WORK THAT THE CLUBS PROPOSE DOING DURING COMING WINTER MONTHS

Raleigh's Literary and Society Clubs Map Out Unusually Interesting Plans

VARIOUS PROGRAMS

Women's Clubs Add Much to City's Social Life—Opening Up After Disbanding for Summer—Many Private Clubs and Patriotic Organizations-Work Planned for Season.

During the summer social life in Raleigh is almost dead. The colleges are closed and the clubs have dis-banded until the fall season. There is nothing adds more to the social life during three fourth of the year than the women's clubs. There are an un-usually large number of them, with the Woman's club of course as the chief woman's organization. A number of the smaller clubs have held their first meting of the season and the city is beginning already to feel the new life they bring with them. The re-opening of the woman's club will be next week.

The first meeting of the Woman's Club of the season will take place next Friday afternoon at 4 o'clock. It is a general meeting of the club and the fall reunion is always looked forward to with much pleasure by all the members. The meetings are suspended during the summer but club work goes on, for it is then that the chairman of the different departments and their committees are hard at work planning the program for the year and the president issues the year book. These will be ready for distribution on Thursday and a glance at the contracts shows many delightful things in store for the season. The work planned in all the departments is of a most practical and helpful nature and under them the leaderships of the different chairmen will give to the club an unusually interesting season. Among the first things that will enthe new Rex Hospital. This institu-tion all Raleigh feels proud of, and every member of the Woman's club takes the keenest interest in its success so it only remains to decide just how they can most practically help in its equipment. It is along just such a line as this the Woman's club most desires o work and all movements that have for their object the betterment of the

SUFFRAGETTES CHARGE MEN WITH ASSAULT

Don't Like it Because Officers Feed Them With Stomach Pump

CAN'T POSE AS MARTYRS

Want to Play the Role of Martyr by Starving to Death, But Officials and Stomach Pump Turn Tragedy Into Comedy and Martyrdom to a Joke-Suffragetts, Because They Have to Eat, Have Brought Suit Against the Authorities Charging Assault—As a Result of Their Violence the Jail Authorities Have in Part Taken Their Rights From Them-Not Allowed Visitors

London, Oct. 2-Writs in an action charging assault were issued today against Home Secretary Gladstone and the governor and physician of the Birmingham jail at the instigation of the suffragettes who are raging because the officials are compelling the imprisoned suffragettes to eat food while they are apparently desirous of becoming martyrs to the cause by starving themselves to death.

On several previous instances suffragettes were released from imprisonment when they refused to eat, but the women arrested in Birmingham were forcibly fed.

Ellen Barnwell and Hilda Burkitt, who were the leaders in the attack on Premier Asquith's train, this leading to their arrest, fought desperately to prevent taking food, but they were held while a stomaca pump was used to force them to take beef tea. The women have resorted to violence, smashing the jail windows and breaking all the furniture in their cells. They scream "Votes for women" until the rules-abiding prisoners complain bitterly.

As a result of their violence the ights of the suffragettes have been forfeited in part. No one is allowed to visit them. Miss Christabel Pankhurst, desirous of interviewing one of the women upon a legal point, was refused admittance to the jail.

WOMAN DESERTS CHILD ON TRAIN

(Special to The Times.)

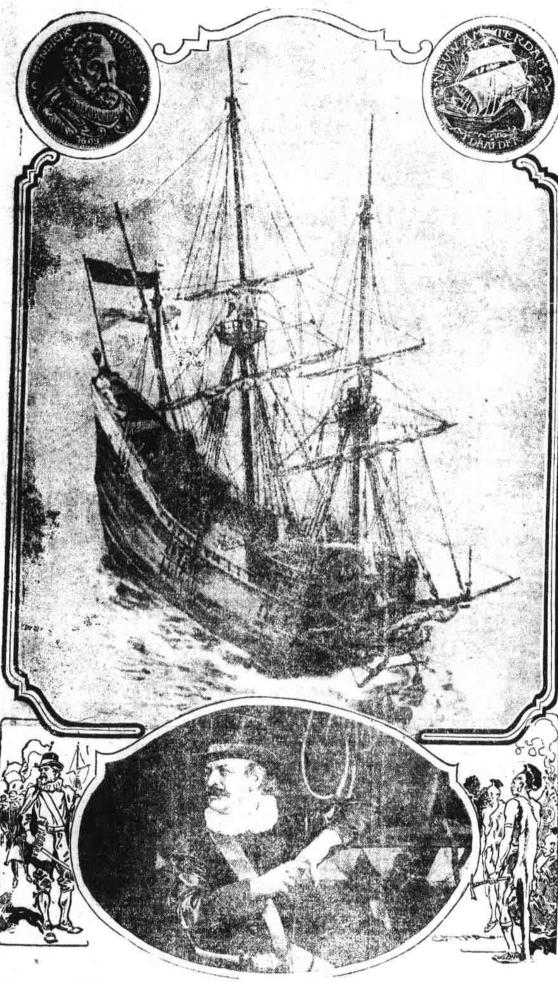

Fayetteville, N. C., Oct. 2-Passengers on the local Atlantic Coast Line train arriving here last night brought a strange story of a woman's deserweeks old. The conductor noticed the min taking up tickets and noticed that the woman's destination was Jarretts. When the train arrived at Jarretts the woman got off and no one noticed that the child was not with her or that anything was wrong. But sometime after passing Jarrets, the conductor heard a child crying and upon investigation found the infant in a closet, lying upon the floor. It was taken care of by ladies on the train for the time being, and as soon as possible given over to the authorities. An effort was made to locate the woman but with what success is

(By Leased Wire to The Times) New York, Oct. 2-Five hundred housand children played their part n the Hudson-Fulton celebration tolay and in 56 separate centers in the greater city there were individual lemonstrations, while the youngsters, many of them in costume, paid tribite to Henry Hudson and Robert

So far as the daylight hours were oncerned this was children's day in New York. With the Half Moon and lermont, and many of the digniaries up the state celebrating with the people of the Hudson valley it fell to juvenile New York today to ontinue the splendid display. The biggest daylight event on the protram was a monster pageant for which preparations were made for nore than 10,000 participants as the ninimum number. The procession was not a single, long drawn-out line there were 56 separate parades, ach representing some different part n the main pageant, and all convergng at one point.

Tonight, under the glow of a nyraid of incandescents and with 50 loats depicting allegorical and other subjects in line, poetry, music and ert will come into their own.

It is to be a carnival night with Fifth avenue and Central Park west is the center.

The children's program for today vas organized with a view to presenting one of the most impressive scenes of the entire celebration. They were drilled for weeks in their schools, and many of them were atired in costume, some of Dutch, Indian, and colonial styles, and others of more modern periods,

The parade in each school district onsisted of two sections. First, a division of children in ostume:

Second, a division of pupils of the lementary public schools Early this morning the pupils be-can assembling for the parade. The morning augured well for weather. The sun was bright and a crisp wind stirred the banners and decorations. At the designated points there was a great deal of confusion and the lines of children seemed without end.

As the lines met and halted the officers, according to the program planned gave orders for the singing of the first and last stanzas of "America". The song was lifted with a mighty shout and many of the spectators joined in the chorus, which came from nearly a million throats, drowning even the din of the brass bands. The second signal was for the pupils to repeat the following:

"I pledge allegiance to my flag and to the republic for which it stands; one nation indivisable with liberty and justice for all."

Then they waved their flags, 'The Star Spangled Banner' fol-owed. Costumes for the children were furnished by the board of education, but in many instances children supplied helr own. Necessary police guard patrolled the line of march. Early today Police Commissioner Baker had his regulars and reserves under way. Especial attention was paid to the child-
