HOME IS ASSURED

Durham Childrens Home Will be Built Soon

Mr. W. B. Streeter, of Greensboro, Visits the City in Interest of the Home—Defendant Wins Out in Usury Case, But Plaintiff Appeals to Higher Court.

(Special to The Times.)

Durham, April 21.—Mr. W. B. Streeter, of Greensboro, was here yesterday in connection with the proposed Durham childrens home, of which mention was made some time ago, following the action of the county commissioners in granting a road to the place and ordering it built.

Mr. Streeter is superintendent of the home in Greensboro and has received within the past year, ten children from Durham. The last of these was the little Joyce girl, who went Tuesday. The number of children sent there from Durham within the year had much to do with the movement to erect the $30,000 building here.

To secure it Mr. O. K. Proctor has given a deed for 15 acres of his property in East Durham and the building will be put upon it. The home will be erected as soon as the material arrives here. It appears to be assured now. The various organizations having charitable impulses are behind it and there seems no doubt of its success.

The plan of the building will be to supply temporary homes for those who are without the parental care. By correspondence there will be found homes elsewhere for them. At present such children are committed to the county homes, a burden to the authorities there and a humiliation to them. Mr. Streeter returned yesterday to Greensboro, after looking over the situation, with which he is well pleased.

Another Usury Case.

In the Self vs. Fulford case yesterday before Justice R. A. Harris, Mr. Fulford gained a decision on alleging no violation of the law and the case was dismissed.

The matter passed with but little incident. Attorney Holton prosecuting, developed a state of facts upon which he asked a judgment. Examining the witness, Mr. Fulford, regarding the probation fee of 30 cents, he asked if that mortgage had been recorded and received a negative answer. Upon that circumstance Mr. Holton asked the court to take the view that all charges of that nature, the $2.50 admitted to have been received for services, were usurious. Justice Harris took the opposite view. He held that the laws have not fixed such charges and that magistrates cannot find against defend-

HENRY HICKS DRUG STORE ON FIRE

With Enthusiasm Over the Great Discovery.

The great good that is being done here in Raleigh and vicinity has caused a flame of conviction to sweep over many homes, and scores of people are going to Hicks' drug store to get some of the health-creating Root Juice that has caused so much talk throughout the state during the past few months. The necessity of proving the merits of the great remedy has almost ceased as most of the people are convinced because they know of some neighbor or friend who is rapidly improving under the juice treatment. Homer L. Barlow said: "My little boy and self have been using the juice about a week and it is doing us both worlds of good. My boy was in a very bad fix before taking the remedy. He had used a great deal of medicine before taking the juice, without any benefit, but the juice seemed to take a hold of his case at the very start and improvement has been very rapid. His stomach and kidneys were in an awful condition before taking the great remedy. My trouble was indigestion; gas formed on my stomach and bowels and I bloated a great deal, but Root Juice has almost entirely stopped that. It seems that after people take the truly wonderful medicine a few days they praise it so highly that their friends and neighbors go in crowds to the store and get some of it. We heard that the scientist spent a fortune in perfecting Root Juice. He is certainly being rewarded, for it is almost impossible to make the medicine fast enough to supply the demand. The discovery is certainly proved to be the greatest of the age for healing and toning the stomach, bowels, liver and kidneys. Many people from every walk of life who have suffered for years with stomach troubles, rheumatism, nervous weakness and kidney ailments, after taking the remedy a few days are so enthusiastic in their praise that it is hard to doubt the health-giving properties of the medicine. We are informed that the demonstrations will continue but a few days at this point. The Root Juice is sold for one dollar a bottle, or three bottles for two dollars and a half."

ants while the law is so written. Upon the announcement of his decision, Mr. Holton appealed and the case will go to the higher courts.

The plaintiff had hoped to make good in this case, having an intelligent white man as client. But the justice did not see the case in the plaintiff's light.

Mr. Percy T. Elliott leaves today for Roxboro, where he will complete his contract of installing chandeliers in one of the churches.

The Roxboro Methodist church has recently been equipped with electric lights by Mr. Elliott and it jumped quickly into the up-to-date class when the town put in lights. Mr. Elliott took one of the largest of these contracts and his "fixments" are all over the little city.

CURES PIMPLES QUICKLY.

Simple Remedy That Clears Skin Quickly of All Eruptions.

For several weeks past Henry T. Hicks Company have done the biggest business they ever had in any one article in selling Hokara, the skin food, that has won so many friends in Raleigh.

It has been found to be an absolute cure not only for all minor skin troubles such as pimples, blackheads, herpes, acne, scaly scalp, complexion blemishes, itching feet, piles, etc., but for the worst sores, ulcers, or even chronic eczema and salt rheum. There has yet to be found any form of wound or disease affecting the skin or mucous membrane that Hokara does not heal, and its action is so instantaneous that those who try it are simply delighted with it right from the start.

In spite of its unusual curative powers the price is trifling. To convince every one of its merits, Henry T. Hicks Company will sell a liberal-size jar for 25c.; larger size 50c. And remember that if you do not think it does what it claims, you get your money back. You certainly can afford to try it on this plan.

If the skin disease is caused by impure blood or if the bowels are inactive, use Hokara Blood Tablets. They cool and cleanse the blood and regulate the bowels in a natural way.

Roosevelt Guest of City of Paris

lieries and Mrs. Roosevelt also being present.

Among the guests invited were ex-President Loubet, members of the cabinet and the presidents of the senate and chamber of deputies.

Mr. Roosevelt had time for sight-seeing today, having attended to much of his correspondence on the train coming from Buda-Pest. He was anxious to see Paris, but no less anxious than were the shop-keepers, everyone of whom hoped for a glimpse of the former president of the country that sends so many thousands of good buyers to Parisian stores every year.

Throughout the city shops, particularly those patronized by Americans, are decorated, the merchant class having seized the occasion for a demonstration of the city's complete recovery from the effects of the recent flood.

Mr. Roosevelt, on his trips about Paris today, was readily recognized. The newspapers have printed scores of pictures of him, and have given detailed instructions to the public as to where he is most likely to be seen on each day of his stay in Paris.

The result was today that the city was fully prepared.

When he emerged from the American embassy to go to the Elysee palace there was a big crowd gathered in front, extending along the street in each direction, made gay by hundreds of American flags and the French tri-color.

Roosevelt is too cumbersome a name for a French crowd when it wants to cry "vive!" so the Parisians have fallen into the way of American political crowds, and its "vive Teddy!" wherever the former president goes. Not only have the popular papers familiarized the public with Mr. Roosevelt's nickname, but an advertiser who has displayed the entire city with placards bearing but one word, "Teddy."

This, however, is not a part of the welcome to Mr. Roosevelt, but the advertisement of a play. It has had a share, however, in making Mr. Roosevelt feel popular.

Mr. Roosevelt was informed officially today that President Fallieres has placed at the disposal of himself and his party the presidential box at the Comedie Francaise and the Opera, and it was planned today to have the Roosevelts attend the Comedie, tonight, where the bill is "Un Caprice" and "Oedipe Roi."

The embassy was besieged today by Americans seeking a chance to meet Mr. Roosevelt. He was not accessible, however, and the formal receptions are the only opportunities that are likely to be extended. An American reception will be held tomorrow night at the embassy, the American club, the American chamber of commerce, and other bodies of Americans being the guests. The members of Mr. Roosevelt's party have recognized several citizens of the United States who have greeted the former president at various points along the route. There is a small band of travelers making Mr. Roosevelt's itinerary and following him about Europe as faithfully as if they were guarding him.

Although Mr. Roosevelt had in-

Woodrow Wilson, president of Princeton University, who is leading a movement for the moral and spiritual betterment of the college students throughout the country. That less attention should be given to "smokers," "tanquets," and such diversions, and more to development of appreciation for higher subjects was recently decided by a number of college authorities. President Wilson is now putting the idea into operation with "heart-to-heart" talks to the students by general able men. If it is successful he will extend the work to other institutions.

isted that he wished no more attention than that due a private citizen, his reception today at the Elysee palace was hardly different from that which would be accorded a monarch. Before the historic structure were drawn cordons of troops, and Mr. Roosevelt was carried through a lane of gaily clad soldiers, whose glistening sabres saluted him.

The actual meeting between the former president of the United States and the president of the French republic, however, was simple. M. Fallieres did not relax in his well-known frugality even for so distinguished a visitor as Mr. Roosevelt.

The two men chatted for a long time. Mr. Roosevelt discoursed on French and Parisian affairs and history with intimate knowledge, but made no reference to American politics.

At the embassy today Mr. Roosevelt met several men who are national figures in France.

At luncheon there were present General Brugere, chief of staff; M. Leroy Beaulieu, of the French Institute; Ambassador Jusserand; Count Rochambeau, and Marquis Lasteyrie, grandson of Lafayette.

Mr. Roosevelt spoke at length with Count Rochambeau concerning the ceremonies in Washington in the spring of 1902, when the monument to Marshal Rochambeau was unveiled. The members of the French commissioners that went to America to attend that ceremony are to be Mr. Roosevelt's hosts at dinner Monday.

Among others whom he met today were Baron Takahira, who is here enroute to Italy, and Prefect of Police Lepine. With the latter Mr. Roosevelt discussed police affairs as he found them when police commissioner in New York at the beginning of his career. He laughingly ad-

Can Walk Now

"Wonderful Cure"

In Mrs. Lydia Powell's own words, Cardui performed on her a "wonderful cure." "I was so poorly," she writes, "with a pain in my left side, and other troubles, that I was almost dead."

"My husband had our family doctor with me, for four months, but I did not get any better."

"Before I began to take Cardui, I could hardly walk across the floor and was but a skeleton, but now, after taking five bottles, I can walk four miles and do my work with a good deal more ease."

"I know, that if I had not found Cardui, I would have been dead or perfectly crazy. It has saved me hundreds of dollars, and more than that, my life and my mind."

Everybody, almost, has heard about Cardui, the woman's tonic, but everybody has not tried it. Have you? If not, better begin now, even if not seriously sick, because it has eased the symptoms of many cases that probably would have become serious, if a tonic had not been taken in time.

If you are seriously sick, all the more reason for trying Cardui at once. It has cured other serious cases. Why not yours? Ask your druggist.
