being completely exhausted afterward. "On many occasions I have enabled sufferers who came to me on crutches to throw them aside and walk away. This is wholly true, though it sounds extravagant. Withhold your criticism until I have demonstrated the truth of these statements locally." Mr. Andes said that the medicine with which he performed these remarkable cures was really not his greatest, as the one to which he owed most of his success was Andes' Great Prescription, based on his theory that ninety-nine per cent. of all diseases arise from the stomach, liver and kidneys, and that it would make even more sensational cures of stomach, liver, kidney, bladder and catarrhal ailments and troubles. "It is possible," concluded Mr. Andes, "that I will retire for good from the public platform. Owing to the heavy demands upon my time and strength, increasing every day, I have almost decided to make no more lectures, instead making my headquarters at some leading drug store in each town I visit, where I can be seen by all who wish to interview me or discuss my celebrated curatives."
