speaker and discussed the links of the proposed waterway, denoting the feasibility of the proposition, and told of the progress that has been made looking towards the fulfillment of this idea.

The great inland waterways association is entitled to the confidence and support of all the people. And hopes to see the time when the entire country will see that the solution of the transportation problem is by the improvements of our waterways.

He concluded by inviting the Congress to visit the eastern part of the state Wednesday.

Col. Cameron then arose and said that the Farmers' Congress is working in harmony with the Waterways Association.

On motion of Col. Cunningham, a vote of thanks was extended to Congressman Small for his excellent speech.

The committee on resolutions then reported the following resolutions which were adopted:

Reaffirming the Congress's action in favoring a ten percent tax on obnoxious action on the parcels post system by the federal government; urging a special appropriation for the establishment of demonstration farms in the south for the colored farmer; the immediate action for the savings banks; relative to the present tenant system in the south; establishment of distilleries for denatured alcohol; the appointment of a committee to survey at least 4 roads from the Atlantic to the Pacific coasts; and such other roads as committee may deem necessary; urging the passage of an act relative to the improvement of rural free delivery roads; asking representation to further restrict immigration; forming the consideration of schools and teaching agriculture in them; asking that the holiday system on R. P. D. routes be changed so that the mileage will not exceed more than three days in succession; that the mileage of our congressmen and senators be reduced to five cents a mile for the most direct route; that congress regulate the inter-state passenger rate.

FIRE IN THE COUNTRY.

J. T. Edwards' Barn, Stables, Crib and Shelters Destroyed.

The big barn, stables, crib and two shelters of Mr. J. T. Edwards, in House Creek township, six miles from Raleigh, were destroyed by fire at an early hour last evening. The fire started in the crib, which was securely fastened, making its origin a mystery. It very quickly spread to the barn and stables and entirely destroyed them. Under the two shelters was some valuable machinery, including a wheat thrasher and an old cotton gin. All of the machinery was destroyed. All the live stock was removed from the stables while the fire was making headway in the crib. It began between 9 and 10 o'clock.

A GROUP OF WRIGHTS.

THE VIRGINIA TEAMS APPEAR STRONGEST

Judging from comparative scores, which however stand for naught, Thanksgiving Day will not bring much in the way of victory to the Tarheel football teams. On Saturday, the A. & M. team defeated Washington and Lee by the miserably small score of 3 to 0, while Carolina was defeated by V. P. I. by the score of 15 to 0. The Carolina-V. P. I. game turned out just about as expected by Carolina alumni in Raleigh, but A. & M. fell far below what was expected of them.

V. P. I. defeated Washington and Lee, the same team that A. & M. scored only three points on, by the overwhelming score of 34 to 6. Comparative scores mean anything at all A. & M. will have to hustle between now and Thanksgiving to be in it with the lads from Blacksburg. A few weeks back Carolina lost to V. M. I. by the score of 3 to 0, and on last Saturday Virginia, Carolina's Thanksgiving opponent, trounced the V. M. I. boys with ease, running up a score of 23 to 0. That makes it appear a trifle bad for Carolina.

However, comparative scores mean nothing. A. & M. went to Lexington with the sole intention of playing old style football. It was well known that V. P. I. coaches would be on the scene to get a line on the strength and methods of the Tarheel farmers, and to frustrate these plans only old style play was used by A. & M. So

SIR THOMAS LIPTON.

Sir Thomas Lipton on the left, has just arrived on another cup-hunting expedition, but not, this time, with the backing of King Edward, whose portrait, the latest one, is shown on the right. Formerly the closest of friends, they have been parted by the London, while entertaining his old friend, Marie Corelli, the novelist, on commander by the King to receive Mrs. Keppel and to prepare also for the arrival later of the King. Upon informing the novelist, she declared she would rather leave the yacht than meet King, but the novelist departed, Mrs. Keppel, hearing that Sir Thomas preferred the novelist to her, stirred up the King against the baronet. It is a question whether Lipton will have the support of the Royal Ulster Yacht Club in his attempt to lift the cup.

TO REBUILD SHOPS

Norfolk and Southern Will Rebuild at New Bern

General Manager Lamb Arrives in New Bern on Special Train and Gives Orders For Clearing Up of Debris—Ground Was Broken This Morning by Contractor and Work Will Commence at Once—Will Go After Violators of Liquor Laws.

(Special to The Times) New Bern, Nov. 8—General Manager E. T. Lamb and Chief Engineer Nicholson, of the Norfolk & Southern Railway, arrived here on a special yesterday and went over the ruins of the burned shops of the Norfolk & Southern with Superintendent R. P. Foster. Last night Yard Master George Meredith was instructed to put on the full force to clear away the debris for the immediate erection of new shops. All carpenters and many of the machinists and blacksmiths went to work this morning at the shops of the J. L. Roper Lumber Company, where temporary shops have been provided by the railroad company.

The chamber of commerce met today and passed resolutions conveying the regrets of the citizens for the company in their loss of the immense amount and offering their aid in any way possible to insure the immediate erection of the shops. The contracting firm of Rhodes & Underwood broke ground this morning, which means their immediate erection.

The board of aldermen in special session today instructed Mayor McCarthy to employ Attorney W. D. McIver to prosecute any and all cases of violation of the liquor laws to the full extent of the law, the city to pay the fee. Conditions are very interesting.

"THE SERIOUSNESS OF LIFE"

Splendid Sermon by Rev. W. A. Stanbury at Edenton Street Church Last Night.

At the evening service at Edenton street church, the pastor, Rev. W. A. Stanbury, preached an earnest, straight-forward sermon on the earnestness of life. It is not a thing to be frittered and idled away. The living of life is a serious thing. Each day and even each hour counts for something in the plan of the whole life.

Mr. Stanbury spoke of the popular amusements of the day and time that are claiming so much of the attention of the young people. It is the duty of everyone to find out the truth about a thing and then if it is not good and elevating renounce it. It is not enough to give up these things because the church discipline forbids them, but because we have found them to be not productive of the best that is in us.

Mr. Stanbury said he was not condemning any of the things mentioned. If they were condemned it would be out of their own mouth.

Among those he mentioned were: The card parties and bridge clubs, dancing and the music heard in the ball-room, the popular senseless sheet music of the day, some of the latest books. He felt that much of the matter contained in the Sunday newspapers, consisting principally of a comic sheet, fashion paper and sporting page, with tales of all kind of murders and stories or horror displayed under big headlines was not conducive of the good of the home.

The theatre he felt had come to stay. We need the theatre, we need some form of amusement and recreation, but the theatre needs cleansing. It needs the help of the church in bringing this reform about. Too many people prefer to go to a show than to play, they prefer the light vaudeville and musical comedies of the day to the deeper plays of Shakespeare and other masters of the drama where problems of human destiny are worked out.

There is a piano of life above all these things and he prayed that God might help the people find it and pitch their lives upon it.

MASS MEETING OF ALL FANS TONIGHT

What is Raleigh going to do in the way of baseball for next summer? This is the vital question at this time and now is the time to answer it. If the fans and fanettes want something to do on the long hot afternoons in June, July and August, they must come out and say so. Signify your willingness to lend whatever aid possible to the movement and Raleigh may be a member of the Carolina Association next season. You can't sit still and depend on a few men to do what all of us should aid in doing. If we are going to have baseball we must have some support of all the baseball loving public, and some action must be taken immediately.

A meeting has been called for 8 o'clock tonight in the rooms of the Chamber of Commerce to decide definitely whether or not Raleigh is to have baseball next summer. If there is a sufficient crowd present to warrant such an action, the Carolina Association will be asked to accept Raleigh's application for membership. If not the application will be withdrawn and the franchise in the Eastern Carolina League turned over to the directors of that league. It is no plaything to run a baseball team, and to do so successfully the officers must have the full support of all interested, without we can only have "bush-league" baseball.

SPORTING GENTRY ARRESTED.

Six Negroes Arrested Sunday Morning for Gambling—Total Postponed.

Six negroes were dragged into the net early Sunday morning charged with playing cards for money. They were located at the home of Albert Briggs, on west Cannon street, by the police and captured before they had time to escape. The case was called this morning, but owing to the fact that lawyers who represent some of the defendants have cases today in another court, five of the cases will be disposed of at 5 o'clock this afternoon and one case will be tried next week.

There were about the usual number of Sunday drunks up this morning, five cases being tried. Sam Rogers, colored, who stated that he had not been up before in two years, was taxed $2.00 and costs. W. D. Stell, white, who has appeared many times before the limit, is costing him $12.35, total costs and fine for his jubilee this time.

Joe Fritzeinger, a plumber from Norfolk, who has been here only three days, was charged $2.00 and costs.

A. V. Andrews, white, paid $2.00 and costs. Sandy Fellows, a colored citizen, was charged with being drunk and also with peeping into the window of a private residence. It turned out that he was only drunk and inquiring the way home, so he was fined $2.00 and costs.

PERFECT CONFIDENCE

Raleigh People Have Good Reasons For Complete Reliance Do you know how— To find quick relief from backache; To correct distressing urinary ills; To surely cure sick kidneys? Just one way—your neighbors know— Have used Doan's Kidney Pills; Have proved their worth in many tests.

Here's Raleigh testimony. Mrs. John A. Bashford, Polk and Elm Sts., Raleigh, N. C., says: "I will recommend Doan's Kidney Pills whenever an opportunity presents itself, knowing them to be a remedy for great merit. I had kidney trouble for several years and was caused a great deal of annoyance by too frequent passages of the kidney secretions. I also suffered from dull, nagging backaches and distressing pains across my loins. I could not rest well and arose early in the morning tired and unfit for work. Reading about Doan's Kidney Pills I concluded to try them and procured a box at the Bobbitt-Wynne Drug Co. They proved of more benefit than any other remedy I had previously taken, regulating the passage of the kidney secretions and entirely disposing of the backache."
