PEPPERED A NEGRO

Chicken Thief Ran Afoul of a Burglar Alarm

Mr. John A. Dennis of Durham Encountered Negro in Hen House and Gave Him Contents of Shotgun. Aged Negro Servant Dead—Court Postponed on Account of Smallpox.

(Special to The Times.)

Durham, N. C., March 1.—Mr. Jno. A. Dennis Sunday morning peppered an unknown negro whom he caught in his hen roost. Mr. Dennis works for the Traction Company and some time ago he put an electric burglar's alarm on his hen house door. Sunday morning about 4:30 he began to do business and upon going out with his shotgun Mr. Dennis arrested the thief. The chicken roost began to back off and Mr. Dennis warned him, finally shooting over the top of his head to frighten him. It didn't work, however. The negro dashed off and Mr. Dennis pulled down on him. He howled like a defeated candidate out and worse and Mr. Dennis never was able to identify him completely. No wounded negro has appeared since.

George L. Smith, of Goldsboro, is in the city and is selling a pamphlet of his own writing, in which he tells a story that is interesting. Smith claims the distinction of having been twenty-three times in the chingang and 208 times put in jail. Nearly all of the offenses charged against him were violation of the revenue laws and he was a blocker and a tiger from way back. He has done time in Durham for this crime and he is back here to sell his book to friends. Before coming here he was living at Goldsboro and sold near-by there. He has sold out his stand and will try to make something from his literary efforts.

Aunt Judy Banks, aged ninety-eight, and perhaps the county's oldest woman, died Sunday morning at 1 o'clock at her home in the city. When Aunt Judy had served the Southern Railway thirty-two years, and it gave the new station, she had worn out as a piece of the Southern machinery and it knew not what to do with her. It managed to remain humanitarian and meet the issue satisfactorily by putting Aunt Judy's daughter in the station and retiring the older of the two. And it has been thus since the day the black mammy quit active work.

Aunt Judy, to those who knew her, was one of the really rich characters. She had a line of that expressive negro patois that squeaked any effort of her conferees to get higher than herself. She will be remembered always for some of the things that she handed out to those people. She belonged to Paul Cameron and later to Thomas Benehan, to whom she was deeply attached. They were both "Marse" to her and such she called them to the last day that she could talk.

Extremity never overtook her, the white people saw that it shouldn't and they will have something to do with the proper putting away of the good old mammy today at 10 o'clock.

Judge J. Crawford Biggs yesterday left for Lexington, where he convenes court for a few hours and then calls the session off. This is necessary by reason of the prevalence of smallpox. The judge has run into two courts of this kind within the past few weeks. Rowan court was adjourned for the same reason and the adjoining counties are afflicted with the same scare. Judge Biggs will return today from Lexington and spend the remaining two weeks with his family.

The Reds, Whites and Blues met in committee last night and formulated plans for a more active canvass to secure memberships for the Y. M. C. A. The Durham association is racing for the silver loving cup offered for the city that gives the greatest number of memberships and renewals to the contest in ten days of work. All cities in the two Carolinas and Georgia are included.

Besides the big silver cup there is a voting contest here by which the young men expect to stir up great enthusiasm for their favorites. The actual work will not begin until tomorrow when the remaining five days will be strenuous ones.

Rev. Dr. J. C. Kilgo has received a telegram from Bishop Hoss that illness in the bishop's family will prevent his coming here tonight and delaying the series of lectures in the Avera course published for March the first, second and third. This was to have been the star attraction in the spring lectures and though no dates have been set for its substitutes, it is presumed that Bishop Hoss will yet make them.

Mr. E. A. Kelley, Belvidere, Ill., writes us: "I am an ex-engineer with 22 years active service to my credit. About three years ago my kidneys were affected so that I had to give up my engine. First I was troubled with severe, aching pain over the hips. Then followed inflammation of the bladder, and specks appeared before my eyes. A sample of Foley's Kidney Pills that I tried, so benefited me that I bought more. I continued to take them until now I can safely testify they have made me a sound and well man."—King-Crowell Drug Co., (Fayetteville and Hargett streets.)

FOG STILL HINDERS TRAFFIC.

Revenue Cutter Rammied by Ferry Boat—Accident Due to Fog.

(By Leased Wire to The Times.) New York, March 1.—The revenue cutter Calumet, just as she was floated after grounding on Governors Island, was rammed by the municipal ferry boat Manhattan today, the cutter's stern being badly damaged above the water line. The accident was due to the dense fog which for two days has blanketed 15 states from New England south and west, and has crippled all traffic in New York waters.

Twenty big steamers were held up this morning between the Statue of Liberty and Sandy Hook, and the number increased hourly. London Island Sound was shrouded heavily and traffic tied up. The sound is crowded with anchored vessels, according to the Providence of the Fall River line which braved the dangerous Hell Gate passage today and reached her berth, the first sound steamer since Sunday.

The railroads suffered heavily as it was impossible to run car floats and lighters in the mist. The ferry services were demoralized and tens of thousands of suburbanites were delayed. Yesterday afternoon the Columbia, of the Anchor line, from Glasgow, and the Oratava of the Royal Mail Steam Packet Company, from the West Indies, anchored near Quarantine, and today they were no nearer port. The Bermudian of the Quebec line, with a passenger list of holiday seekers, was another of the delayed ships, and the White Star line Laurentic, three days late, anchored off the Hook today, near the Mesada, of the Atlantic Transport line.

MAY BE MORE SLIDES

Eighteen Known Dead In The Snowslides

A Thousand Men Are Still at Work Searching For the Dead in the Snow and Ice—Further Slides Are Feared.

(By Leased Wire to The Times.)

Wallace, Idaho, March 1.—One thousand men, gathered from the country for miles about, last night and today continued the search for the dead at Mace and Burke, devastated by three of the worst avalanches in the history of the Coeur d'Alene mountains. All nearby mines have been shut down so that the employees may aid in the rescue work. The known dead this morning numbered eighteen and fifty houses lay buried beneath thirty feet of snow, ice, rocks and trees. The property damage is fully $200,000.

Further slides are feared, and the smothering of three miners at the Carbonate Hill Mining Company's property at the famous "87" bridge on the Oregon Railroad and Navigation Company line between Wallace and Mullan has added to the anxiety.

The greatest damage and loss of life was caused at Mace, where the avalanche swept down and across the little gulch burying houses and occupants beneath tons of snow, earth and debris. At Mace, twelve were killed and many suffered fatal injuries.

At Burke the latest reports give the list of dead at not more than six, but all persons have not yet been accounted for.

Every available man in the district offered himself for rescue work. Those who were known to be badly injured were placed aboard trains and sent to the Sisters Hospital at Wallace.

WILL BRING SUIT.

Thirty Thousand Will be Asked For Death of Mr. J. A. Dunlap.

(Special to The Times.) Wadesboro, March 1.—Dr. L. V. Dunlap, administrator, of Albemarle, through his attorneys, Robinson & Caudle and J. T. Bennett, has commenced suit in the superior court of this county against the Seaboard Air Line Railroad for damages on account of the accidental killing of his father, the late Jas. A. Dunlap, at the Ansonville crossing, December 1st of last year.

Mr. Dunlap, it will be remembered, was returning to his home at Cedar Hill, late in the afternoon, after having spent the day in Wadesboro, when the accident occurred. His buggy was struck by a rapidly moving freight train and demolished. His body lodged on the pilot of the engine and remained there until the train was stopped. Death resulted almost instantly. The horse Mr. Dunlap was driving escaped without injury.

On account of the prominence of the parties to the suit, it will probably be one of the most interesting ever tried in Anson. Mr. Dunlap was one of the county's best farmers, and his family connection is large and influential.

The complaint in the case has not yet been filed, but it is stated that damages in the sum of $30,000 will be asked.

Y. M. C. A. Building Burned. (By Leased Wire to The Times.) Schenectady, N. Y., March 1.—One man was killed and several are reported missing in a fire which early today destroyed the railroad Young Men's Christian Association building at Rotterdam Junction, the terminus of the Boston & Maine Railroad.
