THE REAL MADE STREETING STREET

The Bridgers Talloring Company have just installed in their pressing club on Fayetteville street one of the newest and latest steam cleaning and pressing machines. By this machine clothes are cleaned and pressed under a high pressure of dry steam, instead of the old way of using a bucket of water for several garments. It is the first machine of its kind to be brought to Raleigh, and it is giving perfect satisfaction. Here is what the makers of the machine claim for it: "A garment that passes through the HOFFMAN is disinfected, as no germs or microbes can exist under a temperature as high as the dry steam injected; at the same time it removes any odor that might be in the goods, takes away the grimy appearance, raises the nap, revives the colors, and imparts to the garment the freshness desired by all dressers." Men who appreciate nice clothing and like to have their clothing nice and fresh-looking should see this new machine at work.

The tendency to an advance in the hardware line is unquestionably stimulating inquiries this month and will stimulate routing orders later. Lumber Interest.

Numerous signs of improvement in the lumber market are noted in the South this week. The revival of business with the steel and iron industry, which invariably means something to the lumber industry, has had a good effect, and numerous other agencies have contributed to a gradually improving situation. From an operating standpoint the past week has shown no material improvement, but the sales departments of all the larger concerns give out good reports.
