ATTEMPT TO KILL NEGRO AT CONEY ISLAND

Started Into the Surf When Crowd Got After Them With Stones

TRIED TO DROWN ONE

About Sixty White Men and Women Were in the Water When the Negroes Appeared and They at Once Raised a Cry Against the Negroes—One Was Pulled Into Deep Water But Got Away and Both Made Tracks for Safety—Dozen Calls for Police Sent in.

(By Leased Wire to The Times)
New York, July 29.—An attempt was made to lynch two negroes at Coney Island today because they wanted to bath in the ocean with the white men and women.

Bryant Teal and Frank Davis, the negroes, had narrow escapes. They slipped into bathing suits during the heat of the day and went to the head of the pier, about sixty white men and women were in the water at the time. An outcry against the presence of the negroes was raised by some one.

Several men grabbed Davis, who is slight of build, and pulled him out into deep water. Their object seemed to be drowning.

Davis was pulled beyond his depth but he proved a good and fast swimmer and saved himself by striking out and away from the whites who seemed to want his life. He made a wide detour, got to shore and ran for cover.

In the meantime, Teal, who stands six feet tall and is of powerful build, had gotten ashore and taken to flight under a hail of stones. The crowd took after him.

Teal was almost winded when a white man named James Deaver saw his plight and called him into his little place of business. Deaver stood off the crowd while Teal hid in the rear until he got his wind again. Then he slipped out of a back window and continued his flight until he was safely home.

In the case of Teal so much excitement was created that a dozen calls for the police were sent in.

Flood Damage in Kentucky.

Frankfort, Ky., July 29.—Official estimates announced to-day show that storms and floods have done $5,000,000 damage in Kentucky in the month of July. Nearly every crop raised in the state has been partly or wholly ruined.

THE MOST SERIOUS STRUGGLE OF STRIKE

(By Leased Wire to The Times.)

Portland, Me., July 29.—The most serious struggle of the strike on the Grand Trunk Railway is threatening today with the possibility that the engineers will be called out. This would paralyze both freight traffic and passenger service because engineers are not easily obtainable. The utmost secrecy has been observed so far as concerns the negotiations between the engineers and the railway officials. The agreement between them will expire August 1 and a new schedule with a material increase in wages proposed has been laid before the traffic manager and the other officials for consideration.

No answer has been received and intentions of the officials are not communicated to the means yet. A substitute committee of the engagement will convene in Montreal within a few days and consider the situation. There is no eagerness for the strike but it is assured that the men will insist on a schedule which will make their wages satisfactory. All the engineers on this end of the line are enrolled in the union and they are united in their endeavor to have wages readjusted. The strike in case this is declared, will extend to Chicago and will include New England and Canadian branches.

WESTINGHOUSE IS OUT

Defeated For Presidency of the Electric Company

E. F. Atkins Elected, But He Refuses to Serve Except Temporarily—Board of Directors Ousted Westinghouse, Who Has Been at the Head for Number of Years—New President Has Been a Director for Years—Chairman Mather Re-elected.

(By Leased Wire to The Times)
New York, July 29.—Edward F. Atkins was to-day elected president of the Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing Company to succeed George Westinghouse, at the annual meeting of the board of directors.

Robert Mather was re-elected chairman of the executive board. The ousting of Westinghouse was a surprise as it was supposed that he was slated for reelection, despite his recent attack on Chairman Mather.

Atkins has been a director, his term expiring in 1911. His election is temporary.

Following to-day's meeting the following statement was given out:

"At a meeting of the board of directors of the Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing Company for organization in pursuance of the by-laws, held to-day, the following officers were elected: Chairman, Robert Mather; president, Edwin F. Atkins; vice-president, E. M. Herr; second vice-president, L. A. Osborne; third vice-president and attorney, Charles A. Terry; acting vice-presidents, G. W. Hebard and H. D. Shute; secretary, W. A. Esselby; treasurer and assistant secretary, T. W. Siemon; assistant treasurer, H. F. Baetz and E. St. John; auditor and controller, James B. Bennett and assistant auditor, F. E. Craig and W. D. Covill, Jr."

Edwin F. Atkins, who was elected to succeed George Westinghouse, is of the firm of E. Atkins & Company, Boston, and has been since the reorganization of the company a member of the board of directors of the Westinghouse Company. Mr. Atkins, at the earnest solicitation of the board, has accepted the election to the presidency with the distinct understanding that his retention of the position is to be temporary and until the board shall select a permanent successor.

George Westinghouse, inventor of the air-brake and in the past head of organizations employing 20,000 men, gave up a projected trip to Europe in order to take part in the struggle which ended to-day.

For years he has been prominent in the industrial life of America, his invention of the air-brake and other important devices having made him an immense fortune.

The Westinghouse enterprises came to grief in the fall of 1907, with obligations of about $8,000,000. The last of these concerns to be taken out of the receivers' hands emerged from the process on July 24, 1909. Nearly all the receivers of other concerns controlled by Westinghouse were discharged the previous year.

It was after the 3:07 situation that the fight on Mr. Westinghouse began, it being reported soon after the failure that Pittsburg banks, being heavily interested in Westinghouse securities, had determined to oust him.

Last January six months' leave of absence was granted him, and this was construed in Wall street as the first part of the ousting process. The leave of absence was made to run till August 1, 1910. It was granted after an acrimonious meeting of the directors of the company he had founded. Four years ago, July 28, 1906, Mr. Westinghouse was accused by James Carrothers, a stockholder, of having diverted $3,000,000 to his private ventures. This was denied.

Mr. Westinghouse was born in Schoharie County, N. Y., October 8, 1846. He has been decorated by several European countries.

Coronation Oath Revised.
(By Leased Wire to The Times)
London, July 29.—The house of Commons on the third reading to-day passed the bill revising the king's coronation oath. The attack on the Pope and Catholicism is now omitted, the king merely proclaiming himself a "faithful protestant."

The vote was 245 to 52.

Mistaken for Burglar and Killed.
(By Leased Wire to The Times)
New Orleans, La., July 29.—Alma Barere, aged 22, while walking in her sleep, was mistaken for a burglar by an employee of her uncle early to-day. He discharged a load of buckshot into the girl's body and she died almost instantly.

CRIPPEN IN A TRAP

Officials Now Feel Sure That Crippen Is Caught

Are Satisfied That He is on the Montrose and Every Effort is Being Made for the Final Scene When the Ship Reaches Port.

(By Leased Wire to The Times)

Father Point, Que., July 29.—Aboard the liner Montrose which is creeping through the fogbound lower reaches of the St. Lawrence. Dr. Hawley Harvey Crippen today is being brought to a trap from which there is no escape save suicide. Extreme precautions have been taken to prevent any attempt at death on his part. The most wonderful wireless search for a fugitive the world has ever seen, which began when the body of Belle Elmore, Crippen's wife, found buried in the cellar of their London home is rapidly reaching its climax and Crippen's race is nearly run.

All doubt of the presence of Crippen and his companion, Ethel Clare LeNeve, swept away by the wireless messages received from Llewellyn Jones, the lad who operates the Marconi instruments on the Montrose, the Canadian police are lying in wait like watchdogs at this little settlement on the south shore.

With Inspector Dew of Scotland Yard due here today, the local police representatives were given the plan of action to transmit to him on his arrival on the liner Laurentic and the same details were given to the wireless for transmission to the Laurentic.

The plan for Dew's course was mapped out yesterday by Colonel Percy Sherwood, head of the Dominion (Continued On Page Five.)

PRESIDENT TAFT BACK AT BEVERLY

(By Leased Wire to The Times)

Beverly, Mass., July 29.—President Taft is "on the job" again today. He thoroughly enjoyed the sea trip but was glad to be able to get out on the Myopia links this morning before taking up the hard work that confronts him now.

On the links he was joined by John Hays Hammond, Henry Clay Frick, the steel magnate, and Captain Butt.

From now on the political situation will take up a great deal of the president's time.

Envoys from President Madrid are expected here within the next few days.

PREMIER CONFERS WITH KING ON CRISIS

(By Cable to the Times.)

Madrid, July 29.—Premier Canalejas today conferred with King Alfonso on the crisis in the relations between Madrid and the Vatican. It was reported semi-officially that the king gave Senor Canalejas a promise of his continued support in the struggle with the clericals.

The clericals in the Cortes today held a meeting at which a plan of action was discussed. The general understanding in official circles is that the church will try to secure the downfall of the ministry. In view of the nature of the contest, however, Canalejas will have the support of almost the entire left, and his defeat is regarded as doubtful in the extreme.

MORE TALK.

The Weathers Furniture Company are delighted. So are we! The proof of the pudding is in the eating. The proof in advertising is by keeping everlastingly at it in 'The Evening Times.'

Let us talk to you in person.

WEATHERS FURNITURE CO.,

121 E. Martin St. C. C. phone 686
Raleigh, N. C., July 29, 1910.
Mr. Geo. C. Hall, Adv. Mgr.
Raleigh, N. C.

Dear Sir: Being delighted with several of our Special Sales as advertised in The Evening Times, we think it fair to tell you so. In our Rug and Matting sale a great line of goods were sold in a marvellously short time, hundreds of our alarm clocks were put out at 40c, and a sale of Tabourettes lasted only a few minutes, thirty-six being sold in all parts of the city over the phone and by customers coming to the store. We are putting on sale Saturday and Monday thirty-six Tabourettes at thirty-six cents a piece and expect to sell them in as many minutes. Our Special Sales of Wall Paper has kept our paper hanger busy every minute for several months.

Yours respectfully,
WEATHERS FURNITURE CO.

ELOPED COUPLE IS FREED FROM CUSTODY

(Special to The Times.)

New Bern, July 29.—Miss Nellie Small and William Stone who were arrested in this city yesterday on information received from Baltimore from which they had eloped, were this morning released from custody. The warrant upon which they were being held, charged them with immorality and as there was no evidence, the could not be held.

BEATEN TO A FRAZZLE.

That the Condition Roosevelt's Nephew Finds Himself In.
(By Leased Wire to The Times)
Utica, N. Y., July 29.—To-day's complete returns show that Theodore Douglas Robinson, nephew of former President Roosevelt, who for two weeks has been conducting a whirlwind campaign in Herkimer County for the republican congressional nomination in the Oneida-Herkimer district, was beaten to a frazzle in the primaries yesterday afternoon and last night.

Mr. Robinson will have only 24 out of the 66 delegates in the county convention to-morrow. This assures the nomination of Congressman Millington.

It is announced that Robinson will lead another fight for the congressional honor two years hence.

LAWYER EMBEZZLER

Lovenstein Caught and Made to Face Court For Embezzling

Durham People Interested in Case—Could Not Raise Enough Money to Pay His Check—Accident to Mr. Pink Pendergrass at Chapel Hill—May Disfigure Him for Life—Robert McClennan Held for Chatham Officers—Disturbed Public Worship—Chapel Hill Delegation Returns from Convention.

(Special to The Times.)

Durham, N. C., July 29.—When Benjamin Lovenstein, the Jewish attorney, faced Judge Sykes in the recorder's court this morning, on a charge of embezzlement, the court room was packed to the doors. Lovenstein claims that he was not aware of the warrant out against him, and would not have left town had he known of it. He says the first intimation of any trouble was when he was arrested by the Oxford chief of police. He immediately got busy and arranged bail through Judge Sykes. His client of a few days ago, Arthur Greenburg, put up the $300 necessary for his release.

Coming in on the afternoon train Lovenstein immediately arranged for an attorney. He stated that he would clear himself easily and that the charge of embezzlement could not be sustained. It is said that other charges are to be preferred.

It will be remembered that the cause of all the trouble was the young attorney's accepting $100 belonging to a negro woman who was in the police station charged with selling whiskey. She gave Lovenstein the money to arrange bond for her. He did this, and afterwards friends persuaded her to get another lawyer. When the new lawyer, Victor Bryant, took charge he demanded the $100 for the woman. Lovenstein claimed $25 as his fee. There was no kick made on this and Lovenstein gave a check for $75. The check was turned down by the bank and Lovenstein asked a few days of grace to raise the money. When the money was not forthcoming the warrant was issued, but Lovenstein could not be found, his office being locked up. Chief Freeland received a 'phone message from Lovenstein, who was in Oxford, asking had Bryant been placated. The crafty chief located the voice in Oxford and 'phoned the chief there to hold on to Lovenstein.

By agreement the case was postponed until tomorrow morning.

News comes from Chapel Hill that an accident to Mr. Pink Pendergrass may disfigure him for life. He was operating a cider mill when he stooped over and allowed his head to become caught between the rollers, inflicting a dangerous wound on his scalp and tearing the skin off the side of his face. Dr. Webb attended the young man and sewed up his wounds.

Robert McClennan is being held here awaiting the arrival of officers from Chatham County, where McClennan is wanted on a charge of disturbing public worship. He was found at a brickyard on Chapel Hill street. His tale of the row is that he and another negro had a quarrel in the church, and he knocked the negro through a window. Others joined in the fight, and when the parson tried to separate the combatants they turned on him and ejected him from the church. The others have not been caught, all leaving the immediate vicinity.

McClennan is put down as the ring-leader, and special efforts were made to lay hands on him.

The Chapel Hill delegation from Greensboro arrived in Durham yesterday morning, sore in mind and body. The loss of a night's sleep was not calculated to soothe ruffled tempers, and when they came to University Station and found that the Chapel Hill train had gone, loud and long were the expressions, and what they did not say would not fill the page of a popular dictionary. Vehicles were secured and they went through the country, still heaping vituperations upon the Southern Railway.

John D. Rockefeller Sued.

(By Leased Wire to The Times)
Findlay, O., July 29.—John D. Rockefeller was sued to-day for $200,000 each by Thomas C. Kelley and A. J. Steele, oil men, who claim damages through Rockefeller's monopoly of the oil business. Terrence McMannes, another oil man, also sued him for $150,000 on the same grounds.

It is announced that Robinson will lead another fight for the congressional honor two years hence.

COLUMBUS IS QUIET AND THE CARS MOVING

Rioters Cowed by the Guns of the State Militia and Order Prevails

MAY SUSPEND OFFICERS

(By Leased Wire to The Times.)

Columbus, O., July 29.—The guns of the Ohio national guards have cowed the strike rioters and the city was quiet today.

Mayor Marshall and Colonel McMaken, commanding the troops, announced this morning that cars would be started at 11:30 o'clock, upon the return of Governor Harmon from Charlevoix, Mich.

Rumors are current that the governor will officially condemn Mayor Marshall and Sheriff Sartain for failing to call troops and that he may possibly suspend them.

Troops are in possession of the city and the state capitol grounds present a warlike appearance as the headquarters of the commanding officers, the station of field artillery, signal and ambulance corps. The street car strike is now in the hands of Adjutant General Charles C. Weybrecht and Brigadier General William McKen.

Mayor Marshall was refused permission to pass through the lines on east Broad street, where Troop A, Cleveland cavalry company, is stationed.

Street cars were started after three regiments of the state militia were distributed along the lines in all parts of the city.

There was little demonstration during the arrival of troops aside from the occasional explosion of torpedoes, jeers and catcalls from union sympathizers.

Superintendent Whisner of the street railway company, says: "I expect trouble when night comes, and the strike sympathizers can bombard the cars from cover. There will be little violence during the daylight hours while the troops are in control of the situation."

Adjutant General Weybrecht said: "The militia is taking no sides in this controversy. They are here to preserve order and allow the cars to run. The strictest discipline will be maintained."

GOVERNOR REFUSED TO WITHDRAW TROOPS

(By Leased Wire to The Times)

Detroit, Mich., July 29.—Governor Warner has refused to grant the petition of the towns-people of Durand, which is under martial law owing to riots incidental to the Grand Trunk strike, asking that the 500 state troops encamped there within. The governor states that the troops will be stationed there until the trouble is over.

The towns-people held a monster mass-meeting last night and feeling ran so high against the presence of the troops to quell riots that General McGurkin in charge of the soldiers, offered to compromise by withdrawing them if the towns-people would swear in 100 special deputies to preserve peace. This they refused to do. Durand is strictly a railroad town and the fact that every man and woman in it is in sympathy with the strikers is the reason for their sentiment at the presence of the troops.

Today the troops were thrown around the Grand Trunk tracks, train sheds and station and all the road's property for a mile to guard it from the strikers. There was no trouble, as the troops seem to have put a quietus on the riots.

Brigadier General Bates of the Michigan national guard, returning to his home at 800, from Durand, was hit by a stone thrown by a striker and painfully injured.
