aroused from his slumbers by the noise from his chicken coop, and taking his shot-gun he proceeded to investigate. Upon his arrival at the lot Box", but the "Box" you chicken house he discovered a man leaving rapidly with an armful of his best roosters. After commanding him to halt and upon his refusal to comply with the request, he emptied his gun into the fleeing man's legs. He fell and lost his chickens and when Simon reached his side found it to be Charley Mooten.

The peculiar thing about the affair is that when the wounded man was taken to St. Agnes' Hospital it was found that where he was peppered with shot the skin was covered with feathers stuck into the skin. No one can account for this peculiarity unless the shot passed through the feathers of the fowl walle by his side. Both parties are colored and the report from the hospital today is that the wounded man is resting easy.

Insurgents Hold Their Last Meeting

A Million Dollar Band Saw Company an office holder under Dan Russeil. get so much authority that the dem-The American Portable Band Sawocratic executive committee of Wake county, consisting of between thirty and forty good citizens, should boy and deal in saw-mills and saw-mill to his will?

Mr. Battle said that the mass meet ing was called by forty of the best men of the county. It is a good thing he did not say "best democrats." He probably knew the political record of a large number of the signers, and that some of them voted for Jim Young against Needham Broughton.

Mr. Battle concluded with an an eal to support the insurgent ticket Of course he wanted the ticket supported, for he is on it.

The band then played something It is not known why the band was here last night. When Jones and he other democrats spoke a short ime ago, ,they "used a band to drum up the crowd." Of course no one dares accuse the bolters of using such methods to get a crowd. Oh no.

Doctor Enoch Walter Sikes, who wants to go to the senate, even if he does have to promise to vote for the ple at Caraleigh and 50 at Pilot Mills crowd that was too bad for him two ears ago, was the next speaker When he mounted the judge's stand en effort was made to give him au ovation, the chief rooter and his subs jumped to their feet, waved their hats and worked their arms like windmills in a gale in an effort to get the crowd on its feet, but after all to get up. The Doctor said he had been digging the grave for the ring you! all over the county and the people been shooting him with hot air but Wake county, but he forgot to tell clusive of interest and costs, viz had not hurt him. He then filed several "indictitism in the road business to individuals and quoted that unknown writer called "Taxpayer," and dwelt upon false charges without giving the true statements as has been published. He Bob Lewis. said that sixty men were on the list waiting for appointment to the position of road supervisor.

The second indictment was --extravagance,' and, of course, the Couny Home was the particularly sweet morsel for this subject. He said no didn't believe Wake county's poor was better kept than in other counties, and said the commissioners were responsible for this extravagance. Judge Allen said that Wake county's home was the pride of the state. Who is to be believed, Judge Allen or Perfesser Sikes?. The former has visited the home, while it is doubtful if the latter ever saw it. The third indictment was the sal ry bill, in which he referred to M: has. U. Harris as the sparrow wno had killed Cock Robin.

In his efforts to muddy the water he failed to say that all the candidates on both sides were committed the salary bill, and he knows well that it will be a law regardless of which side wins. Anything to fool ne people.

The fourth indictment was the breaking up of the mass meeting. He characterized that as the greatest crime that had been committed since this important office. Sherman's army passed through here, thus carrying out the general tone of began eighteen years ago when he all the speeches that "those who are first moved to Raleigh. Those same men mentioned above use those methods to debauch the ballot. Do you believe it? Yet Sikes said so, and he is a trutaful man

He further charged that they had taught men to sell their vote, and latest decisions of the United States that the other side secured votes by using whiskey in quantities from a smell to five gallons.

It would be interesting if he had explained what Balley did with and restrain the state corporation in Craig's money two years ago.

Here the Doctor got out another indictment: "They have constituted themselves the supreme court of the purpose relating to interstate or for-

After getting his system relieved of the above, he grew awfully funny (?) He also said that A. Jones' thoughts were "me and my job; son Buck and his job."

The speaker said something about going to the ballot box with a detective. He said not to let the republicans vote, and some of the candidates got nervous. He then tried to argue that the present movement was the same as swept the city's year ago, but of course this fooled no one. He concluded by saying the insurgents would carry the city and the county by from 750 to 1,000 votes. Shortly after 10 o'clock the meeting adjourned. The band, the great amount of advertisements, etc., drew not more than four hundred, if that many.
