RED BIRDS WIN ANOTHER VICTORY

(Special to The Times.)
Fayetteville, N. C., June 9—Dame Fortune smiled upon the Red Birds yesterday after two men had died in the ninth inning, and of course it was simply another hard luck story for the Highlanders.

When the visitors came to the bat for their half of the ninth—their last chance—Fayetteville was leading by one run. And when Dawson, the first man up, died via second to first, it looked like a lead pipe cinch. However, things are not always what they seem. Crozier drew a pass. Haas succumbed by the third to first run, Crozier going to second. Murray was sent in to bat for Hoffman, and he was awarded a free trip to the initial corner. Hoover then came to the plate and sounded the death knell of the Highlanders. He stung one towards right field, which Hart managed to reach but could not hold, and Crozier scored. Hart threw wild to the plate and Murray also romped across. Brumfield died easily, and thus ended Fayetteville's little tale of woe.

In their half of the ninth the Highlanders tried hard to tie, but McManus was on the job and they were retired in one, two, three order.

Both pitchers pitched great games, and deserved to win, but victory cannot be divided in a baseball game. Waters only allowed two hits, fanned seven and gave two bases on balls, while McManus allowed but five hits, fanned five, and gave two free passes.

PITCHERS' BATTLE AT WILSON YESTERDAY

(Special to The Times.)
Wilson, N. C., June 9—An error by Bird, in left field, gave the Giants a run in the sixth inning yesterday, which proved to be the deciding run in a great pitchers' battle between Handsome Harry Otis and Farmer Cowells. Both twirlers were on their mettle and pitched great games. Handsome Harry fanned twelve of the hard-hitting Tobaccoists, while eight Giants died by the same route. It was a most interesting game and nobody feels grouchy over the loss.

23 INNINGS WITHOUT A RUN BEING SCORED

San Francisco, Cal., June 9—The Pacific Coast League established a world's record here yesterday when San Francisco and Oakland played twenty-three innings without a run being scored. The break came in the twenty-fourth period, when the San Francisco team scored the one run that brought an end to the tense struggle. Oakland made nine hits and three errors, while San Francisco had eleven hits and two errors. The batter's were Wiggs and C. Lewis for Oakland and Henley and Berry for Frisco.

A BOY'S HOLIDAYS.
The ardent controversy which has been waging in England and America concerning the best way to dispose of school boys in the long summer vacation has prompted the Grand Trunk Railway System to issue a special publication giving suggestions and practical hints to parents, as to what to do with the public and preparatory school boy during the months of July and August. The vacation camp is one of the solutions and the publication entitled, "What shall a Boy Do With His Vacation" thoroughly covers the ground and solves the problem of the best way for a schoolboy to enjoy his holidays.

RAILROADERS LOSE TO SAILORS ONCE MORE

(Special to The Times.)
Rocky Mount, N. C., June 9—Failure to find the plate with the first batter in the opening inning and by hitting the next one, followed by a two base hit by Smith, the Wilmington team, clinched this afternoon's contest in the opening. The locals scored their only run of the game on a home run hit over left field fence by Sorrell in the sixth inning, which was the first ball ever knocked out of the park here. Both teams gave good support to the pitchers and the errors credited were on hard chances.

Forbes pitched a good game with the exception of the first inning, when he could not find the plate. Wylson was on the mound for the Seamen and pitched a good game throughout.

No kidding this time. There will be a new pitcher in tomorrow morning that will make the fans sit up and take notice. He has a reputation throughout the south and will make a valuable addition to the Red Birds. It is thought best by the managers to withhold his name until they get their hands on him. He is to report for work tomorrow morning.

SPORTING SIDELIGHTS.

Too close for comfort.
Two runs after two were out in the ninth.

Several cases of near-heart-failure at the matinee.
Enroute to the top notch again. Watch us grow.

The Highlanders' hard luck is still present. Yesterday's game was certainly a heart-breaker. The Red Birds flew away with the game after the home team had apparently sewed up matters in the eighth, when they made two runs.

Fayetteville's thought this morning: "This sad to lose. Out oh, how bitter. To almost win and not quite get'er."

We hate to trim the under dog, but it is absolutely necessary at this stage of the game. Might let them win a game later in the season.

Rocky Mount is keeping Fayetteville close company. Must like cellar climate. Six straight defeats is not calculated to cause any great amount of enthusiasm in the Railroad city. Dopester Horne has even cut out its dope column. Cheer up, friend Horne, the worst is about over.

Wonder what sheet is carrying the obituaries this season?

Crozier was there with his hit again yesterday, and it drove in the Red Birds' first run. He also figured in the ninth inning rally.

Haas tore off a hit also. Best first baseman in the league, I reckon.

McManus, the hard luck lad, had the Highlanders at his mercy up to the eighth, when they managed to squeeze two runs across. He showed fine form and deserved to get away with his game.

Brandon or Stone today. Another game on our side of the ledger. We need it in our business.

"We didn't exactly trap the Red Birds yesterday (Monday), but made their wings mighty tired," says the Fayetteville Observer.

Not too tired to continue the flight yesterday.

Dr. Anderson, the spitball artist of the Tobaccoist, has gone to Richmond to attend the convention of state dentists. It is a good thing the doctor went before he pitched his game in Raleigh. He would have been too nervous to stand the board.

It would be a wise move on the part of the local management to see that there is not so much betting going on in the grandstand when the team plays at home. Several ladies have complained of it and it should be stopped. There's a time for everything, but after you get in the grandstand the time for betting has passed.

Yes, the bleachers have been moved. No more flunk hits for extra bases. Public sentiment certainly had a little weight there.

The First Baseman.
The first baseman in a baseball game is a sort of moveable Eiffel tower with a big mitt on. His duty is to catch any ball that may be thrown in his general direction before the batter, who is running for first base, can step on his heel with his sharp spikes.

The first baseman must not only be very talented in the matter of catching a mile-a-minute ball around the waist so firmly that it can't get away, but he must also enact the parts of the India rubber man, the contortionist and the human balloon. He must be able to leap seven feet in the air, leaving one foot on the bag in the meantime and pull down a ball that an over-enthusiastic fielder has heaved at the horizon. He must be able to reach under a base-runner's arm and four feet to his left and pick off a message from the pitcher that has drifted too far to port. He must also, when there is no time to spare, be able to walk out into the diamond six or eight feet with all but one leg and meet the ball half way. Only tall men with loose joints ever rise to fame as first basemen.

The first baseman need not be as handsome as the pitcher because fewer people look at him. But he must be very reliable. A first baseman must catch 5,000 balls a year thrown at him by men in all degrees of hurry and excitement and if he misses more than a dozen of them he is removed from office and sent back to the bush league. Adrian C. Anson was the first and greatest first baseman. He played the position from the time of Cleopatra until the reign of Cleveland. He was succeeded by Frank Chance, who is six feet and a good deal high and can reach up and scoop a ball out from under the cleaves of the milky way when necessary. No first baseman has ever become president, but some of them have been greatly beloved by the people and have received railroad passes and other marks of extreme favor.—Exchange.

THE GEOLOGICAL SURVEY

Semi-Annual Meeting Held Here Today

Mr. J. S. Holmes Appointed to Succeed Mr. W. W. Ashe as State Forester—Strong Man for the Place—To arrange Itinerary of Fish Commission—Pleased With Good Roads Movement.

The North Carolina Geological Survey commission is in session here today. The commission is composed of Gov. W. W. Kitchen, ex-officio chairman; Dr. Joseph Hyde Pratt, State Geologist; and Messrs. R. D. Caudle, of Lumberton; Frank Hewitt, of Asheville; and C. S. Vann, of Edenton.

This is the semi-annual meeting of the board. Few matters of interest are before it, as the work was planned and laid out at the January meeting. The principal work of the commission today was the appointment of Mr. J. S. Holmes to succeed Mr. W. W. Ashe, resigned, as state forester. Mr. Ashe recently gave up this work to enter the service of certain private landholders of great wealth.

Mr. Holmes is a native of Henderson county, of this state, and has been in the service of the United States Geological Survey for eight or ten years. He is eminently qualified to fill the position made vacant by Mr. Ashe's resignation and will do fine work for his department.

The commission is taking up the fishing work in Eastern North Carolina as provided for by the acts of the legislature. At the request of Lieut. Governor W. C. Newland, who is in the city today, Dr. Joseph Hyde Pratt is preparing the itinerary for the legislative fish commission, of which Mr. Newland is a member. This commission was appointed by the legislature of 1909 to examine the fishing industry in North Carolina and report the result of their finding with a uniform law, to the legislature of 1911. The fish commission will begin its work early in July.

Dr. Pratt stated that the members of the Geological survey are particularly well-pleased with the progress that is being made in road building in the state. From every section comes encouraging reports, showing that the good roads movement is daily gaining in power.

Dr. Pratt is doing wonderfully fine work along every line connected with his department and especially in boosting the good roads movement.

MR. WILLIAM H. BUNCH DEAD.

Passed Away This Morning at an Early Hour.
This morning at five o'clock Mr. William Henry Bunch, an aged and respected citizen of Raleigh, passed away at his home, 411 E. Hargett street. The cause of his death was acute indigestion.

The deceased was 62 years old. He leaves a widow and four children. These are Messrs. Henry D. Bunch, of this city; C. C. Bunch, of Charlotte; Mrs. L. H. Woodall of Raleigh; Mrs. W. R. Riddle, of Wilmington.

The funeral will be held from the residence, 411 East Hargett, tomorrow morning at 9 o'clock, conducted by Rev. L. B. Jones, of Central Methodist church. The interment will be in Oakwood cemetery.

Attention, Old Fellows!
Members of Manteo Lodge are requested to meet at their hall tomorrow, (Thursday) morning at 8:15, for the purpose of attending the funeral of our deceased brother, W. H. Bunch. Members of Seaton Gales Lodge and all visiting Old Fellows are cordially invited to attend.

BLACK HAND ARRESTS

Headquarters of Gang Discovered in Ohio.

Conspirators Did a Big Business From Marion Office—Said to Have Sent Three Thousand Dollars a Month to Fellow-Conspirators in Italy.

(By Leased Wire to The Times.)
Cincinnati, Ohio, June 9.—With the arrest of Samuel Lima, Joe Battella and Sam Rizzio at Marion, O., and six other suspects at Dennison, United States secret service men think they have caught the ringleaders of the black hand society in this country. The officials making the arrests were Detectives J. F. Oldfield, R. M. Horsford and E. F. Hutches, all attached to the office of Postoffice Inspector Homes, of this city.

Several hundred letters were found concealed in Lima's home. The conspirators were alleged to have sent $3,000 monthly to Italy.

Postoffice Inspector Charles Holmes, of Cincinnati, who is in charge of the case, says his men discovered evidence showing that Marion is the headquarters of all the black hand societies of the country and they allege that Lima is the head of the organization. In the safe in Lima's store was found evidence that hundreds of business men in all parts of the state and country had been paying tribute to the gang.

Inspector Holmes says that the gang was composed of Italians, and worked exclusively on its countrymen. He has obtained evidence that as late as two weeks ago it sent from the Marion postoffice money orders aggregating $1,500 to confederates in Italy, this being the division of blackmail funds in one case.

The arrests were made simultaneously in the two towns after a search of six months for the men who sent threatening letters to John Amicon, a fruit dealer of Columbus, demanding that $15,000 be paid in Pittsburgh. The handwriting in the letters to Amicon is identical with that in the letters received by Antonio Rizzio, a fruit dealer of Cincinnati, who died suddenly several weeks ago after refusing to obey the demand of a blackhand letter to pay $1,000 or forfeit his life. He died after eating a banana given him by a stranger.

The men arrested are charged with attempting to extort under the Federal statutes. The black hand gang recently ordered Fred Ciancolo, a Cincinnati fruit dealer to give up $10,000 on penalty of death for himself and family if he refused. Ciancolo gave no thought to the letters, and a few nights later a dynamite bomb was exploded in the doorway of his home. No one was injured, but an adjoining saloon was wrecked.

Joseph Annario, a Cincinnati fruit dealer, was recently warned to give the black hand $10,000 or his child would be kidnaped. Acting in harmony with the government officers, the Pittsburgh police recently entered a black hand headquarters there and made twenty-one arrests.

Charges Against Patent Medicines.
Most of the charges against patent medicines as a class have no foundation, in fact, and are manifestly unfair and unjust.

There are a large number of standard remedies like Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound used in thousands of American homes which have saved hundreds of dollars to families who could not afford to consult a physician, and they have answered the purpose equally as well.

REVISING JURY LIST.

Names of New Citizens Are Being Enrolled.
The County Commissioners are in session today busily engaged in revising the jury list for the county. This is a task of great magnitude and involves much labor. It is done about once every two years, new citizens are enrolled and the names of those who have died are stricken off.

PRESIDENT INVITED.

Gets Three Invitations Today All of Which He Will Probably Accept.
Washington, June 9.—President Taft today received three invitations, all of which he will probably accept. One is to attend the laying of the corner-stone of the Chelsea, Mass., Y. M. C. A., new building on July 15 or later.

Another is to attend the annual excursion of the Essex, Mass., board of trade the first week in August, and the third is from Representative Hull, of Iowa, to attend the national military tournament at Des Moines during the latter part of September.

The president told Representative Roberts, of Massachusetts, that he would probably accept the invitation to attend the picnic of the East Boston Sunday school at Point of Pines, Mass., in August, the date to be fixed by the president.
