LAST DAY OF THE FARMERS' MEETING HERE

Trip to the Eastern Part of the State Planned for Tomorrow

HAVE HAD BIG TIME

Delegates Are Loud in Their Praise of Colonel Cameron, Raleigh, Durham, Greensboro, Washington, New Bern, and the Entire State. Convention Has Been the Best Ever Held—Warm Discussion Over the Temperance Question This Morning—Prof. Hunt One of the Morning Speakers.

OFFICERS ELECTED. President, Hon. Joshua Strange, of Indiana. First Vice President, Charles Sanford, Ohio. Second Vice President, O. P. Jewett, of Kansas. Treasurer, W. G. Ames, of Wisconsin. Secretary, George Whittaker, of the Department of Agriculture, Washington, D. C. Member Executive Committee, A. C. Fuller, of Iowa. Assistant Secretaries, Messrs. Kimball, of Maryland; Searls, of Nebraska, and Hill of West Virginia.

Shortly after 2 o'clock this afternoon the 29th annual session of the Farmers' National Congress, which has been in session here since last Thursday morning, passed into history. In many respects this has been the greatest meeting in the history of the organization. The entire week has been filled with a program made up of business and pleasure, and it is fitting that the delegates take the trip to Washington and Belhaven tomorrow morning as a climax to the week's session.

Upon the conclusion of the business and just before retiring, President Cameron declared the congress adjourned.

"My Country, 'Tis of Thee" and other songs were rendered by the delegates and visitors and just about 2:30 the gavel fell and the session was ended.

The last day of the Farmers' National Congress was called to order this morning at 10:30 o'clock by President Benehan Cameron. The attendance was about like yesterday's session, and the interest manifested is up to the standard of any day's session held this session. Those delegates who have remained here show a firm purpose to get all possible good out of these meetings, and their stickability is being greatly rewarded, for every meeting has been of interest and full of valuable suggestions, which, with the social features, have made this a remarkable and valuable session.

The delegates are full of praise for Raleigh and North Carolina, and the hospitable manner in which they have been entertained. This feeling is being expressed freely and in such a manner as to leave no doubt as to its sincerity.

In calling the meeting to order the president asked for a report of the committee appointed at Madison, Wis., on an amendment to the constitution striking out certain words in section 5 of the constitution, which provides for payment of $1 by the delegates to the congress in consideration of the congress securing reduced rates, as this was considered superfluous, and as the reduced rates were always secured. This was adopted.

A telegram was received from Lincoln, Neb., expressing best wishes to the congress, and renewing its invitation for the meeting of 1910. Also a letter from Governor Shallenburger and other prominent Nebraskans endorsing the invitation of Lincoln. Prof. W. N. Hunt, of A. & M. College, was then introduced, who expressed great pleasure at being able to address this great congress. He said he wanted to boost North Carolina a little bit, and proceeded to give some of its advantages. It used to be the custom to advise the young man to go west, but the tide has turned, and they are now seeking the south. While the people were traveling.

WILMINGTON HONORS THE PRESIDENT

Taft Arrives in City By the Sea Early this Morning and Spends Busy Day

DOWN CAPE FEAR

Breakfasts at Residence of James Sprunt—After President is Greeted by School Children Party Take Trip Down Cape Fear River on Revenue Cutter Seminole—Parade in the Afternoon Followed by Speech of Governor Kitchin—Banquet at Cape Fear Club Until 5:30 P. M., When Chief Executive Will Leave for Richmond.

(By WILLIAM HOSTER.) Wilmington, N. C., Nov. 9—President Taft arrived here at 2:40 a. m., his train being kept on a siding until 8:15 o'clock, when, after a refreshing sleep, he turned himself over to the local committee, which has arranged a long program for this, the next to the last day of the trip. Breakfast was had at the residence of James Sprunt. Following the breakfast at 9:15 the party left the Sprunt residence and proceeded to Market street, where the president was greeted by 2,000 school children dressed and grouped to resemble the national flag. Delivering a brief address to the children the president then went to Water street, where at 10:15 o'clock the revenue cutter Seminole was boarded for the trip down the Cape Fear river. This trip lasted until 3 o'clock this afternoon, the trip extending down to Fort Caswell on the Atlantic coast. On the return to Wilmington this afternoon the president headed a big procession which proceeded over the long route to the city hall, where the procession was reviewed and Governor W. W. Kitchin delivered an address of welcome.

At 4:30 o'clock the president will deliver an address. He will then rest at the Cape Fear Club until 5:30 p. m., when a banquet will be served in the Masonic Temple. The president will leave here at 7 o'clock for Richmond.

Will Reach Washington Tomorrow Night.

Washington, Nov. 9—Secretary to the president, Carpenter, said today that President Taft is to arrive here from his western and southern trip tomorrow evening at 8 o'clock. Upon his arrival at the union station he will be greeted by the entire cabinet, as both secretary of the Treasury MacVeagh and Secretary of Commerce and Labor Nagel are expected here today. Further plans for his reception have not yet been completed, but it may be said that it will be informal.

Mr. Carpenter added that the president will take up official business only to the briefest extent before leaving for Middletown, Conn., and New Haven, Conn., at 5 o'clock Thursday evening, when he will be accompanied by Captain Archibald W. Butt, Assistant Secretary Michler and several secret service men. The party will return to Washington Saturday night. Monday morning the president will be ready to again take up the business affairs of the government. It is expected that the cabinet meeting on Tuesday will be of peculiar importance for the subject of conservation, the Manchurian, and open door in China question, the appointment of a successor to Charles R. Crane as minister to China, the New York custom house scandal, the administration of the maximum and minimum features of the Payne tariff bill, the segregation and re-arrangement of certain government bureaus may come up, if not on Tuesday, then some of them at the regular meeting on Friday, unless it should be thought necessary to call a special meeting of the cabinet before that time, which is unlikely.

The King's Birthday. (By Leased Wire to The Times.) Washington, Nov. 9—The following telegram of congratulations was sent to King Edward VII by President Taft today in honor of the king's birthday: "I warmly congratulate your majesty on your happy completion of another year, and wish for you all health and happiness in long years to come." (Signed) "WILLIAM H. TAFT."

CASE OF THE PROSECUTION FALLS DOWN

Mme. Steinheil Gains Victory After Victory in Her Fight for Life

WOMAN PROTESTS

Madam Steinheil Starts Court Today by Exclaiming That She is Being Tortured—Says She Has Been Bullied Into Making Statements She Did Not Mean—Prisoner's Chances Seen to be More Hopeful Today Than at Any Previous Time of Trial—Defendant's Jewelry Main Feature of Case Today—Madam Steinheil Growing More Confident.

(By Cable to The Times.) Paris, Nov. 9—"I am being tortured! From the moment of my arrest I have been bullied and berated as no woman should be! This is all cowardly. I do not even know what ridiculous statements have been wrung from me in agony." Mme. Margaret Steinheil started the court of the Assizes today with this outcry when, at the resumption of her trial, her testimony in the preliminary police examinations was referred to.

FEDERATION RECOMMEND AN APPEAL

Bucks Stove Case Will be Appealed to Supreme Court of United States

INTIMIDATES LABOR

Executive Council of Federation of Labor Recommend That Gompers, Mitchell and Morrison Appeal—Report Says "We Cannot Permit Decision to go Unchallenged—It Affords Fundamental Rights"—Number of Ladies Refuse to Comply With Directions of Executive Council in Matter Involving Electrical Controversy—Several of Charters Revoked.

(By Leased Wire to The Times.) Toronto, Nov. 9—The Bucks Stove Company injunction case, in which Samuel Gompers, John Mitchell and Frank Morrison were sentenced to jail, will be appealed to the supreme court of the United States. This is the recommendation of the executive council of the American Federation of Labor which was read at the second day's session of the 29th annual meeting here today in Massey Hall. The report deals not only with the jail terms hanging over the federation president, vice president and treasurer, but with many federation matters. Suggestions for new state and national legislation are embodied in the report, which also deals exhaustively with a number of jurisdiction disputes.

BUSSEY WILL BE MANAGER NEXT SEASON

McKivitt Deposed in Favor of a Player-Manager by Owners of Franchise

MAKES A GET-A-WAY

McKivitt Will Not Manage Greensboro Next Year—Place Given to Carleton Bussey—Many Doubt Wisdom of Releasing Man Who Has Twice Won Pennant But People Want Good Player-Manager—Durham Wants Former Greensboro Man—Mun, Hires Horse and Buggy and Sells Them—Will Probably be Caught—White Man Arrested for Breaking in Store at Proximity.

(Special to The Times.) Greensboro, N. C., Nov. 9—The rumor that Carleton Bussey would become manager of the local baseball club next season was confirmed yesterday by Owner Sterne, when he exhibited to a representative of The Times and several assembled "bugs" a neatly drawn up contract with the dashing signature of Bussey attached thereto.

Since buying the local franchise several weeks ago Mr. Sterne has been negotiating with several well known ball players, and that James McKivitt, twice leader of the Champion "Patriots," would be deposed in favor of a good player-manager has been known for some time by those closest to Mr. Sterne.

McKivitt as a manager, the local mogul felt that it would be best for the club to have an active hand, especially in view of the action of the league directors at their meeting in Charlotte last Thursday regarding the salary limit.

While there are many who will doubt the wisdom in deposing a man who has twice won a pennant in favor of one whose team finished in the cellar last season, there are many more who have always favored a player-manager and the announcement that Bussey will be at the head of local affairs another season will be a pleasing one to them.

As a ball player Bussey has few equals in minor leagues, and it is believed that he will show equal ability as a manager if not hampered by a nagging directorate.

It is understood that Durham has made a proposition to McKivitt to manage the club in that city should they be taken into the league, though the action of Raleigh citizens last night is liable to put a damper on his chances of getting a berth in the "Ball City."

Upon information from the chief of police at Burlington that a man giving his name as W. C. Watkins and claiming to be a revenue officer, had hired a horse and buggy from a livery stable in that city Friday morning and failed to return same, Chief Neesley yesterday began an investigation which soon revealed the turnout, though the man had made a complete "get-a-way" with the proceeds, as well as himself.

It develops that the man drove from Burlington here Friday and immediately upon his arrival here sold the horse and buggy to a local liveryman for $55. The man is known to have left here Friday night on No. 35 for a point south and instructions have been wired to this city to arrest him. Officers from Burlington came here today and secured the turnout, which will be returned to its rightful owners.

Off to the Atlanta Races. (Special to The Times.) Wilson, N. C., Nov. 9—The following Wilson gentlemen left today for Atlanta to be present at the races which open there Tuesday: Messrs. Fayette Ellis, Doana Morris, H. Adler and Dr. Ben Herring.
