MRS. SAGE MAKES LARGE BEQUESTS TO PUBLIC GOOD

Has Spent More Than $25,000,000 in Less Than Three Years.

HER PROLIFIC BOUNTY

Recent Investigation Abroad of Workingmen's Insurance Calls Attention Anew to Her Great Charitable Gifts—She is Now Giving Away Her Fortune at the Rate of $25,000 a Day—Is Giving Away Two Dollars in the Same Time That It Took Her Frugal Husband to Accumulate Thirty Cents and at Present Rate Keeps Up Her Fortune of $65,000,000 Will Be Gone in Five Years.

(By Leased Wire to The Times.)

New York, June 8.—It became known today that in less than three years Mrs. Sage has spent more than $25,000,000 for public purposes and the benefit of mankind. The recent investigation abroad of the question of working men's insurance and the establishment of a gigantic employment bureau call attention anew to her prolific bounty.

It took Russell Sage 50 years to get $65,000,000. This great sum represented the pinching and scraping together of what amounted to $3,500 a day for the life time of the astute financier.

Mrs. Sage is now giving away the fortune at the rate of $25,000 a day. If the widow continues her charities at the pace she has set, all will be gone in five years. Comparison of the financier's power to make money with Mrs. Sage's faculty of giving it away shows that the widow is giving away $2 in the same time that it took Mr. Sage to accumulate the proverbial "thirty cents."

"Large as Mrs. Russell Sage's fortune is, it will hardly cover the cost of insuring all of the workmen in America today?" said John M. Glenn, secretary and director of the $10,000,000 Russell Sage Foundation, when asked concerning a rumor that the widow of the financier contemplated endowing a great insurance for American workmen.

"But with funds from the Sage foundation we have conducted a careful study of workingmen's insurance at home and abroad," he added. "This work has been going on for over a year under the direction of Dr. Lee K. Frankel, formerly general manager of the United Hebrew Charities, assisted by Miles M. Dawson, the well known actuary. These gentlemen will shortly make their report."

Dr. Frankel and Mr. Dawson have visited Germany, France, Belgium and England. They made inquiry in all forms of workingmen's insurance. The result of their investigation will be far-reaching and it is regarded as not at all improbable that Mrs. Sage in co-operation with some of the large employers of this country will subscribe to the installation of a real workingmen's insurance, possibly compulsory on the toilers and under government supervision.

TOWN BURNED.

Best Residence District of Presque Isle Destroyed.

Presque Island, Me., June 8.—The entire northeastern section of this village, comprising the best residence district was destroyed by fire last evening. A high wind carried flames and embers until 100 dwelling houses, the Congregational church, Masonic hall and several other buildings were in ashes. Upward of 1,000 people are homeless.

The business section of the village was saved by the direction of the wind which carried the flames toward the open country.

The loss is estimated at $300,000; insurance $150,000.

JAPS CAUSE EXCITEMENT.

Want Japanese Flag at Seattle Exposition Placed Above American Flag or Taken Down.

Seattle, Wash., June 8.—Diplomatic relations between Japan and the United States have been threatened because an official, acting for Admiral Ijichi, in command of the Japanese fleet at Seattle, requested that the Japanese flag be removed from one of the buildings at the Alaska-Yukon Exposition. The request was made to Robert Boyce, assistant to the president of the exposition. Since the exposition opened the Japanese flag has been exhibited under the American flag at one of the state buildings. A midshipman from the Japanese fleet called upon Boyce and insisted that the Japanese flag be either placed above the American flag or removed entirely. There was much discussion among the officials and it was finally decided to withdraw the Japanese flag for Monday evening.

A special meeting of the officials of the exposition has been called to determine whether or not the Japanese flag is to be exhibited during the rest of the exposition.

On account of the recent disturbance between Japan and America on the emigration question—the attitude of the Japanese fleet now in the Seattle harbor has caused great excitement in this district.

DETECTIVES ARE MOBBED.

Grip Containing Whiskey to Be Used as Evidence Stolen—Mass Meeting for Law and Order.

Montgomery, Ala., June 8.—One thousand men crowded into a downtown church last night and pledged themselves to uphold the officers of the law in the enforcement of the statutes. This action grew out of an attack made during this afternoon on two detectives of the Law and Order League, who were almost killed before they could break away and run to the jail for protection.

J. C. Burke and J. H. Steincamp of the Nashville detective bureau are the men, and they are in a cell at the county jail to prevent their being mobbed as the sheriff had a tip they might be lynched during the night.

As a result of the lawless action five men have been arrested and the people are stirred to the fighting point.

In the attack on the detectives the grip containing the liquor which had been bought and was to be used as evidence was stolen and has not been recovered. A large force is on guard at the jail and the homes of G. G. Miles, president, and J. L. Holloway, attorney of the law and order league, are guarded.

HOME BUILDERS MEET

State League of B. and L. Associations Tomorrow

Raleigh is Ready to Receive the Visitors—Interesting Program is Arranged for the Meeting—Will Be Held at the Capitol Building.

Tomorrow there will assemble in Raleigh a great company of the home-builders of North Carolina to formulate plans for increasing usefulness. This will be the sixth annual convention of the State League of Building and Loan Associations, an organization that has grown from a very small beginning to be a powerful organization and a tremendous force in the up-building of the State.

All sessions will be held in the hall of the House of Representatives. It was first planned to hold the meetings in the rooms of the Chamber of Commerce, but the other hall was offered by the State authorities. It is larger and cooler.

The Program.

Beginning Wednesday, June 9, the program will be as follows:

3 O'clock p. m.—Delegates assemble at the Hall of the House of Representatives for registration and organization of convention.

4 O'clock p. m.—Automobile Ride.

9 O'clock p. m.—Delegates assemble at the Hall of the House of Representatives. Convention called to order by the president. Invocation by Dr. W. Mc. C. White. Roll call. Address of welcome by Hon. James I. Johnson. Response by Hon. Heriot Clarkson. Reading of minutes of last meeting. In promptu address. Smoker.

Thursday, June 10.

10 O'clock a. m.—Convention called to order in the House of the House of Representatives. Report of the president, Mr. S. Wittkowsky. Report of the secretary and treasurer, Mr. E. L. Keesler. Address by Mr. W. E. Sharpe, of Burlington. General discussion. Introduction of new business.

2 O'clock p. m.—Barbecue. Address by Governor Kitchin.

4 O'clock p. m.—Baseball—Raleigh vs. Wilson.

8:30 O'clock p. m.—Address by Hon. Clyde Hoey. Address by other prominent citizens. Election of officers. Unfinished business. Adjournment.

All the sessions of the convention will be open but the public is especially invited to the meeting Thursday evening in the Hall of the House of Representatives.

Admission to the barbecue Thursday afternoon will be by badge. Governor Kitchin addresses the League on this occasion.

MOUNTAINEERS ARE READY FOR BLOODY FIGHT

Ex-Sheriff Callahan's Friends are Prepared to Avenge His Assassination

SON THE NEW LEADER

Crockettsville, the Home of Dying Feudist Leader Presents the Appearance of an Armed Camp—Said That Callahan Was Shot by a Former Friend and Henchmen—Bloodhounds Are Being Used in an Apparent Effort to Catch the Assassins, But It is Believed the Authorities Know the Guilty Man and could Arrest Him if They Dared—Feud at White Heat.

(By Leased Wire to The Times.)

Lexington, Ky., June 8.—Crockettsville, in "bloody Breathitt" county, where Ed Callahan, the long dreaded feud leader lay dying from an assassin's bullet, paralyzed from the waist down now presents the appearance of an armed camp as the grim mountaineer feudists, each with his Winchester and Colt passed along its main street.

Callahan, like Jesse James, was shot by a former henchman, one of several former friends who have been turned into his bitterest enemies. It is said today. No names are mentioned, but the impression is general that the bloodhounds that are being used to trail the assassins are for effect, that the authorities could point directly to the guilty parties if they dared.

Wilson Callahan, son of the dying leader and heir to his feud with the Deatons, has assumed leadership of the men who are preparing to avenge the shooting of their chief. Young Callahan's hair was swept by a bullet yesterday following the shooting of his father as he ran to the house after having been fired on. The attack upon him is looked upon as the result of killing of John Speer of the Deaton faction after Speer had stabbed his father.

Yesterday's tragedy has blown the embers of the Callahan-Deaton feud into white heat and each side is watching the other for the next move toward what all feel will be the bitter feud battle in all Kentucky's bloody history. Callahan has been one of the most influential men in Breathitt county and his friends and followers are hurrying to Crockettsville from every corner, armed and ready to make the Deatons pay heavily for their deed. His death, which is but a matter of hours, may prove the signal to slay that the maddened mountaineers are waiting for. Callahan knew that his enemies were after him, but had relied on his well-tried luck and prowess to "get them" first. He was in Jackson one day last week to answer a warrant served on him for "malicious shooting" and left as soon as his case was continued as he had been warned that his enemies had announced they would kill him on sight. That was his last appearance outside of Crockettsville.

TERRIFIC FIRE SWEEPS FOREST

(By Leased Wire to The Times)

McCloud, Cal., June 8.—A terrific forest fire is sweeping toward the big plant of the McCloud River Lumber Company today. Fifty men have been sent out on a lumber train with tanks of water to attempt to check the flames which are within half a mile of a powder magazine belonging to the company and containing a carload of explosives. A guard placed at the powder house to protect it from the striking employees of the company is back-firing in the direction of the approaching wall of fire in the hope of saving the building from destruction. The services of the troops sent to preserve order here during the progress of the strike have been tendered by the officers in fighting the new danger, but have not been accepted.

Residents of the town are preparing to flee.

Earthquake in India.

(By Cable to The Times) Rome, June 8.—An earthquake, probably in India, was recorded today on the seismic instruments at Florence.

IOWA SENATOR HAS DISCOVERED A NEW TRUST

Startles the Senate by his Reference to a Rag Trust.

THE WOOLEN SCHEDULE

Senator Dolliver Attacks the Provisions of the Woollen Schedule—Makes Argument in Behalf of the Carded Wool Producers—Says There is a Rag Trust and That the Duty on Rags for Its Benefit is Prohibitive—Expected That the Rates on Hosiery Will be Increased When the Bill Gets in Conference—This the Understanding on Both Sides.

(By Leased Wire to The Times.)

Washington, June 8.—It is the understanding among those in charge of the tariff bill both in the senate and house that when the bill gets into conference there will be an increase in the rates on hosiery, over which there has been much contention. Although the senate last night passed the hosiery section of the cotton schedule, reducing the rates from those imposed by the house to the present Dingley duty, it is the understanding that there will be a compromise for a higher rate when the matter is taken up in conference.

The senate met at 10:30 o'clock this morning. Senator Beveridge, of Indiana, had read the resolution adopted by the Indiana republican editorial association endorsing his position on the tariff.

Consideration of the tariff bill was then resumed, and Senator Dolliver, of Iowa, took up the woollen schedule, and attacked its provisions. He made an argument in behalf of the carded wool producers.

Discussing the substitutes for wool Senator Dolliver started the senate by declaring that there is a "rag" trust, and that the duty on rags for its benefit is prohibitive.

Senator Warren, of Ohio: "I think the senator has been seeing things." Senator Dolliver: "Yes, I saw that in a trade journal of the woollen industry, which referred to it as a rag trust and gave the names of the officers. It is known as the American Wool By-Products Company. Do you think that is a healthy state of society where we have a rag trust?"

Continuing, he asserted that certain large woollen concerns worked off their products on their competitors through the rag trust.

Senator Carter, of Montana, spoke in defense of the wool schedule. He had brought into the senate a large cabinet containing various samples of all grades of wool, and these he used in illustrating his remarks, explaining the shrinkage of different kinds of wool, the scouring and other processes. He asserted that the wool schedule had been fixed upon a scientific basis.

SIR EDWARD GREY SOUNDS WAR NOTE

(By Cable to The Times)

London, June 8.—The war note was sounded today by foreign Secretary Sir Edward Grey, addressing the Imperial Press conference. He said that Great Britain's policy was to keep what it had got, to quarrel as little as possible with other countries and to uphold the ideals by which Britons set so much store. He dwelt on the increase of armaments in Europe and the menace to Britain that it constituted.

Referring to "the serious words" spoken by Lord Rosebery at the conference banquet on Saturday night when he characterized the outlook as menacing and appalling, Sir Edward said emphatically: "I endorse every word he said, here is far too much at stake to allow our naval expenditure to fall behind that of other nations. The last two years have made clear how great are the resources of the empire."

CHRISTIANS THREATENED.

Situation Again Critical in Asia-Minor—Many Moslems Have Been Arrested.

(By Leased Wire to The Times.) Constantinople, June 8.—Although order appeared to have been re-established ished in Asia-Minor, the situation has again become critical and M. Zenoiev, the Russian ambassador, has called the serious attention of the government to it in order that it might take steps to prevent incidents which might threaten the lives of the Christian population. Rumors of massacres at Van are unfounded.

An trade of the sultan confirming the decision of the court martial condemning marshal Kar Pasha to degradation and six years hard labor has just been published.

Four hundred and forty-five Moslems and 117 non-Moslems have been arrested in Adana in connection with the recent massacres, according to an official report received here today.

TEST GRAND FATHER CLAUSE.

Annapolis Local Election Law to Be Tested by Courts.

Annapolis, Md., June 8.—The republicans sprang a surprise on the democrats who started to enforce the "grandfather clause" in a small way when the registration of voters began. The last legislature passed a law applying the grandfather clause to Annapolis preparatory to a law covering the whole state at the next session. The democrats, believing that as it was only a local law no case could be made out for the United States court, yesterday enforced it so strictly that only seventeen negroes were able to register, while 512 whites got on the books. There are in Annapolis about 2,100 voters, of whom probably 750 are negroes.

The surprise came when the rejected negroes presented a protest prepared by three leading lawyers including former Attorney General Bonaparte, who had been employed by the republican organization. The protest declares the law invalid under the fifteenth amendment and the statute enacted under it. A copy of the protest was sworn to and will be made the basis of a suit that will be carried to the United States Supreme court.

ALL BALLOONS HEARD FROM

(By Leased Wire to The Times)

Indianapolis, Ind., June 8.—Carl Fisher and G. L. Bumbaugh, of this city, in the balloon Indiana landed at Dickson, Tenn., at 6 o'clock last evening.

They had stopped at Ashland City, Tenn., to take on ballast. According to a dispatch from that town they landed on a pile of ties yesterday.

They again ascended and started northwest. They maintained, according to the dispatch that the fact that they did not touch the ground would prevent their being disqualified.

Indianapolis, Ind., June 8.—Anxiety was expressed here today for the balloon Indiana, the only aircraft that, up to dawn, had not been heard from as having ended its flight in the great contest.

Doubt was expressed as to whether the Indiana had at any time disqualified itself in the race through reports that it had not been received from various sources.

A message received here at 12:30 this morning from Ashland City, Tenn., says that the Indiana landed on a pile of cross ties there at six o'clock Monday morning and that the balloon was tied to a tree with a rope for two hours, during which neither Fisher nor Bumbaugh left their basket. It stated that the aeronauts were supplied with fresh water and more sand, after which they renewed their flight.

If they are disqualified for landing on the ties, the St. Louis III probably will be declared the winner of the national trophy.

FOUR KILLED IN PLUNGE.

Auto Goes Over Embankment Into Sacramento River and Four Women Drown.

(By Leased Wire to The Times.)

Knights Landing, Cal., June 8.—A moonlight pleasure ride ended disastrously last night near here when an automobile driven by Joseph Armstrong and containing Mrs. W. F. Mixon, Mrs. J. H. Dungan, Miss Meryl Dungan and Miss Julia Dungan, suddenly plunged over an embankment into the Sacramento river, carrying to death the four women. Chauffeur Armstrong saved himself and tried to rescue the women beneath the capsized machine but failed. The body of Miss Julia Dungan was recovered late last night.

Mrs. Mixon was the wife of the editor of the Woodland Mail.

Torpedo Boat At Morehead City.

(Special to The Times) Atlantic Hotel, Morehead City, June 9.—The torpedo boat Winslow is disabled and tied up at pier at Morehead City, close to the Atlantic Hotel. It will be here for several days.

THE GREATEST OF GRAY VETERANS MEETINGS OPEN

More Than a Hundred Thousand Visitors Gather in Memphis.

A BIG FLORAL PARADE

General Clement A. Evans Called, Formally Opened the Big Gathering of Veterans This Morning—Governor Patterson Delivers Address of Welcome in Behalf of the State—Mayor Malone and Congressman Gordon Also Welcome Veterans—Addresses and Monster Parade This Afternoon—Sons of Veterans Also in Session—Lamps Dedicated to "Wizard of the Saddle."

(By Leased Wire to The Times)

Memphis, Tenn., June 8.—With 90,000 visitors in the city at noon today and 35,000 more already en route on trains that will arrive during the afternoon, the first day of the joint reunions of the United Confederate Veterans and the United Sons of Confederate Veterans opened this morning for the greatest and probably the last big gathering of the old guard in gray.

At the Bijou Theatre General Clement A. Evans, commander-in-chief of the Confederate Veterans, opened the formal program of the reunion. An address of welcome in behalf of the state of Tennessee was delivered by Governor Patterson, one in behalf of the city of Memphis by Mayor Malone, and in behalf of the local executive committee by Congressman Gordon, commander of the Tennessee division.

General Evans responded and the remainder of the session was devoted to routine business.

This afternoon General Theodore S. Garnett, of Norfolk, and Colonel Louis Guion, of New Orleans, will deliver addresses and at 4 o'clock there will be a magnificent floral parade, for which the committee has been arranging for weeks, in which sponsors, maids of honor and Memphis society women will participate. This will be the most beautiful feature of the reunion. At the Goodwin Institute this morning Commander-in-chief John W. Apperson called the Sons of Veterans to order. After the welcome addresses and the responses have been completed the Sons also will adjourn in time to take part in the floral parade.

At Forrest Park this morning, with simple ceremony and every manifestation of deep feeling, members of Nathan Bedford Forrest's command dedicated four lamps at the base of the splendid Neidhaus equestrian statue of the "Wizard of the Saddle." Owing to the fact that the remains of the great cavalry leader lie at the foot of the monument in the park bearing his name, the ceremony appealed immensely to the grizzled old warriors who participated and many of them broke down and wept unrestrainedly.

MILLIONAIRE'S COFFIN.

A Wonderful Work Art—Gems Worth $100,000 Go in Grave.

Paris, June 8.—The body of Chauchard, the multi-millionaire department store owner who died last week, has been placed in the coffin ready for burial. The buttons of the waistcoat to the suit in which the corpse is dressed were pearls which cost Chauchard $100,000 and were his favorite gems. For this reason the executors decided they should be buried with him.

The coffin is a wonderful work of art. It is made of bronze and copper and the carvings on it cost nearly $10,000. It is so heavy that fourteen men are required to carry it.

The will of the late M. Chauchard was made public last evening. The state receives his collection of pictures which cost him $5,400,000 and are now worth much more.

The total donation to the state amounts to $8,000,000 or a third of Chauchard's entire fortune.

Noted Scout Dead.

(By Leased Wire to The Times.) Lockport, N. Y., June 8.—Warren H. Ives, secretary and treasurer of the Niagara county veterans association, is dead. He was President Lincoln's confidential messenger between the white house and the firing lines in the civil war and was a noted scout in the Shenandoah Valley.
