

Weather.
Washington, July 27—Forecast for North Carolina for tonight and Wednesday: Unsettled weather; showers tonight.

The Evening Times

LAST EDITION

ESTABLISHED 1878.

RALEIGH, N. C., TUESDAY, JULY 27, 1909.

PRICE 6 CENTS

THAW SAYS HE WILL NEVER GO TO MATTEWAN

In Excellent Spirits and Confident He Will Be Released

READY FOR HIS TASK

Does Not Dread the Ordeal With Jerome, but Glad of the Opportunity to Talk for Himself and Ready for the Task—Says it will be a Relief to Do His Own Talking and Not Have Someone Else Do It For Him—Has Succeeded in Convincing Everyone Else of His Sanity and Thinks He Can Convince Justice Mills Also.

(By Leased Wire to The Times)
White Plains, N. Y., July 27—District Attorney Jerome threw a bomb into the camp of Harry K. Thaw today during the insanity trial of the latter before Justice Mills, when he asked Dr. Britton D. Evans, the alienist, of "brainstorm" fame, whether he had not prepared a report on the sanity of Stanford White's slayer for Attorney Clifford Harbridge, then Thaw's lawyer.

Evans replied that he had submitted such a report.
The report is a sensational document and apparently shows Thaw as insane. According to the report the form of disease from which he is suffering and which would show itself should he be released is adolescent insanity or dementia proeca. "He has shown mental instability to the point of unsoundness," concluded the report.

Thaw sat white and shaken during this reading. The document will prove the strongest instrument in the fight to keep the young millionaire in confinement.

White Plains, N. Y., July 27—"I'll never go back to Matteawan again." This was the declaration made today by Harry K. Thaw to an American News Service reporter. Thaw seemed to be in excellent spirits as he picked his way through the crowded corridor outside the courtroom and pushed through the throng that filled the passageway, to his seat.

"Not a bit. I am glad to get a chance to speak for myself at last. What a relief it will be, nobody except one who has gone through the experience knows the discomfort and discouragement of sitting still and allowing someone else to talk for you. Your representative don't know your case as you know it, and no matter how cleverly told, a story related at second-hand never rings as though told at first hand.

"I am ready for my task. It is to prove that I am sound mentally, and I am confident I can do that. So far I've convinced everyone I have met, and conversed with since my sentence to Matteawan, excepting those officials who, from a desire to vindicate a former position in my case, or from a mistaken idea of duty, have opposed my release, and I am sure Justice Mills will be an exception."

Thaw, with his mother, Mrs. Mary Copley Thaw, and his sister, the former Countess of Yarmouth, came into court at 9:40 o'clock. His counsel, Mr. Morschauer, had preceded him but a few minutes.

Thaw had a long wait for the opening of court, and passed the time talking earnestly with his mother and his counsel, District Attorney Jerome and his assistant, arrived as Justice Mills ascended the bench.
Thaw and Jerome smiled and bowed to each other.
"You must have been up late," remarked Thaw to the district attorney.
"Well, I was up studying to get ready for you," replied Jerome. Both laughed.
District Attorney Jerome was asked if he had caused Evelyn Nesbit to be subpoenaed to appear in court. He said:
"I have made no inquiry about her appearance. I understand the old subpoena under which she appeared previously still continues in force."
"That depends on what may be brought out," said the district attorney.
Dr. Britton D. Evans of "brainstorm" fame, testified that while Thaw was insane when he shot White, in his opinion he is sane today. The court thought this inconsistent, but the witness did not.
District Attorney Jerome objected strenuously when Thaw's lawyer tried to get into evidence some of the malicious stories told about White and about White's alleged threats against Thaw. Mr. Jerome skillfully opened the gate for a demand that Thaw be subjected to examination by his alienists. He asked the witness if an examination by competent alienists of a patient supposed to have paranoia was not more desirable in ascertaining definitely his mental state. Dr. Evans admitted that it was quite desirable that such an examination be made.

As incidents in his life were recalled Thaw turned around and laughingly chatted with his mother and sister on the subject in such a loud tone that Justice Mills had to look severely at him.
"Did you make a report to Mr. Harbridge of the mental condition of Thaw?" asked Mr. Jerome.
Thaw sat up straight in an instant. He appeared greatly agitated.
Dr. Evans replied:
"I collected and collated a quantity of information and gave it to Mr. Harbridge as counsel for Thaw. I looked upon it as a confidential preparation."
Morschauer fought hard to have this testimony excluded, but Justice Mills overruled him. Mr. Morschauer took exception.
Jerome arose with Dr. Evans' report and read it to him. Details were given of Thaw's stories of White's treatment of young girls. Thaw, according to the report, had the exaggerated ego remarkably developed and a desire to dictate to everybody on things about which he knew nothing.
"He exhibited a madman's courage, and an insane sureness of his ability to accomplish his purpose. He plunged on like a ship without a rudder, exhibiting abnormal conditions dating from his birth," read Jerome, while Dr. Evans and Thaw pined furiously.
(Continued on Page Five.)

MARRY IN LONDON

Rodman Wanamaker and Miss Cruger Married

Married With the Utmost Secrecy Behind Closed Doors in St. Margarets, Westminster Today—Ambassador Reid Gave the Bride Away.

(By Cable to The Times)
London, July 27—Lewis Rodman Wanamaker, of Paris, a member of the Philadelphia family of Wanamakers, and Miss Violet Cruger, daughter of the late Eugene Guido Cruger, of New York, were married with the utmost secrecy behind closed doors in St. Margarets, Westminster today. Even Ambassador Reid was obliged to knock and was admitted only after the closest scrutiny. The nuptials were performed under special license, which was taken out several days ago.
The church was elaborately decorated and after the ceremony the party drove in closed automobiles to the Carleton for lunch.
The principals and guests drove to the church in closed motor cars and took extraordinary precautions to avoid the press representatives who gathered about the entrance. Ambassador Reid, who arrived late after some difficulty in passing the barrier, gave away the bride.
Miss Cruger was dressed in white and was attended by her mother. The best man was Barclay Warburton. Those of the limited number of guests who had the temerity to disclose any information declared that the church was a riot of flowers. There was an elaborate choral service.
After the ceremonies those who had gathered about the church doors were driven back and the bride and groom and attendants and guests cautiously hurried to the waiting motor cars, hiding themselves as well as possible.
The nuptials outdid the exclusive functions of nobility in point of exclusiveness. In fact they bordered upon mystery. The relatives of both bride and groom refused information to the press and at the American embassy, through whose offices the special license was procured from the bishop of London, all information was likewise withheld.

The groom is a son of John Wanamaker, the millionaire merchant prince of Philadelphia. He had been living at the Carleton Hotel but left under mysterious circumstances yesterday, telling the hotel management that he was going to Scotland. Miss Cruger and her mother, Mrs. J. Frederick Tams, have been residing at the Hyde Park Hotel. Mrs. Tams was formerly Blanche Speddon Cruger. Mr. Cruger had three children. Besides Violet there are Bertram De N. and Frederick Cruger. Mr. Cruger was a half brother of S. Van Rensselaer Cruger, for many years treasurer of the Trinity Corporation in New York.
Eugene Guido Cruger took up his residence in Paris many years ago and seldom returned to the United States. He died in 1898.
Mrs. Tams is a member of the Speddon family of New Orleans, one of the best known in the south. She was divorced from Mr. Cruger several years before his death.

HEMENWAY'S PLAN.

For Economy in Government Expenditures Will Be Reported Soon.

Washington, July 27—Former Senator Hemenway, of Indiana, will in a short time, make a report to the senate committee on public expenditures, by which he is employed as an expert, on the plans he has evolved for the enforcement of economy in government expenditures.

This report will be made soon after the special session adjourns, and possibly before adjournment. A subcommittee on the committee is expected to meet and consider the report before the members scatter for the summer.

A permanent committee to promote economy in government expenditures is recommended by Mr. Hemenway.

Conference With Strikers.

Pittsburg, Pa., July 27—Negotiations have been begun to arrange a conference on Thursday between the Pressed Steel Car employees and the representatives of the 5,000 striking workmen. As both sides seem to be in a chastened mood it is expected that the works may resume by Friday.

North Carolina Postmaster.

Washington, July 27—Fourth-class postmasters for North Carolina were appointed today as follows: Wintrop Mills, John H. Carraway.

MEXICAN CITY UNDER STRICT MARTIAL LAW

American Residents and Their Property Under Protection of Consulate

A POLITICAL ROW IN MEXICAN CITY

Hospitals Filled With Wounded and a Strict Censorship Established. Rioting Started Last Night at a Political Speaking, the Crowd Refusing to Hear Diaz Speakers, Then Attacked Building as They Marched Through the Streets—An American Hotel Wrecked—More Than 200 Persons Are in Jail, One Boy Killed—Two Americans Wounded.

(By Leased Wire to The Times)
Mexico City, July 27—With many American residents and their property placed under the protection of the United States consulate, the city of Guadalajara, the second city in Mexico, is under martial law today.
Fearing that the riots of last night would be re-enacted the police and soldiers united and stood ready to quell disturbances with a stonger hand than yesterday. If violence were attempted, it was reported, orders would have been given to shoot down the rioters.
More than 200 persons are in jail and a boy was killed. W. H. Heron and H. Murphy, two Americans, were wounded.

The rioting started when a political meeting was held in the Belgrade theatre with a number of speakers who had been brought here in a special train in the interests of the Diaz party. The Reysta party, so-called by the name of its candidate for vice-president, General Bernardo Reyes, formerly Mexican minister of war, was responsible for the outbreak.
At the theatre the crowds refused to allow a single orator to speak. They threw wads of paper and stones at those upon the stage and yelled at the top of their voices. Leon Rojas, a lawyer, was hit on the head with a stone and rendered unconscious.
The speakers were taken from the theatre in automobiles, but these were stoned and had to flee. The tenth regiment was called out and quelled the rioters for a time. Later the crowds grew in volume, surging through the streets, smashing windows and shooting fire-arms. The police and soldiers fired into the air, save in one instance, where a pitched battle took place.
The Hotel Garcia, which is owned by an American, was completely wrecked. Today the proprietor put in a claim for damages to the Mexican government. Considerable American property was destroyed.

Guadalajara is the southern terminal of the Southern Pacific Railroad's spur through Mexico, and there is a large American colony there.

ARTIST KILLS WIFE.

Says He Thought He Was Shooting Burglar—Held For Investigation.

Boston, July 27—Harry Pierce, an artist, shot and killed his young wife, Edith, early today at their home in Jamaica Plain. Pierce says he thought burglars were in the house and that when he fired in the direction of a noise he shot his wife. He is being held. Mrs. Pierce was shot through the base of the brain as she lay in her bed.

SPANISH GRAFT MAY CAUSE THE TROOPS TROUBLE

Graft in Commissary Department Responsible for Moorish Victories

(By Cable to The Times)
Lisbon, July 27—The Spanish soldiers cooped up in the beleaguered city of Melilla, Morocco, which is surrounded by fanatic tribes, may be sacrificed to graft in the commissary department of the Spanish army. Spoiled supplies and lack of proper service in the quartermaster's department have proved defective to the forces. The troops, in the last three days, fighting outside the city, repeatedly exhausted their ammunition and were compelled to fall back while the tribesmen advanced, pouring in a destructive fire. A final attack may be delivered at any moment that will wipe out the Spanish troops.
The city was probably saved by the Spanish in the fighting on July 23 by a handful of men guarding the advanced Spanish battery. When the ammunition gave out the tribesmen charged, capturing the guns. The troops stationed about the cannon to guard them had no ammunition and were driven back. Clambering to the height of an obstruction and waving his flag above his head, a standard-bearer rallied the forces and they charged back upon the Kabyles, fighting with bayonets and clubbing with their muskets. The guns were recaptured.
The tribesmen besieging Melilla are being reinforced hourly. It is reported that from 10,000 to 12,000 are now on their way to join the beleaguering forces.
The flames of fanaticism are burning all over Morocco today. The Marabouts are inflaming the inland tribes and inciting them to march against the Spanish. The Anjora tribesmen have uprisen and compelled the Spanish to cease work upon the great highway to Tetuan, Morocco.
The Spanish government is now face to face with a most serious problem. As a means of placating those who are opposed to the present war, the minister of foreign affairs has issued a note declaring that the present hostilities in Morocco are not a war but merely the protection of Spanish property against the tribesmen who have risen in insurrection.
The censorship has been made more severe. The Madrid newspapers have been warned that they may print nothing save official dispatches which have been passed upon by the proper authorities.
General Sanchez is now directing affairs at Melilla, having succeeded General Marina. The fighting force is being increased to 40,000 active men.

MRS. SUTTON CALLED TO THE WITNESS STAND

Climax to the Hearing for Which She Had Sought for So Long

CROWD INTERESTED

Mrs. James N. Sutton Was Finally Called to Stand Today, Rather Unexpectedly by Major Leonard—Her Appearance the Climax of the Hearing, for Which She Had Sought Since the Death of Her Son in 1906—Had Been Expected That Mrs. Parker Would Be Called First, but She Had a Disagreement With Her Counsel.

(By Leased Wire to The Times)
Annapolis, Md., July 27—The inquiry into the death of Lieutenant Sutton was perhaps permanently half-drawn today when Judge Advocate Henry Leonard's motion to make all the eye witnesses to the tragedy defendants was adopted by the naval court. This action was taken shortly after Mrs. James N. Sutton, the mother, was called to the stand, and a letter from her read. In it she declared her son had been murdered.
Lieutenant Utley is expected to arrive here on August 6, but former Lieutenant Roelker, who was included in the ruling of the court, has not been located. The lawyers for Mrs. Sutton insist that his absence will invalidate the decision of the board if Roelker is not accorded the right to appear in court and examine witnesses. This view is not shared by Major Leonard, who declares the proceedings may be reopened at any time Roelker is located. The surprising turn of the inquiry followed Leonard's demands that all the marine officers mentioned in the case be recognized in the light of being accused of murder as the result of the letters Mrs. Sutton wrote the navy department insisting that the inquiry be reopened.
"I cannot understand what it all means," Mr. Davis declared after the court abruptly adjourned. "My witnesses are instructed to remain within the jurisdiction of the court and to be prepared to testify as soon as the court orders the inquiry resumed.
"I feel that any court would order the case again reviewed in the event that I succeeded in having the original verdict set aside.
"All they would have to do would be to produce former Lieutenant Edward Roelker, who has not been located. Under the conditions the case might be continued indefinitely and a final report never recorded."

Mrs. Sutton and her daughter expressed their disappointment at the unexpected developments. They had just reached the point where they were prepared to offer the mass of evidence they have accumulated when the inquiry was halted. They decided to go to Washington and await the order of the court to re-open the proceedings.
The admission of the letter places every person present at the death of Lieutenant Sutton in the position of a defendant, and they are all entitled to counsel," Commander Hood ruled.
"Mrs. Sutton may be cross-examined by any or all of the defendants."

Lieutenants Willing, Devan, Osterman, and Sergeant DeHart were called into the room and informed of their right to have counsel along with Lieutenant Adams. Major Leonard suggested that as Lieutenant Utley, who was included in the list of co-defendants, had not reached the court he would ask the attorneys for Adams to act for the missing officer.
"I have to withdraw for I cannot proceed with this case, with one of the defendants absent," Mr. Davis declared to the court. He asked for an adjournment until Lieutenant Utley arrived, declaring that in no court would a case stand unless the defendant had an opportunity to be present.

Up to this time Mrs. Sutton had only given her name and had identified the letter that precipitated the wrangle.
Commander Hood halted the argument by calling the four officers present to the long tables standing at attention. The four men listened while the head of the court read the decision giving the power to cross-examine Mrs. Sutton and to remain as defendants.
"We will adjourn until the arrival

CONFERENCE REPORT

Is Nearly Complete and Ready for Democrats

Conferees Will Probably Complete Report Today and Turn Bill Over to Democratic Conferees—Whether the President Gains a Complete Victory or Not Remains to be Seen.

(By Leased Wire to The Times)
Washington, July 27—Unless some further difficulty not now foreseen arises the republican members of the conference committee on the tariff bill will conclude their report today and turn it over to their democratic associates tonight or tomorrow morning. Twenty-four hours after the democrats get it the report will be submitted to the house. Whether the president wins a complete victory with respect to hides remains to be seen, notwithstanding the completion of the report which will carry free hides and a reduced duty on leather products. In order to accomplish the reduction authorizing its conferees to accept rates lower than those set forth in either the house or the senate bill. This can and will be done easily. Then it will be up to the president to get enough votes in the senate to pass his measure. The western hide senators insist that boots and shoes and leather goods shall be free if hides are made free. Unless this is done some of them will vote against the adoption of the conference report. Whether or not they will be able to defeat it depends to a large extent upon the position which the ten progressive republicans who voted against the bill take. There are enough anti-free hide men voting with the progressives and the democrats to defeat the report in the senate. It is said, however, that there are several progressives who, because of certain reductions which have been made have been won over by the president and will vote for the report. The two Nebraska senators are placed in this class. There are others who, because of the failure to get proper reductions in the cotton and woolen schedules, and who are not especially concerned in free raw material, who will continue to oppose the bill. On the other hand some senators, like Curtis, of Kansas, while opposing free hides, in order to please the president and remain regular, will vote for the report. If the president fails to pass free hides through the senate he will be asked to consent to a small duty, in order that the house, which is supporting his demand, may likewise accept a duty on hides.
Senator Daniel, of Virginia, who is one of the tariff conferees, was asked today when he thought the conferees committee will have its report ready. He answered that although a member of the committee he has no personal knowledge of the progress made by the conferees or when they would complete their work. The only information he has on the subject, he added, is what he obtains from the newspapers.
He intimated that all talk of defeating the conference report and the threatened revolt in the ranks of the republicans, is merely for effect; that at the proper time the republicans would vote for the bill and pass it.

EXTRA VOTING OFFER TO CLOSE TOMORROW NOON

All Candidates Are Requested to Get Their Votes in On Time

GO IN FOR THE PRIZE

Candidates Who Work Are Getting Nearer the Top as the End of the Contest Draws Nearer—Contest is Getting Lively, and Indications Are That It Will be the Biggest Contest Ever Conducted by The Times—The Offer For Extra Votes is Limited to Noon Tomorrow—All Candidates Are Requested to Remember This and Get Their Votes in in Time to be Counted.

Every day draws near the close of The Times' Great Canadian Contest, and puts you nearer the top—if you have worked. From the way some of the contestants are getting votes it looks as if this contest is going to be the real thing.
Extra Voting Limited.
All candidates are asked to remember tomorrow at 12 o'clock—for that is the last time the big 50,000 votes certificate will be given on the five new yearly subscriptions. Now this means a great deal toward the winning of one of these fine trips, because it may only take one yearly subscription for you to overcome the number of votes of the candidate who otherwise would have been the winner.
There are several candidates in the contest who will be in better standing after 12 o'clock tomorrow, and on a safer ground than they have been since the beginning of the contest. There is time for you to get into this crowd if you will get out and put two or three hours of steady work to the getting of these five new yearly subscriptions. It is not hard to get subscribers to The Evening Times. Orders are left in this office every day for subscriptions. You jump out and put a couple of hours time to getting subscribers for The Evening Times and you will find it to be fun, not work. When you get started in a contest and find the funny little things that happen while you are on your soliciting tour, you soon begin to love the work, and will be sorry when the contest is over. If you are not in the contest, jump out, get five new yearly subscriptions, bring them to the Times office by 12 o'clock tomorrow and join the crowd, have a good time, and win a prize for yourself that you will never forget. The sights you will see, the good time you will have while on this Canadian trip will live in your life and memory forever.
Get out and work with determination; work with the aim of winning, and remember the motto for your friends: "A little help now is worth all the consolation in the world after the contest is over and the prizes won."
The following rules and information will cover the contest.
1. This is only a subscription contest, and advertising will not be allowed to count for votes.
2. Anybody can enter for the race, boys, girls, men and women.
3. There are no districts to cut you out, and you can send in your subscriptions and have an equal chance no matter where you live.
4. The four people who have the highest number of votes will be awarded the trip.
5. Three judges will be selected on August 26th to count the votes and award the trips to the four people who hold the highest number of votes.
6. Many are asking what will be given in the trip. The trip is published last Saturday of the trip is what will be given FREE. That outlines the whole trip and tells what will be included free of all cost to the contestant. We give you everything included by the Seaboard in the trip.
7. Votes will be given when money is paid, and no votes will be issued at a later date for money paid now. Get your votes when you pay.
8. People living in other cities will have the same chance to win as the people in Raleigh, because there will be no districts and the four people holding the highest will get the trips. Each person will have the same opportunity to win.
9. Votes cannot be transferred after they have been published in the paper, but until they are published in the paper the person holding them can do as they please with them and vote them for whom they please.
10. No votes will be issued on August 26th, the closing day, but all subscriptions and money will be counted (Continued on Page 2.)

of Lieutenant Utley, who has been made a party to the inquiry," Commander Hood then declared.

Annapolis, Md., July 27—Mrs. Jas. N. Sutton, mother of the lieutenant whose death is being investigated here, was finally called to the witness stand today. Her appearance was the climax of the hearing for which she had sought ever since her son was shot to death in October, 1907.
After various witnesses had been called to make minor changes in their testimony the throng attending the session was electrified by this announcement of Major Leonard: "I will now call Mrs. Sutton."
It had been expected that Mrs. Rose Sutton Parker would be the first relative of the dead officer called, but her refusal to curtail her testimony after a stormy interview with her counsel resulted in the change.
As the white-haired mother of the dead marine officer stood up to be sworn, the proceedings were interrupted by Major Leonard, who offered in evidence a letter written by the woman whose fight made the inquiry possible.
Courteously the judge advocate ruled to allow Mrs. Sutton to remain in the high-back chair that she occupied beside Lawyer Vanduyck.
Before Mrs. Sutton was called to the stand Attorney Davis, after the court had announced it would adjourn as soon as it had heard all the witnesses within its jurisdiction, declared that Surgeon Cook would testify to a phase of the case hitherto (Continued on Page Five.)

EXTRA VOTING OFFER TO CLOSE TOMORROW NOON

All Candidates Are Requested to Get Their Votes in On Time

GO IN FOR THE PRIZE

Candidates Who Work Are Getting Nearer the Top as the End of the Contest Draws Nearer—Contest is Getting Lively, and Indications Are That It Will be the Biggest Contest Ever Conducted by The Times—The Offer For Extra Votes is Limited to Noon Tomorrow—All Candidates Are Requested to Remember This and Get Their Votes in in Time to be Counted.

Every day draws near the close of The Times' Great Canadian Contest, and puts you nearer the top—if you have worked. From the way some of the contestants are getting votes it looks as if this contest is going to be the real thing.
Extra Voting Limited.
All candidates are asked to remember tomorrow at 12 o'clock—for that is the last time the big 50,000 votes certificate will be given on the five new yearly subscriptions. Now this means a great deal toward the winning of one of these fine trips, because it may only take one yearly subscription for you to overcome the number of votes of the candidate who otherwise would have been the winner.
There are several candidates in the contest who will be in better standing after 12 o'clock tomorrow, and on a safer ground than they have been since the beginning of the contest. There is time for you to get into this crowd if you will get out and put two or three hours of steady work to the getting of these five new yearly subscriptions. It is not hard to get subscribers to The Evening Times. Orders are left in this office every day for subscriptions. You jump out and put a couple of hours time to getting subscribers for The Evening Times and you will find it to be fun, not work. When you get started in a contest and find the funny little things that happen while you are on your soliciting tour, you soon begin to love the work, and will be sorry when the contest is over. If you are not in the contest, jump out, get five new yearly subscriptions, bring them to the Times office by 12 o'clock tomorrow and join the crowd, have a good time, and win a prize for yourself that you will never forget. The sights you will see, the good time you will have while on this Canadian trip will live in your life and memory forever.
Get out and work with determination; work with the aim of winning, and remember the motto for your friends: "A little help now is worth all the consolation in the world after the contest is over and the prizes won."
The following rules and information will cover the contest.
1. This is only a subscription contest, and advertising will not be allowed to count for votes.
2. Anybody can enter for the race, boys, girls, men and women.
3. There are no districts to cut you out, and you can send in your subscriptions and have an equal chance no matter where you live.
4. The four people who have the highest number of votes will be awarded the trip.
5. Three judges will be selected on August 26th to count the votes and award the trips to the four people who hold the highest number of votes.
6. Many are asking what will be given in the trip. The trip is published last Saturday of the trip is what will be given FREE. That outlines the whole trip and tells what will be included free of all cost to the contestant. We give you everything included by the Seaboard in the trip.
7. Votes will be given when money is paid, and no votes will be issued at a later date for money paid now. Get your votes when you pay.
8. People living in other cities will have the same chance to win as the people in Raleigh, because there will be no districts and the four people holding the highest will get the trips. Each person will have the same opportunity to win.
9. Votes cannot be transferred after they have been published in the paper, but until they are published in the paper the person holding them can do as they please with them and vote them for whom they please.
10. No votes will be issued on August 26th, the closing day, but all subscriptions and money will be counted (Continued on Page 2.)

of Lieutenant Utley, who has been made a party to the inquiry," Commander Hood then declared.

Annapolis, Md., July 27—Mrs. Jas. N. Sutton, mother of the lieutenant whose death is being investigated here, was finally called to the witness stand today. Her appearance was the climax of the hearing for which she had sought ever since her son was shot to death in October, 1907.
After various witnesses had been called to make minor changes in their testimony the throng attending the session was electrified by this announcement of Major Leonard: "I will now call Mrs. Sutton."
It had been expected that Mrs. Rose Sutton Parker would be the first relative of the dead officer called, but her refusal to curtail her testimony after a stormy interview with her counsel resulted in the change.
As the white-haired mother of the dead marine officer stood up to be sworn, the proceedings were interrupted by Major Leonard, who offered in evidence a letter written by the woman whose fight made the inquiry possible.
Courteously the judge advocate ruled to allow Mrs. Sutton to remain in the high-back chair that she occupied beside Lawyer Vanduyck.
Before Mrs. Sutton was called to the stand Attorney Davis, after the court had announced it would adjourn as soon as it had heard all the witnesses within its jurisdiction, declared that Surgeon Cook would testify to a phase of the case hitherto (Continued on Page Five.)