THE DEATH OF PETROSINO TO BE AVENGED

Three Hundred Camorristi Under Arrest Charged With Being Implicated In Crime

ALL TO BE TRIED

Man Who is Believed to Have Planned the Death of the New York Police Lieutenant in Hands of Police—He is an Old Criminal Who Was Arrested in This Country and Sent Back to Italy by Petrosino—Trial Will Begin in a Few Days—Last Desperate Fight of the Camorra For Existence.

(By Cable to The Times)

Rome, Sept. 12.—Three hundred members of the dreaded Camorra are under arrest today, charged with being conspirators in the plot that led to the assassination of Lieutenant Petrosino, head of the Italian branch of the New York detective bureau. They will all be placed on trial at Viterbo, near Rome, within a few days.

Enrico Alfano, head of the Neapolitan Camorra, is declared to be the man who planned, and under whose direction the New York lieutenant was slain in Palermo on March 12, 1909.

Equally strong and convincing is the evidence which points to Gaetano Donadio, one of Alfano's trusted aides, as the man who, a short time before the assassination, sent a cipher message to Noto, Sicily, advising a member of the mafia of Petrosino's intended visit to Palermo.

Three hundred Camorristi are tightly entangled in the police dragnet and all will be placed on trial.

Revenge, the investigation disclosed, was the principal motive for the murder of Petrosino. In 1906 Alfano eluded the surveillance under which he had been placed in Naples on account of a murder of which he was suspected and was believed to have gone to New York.

Petrosino was notified and investigation showed that Alfano was really in New York City.

Petrosino said nothing to the members of his staff, but sent them to visit the haunt where he suspected Alfano to be. The next day one of his detectives reported that Alfano had been seen. On April 7, 1907, Petrosino ordered the place raided. Alfano was arrested and in a few days he was on his way back to Naples. There he was turned over to the Italian royal police, who were waiting to take him back to Italy.

That raid and Alfano's arrest

THE CONGRESS OVER

Thousands of Visitors Getting Out of Montreal

Estimated That 200,000 Visitors Slept Out of Doors Last Night and It Will Require Two or Three Days For Trains to Handle the Entire Crowd.

(By Leased Wire to The Times)

Montreal, Sept. 12.—More than one hundred thousand visitors, drawn here by the twenty-first international Eucharistic Congress, struggled to leave Montreal today but it will be several days before this is again completely a city of the lull.

Cardinal Vannutelli, the papal legate, who will remain here until Wednesday night, said today that he had been deeply affected by the attestations of loyalty and devotion to the church of Rome by the people of North America.

"I send my greetings to the people of the United States," said he. "I have been particularly delighted at the great numbers which came to this city from the United States for the congress which has just closed. It is particularly gratifying to find the cordial attitude of friendship on the part of those who are not of our faith. The Holy Father will be pleased to learn of the success of the congress. I am anticipating a delightful trip into the United States."

Clerics of high order today expressed great pleasure at the manner in which the congress has been carried out. There was no single untoward incident during the entire session.

The first Eucharistic congress ever held in America was so successful, in fact, that Cardinal Gibbons and other churchmen of high rank have renewed their hopes of a congress being held in the United States at the first available opportunity. The next congress will be held in Seville, Spain, in 1912, at Vienna, in 1913, in Lyons, France, and in 1914 possibly in the United States. It is a notable fact, greatly commented on here today, that the administration officers selected those countries for the ensuing meetings of the congress where the church of Rome has been meeting with difficulties.

The ecclesiastical representation commenced leaving today, although the outpouring of visitors was so great that railroad officials were almost totally unable to cope with the situation.

Mgr. Heylan, bishop of Namur and permanent president of the Eucharistic congress committee, stated today that his trip here had been one of the most pleasant episodes of his life.

"There has never been a congress more successful than the one which closed yesterday," said he with enthusiasm. "It shows the wondrous strides which the church of Rome is making in North America."

It is estimated that nearly 200,000 persons slept on the slopes of Mount Royal last night. Early today the streets of the city were astir with those who sought to leave. With the gold and white papal colors fluttering above the house-tops and the city beneath amove with masses of people Montreal typified a religious zeal which has been evidenced in colossal gatherings at worship during the past ten days.

Visitors from American cities were given preference today in booking railroad reservations. Even with scores of special trains moving out of the city it was evident that many would be compelled to sleep outdoors again tonight.

RAILROAD OFFICIAL IN RATE HEARING

New York, Sept. 12.—J. B. Thayer, third vice-president of the Pennsylvania Railroad officials, took the stand today in the freight rates hearing which is being held at the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel in this city.

Mr. Thayer told how the advance of freight rates had been discussed at a conference of railroad men as far back as 1908. He said that the railroad officials had agreed then that business and financial conditions were in such shape that it would not be policy to put the advance into effect. Consequently it was agreed to postpone concerted rate raising until the more propitious occasion which came this year.

ELEVEN ARE DEAD

Cave-In In Tunnel Causes Number of Deaths

Coroner's Office Begins Investigation of the Disastrous Accident in Old Bergen Tunnel.

(By Leased Wire to The Times)

New York, Sept. 12.—An investigation was begun by the Hudson county coroner's office today into the collapse of part of the old Bergen tunnel, Jersey City, in which eleven men were killed and ten severely injured yesterday, bringing the total of deaths, it is said, to almost 400, in the colossal engineering work upon which the Erie Railroad has been engaged for three years.

It had been determined by the railroad company to wreck the western mouth of the tunnel deliberately today. This was the last work which remained to be done before the new Bergen cut of the Erie was completed. The new cut has been used for a month, and it only remained for a fourth track to be laid before the work was finished.

Workers have been removing a section of the old tunnel to make way for the fourth track. The crash occurred at the spot where they were working yesterday.

Forty-three men, under A. L. Moorhead, engineer of the eastern division of the Erie road, were employed around the western mouth of the tunnel when the accident occurred. While a "crew bar" gang was working on a cliff a section of it, 40 feet long and thirty feet high, gave way, burying ten men in the tunnel and carrying down 12 of the "crew bar" gang.

George Bloss, foreman of the gang which was caught under the avalanche and who was placed under arrest in the Jersey Hospital where he is in a critical condition today. At the inquest Engineer Moorhead and James Smith, superintendent of the work, will come in for a severe grilling.

Another was added to the list of victims in the cave-in in the death of John Lewis, a stone crusher, who died in the hospital today from his injuries.

FEUDISTS CAPTURED HIDING IN A CAVE

Bluefield, W. Va., Sept. 12.—William Blankenship, who shot and killed Dr. Wayne Hatfield, kin of "Devil Anse" Hatfield of the notorious family of feudists, was captured today hiding in a cave.

A posse armed with Winchester rifles surrounded the hiding place of the desperado bent on taking him dead or alive. Blankenship's father appeared at the mouth of the cave and promised to turn his son over to the authorities if no harm was done him.

The leader of the posse promised that the law should take its course and Blankenship was hurried away to Williamsport where he is now in jail. A heavy guard is being kept over the jail for fear that friends of Dr. Hatfield attempt to mete summary justice upon the accused man.

Blankenship, who is a young man, had been hiding in the cave, which is near the scene of the murder, for a week.

British Steamer Grounded.

(By Cable to The Times)
Brussels, Belgium, Sept. 12.—The British steamer Albertville grounded on the rocks in the mouth of the Congo River early today, and is reported to be a total wreck. The crew escaped. The vessel was bound from the Congo for Antwerp.

DOORS NOT LOCKED

Supt. Joyner Talks Interest- ingly of Carteret County

People Do Not Use Locks—Nearly All Own Their Own Homes—Great Interest in Educational Not a Negro in One Entire Township.

(By Leased Wire to The Times)

Superintendent James Y. Joyner, who made two speeches in Carteret county last week, reports a remarkable condition of affairs in one township. The people own their own homes, every residence was painted and so free from fly-doors that doors are never locked. There is not a negro in one whole township.

Last Saturday Mr. Joyner and Congressmen Small addressed an audience of about 2,000 people at Atlantic. This place was the first rural district in the county to vote a special tax for school purposes. Now it has a fine school house and one of the best high schools in the state, employing four teachers.

Friday night Mr. Joyner spoke at Stratton's School House, and was heard by an excellent audience. The people of that community have recently voted a special tax for school purposes, and the school will open in a few weeks.

Mr. Joyner said the people were taking a great interest in education. Nearly all the farms are small ones, but are in fine shape, every man owning his own home and every residence that he saw was neatly painted and had a most comfortable and home-like appearance. The neighborhood is free from fly-doors, and the people never think of locking their doors, the whole community being just like one big family. There is not a negro in the entire township.

"It is a fine county, and will be one of the greatest sections in the state," said Mr. Joyner.

ENDORSED ROOSEVELT.

Two Chicago Preachers Commend Him For Snubbing Lorimer.

(By Leased Wire to The Times)

Chicago, Sept. 12.—Preachers in two Chicago churches yesterday endorsed the snub administered to United States Senator Lorimer by Theodore Roosevelt, on the occasion of the banquet given to the former president by the Hamilton Club here.

The Rev. David T. Magill, pastor of the Calvary Baptist church, declared that in snubbing Lorimer with the emphasis he had, "Colonel Roosevelt had met the political crisis of his life with the insight of a seer and the intrepid courage of a hero."

The Rev. W. H. Head, of the Seventy-seventh street Methodist Episcopal church, declared Roosevelt was a man sent from God to rebuke Lorimer.

SUGAR SWINDLERS APPEAR FOR SENTENCE

(By Leased Wire to The Times)

New York, Sept. 12.—Charles Helke, former secretary and treasurer of the American Sugar Refinery Company, and Ernest W. Gerbrecht, former general superintendent of the Williamsburg plant, convicted June 10 for conspiracy to defraud the government by underweighing importations of sugar, appeared before Judge Martin in the criminal branch of the United States circuit court for sentence today but were given more time after motions by the defendant's counsel. Gerbrecht's case will come up again Wednesday and that of Helke next Monday morning. Both men were in court appearing nervous and worried.

The Sunday afternoon services at the Soldier's Home yesterday afternoon, were conducted by Rev. W. McT. White, pastor of the First Presbyterian church.

SOME NEW AMMUNITION

Graft Committee Hopes to Get New Evidence

Books of Bache and Company Are Expected to Furnish Committee With Much New Material.

(By Leased Wire to The Times)

New York, Sept. 12.—New ammunition, consisting of the ledgers of the great Wall street brokerage firm of J. S. Bache & Company, which may lend a darker shade to New York state's graft scandals, which are being investigated here by a legislative committee, will either be in the hands of the commission before night or else the criminal law will be invoked, according to the plan in effect today to mount this obstacle.

The brokerage firm of J. S. Bache & Company, whose books were refused to the commission by Leopold Bache, was given until noon today to deliver the ledgers for the years of 1900 and 1906 to the committee. The probers hope to learn from these books how much, if any, money was deposited with this firm to the credit of members of the New York state assembly in consideration for duties performed at Albany, and how much was paid out and to whom.

District Attorney Whitman announced this morning that he was prepared to carry the case against Bache & Company to the grand jury at a moment's notice. He explained that it was an offense under the penal code of the state for the firm to refuse to surrender their books under the present conditions. Counsel for the Wall street firm have been devising ways and means to circumvent the order of the committee and it was reported that the books would not be turned over without a bitter fight.

The books of J. S. Bache & Company may add a brand new chapter of revelations and it is likely that new names will be brought into the exposures if these ledgers are given over to the committee for use.

The transactions of "Gene" Woods, erstwhile king of the New York lobby, who has been abroad since the insurance investigation and of his lieutenant, William H. Buckley, who has been sojourning in Canada since the Hotchkiss investigation, are expected to be shown in illuminating detail by the Bache books.

The committee did not convene today and there will be no session tomorrow but Attorney M. Linn Bruce, chief counsel for the probers, is extremely active attempting to get new testimony and find new trails which will be uncovered when the sessions are resumed on Wednesday. The close intimacy of members of the "black horse cavalry" and Wall street firms and the previous evidence which shows that Wall street brokerage houses acted as agents for the distribution of money among members of the assembly led to the prediction today that only half of the real story has been unfolded.

With the books of the firm of Bache & Company before the committee, the probers believe that they will be enabled to discover new principals in the legislative treachery.

Names of former members of the assembly, now dead or retired from active politics, will undoubtedly be brought forward and old transactions, all but forgotten, will be spread in cold print upon the record of the committee's work.

The insistence with which the firm of Bache & Company has refused to allow its books to be made public has only added to the persistence of the probers to get hold of them.

BRIGANDS CAPTURE RUSSIAN STEAMSHIP

(By Cable to The Times)

Harbin, Manchuria, Sept. 12.—Two officers of a Russian steamship were killed and more than a score of others were wounded in a battle with brigands, who, disguised as passengers, boarded the ship and took possession of her by force of arms twenty miles off this port today.

The Russians were killed while trying to defend their ship against the pirates. When the marauders secured control of the vessel they bound the crew and looted them at leisure. Two Russian women were among the passengers.

Hunters, who happened to be in a sail boat nearby gave the alarm and a Russian gunboat was immediately sent in pursuit of the pirates.

Five patents upon safety razors have been granted to English women in the last year.

TUBERCULOSIS SANITARIUM IS ALL RIGHT

Directors and Superintendent Have Been True to Their Trusts

MR. BECKWITH'S REPORT

Commissioner Beckwith Makes Report of His Investigation of North Carolina Sanitarium For the Treatment of Tuberculosis—Charges of Dr. Williams Not Sustained. The Institution is Being Properly Managed and the Officials Have Been Faithful—Report is Signed by Commissioner B. C. Beckwith and Director R. F. Beasley, and Approved by Governor Kitchin.

(By Leased Wire to The Times)

The North Carolina sanitarium for the treatment of tuberculosis is being properly managed and the officials have been faithful to their trusts is the substance of the report made to the board of internal improvements by Commissioner B. C. Beckwith, who had been appointed to investigate the charges made by Dr. J. Roy Williams, of Greensboro.

Dr. Williams had prepared charges against the management of the sanitarium and the board of internal improvements appointed a commission to investigate the charges and make a report. Mr. R. F. Beasley, director, sat with Commissioner Beckwith during the hearing and concurred in the report, which was approved by Governor Kitchin. Dr. Williams' charges are not sustained and the matter is ended in favor of the institution.

The report is as follows: North Carolina—Board of Internal Improvements. In re The North Carolina Sanitarium for the Treatment of Tuberculosis—Report. To His Excellency, the Governor: We have the honor to report:

That pursuant to your commission, designating B. C. Beckwith a member of this board, as commissioner, under section 4844 of chapter 101, of the Revisal of 1905, to investigate the affairs of the North Carolina Sanitarium for the treatment of Tuberculosis and certain specific charges against the management of the institution, published in the Greensboro Daily News, a daily paper published in Greensboro, N. C., and in the form of an affidavit filed with this board, by Dr. J. Roy Williams, of Greensboro, N. C., on July 22, 1910, at Montrose, N. C., B. C. Beckwith as commissioner, and R. F. Beasley, sitting with him, as director of this

THE BALLINGER REPORT MUDDLE

(By Leased Wire to The Times)

Kansas City, Mo., Sept. 12.—"The only self-respecting thing we could do was to prepare the Ballinger report and to make it public at this time," said Representative E. H. Madison, of Kansas, on his way from Minneapolis to his home in Dodge City. Mr. Madison was the pivotal member of the Ballinger committee as represented in Minneapolis. Neither the democrats nor the other republicans could act without him.

"The action of the opposing members was arbitrary, unparliamentary and unjust," Mr. Madison said. "Neither I nor those with whom I cooperated had any disposition to take advantage of the fact that four members were absent, and so far as I know there was no notice that there would be absences."

"It is significant that the secretary of the committee attended all sessions and made full minutes of our work. Also, bear in mind, the chairman had ruled that although we had had no power to do anything else, we did have the power to adjourn. Well, we have adjourned to December 3. The other members of the committee, without regard for this adjournment, will be irregular, according to Chairman Nelson's own rulings."

"I regret that the session of the committee has ended in this manner but I feel that we have discharged our duty in the only way it could be discharged under the existing circumstances."
