SPAIN IS STILL SEETHING DEEPLY WITH REBELLION

Country Dead Stretch of Land From Which Only Vague Reports Come

DON JAIME ACTIVE

Two Hundred and Fifty Insurgents and Leaders in the Barcelona Rebellion Have Been Put to Death in the Last Three Days—Fortress Filled With Prisoners and Executions Are Taking Place Daily—Government Says Situation is Improved, But Censored Dispatches Keep the Real Situation a Mystery. Don Jaime Preparing a Manifesto Showing His Right to the Throne.

(By Cable to The Times.) Paris, via the Franco-Spanish frontier, Aug. 3—Two hundred and fifty insurgents and leaders in the Barcelona rebellion have been executed by soldiers in the past three days at Monjuich fortress outside the city according to advices received today from Madrid.

Monjuich fortress is filled with prisoners and executions are being held continuously. The censorship which is being rigorously maintained to keep the people in ignorance of the slaughter by the troops has not been entirely successful and the revolt is ripe for a new awakening.

The government persistently proclaims that the internal situation is improved, but the mystery of the real situation stretches from frontier to frontier unenlightened by the censored dispatches which are being sent out.

The threatened general strike which was to start yesterday was averted temporarily in the capital, though part of the country was affected. The rebel leaders sought to paralyze Spain and to isolate the nation by a complete tie-up of railroads and telegraph lines, but their attempt was abortive.

As it is Spain lies a dead stretch of land, seething with rebellion from which vague reports come at intervals of violence and slaughter. The real situation in Barcelona is not clearly known, although refugees at the frontier tell harrowing stories of what they passed through in the last five days.

The captain general of Barcelona, fearing new and more dangerous outbreaks, has informed the various consuls that they had best ask for warships to protect the interests of their various countries. The police are making countless arrests. They have discovered the real plot of the uprising, they claim. The authorities asserted that a band of international anarchists plotted a social revolution, and that the ringleaders were Castellans and Alusians, Italians, Portuguese, French, Russians, Swiss, Greeks, and South Americans.

It is believed, however, that this is a ruse that the real strength of Don Jaime's intrigues may not be known.

The ranks of the rioters offered a place for every man with the instincts of lawlessness. Brigands from the mountains, escaped felons, anarchists, radical socialists, thieves, and men out of work arrayed themselves with the rebels and fought for loot and pillage, and not for principle.

A report from Vienna today said that Don Jaime, after a short and mysterious visit there, had departed for Frodsdorf, in the Semmering Alps of lower Austria, and is supposed to be en route for that place today. His movements are being closely watched by the government agents of Alfonso.

Don Jaime is said to be preparing a manifesto which will be issued to the people of Europe setting forth for the first time officially his own claims to the Spanish throne and showing wherein his demand for the crown was true and legitimate.

Don Jaime also is preparing a proclamation to the people of Spain. An important feature of this will be the political will of the pretender's father, Don Carlos, who labored so valiantly for Alfonso's throne. This shows how deeply Don Carlos resented Spain's disrespect for the Sallie law and that he claimed not only the Spanish throne, but the right to rule France as well.

Among the victims of the military court-martials at Barcelona were two members of the chamber of deputies and eight aldermen of Barcelona.

TAFT OPPOSED TO RE-COMMITMENT

(By Leased Wire to The Times) Washington, August 3—President Taft is vigorously opposed to any re-commitment of the tariff bill. He made this plain to Senator McCumber of North Dakota today. The senator assured the president that he believes the agricultural interests of the northwest have unquestionably been surrendered to the manufacturing interests of the east in the present bill, but he thought the people would like the bill better when they understood it more clearly as many of the schedules are revised downward and not upward, as is the popular belief. Senator McCumber wished to obtain the president's influence to re-commit the bill to congress, but Mr. Taft said with emphasis that he is opposed to such procedure, for the reason that he believes it would endanger the bill.

Before the cabinet met the president had several conferences on the tariff with Senators Burkett, of Nebraska; Pyles and Jones, of Washington, and Briggs, of New Jersey, as well as Representative Payne, of New York, Burke, of Pennsylvania, and Rodenburg, of Illinois.

CONFERENCE ON THE DEFICIENCY BILL

(By Leased Wire to The Times) Washington, August 3—The house was in session for only five minutes today, when on motion of Representative Dalzell, of Pennsylvania, a recess was taken until 3 o'clock this afternoon. The secretary of the senate announced that the senate insisted on its amendments to the urgent deficiency bill, and requested a conference.

Representative Mann asked that the conference be granted. The speaker thereupon appointed the following conferees: Tawney, of Minnesota; Smith, of Iowa, and Livingston, of Georgia.

In response to a question of Representative Clark, of Missouri, Representative Dalzell stated that the recess was for the purpose of giving the conferees on the bill time to agree. Representative Clark then inquired if the tariff bill was coming to the house again today. He was answered in the negative by Mr. Dalzell.

SUTTON CASE TO BE CALLED NEXT WEEK

(By Leased Wire to The Times) Washington, August 3—Henry E. Davis, attorney for Mrs. James N. Sutton, is engaged today preparing for the reconvening of the court of investigation at Annapolis, which probably will take place next Monday. The North Carolina, with Lieutenant Utley and Surgeon Cook on board, arrived at Provincetown today.

Mr. Davis refuses to discuss the report that records bearing on the whereabouts of Private Kennedy on the night that Lieutenant Sutton lost his life, has disappeared from the official barracks book containing them, but from an authoritative source it may be said that if the record of the men on sentry duty that night is lost or has been stolen its loss or theft has occurred since the hearing began.

When Mrs. Sutton's counsel learned of Kennedy's relation to the case, they took the precaution, before having him called as a witness, to ascertain whether he was in fact on duty that night. They were furnished by the proper officers with a list of all men who were on duty as sentries and in the list was the name of Kennedy, who was designated as being at the very post stated by him. Mrs. Sutton's counsel still has the list which was prepared by one of them from the information given by the official referred to.

Mr. Davis would neither deny or affirm the report that E. H. Harriman is backing the Suttons in the fight they are making to clear their son's name of the stigma of suicide.

Clock Stopped With Death. (By Leased Wire to The Times) Red Bank, N. J., August 3—Simultaneously with the death of Elijah C. VanBrunt, of Oceanic, early today the clock in the death chamber stopped ticking. Thirty-four grandchildren and 16 great-grandchildren survive him.

For Taking Care of Dogs. (By Leased Wire to The Times) Orange, Mass., Aug. 3—For taking care of the two small dogs of Mrs. Mary F. Shaw, of Hartford, Conn., Miss Phylla C. Miller, of this town, has been bequeathed the income from $10,000.

MORE EVIDENCE INTRODUCED TO SHOW INSANITY

Larger Crowd of Women Than Usual Seek Admittance to Court Room

DR. BAKER A WITNESS

Dr. Amos T. Baker, Acting Superintendent of Matteawan Asylum, Was Cross-examined Today by Lawyer Morschauser—Testified to Insane Actions of Thaw While at Matteawan—Brought Into Court a Bundle of Papers Found Secreted in Thaw's Clothing—Papers Included Typewritten Speeches and Notes to be Used as Memorandum by Lawyers Who Are Fighting for Prisoner's Release—Dr. Hirsch a Witness.

(By Leased Wire to The Times) White Plains, N. Y., Aug. 3—Additional evidence of the insane actions of Harry Thaw were furnished today when Dr. Amos T. Baker, acting superintendent of Matteawan asylum, was cross-examined by Lawyer Morschauser.

Complying with the order of Justice Mills, the witness brought to the court a bundle of papers found secreted in Thaw's clothing. The papers included typewritten speeches and notes to be used as memorandum for the lawyers battling for the millionaire's release. The data was not presented to the court when Dr. Baker was examined by Jerome because the state's attorney desired to withhold most of their evidence for rebuttal.

The array of alienists called by the state was augmented by the addition of Dr. William Hirsch, who testified before Justice Dowling that Thaw was a paranoiac.

A larger crowd of women than has been present since the proceedings opened sought admittance to the little court room. Lined three deep around the walls of the trial chamber and perched on window sills, from where they commanded a view of the body of the room only at great inconvenience, stylishly dressed women remained throughout the session.

Thaw walked from the jail across the yard to the court house, his guard fighting a path through the crowd of women, young and old, who made an effort to shake hands with the famous prisoner.

Thaw quietly resented the attempts of his staff of private detectives to disperse the gathering. He smilingly acknowledged the sympathy offered by those who got close enough to grasp his hand and remained standing on the top step bowing to the cheering crowd.

"I hope to be free in a week," Thaw said, as he waved to the gathering before entering the court-room. While waiting for Justice Mills, Thaw noticed Henry Harney, who occupied seat No. 5 in the jury box at the first murder trial, sitting in the body of the court-room. Rising in his chair, Thaw walked over to greet the man who had caused the jury to disagree because he held out for 47 hours voting for acquittal.

The deputy sheriff guarding Thaw hurried over to the prisoner's side, but Thaw smilingly reassured the excited official that he intended only to shake hands with the former juror.

Jerome opened his mail during the cross examination of Baker and both he and Thaw laughed over a cartoon of the district attorney which was enclosed in an envelope. The witness's memory was a little faulty and he said he couldn't remember telling Mr. Peabody that he had found no traces of insanity in Thaw, but might have made such an assertion.

The witness then told of conversations with Thaw and of one incident when he detected tobacco smoke and accused Thaw of violating the rule pertaining to smoking. Thaw denied the smoking and was threatened with a curtailment of his privileges.

Dr. Baker said Thaw became irritated when he had queried him about the reports made by detectives who were following White. He referred Dr. Baker to Lawyer Henry Longfellow, to whom the reports were made.

Mr. Morschauser tried to get the witness to tell of a conversation in which Thaw said a man of Stanford White's practices must be insane, but the witness' memory was bad. Dr. Baker couldn't remember telling the reporters that he thought Thaw rational. Then District Attorney Jerome took the witness.

Q. Have you noticed any change in Thaw's condition since he has been in this court?

BITTER FEELING STILL EXISTS IN REGARD TO BILL

Cuberson Will Offer Amendment to Place Cotton Bagging on Free List

OTHER AMENDMENTS

Conferees Have Decided to Offer Joint Resolution to Correct the "Joker" in the Leather Schedule—Feared Western Senators Would be Able to Make Good Their Threat and Afraid to Recommend the Bill to Conference They Quickly Agree to Joint Resolution—Senator Clapp Protests Against the Maximum and Minimum Operations of the Bill—Tillman Says Tariff Commission Plan is Enucleated.

(By Leased Wire to The Times) Washington, Aug. 3—Still with the fear that the "range" senators are able to make good their threat to defeat the conference report, because of the leather "joker," the conferees have decided to offer a joint resolution to correct the schedule. This will be done immediately after the adoption of the report. Senator Aldrich and Chairman Payne both have given assurances to their associates, and to the objecting senators, that this will be done.

The "joker" which had the tariff bill defeated yesterday, grew out of a few lines written in the report at the instance of Senator Lodge, of Massachusetts, which, in effect, reduces the duties on boots, shoes, harness, and other leather goods, made only from hides of cattle. The clever wording of the paragraph had the effect of leaving the higher duty on leather goods made from calf skins, and other skins. In vain the president sought to convince the western senators that he understood the situation correctly, and that it was "all right." They refused to accept his version.

The trouble confronting the conferees was the fear that to return the bill to conference would open up other schedules, produce delay, and defeat the bill. It was apprehension of this that caused the agreement to be quickly reached for a joint resolution to correct the schedule.

When the senate met at 10 o'clock this morning there was a bitter feeling plainly in existence regarding the tariff bill, and the prospects of an early vote on the conference vote.

Senator Cuberson, of Texas, gave notice that when the proposed joint resolution to correct the leather schedule is submitted he would offer an amendment to place cotton bagging on the free list.

Senator Clapp, of Minnesota, also gave notice of an amendment. He protested against the method of operation of the maximum and minimum provisions. Under its workings, he said, France would only have three months' notice, while other countries would have six.

Senator Aldrich, of Rhode Island, said its entire operation had been worked out by the state department, and was satisfactory to all concerned. Senator Tillman, of South Carolina, charged that the conferees had enucleated the tariff commission plan.

In reply to questions by Senator Newlands, of Nevada, Senator Aldrich said the language of the report regarding a tariff commission was broader and more liberal than that contained in either the senate or the house bill. Although he had not entirely indorsed it in conference, he said, he believed that practically it granted all that had been asked for by earnest advocates of a commission.

This view, he said, is shared by the president. It would give the president authority to send commissioners to Europe to collect data and obtain all possible information on tariff matters.

Senator Clapp, of Minnesota, declared that the bill as it passed the senate originally was so bad that he had been obliged to vote against it. Now, as it came from conference, it was so much worse that he would continue to vote against it.

At the conclusion of Senator Clapp's speech an agreement was reached to vote on the conference report at 2 o'clock on Thursday.

North Carolina Postmasters. (By Leased Wire to The Times) Washington, Aug. 3—Fourteen postmasters were appointed today as follows: North Carolina—Deals, Annie Dudley.

BIG FALLING OFF IN WHISKEY TAX

(By Leased Wire to The Times) Washington, August 3—Uncle Sam's pocket-book suffered a big shrinkage because of the prohibition wave during the fiscal year ended June 30, last, during which period there was a decrease of $5,299,773 in whiskey tax receipts, as shown by the preliminary report of the internal revenue bureau issued yesterday. Whiskey tax collections last year were $431,868,934, as against $447,158,807 for the preceding year. The receipts on beer and other fermented liquors amounted to $57,456,411, a decrease of $2,351,205, compared with 1908.

Internal revenue receipts from all sources were $246,212,719. The government expended approximately $1,976,000 in collecting its internal revenue.

Illinois led the country with $13,111,111 internal revenue paid into the treasury. Other states in which the tax exceeded $20,000,000 were Kentucky, Indiana, Pennsylvania, and New York.

STREET IMPROVEMENTS

Durham Aldermen Order Improvements Made

West Main Street Ordered Straightened and Extended—Other Streets to be Improved—Matter of Taxing Beer Not Gone Into—Ball Players in Trouble.

(Special to The Times)

Durham, August 3—At the regular monthly meeting of the board of aldermen here last night the most important work ordered was the grading and putting sidewalks on a number of streets. West Main street was ordered straightened and extended from the curve in front of Trinity College to the city limits. When this work is finished it will make this a straight street of about four miles. Other work ordered was on Morehead avenue, Holloway, Foster, and several other streets. All of this work will begin as soon as possible to get the men at work and the materials for the sidewalks get to the city.

It had been expected that the taxing of beer would be one of the matters that would be thrashed out last night. However, since the routine business took up so much of the session this matter could not be gone into. In addition to the street work the board heard the report of the regular committees, and also ordered a 25 gallon chemical tank for one of the fire wagons.

Henry Jones, charged with engaging in an affray with a deadly weapon at the park last Saturday night, is in jail. Jones is one of the Chapel Hill baseball players who came here Saturday and tried to take the town, or at least the park, before he went back. He and his companions got into some trouble at the park, and when the officer arrested one of their number the others came in and took the prisoner away from the officer.

Other officers were deputized and a general fight occurred in which guns, baseball bats, rocks and fists were used. The result was that the officers were beaten and finally had to back out as best they could, however, not until they had wounded one of the bunch from Chapel Hill through the leg. Coming down the street they got other officers and returned to the park for the offenders, but had gotten into their buggies and gone home. Warrants were issued for the arrest of most of them and the arrest of Henry Jones is the result.

The cases of W. T. Rigsbee and Joseph Rawls, charged with retailing, was again postponed yesterday morning. The defense asked this on the ground that they wanted to get some depositions from other states. The continuance was granted, and August 20 is now the date set for the trial of the cases. Much interest is being taken in these cases here. The court-room yesterday morning resembled the morning session of the superior court.

Will Shoot Down Insurgents. (By Cable to The Times)

Madrid, August 3—A column of Spanish troops, composed of artillery, cavalry, and infantry, set out for Sabadell, 10 miles from Barcelona, where the insurgents are still in power today. Orders were given to suppress the insurgents sternly and shoot down all resisting without quarter.

MRS. M'FARLAND TAKES THE LEAD IN THE CONTEST

Big Bonus Vote Makes Contestants Get Busy, Forming Many Clubs

WILSON IN FRONT

Young Ladies Doing Fine Work While the Men are Quietly Hustling for Business—Now is the Time to Form the Clubs and Secure the Thousands of Extra Votes—Two Fine Trips Costing $125.00 Each for the Two Leaders—Contestants Are Working Day and Night to Get in the Lead.

The race is now open and the contestants are working hard for the first places. From all the towns in the list comes the subscribers and thousands of votes are being issued each day. A large number of Raleigh people are in the race and they are doing something, too. Just look how some of your friends are piling up votes. They are out working, and when August 26th comes they are going to be in the finish.

Mrs. R. W. McFarland, of Wilson, goes to the front today and her friends are sending in votes for her by the thousand. She certainly has the people of Wilson lined up for her, and she is making all arrangements to visit Canada this fall as the guest of The Evening Times. The Wilson people favor The Evening Times and the large list is increasing rapidly.

From nearly every town in this section comes subscribers and the contestants all say they are securing a big lot of names they expect to turn in before August 9th. Just think how many votes you can get on August 9th, if you only hustle. This special offer will close with August 9th and you must send all the names and money to us on that day in order to get full credit.

You will notice we are cutting out the names of the people who are not doing any work. We shall continue to cut down the list, but anyone can come back into the contest if they will deposit over 1,000 votes. Remember the contest is still open to any one to enter, but you must have over a 1,000 votes to enter, and then we may raise the limit.
