ROOSEVELT STANDS BY CRITICISMS

Quotes Abraham Lincoln and President Taft to Justify Himself

THE NEW NATIONALISM

Colonel Roosevelt Turned Himself Loose Today and Made One of the Most Significant Speeches of His Career—Defended His Criticism of the Supreme Court, Praised Taft and Defined His New Nationalism—Compared Himself to Abraham Lincoln.

(By Leased Wire to The Times.)
Syracuse, N. Y., Sept. 17.—(Acquainted with his leadership in the "new nationalist" movement and defining in detail its guiding principles—practically its platform—former President Theodore Roosevelt today made what perhaps will prove to be the most important public speech of his career.)

Colonel Roosevelt in his speech, which was delivered this afternoon at the state fair, compared himself with Abraham Lincoln, praised President Taft as a public officer and approved the legislative accomplishment of the present national administration.

Colonel Roosevelt defended his criticism of supreme court decisions and quoted President Lincoln and President Taft in support of his criticisms and his right to criticize.

Colonel Roosevelt called his speech "the new nationalism and the old morality" and he opened by throwing down the gage to those who took issue with him for his recent criticism of the supreme court decisions in "the Knight sugar case" and the New York baker's case. He said that he had changed slightly the principles of his congressional message in order to meet the development of new conditions.

Next he challenged any other political party to take the other side of the propositions which he was about to outline as the principles of the new nationalism, saying that it was a good thing to have the issue made in clear cut fashion before the people; "for, in the end, the people would most certainly decide in favor of the principles embodied in the new nationalism, because otherwise this country could not continue a true republic, a true democracy."

Colonel Roosevelt said that his attitude in criticizing the decision in "The Knight sugar case" was exactly the same maintained by one of the

Because the congress will meet in the District of Columbia upon special invitation by the United States government the opening ceremonies will be under the presidency of the federal government. President Taft will make the opening address of welcome to the delegates and visitors.

The sessions of the congress will continue for five days. It is expected that fully 600 delegates and visitors will attend, among whom will be some of the most noted students of criminology from all over the world. The numbers of those in attendance upon the international congress will be increased by the delegates and visitors who will remain over in Washington following the closing sessions of the American prison association convention, which is to meet here September 28, and will continue for three days.

At the American prison association convention there will be discussed only subjects as apply to the betterment of conditions in the United States alone.

NEW LINE OF ATTACK

The Sugar Trust Is Again Under Fire

District Attorney Wise Will Next Week Begin Suit to Dissolve the Sugar Trust—Will be Backed by Attorney General Wickersham—Taft Disappointed at Failure of Former Suit.

(By Leased Wire to The Times.)
New York, Sept. 17.—United States District Attorney Henry A. Wise, it was said on good authority today, will begin an action next week to dissolve the sugar trust. Mr. Wise will be backed in his efforts by United States Attorney General Wickersham. Sweeping charges which will be made to the United States court complaining of fraud and conspiracy indulged in by the trust to restrain both foreign and domestic trade in sugar.

President Taft was greatly disappointed by the failure of the first suit to dissolve the trust and during this summer he had at Beverly with him Mr. Wise and Mr. Wickersham. It is believed that a new line of battle against the sugar interests was then formed and that when the new suit is started next week the government will be supplied with many new bits of evidence that will greatly strengthen their chances of a conviction for violation of the Sherman law.

No details as to the nature of the new evidence would be given out at the office of the United States district attorney in the federal building.

CHANGE IN BANK LAWS.

Some Important Changes May be Proposed at the Next Session of Congress.

Washington, Sept. 17.—Some important changes in the national bank laws may be proposed at the next session of congress. One change is to compel newly organized national banks to provide a surplus and an absolutely unimpaired capital the day they begin business. Under the present system a national bank with a paid-in capital of $25,000 probably will spend $5,000 for fixtures, books, and other necessities.

The idea is to compel the organizers of a bank to provide a 20 per cent. surplus at the start.

"I said that then," declared the railroad king, "but it is not my burden that makes me work. It is the burdens of others."

Frederick W. Plaisted, the Governor-elect of Maine, who is the first Democrat elected to that high office in the state within the past thirty years. Another interesting fact is that he is the son of Lieutenant-Colonel Harris M. Plaisted, who was the last Democratic Governor of Maine, having served that capacity in 1881 and 1882. The Governor-elect has been Mayor of the City of Augusta four times. His plurality was greater than that of the present Governor, E. M. Fernald at the last election. Fernald's administration has been attacked because of alleged extravagance.

San Diego, Cal., Sept. 17.—Sensational charges against Mrs. Katherine Tingley, head of the Point Loma Universal Brotherhood and Theosophical Society, and J. F. Race for National Championship On—Races Started at 3 O'clock this Afternoon—Thirteen Balloons in the Race—Carrying Provisions for Three Days.

(By Leased Wire to The Times.)
Indianapolis, Ind., Sept. 17.—All conditions pointed to a northeasterly journey of unknown distance for the thirteen big balloons, into which streams of gas were pouring this afternoon, and other final preparations were under way for the start of the national championship and the free-for-all aerial races. The first contestant will set loose from the earth at 3 o'clock this afternoon, and the others will follow at five-minute intervals. Most of the pilots are carrying provisions for a three-days' trip.

The wind this afternoon was blowing from the southwest to northeast at moderate velocity, and while other currents may be encountered, general opinion of the aviators is that the Great Lakes or the Allegheny mountains would be crossed in the journey. Beautiful autumn weather assured an immense crowd to witness the start from the Indianapolis speedway.

The starters were:

REPUBLICANS NAMED FULL LOCAL TICKET

County Convention Held This Afternoon and Nominations Made For Offices

A STRAIGHT TICKET

Republicans of the County Held Convention Today to Put Out County Ticket—Full County Ticket Put Out—Colonel Harris Tried to Get the Convention to Endorse Sears But it Refused to do so by a Large Vote—John W. Hardin Nominated for Clerk of the Court—The Convention Harmonious.

The republicans of Wake county met in the court house today for the third time for the purpose of putting out a ticket, and so well had the leaders rolled the machine that it rolled along smoothly, only striking one stump, that being put on the track by Col. J. C. L. Harris, when he wanted the convention to pass over the office of sheriff and not put out a candidate against Sheriff Sears. This obstruction only caused a temporary pause and after a few loud puffs the machine knocked the obstacle out of the way and continued its journey to the end.

The convention was not so largely attended as the one two weeks ago, and the delegates made it appear that their work had already been cut out and they were going to nominate the ticket with as little talk as possible. Just as soon as a man's name was suggested, usually by Col. Harris or Mr. Bernard, sometimes by Mr. Pleasants, somebody would second the nomination and call for a vote by acclamation which would be done and nomination would be called for the next office, and so on. Col. Harris and Mr. Bernard were the chief "movers" and "nominators" of the day, and what they said went, except the sheriff matter, which was fought by Bernard who won out.

The brethren didn't have time to get warmed up, and the convention was unanimously quiet.

The full ticket is as follows:
State Senator—G. B. Alford.
House of Representatives—O. G. Ellen, of House Creek; D. H. Stancil, of St. Mary's; J. H. Arnold, of Barton's Creek.

Clerk of Court—John W. Hardin, of Raleigh.

Sheriff—W. C. Johnson, of White Oak.

Treasurer—E. T. Banks, of Swift Creek.

FITZGERALD WANTS HIS PAPERS AGAIN

(By Leased Wire to The Times.)
Chicago, Sept. 17.—George W. Fitzgerald, indicted in connection with the robbery of $175,000 from the United States sub-treasury at Chicago in 1907, appeared in court today to renew the fight for the documents which were taken from his attorney of various papers and documents which were taken from his pockets at the same time of his arrest.

Coincidental with his appearance, it was learned that the federal grand jury which indicted him had also voted two other indictments in the same sheet. Members of the grand jury admitted that they had indicted three men in connection with the affair, but refused to give any names following the precedent set by United States District Attorney Sims.

Fitzgerald declared today that the fact that he had invested $3,000 recently in the Illinois Car Manufacturing Company was the cause of the indictments. He is said to have offered to tell him he knows about the missing money when he takes the stand.

Governor In Nashville.

Governor Kitchin left this morning for Nashville, where he will speak at a big democratic rally today. The governor is in great demand for political rallies and his able speeches are doing much for the cause of democracy.
