

Yacht "Flitter", Third Act Brewster's Millions. Academy of Music Wednesday, September 22d.

AMUSEMENTS

"BREWSTERS' MILLIONS."
Cohan and Harris' comedians will present "Brewster's Millions" at the Academy on Wednesday, September 22. After one has witnessed a performance of this famous comedy one can safely feel that he has enjoyed the best play of its kind produced in recent years. It is a result of a combination of brains, ability and money properly directed. Originally "Brewster's Millions" was a novel by that prolific fiction dispenser, George Barr McCutcheon, whose "Beverley of Graustark" had previously been so successful. Messrs. Winchell Smith and Byron Ongley saw in "Brewster's Millions" the possibilities for a great play and proceeded to transplant it from the book-shelf to the footlights. So well did they succeed that their work attracted the attention of Frederic Thompson of the late firm of Thompson and Dundy, the promoters and conductors of Luna Park at Coney Island. Mr. Thompson being the inventor and promoter of a number of marvelous illusions which were seen at both the Buffalo and St. Louis world's fairs, proceeded to present the play. Its overwhelming success is a matter of recent theatrical record and that it ran for a year in New York, for half that length of time in Chicago and longer in London, is but mute testimony to the perspicuity of Mr. Thompson. The production to be seen here by Cohan and Harris' comedians has not lost one iota of the value of interest of the metropolitan presentation. Indeed, scenically, electrically and mechanically it is an absolute reproduction, while dramatically it is interpreted by a cast fully as strong and equally as clever as the original.

"HUMAN HEARTS."

The powerful and impressive melodrama "Human Hearts," presented by the exceptionally strong company of players, will be offered for the approval of the lovers of all that is clean and wholesome in melodrama on the stage, at the Academy of Music matinee and night, Saturday, September 25.

"Human Hearts" has been firmly established as one of the most original and interesting of modern dramas. The author has long been famous as a playwright, but in the present instance he has surpassed all his former efforts. For ingenuity, strength and brilliancy, "Human Hearts" is a marvel of stage craft, done by a master hand in stage adroitness. The author poured out his entire store of theatrical knowledge in this play. He has produced a work of magnificent possibilities for a melodramatic public. The characters are finely drawn, the dialogue is crisp, the human interest is all absorbing, the comedy is charming, the pathos is sincere. Taken on its entirety, "Human Hearts" is probably one of the strongest plays ever shown on the American stage.

The program at the Revelry is one of the best of the season. Today's bill of vaudeville consists of Miss Mamie Lafferty, one of the best toe dancers that has ever been booked in Raleigh. Miss Lafferty is graceful and dainty in her song and dance act. Palmer & Parker, in the College Girl and the Professor, are booked in the Revelry for Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday, and come highly recommended.

One of the features of this act is the trained dogs.

The pictures are of the usual high-class standard.

The Gem Theatre has secured for this week two fine acts: "Mr. Ed. Gerkin," the real blackface and the best natural whistler in the world, is an attraction you can't afford to miss. "Kellar & Browning" appear in an act of singing, dancing, whistling, character changes, and comedy. This is a high-class act in every way, and a big hit everywhere. Motion pictures of the same high quality as usual.

"Sherlock Holmes, Jr.," will visit the Gem Theatre tonight.

AL G. FIELDS' MINSTRELS.

Two Excellent Performances Witnessed Here Saturday, Matinee and Night.

The Al G. Fields Greater Minstrels gave two performances here Saturday, matinee and night, and to say that they were enjoyed by the large audiences but mildly expresses it

The characters, scenery, costumes, and program were better than this famous organization has had in many years. For the past few seasons the performances were mediocre, and were living upon past reputation, but this year it is plenty able to win on merit alone.

There was a scarcity of minstrel chestnuts that was indeed refreshing, and there was a dash and a swing to the whole performance that was most pleasing. Of course, Al Field and Doc Quigley called for the greatest applause, for these veterans of minstrelsy are and always will be popular idols. The singing of Chas. Reinhardt deserves special mention, even in that company of brilliants.

Those who have the opportunity of seeing this show this year and fail to do so, will miss a rare treat.

People Baffled Day to Day By Sherlock Jr.

man: knows where to get the best. I then went to the capitol square and sat there awhile and then to Wright's for my dinner. Then went up to the matinee. Oh, such fun! I sat next to two young ladies. They had some man across from them spotted for Sherlock Holmes, Jr. Poor little things! How badly fooled they were, for I was right next to them.

I laughed at the jokes. Oh, Al G. when shall I see your minstrel again? The show was over rather late, so I went to my room, then to Wright's for supper. At night I went to the Gem. There was a very large crowd, considering the minstrel was in town. The vaudeville and pictures were fine. Mr. Mansfield told me that he was to have the best bill this week he had ever had. Well, I'll be there, you bet.

Left Gem about 9:30 p. m. Went to my room, as I was very tired after being chased around all the day.

Tomorrow Night.

Now people, I have been here for over a week and no one has been able to catch me. I have an engagement elsewhere and am compelled to draw the contest to a close, so am going to give you an opportunity of catching me. I am going to the Gem Theatre tomorrow night and Mr. Mansfield is going to have my picture thrown on the screen. I am going to be sitting right in there at the time and if you are there and will have a copy of the Evening Times in your hand you will have a chance to catch me and win the $25.00.

Now think what you will miss if you are not at the Gem. You will see a good show and have an opportunity of winning the $25.00. Better go and don't fail to have a copy of the last edition of the Evening Times and don't forget to say "You are the mysterious Mr. Sherlock Holmes, Jr., of the Evening Times." If you don't have a copy of the paper in your hand, and if you don't say the exact wording, it will not count.

Will you be there? I will.

CENTRAL M. E. CHURCH.

Dr. T. N. Ivey Preached on Faith at the Morning Hour—The Pastor Occupied the Pulpit at Night.

At Central church Dr. T. N. Ivey preached the morning sermon, taking for the subject of his discourse, "The Greatness of Faith."

He said that it is unfortunate that the word faith has become dry and abstract, when if the word was understood clearly, it would be considered a very vital subject.

Faith is a faculty belonging to every one, a faculty by which we take as true what we cannot see, and then act upon that assumption.

He spoke of the greatness of faith in the practical life, that the grandest monuments of civilization and the most glowing trophies of science are all monuments of faith. In the mental world faith gains many victories, for the calculations of the astronomer, given to the world many years before they transpire, are among the most gigantic achievements of mental faith of which one can conceive. Faith achieves its grandest triumph in the spirit world. There is where the mental machinery falls to pieces and the soul runs up the ladder of faith and reaches God.

In concluding Dr. Ivey dwelt upon the importance of never losing the child-like faith that clings to the Bible and all of its teachings.

Rev. L. B. Jones occupied the pulpit at the evening services. The subject of his sermon was based upon the text, "And the spirit and the bride say come, and let him that heareth say come, and let him that is athirst come, and whosoever will, let him take the water of life freely."

He said the great purpose of the Bible was the salvation of the world through Jesus Christ.

After proving by every day occurrences that a man reaps what he has sown, he brought out clearly the striking difference between Christianity and other religions. Christianity is the only religion that has the Christ.

He very forcefully impressed upon his hearers the universal invitation given by the Father, and he very earnestly urged all who had not confessed Christ to do so without delay.

At the close of the sermon three were received into the church.

The services at St. Luke's Home yesterday afternoon were conducted by Mr. R. E. Prince, under the auspices of the devotional department of the Epworth League of Central church.

SHOW GIRL IN TROUBLE.

A Member of a Theatrical Company Arrested Here Last Night at Request of Durham Officers.

Miss Clara Weya, a good-looking 18-year-old girl, was arrested here last night at the request of the Durham officers and sent to that city this morning on the 8:40 train.

From the reports it seems that she had been a member of a theatrical company now in that city. Yesterday she decided to return north, and came to Raleigh on the 6 o'clock train and purchased a ticket for New York, intending to leave at midnight, but a 'phone message to the police authorities here put an end to her intentions. It is claimed that she overdraw her salary to the amount of $5, for which the manager of the company caused her arrest.

An House Lined with Ivory

Ivory is a place of enduring beauty, of domestic health, comfort and economy — warm in winter, cool in summer, snug and dry at all seasons. Ivory is not expensive.

Ordinary plastering materials — lime, etc. — are extravagant. They make a porous, absorbent, damp, drafty, unsightly, unsanitary, weak and crumbly wall.

Ivory Wall Plaster
made from Rock Gypsum, makes a hard, tough, smooth, dense, dry, sanitary wall that defies time, weather, fire and water.

Saves weeks of time in building, saves doctor bills, saves fuel, protects the decorations, saves repairs. Ask your Architect. In plastering your Home, insist upon Ivory Wall Plaster. Sold only by Powell & Powell, Inc.

Write, 'phone or call for handsome illustrated booklet—"Concerning Ivory Wall Plaster"—it tells things about plaster that every home builder ought to know.
