

Washington, Oct. 8—Forecast for North Carolina for tonight and Saturday: Fair to night; Saturday, cloudy.

The Evening Times

ESTABLISHED 1876.

RALEIGH, N. C., FRIDAY, OCTOBER 8, 1909.

PRICE 5 CENTS

FIRST GAME BETWEEN PITTSBURG "PIRATES" AND DETROIT "TIGERS" SCORE 4 TO 1 FAVOR "PIRATES"

MANY THOUSANDS FIGHT AND PLEAD ADMISSION TO FIELD

First Game of the World's Championship Series Witnessed by Thousands Who Shout Encouragement to Their Favorites as the Players Walk Out on the Field and the National Game Begins.

THE WEATHER IDEAL AND EVERYTHING PROPITIOUS FOR FAST, SPICY GAME

Forty Thousand Ball-mad, Crazy Fans Send Up Bedlam of Praise, Encouragement, Curses and "Eeh-yahs" As the Game Started—Without the Gates Thousands of Would-be Rooters Were Starved, Fighting and Pleading by Turns to Gain Admission—Towering Policemen Try to Hold Crowd in Check But They Seemed Determined Not to be Denied—When Players March on Field They Are Greeted Tumultuously.

(By Leased Wire to The Times.)

Pittsburg, Pa., Oct. 8—Before a cheering, shouting, laughing crowd of approximately 40,000 fans, the Detroit Tigers went down in defeat today before the Pittsburgh Pirates in the first game of the world's championship between the winners of the American and National League pennants respectively. The score was 4 to 1. It was a Pittsburgh crowd through and through. The Detroit fans were outnumbered 7 to 1. All the betting was with the Smoky City team favorite and that the wagers were heaped is shown by the result, the three-time world title contenders falling down hard and making four errors.

Manager Clarke, of the Pirates, was the hero of the day, for it was his home run clout in the fourth inning that tied the score which up to that time had stood 1 to 0 in favor of the Tigers.

Detroit scored in the first half of the first inning, Cobb getting the run after he had walked. Then Crawford hit to Adams, who threw wild to third, forcing Davey Jones. Delehanty on the third pitch singled to left, scoring Cobb. Horriarty hit toward second, the ball hitting Delehanty, who was called out. Three out—one run.

Pittsburg—Byrne up. On last ball pops to Bush. Leach out, Delehanty to T. Jones. Clarke, after two fouls, went out, Mullin to T. Jones. Three out. No runs.

Second Inning. Detroit—T. Jones was thrown out, Byrne to Abstein. Schmidt out the same way. Mullin singled to center; D. Jones lined out to Byrne. No runs.

Pittsburg—Wagner hit to Delehanty, who retired him at first. Millard flied out to Cobb. Abstein walked. While Wilson was at bat Mullin caught Abstein napping at first and threw him out. No runs.

Third Inning. Detroit—Bush out, Adams to Abstein. Cobb out, Wagner to Abstein. Crawford singled. Delehanty sent a long fly to Clarke. No runs.

Pittsburg—Wilson out, Moriarty to T. Jones; Gibson struck out, Adams flied out to D. Jones. No runs.

Fourth Inning. Detroit—Moriarty out, Byrne to Abstein. T. Jones flied to Leach. Schmidt walked. Mullin hit to Wagner, who threw to second, forcing Schmidt. No runs.

Pittsburg—Byrne out, Mullin to T. Jones. Leach struck out. Clarke hit into right field crowd for a home run, tying the score. Wagner was hit by the pitcher and took first. Miller flied out to Cobb. One run.

Fifth Inning. Detroit—D. Jones singled to right, Bush hit to Wagner, who threw to Miller flied out to Cobb. One run.

Cobb hit to Wagner, who threw to second, forcing Bush. Cobb stole second and the Detroit fans went wild. Crawford fouled out to Gibson. No runs.

Pittsburg—Abstein doubled to center and went to third on Crawford's fumble. Wilson struck out after waiting for three balls. Gibson doubled to center, scoring Abstein. Adams got to first safely on an error by Bush on the Pittsburgh pitcher's infield hit. Gibson went to third on the play. Byrne was hit in the head by a fast pitched ball. Bases now full. Leach sent a long fly to Davey Jones, scoring Gibson on the throw in. Clark out, Delehanty to T. Jones. Two runs.

Sixth Inning. Detroit—Delehanty called out on strikes. Moriarty was out, Wagner tranquility was a thing unknown. The teams lined up as follows: Pittsburgh: Byrne, 3b.; Leach, cf.; Clark, 1.f.; Wagner, s.; Miller, 2b.; Abstein, 1b.; Wilson, r.f.; Gilbon, c.; Adams, p. Detroit: D. Jones, 1.f.; Bush, s.; Cobb, r.f.; Crawford, c.f.; Moriarty, 3b.; Delehanty, 2b.; T. Jones, 1b.; Schmidt, c.; Mullin, p. The appearance of the first Pirates on the field was greeted tumultuously. Jack Miller, Bobby Byrne, Camnitz and Abstein were in the first bunch. When Wagner, Leach and Clarke appeared the crowd went mad. Cheer after cheer greeted the "big three" as they walked on the diamond and the players were compelled to doff their caps in recognition.

Babe Adams appears in great form as he warmed up. He had all sorts of speed and curves and much favorable comment was heard from Detroit fans on the way he handled himself.

First Inning. Detroit—D. Jones takes first on four balls. Bush hit to Abstein, who retired him at first; Jones went to second. Cobb walked. Crawford hit to Adams, who threw wild to third, forcing Davey Jones. Delehanty on the third pitch singled to left, scoring Cobb. Horriarty hit toward second, the ball hitting Delehanty, who was called out. Three out—one run.

Pittsburg—Byrne up. On last ball pops to Bush. Leach out, Delehanty to T. Jones. Clarke, after two fouls, went out, Mullin to T. Jones. Three out. No runs.

Second Inning. Detroit—T. Jones was thrown out, Byrne to Abstein. Schmidt out the same way. Mullin singled to center; D. Jones lined out to Byrne. No runs.

Pittsburg—Wagner hit to Delehanty, who retired him at first. Millard flied out to Cobb. Abstein walked. While Wilson was at bat Mullin caught Abstein napping at first and threw him out. No runs.

Third Inning. Detroit—Bush out, Adams to Abstein. Cobb out, Wagner to Abstein. Crawford singled. Delehanty sent a long fly to Clarke. No runs.

Pittsburg—Wilson out, Moriarty to T. Jones; Gibson struck out, Adams flied out to D. Jones. No runs.

Fourth Inning. Detroit—Moriarty out, Byrne to Abstein. T. Jones flied to Leach. Schmidt walked. Mullin hit to Wagner, who threw to second, forcing Schmidt. No runs.

Pittsburg—Byrne out, Mullin to T. Jones. Leach struck out. Clarke hit into right field crowd for a home run, tying the score. Wagner was hit by the pitcher and took first. Miller flied out to Cobb. One run.

Fifth Inning. Detroit—D. Jones singled to right, Bush hit to Wagner, who threw to Miller flied out to Cobb. One run.

Cobb hit to Wagner, who threw to second, forcing Bush. Cobb stole second and the Detroit fans went wild. Crawford fouled out to Gibson. No runs.

Pittsburg—Abstein doubled to center and went to third on Crawford's fumble. Wilson struck out after waiting for three balls. Gibson doubled to center, scoring Abstein. Adams got to first safely on an error by Bush on the Pittsburgh pitcher's infield hit. Gibson went to third on the play. Byrne was hit in the head by a fast pitched ball. Bases now full. Leach sent a long fly to Davey Jones, scoring Gibson on the throw in. Clark out, Delehanty to T. Jones. Two runs.

Sixth Inning. Detroit—Delehanty called out on strikes. Moriarty was out, Wagner

LAND IN ANTARCTIC ANY PRICE GOOD ENOUGH IN BETTING

British Geographers Doubt Existence of Wilkes Land

Wilkes Land Was Discovered by Lieutenant Charles Wilkes About 1840—His Expedition Left Norfolk in 1838 and Was Gone Four Years.

(By Leased Wire to The Times.)

Washington, Oct. 8—National claims that have arisen over the ownership of the North Pole and the region surrounding it for the discovery by Dr. Cook and Commander Peary, recall an interesting suggestion in a resolution adopted at a meeting of the American Philosophical Society, held in Philadelphia last May. Rear Admiral George W. Melville, U. S. N., presented the resolution. It was directed principally at the claims of certain members of the British navy and the Royal Geographical Society, that "Wilkes Land," in the Antarctic, does not exist and should be erased from charts of that section of the globe.

British scientists and navy officers evidently are not informed on the exploits of Lieutenant Wilkes, for his claims to have discovered Wilkes Land are well founded.

The Wilkes expedition, commanded by Lieutenant Charles Wilkes, U. S. N., which left Norfolk, Va., in 1838, was the first voyage of discovery undertaken by an officer of the United States navy. It was the intention of the leader of the expedition to reach, if possible, the South Pole. It was gone for four years, many thousands of miles in the Antarctic were covered. The expedition comprised the sloop-of-war Vincennes and Peacock, the brig Porpoise, the ship Relief and the tenders Sea Gull and Flying Fish.

Thousands of specimens of Antarctic animals, birds, reptiles, insects, shells, minerals, and an immense amount of scientific data were gathered by the expedition. Many of the natural history and mineralogical specimens then obtained are now in the Smithsonian Institution in this city.

When Lieutenant Wilkes returned to the United States he announced the discovery of the new land in the Antarctic and it was marked on all succeeding maps as "Wilkes Land." The expedition brought back plenty of proofs of the discovery of the new land, and its existence heretofore has not been questioned by geographers and scientists. Wilkes Land has not been visited again by any expedition since Lieutenant Wilkes discovered it in 1840. Many of the succeeding discoveries made in the Antarctic were by American sealing captains—Swain, Palmer, Pendleton, Morrill, Smiley and others. All their discoveries have been verified and enlarged by explorers of other nationalities, and the members of the American Philosophical Society are apprehensive that the same thing will happen to Wilkes Land.

The resolutions of the society at the Philadelphia meeting recommends a co-operation of American scientists and explorers to urge the fitting of an expedition to verify and amplify the Wilkes discoveries. It is recommended that the government equip a naval vessel to thoroughly explore and survey the coast of Wilkes Land and at the same time investigate other parts of the Antarctic. Wilkes land is believed to be a continent.

Members of the National Geographical Society and the American Philosophical Society will soon make an effort, it is reported here, to inaugurate or at least to aid a private expedition to Wilkes Land. If such an expedition starts it is not improbable that it might make an effort to reach the South Pole ahead of the Scott British expedition, which it is reported will try to reach the South Pole, sailing from London early in 1910.

(By Leased Wire to The Times.)

Greenburg, La., Oct. 8—A mob at midnight took Aps Ard, a negro, from the jail here and hanged him from a tree. Then his body was burned. A few days ago Ard attempted to assassinate Senator B. T. Young and then escaped into Mississippi, where he was captured and brought back here yesterday.

MILLARD IS NOT CRANE'S ADVISER

(By Leased Wire to The Times.)

Washington, Oct. 8—Assistant Secretary of State Adeo today laughed at the report published in New York paper this morning asserting that Thomas Millard, a reporter employed by a New York publication, who was in China for a short time has constituted himself the "personal confidential adviser" of the United States Minister Crane, who is on his way to Washington to confer with Secretary of State Knox, having been recalled when on the point of sailing from San Francisco for his post at Peking.

"The suggestion that Millard is in any way connected with the government or is discussing political matters in China with Minister Crane with the assent of the state department is too ridiculous to merit denial. The department has never heard of the reporter, Millard, who seemingly assumes that because he has visited China for a few weeks he is qualified to act as 'confidential adviser' to the United States minister to that empire. Millard is apparently anxious to convey such an impression, according to reports so that he may assume an air of importance. He has no connection with this government in any manner whatsoever."

Mr. Adeo also denied the report published here that Colonel James Hamilton Lewis, a Chicago lawyer, who recently made a trip to China, and who is said to be on his way from Chicago to the capital is coming here at the request of the state department to make a report as to the result of his visit.

Minister Crane is expected here Sunday.

MANY FOREIGN SAILORS DESERT

(By Leased Wire to The Times.)

New York, Oct. 8—Lured by the temptations of New York, 194 men are said to be missing from the British battleship Inflexible today, while derelictions from the rosters of most of the other vessels of the international Hudson-Fulton fleet are said to be numerous. Officials of the English flag ship are trying to round up their missing men in preparation for sailing tomorrow.

The three French battleships which sailed this morning, and seven of the American battleships already have departed.

The Connecticut and Kansas will escort the Inflexible as far as Staten Island anchorage.

The German ships has not yet received their sailing orders but will probably go Sunday or Monday when the Italian and Mexican ships are also expected to sail.

THOUSANDS OF VISITORS ON HAND FOR GAME

City of Pittsburg Crowded to Limit for Big Game of World Series

Smiling Skies and Balmey Weather Help Opening Game of World's Series for Championship—Three Hundred Expert Baseball Writers on Ground Flash News of Game to Country—One Eccentric Individual Sleeps Before Box Office in Order to Buy First Ticket—Several Hundred Stand in Front of Park Gates in Order to Get in Early.

(By Leased Wire to The Times.)

Pittsburg, Pa., Oct. 8—Smiling skies and balmey weather lent a benign aspect to the initial contest of the world's championship baseball series of seven games between the famous Detroit Tigers, three times winner of the American League pennant, and the Pittsburgh Pirates, who have, for the fourth time nailed their colors on the pennant pole of the older organization the National League—a contest characterized by Garry Herrman, chairman of the National Baseball Commission, as the most important in the history of the national game.

Many thousands of visitors arrived during the past 24 hours on regular and special trains from all points of the compass to witness the opening game and the tremendous interest aroused throughout the country is evidenced by the fact that over 200 expert baseball writers, representing leading papers from coast to coast and from the gulf to the lakes, were on the scene, prepared to keep their readers as thoroughly in touch with the game as were the 40,000 occupants of Forbes' field, the most magnificent baseball ground in the world.

President Hoyerl, of the National League; President Ban Johnson, of the American League, and many other prominent baseball men from all over the country, were on the ground early. With the exception of the Knights Templar Conclave and the G. A. R. Encampment at the hotels of the city has never in their history been so crowded and out were placed in hallways, dining-rooms and other places to accommodate the weary excursionists who were glad to sleep six in a room and pay full prices.

One eccentric individual slept on a cot in front of the main entrance to the ball park, but he has a mania for being the first purchaser of tickets and will accompany the teams to Detroit and repeat his stunt.

All night long a line of several hundred stood in front of the gates of the park patiently waiting for the opening day. Fires were lighted, sandwiches and coffee passed around and the wait was made as comfortable as possible. All the reserved seats were sold by mail several days ago and only general admission tickets could be purchased at the box office when they opened at 10 o'clock this morning.

Standing room for about 10,000 has been prepared and preparations made to handle 45,000.

The police arrangements were as perfect as the ingenuity of the department, working hand in hand with the park management, could make them. New entrances were opened on Bouquet and Louisa streets to the park. Each ticket was sold with a coupon telling the holder which entrance to be used and the police were instructed to rigidly enforce the regulations.

Vehicle traffic was so diverted as to avoid any blocking in the vicinity of the grounds. All automobiles and other vehicles were parked and guarded promptly after their occupants arrived. Two hundred and fifty policemen in uniform and an army of detectives in plain clothes were on hand early and all the reserves were held at their barracks ready for instant service.

The Detroit team arrived yesterday in two sections. The team practiced at the Forbes' field in the afternoon and made an excellent impression on those privileged to witness their work. Many of them are accompanied by their wives, sisters, or other relative and a large crowd of loyal Tiger rooters made the night lively with their enthusiasm. A special train over the Wabash arrived early today with the mayor of Detroit and hundreds of rooters, and

(Continued on Page Eight.)

THOUSANDS SEE GAME BEATS THE BANQUETS

President Says He is Going to Get All He Can Out of the Yosemite Outing While it Lasts—Saw the Big Trees This Morning—Dr. Richardson Says President Was on Point of Breaking Down at End of Frisco Ceremonies But That His Three Days Recreation Will Make Him as Good as New—Enjoys Dinner in the Forest, Saying That it Beats All the Banquets.

(By WILLIAM HOSTER.)

Wagon, Cal., Oct. 8—President Taft was off again for a jaunt into the Yosemite at 6 o'clock this morning.

"I'm going to get all I can out of this while it lasts," he said as he climbed into the stage coach for the twelve mile run to Big Tree Grove, where the party is this morning. At noon they will be back here again for lunch and after a brief rest the coaches will again be called into play for the long drive to Glacier Point, where the night will be spent. Dr. Richardson is authority for the statement that the president was almost on the verge of a breakdown when the San Francisco reception came to an end. But he is fully certain that last night and today in the mountains have revived the president and that with today and tomorrow still before him full of unalloyed recreation, he will resume his tour at Fresno on Sunday as good as new.

Mr. Taft showed no ill effects of his hard ride over the mountains when he came down to breakfast this morning. He had everybody called at 5 o'clock and was among the first to come into the breakfast room, and he led the way to the coaches. He, it was, also, who was the first to get out of the coach yesterday on the steep climb up to Inspiration Point, "to give the horses a chance." He and Prof. Muir strolled along discussing rock erosion and glacier formations. The president presided at the dinner in the forest, sitting on a soap box in lieu of a chair.

"This beats all the banquets," he said, as he tucked a napkin under his chin and got to work on the fried chicken and coffee. This was the president's first visit to the Yosemite after he views the Grand Canyon later in the month he will have realized his long cherished desire to visit all of the great scenic spots of the United States. The big trees today interested him greatly. Standing beside a grizzly giant he remarked with a smile:

"How small one feels beside a giant like this."

This afternoon the president is going to put himself to the test of a trying six mile walk from Glacier Point to the floor of the valley.

(By Leased Wire to The Times.)

Denver, Col., Oct. 8—Ruth Bryan Leavitt, daughter of the Comptroller, has announced her candidacy for congress from the first Colorado district.

With the support of the Jane Jefferson Club, of which she is president, of former Senator Patterson and his papers, and with her father's prestige in Colorado, she expects to again put a Bryan before the nation.

But Jane club members much older than Mrs. Leavitt, some of them old enough to be her mother, think that if a woman is to be sent to congress from Colorado the elder stateswomen should be considered.

The republican women are busy along the same line, and the wife of United States Marshal Dewey C. Bailey is likely to be a candidate before the republican first district convention.

WALS ALARMED BY EARTH SHOCKS

(By Cable to The Times.)

London, Oct. 8—Earthquake shocks today rocked a large district in Wales, causing widespread consternation. Although the damage was slight, residents throughout the affected region have taken to the open in fright and refuse to return to their homes. Rhymney Valley, New Tredegar, and Bargoed were most affected, and there the shocks are reported to have lasted several seconds.

(By Leased Wire to The Times.)

Wales today rocked a large district in Wales, causing widespread consternation. Although the damage was slight, residents throughout the affected region have taken to the open in fright and refuse to return to their homes. Rhymney Valley, New Tredegar, and Bargoed were most affected, and there the shocks are reported to have lasted several seconds.

FOUR PERSONS PERISH IN FIRE

(By Leased Wire to The Times.)

Nashville, Tenn., Oct. 8—The grocery store owned by J. A. Thuss, at Eighth avenue and North, and Jefferson street, was burned early this morning and four persons perished in the building and one subsequently in the city hospital.

The fire is supposed to have been of incendiary origin. Jim Butler and George Harrison, negroes, have been arrested and are held on suspicion.

Mose Fishman with his wife and their relatives, were asleep over the store, and none of them escaped. Fishman himself got out of the burning building, but died in the hospital shortly after being carried there.

The other dead are his wife, Mrs. Dora Fishman, Miss Rose Fishman, his sister; Mrs. Rosa A. Fishman, step-mother, and Mrs. Rachel Markson, his sister-in-law.

It appears that the building was in full blaze before any of the Fishman family awoke and the destruction of the stairway cut off their escape. Indications are that the fire originated under the stairway. The smoke filled the upper floor and three of the victims died of suffocation.

(By Cable to The Times.)

London, Oct. 8—Earthquake shocks today rocked a large district in Wales, causing widespread consternation. Although the damage was slight, residents throughout the affected region have taken to the open in fright and refuse to return to their homes. Rhymney Valley, New Tredegar, and Bargoed were most affected, and there the shocks are reported to have lasted several seconds.

MRS. LEAVITT WANTS OFFICE

(By Leased Wire to The Times.)

Denver, Col., Oct. 8—Ruth Bryan Leavitt, daughter of the Comptroller, has announced her candidacy for congress from the first Colorado district.

With the support of the Jane Jefferson Club, of which she is president, of former Senator Patterson and his papers, and with her father's prestige in Colorado, she expects to again put a Bryan before the nation.

But Jane club members much older than Mrs. Leavitt, some of them old enough to be her mother, think that if a woman is to be sent to congress from Colorado the elder stateswomen should be considered.