THOUSANDS GATHER FOR EARLY MASS

Forty Thousand Worshippers Gather On the Slope of Mt. Royal

DR. VAUGHN DENOUNCED

Cardinal Legate Vannutelli Presided at Pontifical Mass on the Slope of Mt. Royal—40,000 People Attended—Crowning Devotional Feature of Eucharistic Congress—Dr. Vaughn Denounced For His Attack on Protestantism—A Breach of Hospitality—His Attention Called to Fact That Protestant Headed Entertainment Subscription List.

(By Leased Wire to The Times) Montreal, Sept. 10—Under a flawless autumn sky, Cardinal Legate Vannutelli presided at pontifical mass on the slope of Mount Royal in the presence of 40,000 worshippers, the greatest assemblage ever gathered in a single act of worship in the New World.

This was the crowning devotional feature of the Eucharistic Congress in session here.

The vast multitude spread from the ropes that guarded the beautiful altar and choir stands across Park avenue, down towards Pine avenue and up towards Royal avenue, while other thousands had secured vantage points higher up the slope in the rear of the altar.

The music was an impressive feature of the services. The veteran choir leader, Prof. Compare, directed the voices.

The solo parts were given by a small picked choir consisting of soloists from the Cathedral and Notre Dame, while the choruses were taken up by 3,000 voices at the right and left of the altar while an immense band was massed against the hill in such a manner that the slope acted as a sounding board sending the harmony and rolling in majestic volumes over the congregation and across the open fields.

The sermon in English was preached by Archbishop O'Connell, of Boston, whose clear and ringing voice was distinctly audible to the greater part of the worshippers.

The spectacle at the altar was extraordinarily rich and gorgeous. The whole sanctuary was banked with the most exquisite flowers and plants and the altar itself was deck-

CHARLESTON MAN SUICIDES IN NEW YORK

(By Leased Wire to The Times.)

New York, Sept. 10—In fear of undergoing an operation which his physician said was of a trivial nature, Samuel S. Innes, a wealthy shoe merchant of Charleston, S. C., committed suicide today in the Hoffman house by shooting himself in the head.

His brother Charles, who came to this city with him last Tuesday and who was asleep in an adjoining room heard the shot and found his brother dead. Dr. Jennings was summoned and pronounced Innes dead.

For several months the merchant has been complaining of stomach trouble. He was finally persuaded by members of his family to come to this city and undergo an operation. With his brother he arrived here on Tuesday and registered at the Hoffman House.

After his arrival here he consulted several specialists and he was to have undergone an X-ray examination today. This had been worrying him a great deal during the past two days and he told his brother he feared undergoing the operation.

When he retired last night he was in the best of spirits, according to his brother. He bid his brother good night and then went to his room.

Early today his brother and Dr. Wilson, the Innes' family physician who came north with the merchant, heard a shot and burst into the room. Innes was found dead on the floor. Nearby was a revolver with one chamber empty.

Innes was head of the wholesale and retail shoe firm of Drake, Innes & Company, of Charleston, and reputed to be very wealthy.

The body will be taken south tomorrow.

ed in the richest of drapings. These with the glittering vestment of the celebrant and his deacons, the blaze of the monstrance, and the light of many candles in golden candle sticks made the whole group under the canopy a living mass of light and color. In the space within the ropes were 2,000 clergy accommodates who wished to participate in this, the most largely attended and magnificent mass in the history of the Dominion.

Owing to the unavoidable clash with the St. Patrick's ceremony, due to yesterday's rain, and the postponement of the open air mass from that day, there were comparatively few of the English speaking clergy present, but the French Canadians and foreigners, amply made up for this deficiency. The celebrant of the mass was Archbishop Farley of New York. He was robed in gold vestments and used the new monstrance presented to the archbishopric of Montreal by the English-speaking Catholic ladies of the city. He was attended by the largest train of acolytes, sanctuary boys and other assistants ever seen at a mass in Montreal. The cardinal legate was attended to his throne by his chamberlains and personal following and by the archbishop of Montreal, the Prince of Croix and many archbishops and bishops. The guard of honor of the Mount St. Louis cadets were also in attendance.

At St. Patrick's, the largest English Catholic church in the city 10,000 worshippers attended early mass this morning. Cardinal Logue and Cardinal Gibbons were both present and made brief addresses.

The Montreal Council of the Sons of England met last night and passed a resolution denouncing Rev. Dr. Bernard Vaughan, of London, for his attacks on Protestantism as "a soulless religion." Amongst other things the resolution declares the attack "a flagrant abuse of hospitality accorded Dr. Vaughan by the city of Montreal, and liable to provoke a condition of riot among its citizens."

The resolution calls attention to the fact that it was a protestant who headed the Eucharistic Congress subscription list with a gift of five thousand dollars. When the mass was over and the vast crowds were working back to the city, newspaper men estimated that the attendance at the open air service instead of being 40,000, as was at first estimated, was nearer 150,000. The arrangements were perfect and not a single accident or untoward incident marred the service.

Cardinal Vannutelli was vastly pleased. "This was the greatest and most devout audience I ever witnessed," he declared.

America's Day. Montreal, Sept. 10—This was chiefly America's day in the ceremonies attending the Eucharistic congress and the laymen and clergy of the United States were accorded a prominent part in the day's program. So many strangers arrived late yesterday and early today that it was evident at an early hour that the great audience which gathered on the slopes of Mt. Royal yesterday morning at high mass, which was dispersed by rain would be eclipsed today.

Montreal was hardly astir before great crowds commenced moving towards Mt. Royal park for the pontifical high mass, the celebrant of which was Archbishop Farley, of New York. There was a great struggle for points of vantage.

The American influence was strongly exerted today in the direction of having New York selected as the meeting place of the congress in 1912.

The commanding influence of Archbishop Farley, of New York, was shown in the report that a majority of the ecclesiastics who will have the decision of the meeting place for the congress in 1912 are favorable towards New York.

It is currently believed that Archbishop Farley will proclaim conditions favorable for the holding of the great congress in his city at the ensuing meeting time. Cardinal Gibbons is also said to favor New York and a number of the foreign clergy have unofficially declared in favor of the American metropolis.

The Catholic club of New York has been accorded a place in the Eucharistic foot procession tomorrow. Several hundred members of the Holy Name Society will arrive here in a special train from New York early tomorrow morning to march in the procession.

The committee representing the entire body of Knights of Columbus of the United States, which is here, is composed of the following members: Governor John Burke, of North Dakota; Judge C. S. Huester, of Baltimore; Judge Victor J. Dowling, of New York; Morgan J. O'Brien, of New York; J. F. Flaherty, of Philadelphia.

Miss Katherine Elkins and the Duke of Abruuzzi, who, once more are again authoritatively announced as on the eve of marriage. The latest cables declare that almost every detail has been arranged and the marriage portion Miss Elkin is to receive from her father is $5,000,000. The very latest program is, according to the Italian correspondents, for the Duke to pay a visit to the Elkins family in the United States. At this visit arrangements are to be made for the presentation of the bride's family to the royal household. Then Miss Elkins is to be made the Countess of Teramo, and become a member of the Roman Catholic church. Viçy, France, Sept. 10—Mrs. Stephen B. Elkins, wife of Senator Elkins, and their daughter, Miss Katherine, left here today for Paris, accompanied by Davis Elkins, Miss Elkins' brother. They will sail for New York on October 1, according to their present plan.

SENTENCE COMMUTED

Aged Pasquotank County Man Receives Clemency

Prisoner was an Inmate of the County Home and Struck Another Inmate With a Stick, Causing Death—Many Ask That He be Pardoned.

Governor Kitchin today commuted the sentence of Griffin Jenkins from three years to six months in state's prison. Jenkins was convicted of murder in the second degree at the March term of Pasquotank county, 1910, and sentenced to the penitentiary for three years. The sentence is commuted for the following reasons:

Prisoner is seventy-six years old, feeble and pitiable. In a fight with another man who like himself was an inmate of the county home and of bad temper, struck the other with a stick, from which blow death resulted.

Many of the best citizens of the county of the crime ask for his pardon, including county and city officials, lawyers, school superintendents, merchants and others. Other distinguished attorneys who practice there and also the trial judge and solicitor recommend pardon. There is no protest. Believing that he should suffer some punishment, I commute his sentence to six months in the common jail of Pasquotank county.

TOM WATSON SQUELCHED

Wanted Farmers' Union Turned Over to Him For Political Purposes.

(Special to The Times) Charlotte, Sept. 10—That the national farmers' union, which closed its annual session in Charlotte Thursday night, was invited and urged to take a stand in the political field by an able representative of Hon. Thos. Watson, of the Cornercracker State, and was besought to declare for a platform after Watson's own ideas, and to put out its own candidates, and thus become a political organization, contrary to its constitution, was learned here after the dispersion of the delegates to their homes.

When the legislation committee rendered its report, it was noted that this was a majority report. Now it develops that there was a minority report, which was prepared by Mr. Frederick Wimberley, of Georgia, a strong follower of Watson, and a member of the committee on legislation. The minority report, it is said, was listened to with kindly forbearance, but that was the extent of its reception, for the men at the head of the national union and the assembled delegates, almost to a man, planted both feet on the proposition presented by Mr. Wimberley, and fathered by the able Watson, so it is stated, following the convention.

The censorship of news by the convention was such that little of the entire proceedings were dug out by baffled reporters, but it is pretty certain that much interesting business was transacted that has not gotten further than the ken of the delegates who were present at the closed sessions of the convention.

In justice to Mr. Wimberley it should be stated that his minority report received strong support in some quarters, but the officers of the organization were in particular opposed to putting the union on record as favoring a leap into the political arena, and the minority report was turned down, and that of the majority adopted. This latter report merely placed the union on record on certain public issues, against speculation in agricultural products, for the parcels post; for the physical valuation of railroads, against the proposed central bank idea, etc., and heartily in favor of a lengthy report on education, etc.

The incident of the minority report, however, is not without considerable import, and tends to indicate that there are those in the union who would like to see the organization become a nation-wide factor in politics.

COMMITTEE BADLY DIVIDED

Insurgent Wants Ballinger Kicked Out While Democrats Are More Conservative.

(By Leased Wire to The Times.)

Minneapolis, Minn., Sept. 10—Hopelessly divided, the Ballinger-Phinchot investigating committee, which has been engaged in a merry litta war here for the last three days has adjourned. It will meet in Chicago on Tuesday. The result will be that three reports will be turned into congress when that body meets in December. The minority members of the committee, four in number, denounced Ballinger and practically recommended his dismissal from the cabinet as an undesirable.

Representative Madison, the insurgent who sided with the democrats, goes them one better. He declares boldly that Ballinger should be kicked out.

Republican regulars on the committee are said to have adopted an altogether different version of the row and they will also present a recommendation to congress.

HAD NARROW ESCAPE.

Auto Crashed Through Gates and Onto Railroad Track.

(By Leased Wire to The Times)

Manchester, Mass., Sept. 10—Mme. Lefvre Pontalis, wife of the French charge d'affaires, had an exceedingly narrow escape from a fatal automobile accident yesterday afternoon.

She was riding in a four-seated car with her chauffeur was driving on Sea street, toward her cottage. Coming down a steep hill at a rapid rate and suddenly turning a corner they came to the railroad crossing, the gates being down for the 4:10 train. The chauffeur did his best to stop the car, but its momentum was so great he found it impossible and it crashed through the gate, coming to a stop on the track in the path of the oncoming train. The engineer put on his emergency brakes and the train was slowed up within 50 feet of the automobile, the gateman raising the remaining gate, letting the automobile out just in time to escape being struck. The automobile was only slightly damaged and Mme. Pontalis though badly frightened was uninjured.

THIRTY-FOUR WERE DROWNED.

Sinking of Car Ferry Resulted in 34 Deaths—Eight Bodies Recovered.

(By Leased Wire to The Times)

Ludington, Mich., Sept. 10—That thirty-four persons instead of twenty-eight perished in the wreck of Pere Marquette car ferry No. 18 was announced at the office of the Pere Marquette Railroad here today.

Eight of the bodies have been recovered. Six of these are lying in the rooms of a local undertaker and two are in Milwaukee.

A rigid investigation of the cause of the disaster was started this morning. Carelessness in setting the heavy cargo is alleged by Lake seamen to have been the cause of the accident. The cargo, consisting of thirty-two heavy laden cars, sailed and threw the giant boat bottom side up.

A mysterious explosion which shook the vessel just as it turned over was responsible for the saving of two lives. The explosion shattered a part of the deck and pieces of the wreckage were seized by men already in the water.

The boat sunk in sight of the relief party. The steamer No. 17 which had been summoned by the wireless was just leaving to when the sister ship, unable longer to stand the strain, threw slowly over and went down.

The cause of the disaster is indefinite. It is known that the boat sprang a leak and that the crew tried to save her by pushing cars off the stern. Eight cars were gotten rid of in this way, but no relief was afforded.

R. C. Hill, purser and wireless operator on No. 17, was at a disadvantage as he had studied telegraphy only a short time and could send but not receive.

The lost steamer was run as an excursion boat all summer from Chicago. It was considered one of the best built crafts on the lake.

COLORED FIREMEN.

Much Dissatisfaction Among Firemen—Concord Wins First Prize.

(Special to The Times)

Winston-Salem, Sept. 10—The colored firemen's association held their races here Thursday and there was much dissatisfaction among the visiting firemen because they had to race to a decided disadvantage, owing to the arrangements of the local firemen's committee.

Over 3,000 people witnessed the races in Piedmont park.

The following teams were winners: Hook and ladder race: Concord won first prize in 22 seconds; Fulton, of Tarboro, won second in 38 seconds.

Grab Race: Concord won first prize in 32 seconds; Isaac Lew, of Enfield, won first prize in foot race, second prize being won by Wm. Farmer, of Wilson.

Hose race of 150 yards: Defiance, of Statesville, won first prize in 26 seconds; Fayetteville and Wilson making the run in 27 1/2 seconds each and compromised by dividing the prize money; Monroe made 31 seconds; New Bern made 29 seconds, while Enfield blew off; Oxford made 29 seconds.

Second grab race: Statesville won in 22 1/2 seconds; New Bern won second prize by making the run, two of its men falling because of the bad ground about the plug in 23 seconds; Monroe's time was 31 seconds; Fayetteville, 25 1/2 seconds; Wilson, 23 1/2 seconds; Oxford 27 seconds, and Enfield blew off.

In the hose wagon race New Bern won in 35 seconds and got the first prize.

The hose races were interesting features of today's events. The association has adjourned to meet the third Tuesday in August, 1911, in Elizabeth City.

THE GRAFT COMMITTEE TAKES REST

Hearing Adjourned Until Wednesday But Counsel Keeps Busy on Case

AFTER BACHE COMPANY

Determined Efforts Will be Made to Get at Facts Concealed in the Books of J. S. Bache & Co.—Company Has Refused to Allow its Books to be Brought Before the Committee—May be Put in the Hands of the Grand Jury for Criminal Action.

(By Leased Wire to The Times)

New York, Sept. 10—No further chapter was added today to the secret annals of the notorious "black horse cavalry" which the legislature graft inquirers are bringing to light.

The hearing adjourned yesterday until September 14, but counsel for the committee, today went over the last three days' evidence and took steps for the uncovering of fresh sensations. A determined effort will be made on Wednesday, when the investigation is resumed, to get at new facts through the books of J. S. Bache & Company, the Wall Street firm, and other big brokerage houses will undoubtedly be drawn into the investigation.

A verified copy of the testimony of Leopold Bache, head of the firm of J. S. Bache & Company, in which he announced his refusal to allow the firm's books to be examined by the committee, was placed in the hands of District Attorney Whitman today.

This was in accordance with the resolution of the committee directing that the district attorney be notified of the alleged contumacy of the Bache firm.

Counsel for Bache & Company has until noon on Monday for the notification of the committee that the firm's books will be turned over for examination. In the event that the refusal is reiterated, the grand jury will be asked to take a hand.

District Attorney Whitman threatened today to take immediate criminal action unless the books of the firm were in the hands of the committee by Monday afternoon. All the firm's ledgers for 1900 and 1906 are ordered produced.

AVIATOR WILLOWS FLIES OVER LONDON

(By Cable to The Times.)

London, Sept. 10—Aviator Willows made a sensational aeroplane flight over the city of London today, steered over Trafalgar Square and St. James Park, circled the historic Tower of St. Paul's Cathedral and cut all manner of aerial capers while thousands of onlookers became wildly excited.

Starting from Crystal Palace shortly before noon Willows steered his machine over the very heart of the city and the moon crowds in the street were electrified at the strange spectacle of the man bird soaring above the roofs of buildings.

Traffic came to a halt in the busy streets and thousands crowded the streets and parks gazing upwards at the daring aeronaut.

The aviator traversed the entire city sweeping in a great circle above the house tops. After crossing the length of London he circled back towards Crystal Palace while beneath him the roofs became black with people.
