ATHLETICS THE WORLD'S CHAMPIONS

Won Deciding Game of Series From Chicago Cubs Yesterday Afternoon

COOMBS IS THE STAR

124,222 Persons Saw the Five Games and Receipts Were $173,580—Division of Receipts Gives Each Athletic Player $2,062.63 and Each Cub Player $1,375.63—Cubs Realize They Were Beaten by Superior Playing and Not by Accident—Chance Declares Defeat Was Fair and Admits That Mack's Team Was the Better.

(By Leased Wire to The Times.)
Chicago, Oct. 24—The Chicago Cubs were on hand promptly, in the office of President Charles W. Murphy today to divide the money which represents the losers' end of the world's championship games. Each player received $1,375.63 out of the team's share of $31,628.57. On the Philadelphia team, each player receives $2,062.63 out of the fund of $47,442.85.

Disappointed as they were over the outcome of the series, the players are not as downcast as they might be. They had a big meal to divide and they realize that they were beaten by superior playing and not by accident. With exception, they admit that the Athletics superiority principally was in the batting. There has been no knocking and beating or not, the Cubs are taking the defeat gamely.

The fans, too, have refrained from sarcastic remarks about the Cubs team in their open admiration of the Philadelphia squad. Coombs is acknowledged to be the star of the performers, and by fans he is put in the same class with Christy Mathewson.

Following the game yesterday the Philadelphia team started for home and will reach there this morning. A big reception is awaiting them. They received a big send-off here and Chicago fans treated them as well as if Chicago players themselves had won the pennant.

In fact the fans were so enthusiastic that they almost denuded the Philadelphia players in their mad rush for souvenirs. They took shoes, laces and buttons and belts and caps from the players while the victorious players were helpless to save themselves or their clothes.

That more than $500,000 was lost in Chicago, as a result of the series, was announced at the board of trade. It is believed twice or three times that amount changed hands in small bets which never will be heard of. The series broke all records for coin and crowds. Had the series gone the full seven games, all records would have been shattered.

Attendance figures showing that WAS A FRAME-UP UNTIL TWO DAYS BEFORE FIGHT

(By Leased Wire to The Times.)
Kansas City, Mo., Oct. 24—Abe Attel, champion featherweight, declares that the Jeffries-Johnson fight was a frame-up, that Johnson was to lay down but when Johnson learned that George Little had a lot of money on Jeffries he told Jeffries that everything was all off and the fight was for the best man to win, according to a story published here.

"Until two days before the fight Johnson had agreed to lay down to Jeffries," Attel said last night. "George Little, Johnson's deposed manager, told me this. Then when Johnson found out that Little was around betting on Jeffries he sent word to Jeffries that the frame-up was off and that the fight was going to be on the square."

"There were a number of busy motions inside the next ten hours, but Johnson would not listen to reason. He wasn't going to see George Little win any money and it was all off. Then Jeffries collapsed."

The Philadelphia Athletics (American League), who defeated the Chicago Cubs (National League) for the championship of the world, winning four games out of five.

124,222 persons saw the five games and the receipts were $173,580. Had it not been for the miserable showing made by the Cubs, there would have been a greater amount.

Manager Chance declared today that the defeat was a fair one, and admitted, although reluctantly, that the Philadelphia team was the better.

Yesterday's game, the final of the series, was a terribly hard fought battle until the eighth inning, when Brown and the entire Chicago team went on an aeroplane tour and the Athletics crossed the rubber five times. Prior to this inning the score stood two to one in favor of the Athletics.

By winning this game, Jack Coombs equalled Christy Mathewson's record of winning three games in the world's series. Coombs pitched.

This keeps out of college life thirty of the leading students of the college.

CAPTAIN REFUSES TO DESERT. Ship Went Down in Hurricane Off Cuban Shore.

(By Leased Wire to The Times.)
Perth Amboy, N. J., Oct. 24—A dramatic story of the sinking of the schooner Halliswood, from New York to New Orleans, in the Cuban hurricane and the death of the captain, who refused to leave his vessel, was brought here today by the Norwegian steamer Harold which took off the seven members of the schooner's crew when the captain refused to desert his bark. The Halliswood was sighted off the Florida coast in the thick of the storm by the Harold. The schooner was slowly sinking when the Harold put to.

"This is the place for me—I'll stick to my ship," cried the captain when a boat was put off from the Harold. The brave officer climbed higher and higher into the rigging as the vessel settled and was carried down with her.

The Harold came from Tampico, Mex.

APPEAL NOT YET FILED

Crippen's Lawyers 'On Verge of Giving Up Battle.'

The Doomed Physician Now in a State of Nervous Collapse—May Not Be Able to Testify in Trial of Miss LeNeve, Although Her Lawyers Depend Upon Him to Exonerate Her.

(By Cable to The Times.)
London, Oct. 24—Dr. H. H. Crippen, under death sentence for the murder of his wife Belle Elmore Crippen, is in a state of nervous collapse. Extraordinary precautions are maintained in Erixton jail to prevent him from committing suicide. The American doctor is under constant surveillance in the death cell and all his food is especially prepared and guarded more carefully than it was before his trial.

Crippen may not be able to testify in the trial of Miss Ethel Clare LeNeve charged with being an accessory after the fact and for whose love Crippen put his wife out of the way. The LeNeve woman will be called to the bar in Old Bailey tomorrow and her trial will be pushed as speedily as that of her lover.

Despite the announcement of Barrister Alfred A. Tobin that an appeal would be taken for Crippen, it had not been filed today and lawyers, who have followed the case, expressed the opinion that the American's lawyers were on the verge of giving up the battle.

In sentencing Crippen, Lord Chief Justice Alverstone announced that Crippen should entertain no hope of escaping the penalty. Interest has intensified in the trial of the LeNeve girl until it outrivals that in the trial of Crippen. Thousands of applications were received for seats despite the fact that the court room will accommodate only 150 persons and approximately half of these are court attaches, lawyers, witnesses and others there on official business.

The evidence against the girl will be the same that was presented against her in the grand jury room when she was indicted.

It was reported today that public KING GEORGE LEADING AGAINST ASSEMBLY

(By Cable to The Times.)
Vienna, Oct. 24—A news agency dispatch from Athens, via the frontier, says that a revolt has broken out in that city against the assembly, that the streets are filled with crowds and that troops have been ordered out by the constitutional authorities. A strange feature of the situation is that King George is being acclaimed the leader of the people against the assembly. The crisis was brought about through the resignation of Premier Venizelos, the Crotan leader, who formed the cabinet on October 18, following the refusal of the assembly to give him a vote of confidence. Thousands assembled in front of the palace today and cheered for the king, who addressed them from a balcony.

No Successor Yet.
(By Leased Wire to The Times.)
Des Moines, Ia., Oct. 24—Governor B. F. Carroll, in a speech at Clarinda this morning, announced that he would appoint no successor to the late Senator Dolliver at the present time.

Prosecutor Richard Mann was prepared to show that Crippen made known his wife's death to the girl about the time of their flight.

Barrister F. E. Smith, assisted by Barrister Burlington Wood, will defend Miss LeNeve and while the defense has not been made public, it is believed that the girl's lawyers have been relying upon Crippen himself to exonerate the pretty young prisoner.

In his testimony, Crippen made no mention that would implicate the girl. He took special pains to shield her as much as possible, explaining that he took her with him upon his flight to America because he wanted to protect her from accusations that were being directed against himself and indirectly against her.

Miss LeNeve has been confined in the woman's infirmary at Erixton jail. She has been closely watched and a matron is with her constantly. The girl has been devoting much of her time to reading for amusements, although she has read "Maudslayi," her preference being love stories.

(Special to The Times.)

While one stood guard the other overpowered Mrs. Stella Reidy, the ticket agent. One robber took most of the "L" tickets in one drawer and then gathered up $24.85 in bills and change. He apologized to Mrs. Reidy for what the two were doing and left her $5 in nickels to make change for passengers.

(By Leased Wire to The Times.)
New York, Oct. 24—Russell Ford, the Yankee pitching star, admitted today that he had signed a contract with D. A. Fletcher, the Cincinnati man, who is organizing a third major league. It is announced that three more American League stars are considering offers to join the new organization. They are Ty Cobb, the premier batter; Catcher Street, of the Stars, and Walter Johnson, the crack pitcher of the same team. SAW THE BOMBARDMENT

Portugal Battleships Turn Guns Upon Lisbon

Bombardment Lasted Two Hours and a Half and Although the Forts Crumpled Under the Heavy Fire, Not An Answering Shot Was Fired—Revolution Sudden.

(By Leased Wire to The Times.)
New York, Oct. 24—A thrilling story of the bombardment of Lisbon, during the revolution, by four of the battleships of the Portuguese navy, manned by rebels, was related today by George Banchor, of Boston, when he arrived on the Cincinnati, of the Hamburg-American line.

"I was a passenger on board the Cape Blanco, which arrived in the harbor of Lisbon from Brazil on October 4, the day the revolution broke out," said Mr. Banchor. "Our ship got into the harbor about 10 o'clock a. m. on that day. It was a beautiful day and we were all on deck watching the shore. There was no apparent sign at that time of any revolution, in fact we were impressed with the continued quiet that appeared to rest over Lisbon."

"We were much interested in four Portuguese battleships, that lay at anchor in the harbor and I spent some time watching the men on them at work. They appeared to be very busy and I could see them running up and down the decks and the officers issuing orders. To me it appeared as if they were preparing to sail."

"We were much surprised that we were not permitted to dock. About 11 o'clock that morning a man rowed out to the ship from the harbor. I asked him to take me ashore. In reply he dropped his oar and drew his finger across his throat."

"The royal flag was flying from the

700 DRINKING PLACES OF MEMPHIS CLOSED

(By Leased Wire to The Times.)
Memphis, Tenn., Oct. 24—For the first time in a generation the drinking places of Memphis to the number of 700 remained closed all day Sunday in obedience to a temporary injunction issued by federal Judge John E. McCall, at the instigation of the law and order league. The league was urged on to their action by non-resident property owners who alleged that the drinking places, operated in violation of the state-wide prohibition law, depreciated the value of property and thus constituted a violation of the 14th amendment of the federal constitution.

FAMOUS CASE RESUMED

United States Against the New York World

Government Asks Conviction on Charge of Printing a Series of Articles of an Alleged Libelous Character—Delancey Nicoll Makes Strong Argument For Defendant.

(By Leased Wire to The Times.)

Washington, Oct. 24—Argument in the case of the United States against the Press Publishing Company of New York (The New York World) in the Panama libel suit was resumed in the United States supreme court this afternoon. Special Assistant Attorney General McReynolds spoke first for the government, declaring that the defendant, in a series of articles of an alleged libelous character had violated the law.

Delancey Nicoll, of New York, representing the defendant, declared that the government is not justified in appearing as complainant. He said in part:

"The courts of the United States have jurisdiction to punish a libel first printed, published and circulated in one of the states, and which, in the course of a general circulation, has appeared to penetrate into these federal reservations. This circumstance alone is the strongest possible argument against the prosecution. It has remained for the lawyers of our day and generation to spell out of this statute, although it has existed for nearly a century authority for a proceeding of this sort."

"Such a long period of inactivity indicates the settled judgment of lawmakers and law-givers and law administrators that no such jurisdiction exists."

"According to the theory of the government in this case, the publication of a single libel constitutes a separate and independent crime in every place situated in the states, but under the exclusive jurisdiction of a specified article in the West Point reservation is charged as a crime in

WELLMAN TO MAKE ANOTHER ATTEMPT

(By Leased Wire to The Times.)
Atlantic City, N. J., Oct. 24—Walter Wellman's second attempt to cross the Atlantic ocean in a dirigible balloon will start from Atlantic City. This announcement was made today by Joseph W. Salus, head of the local syndicate which backed Wellman's first attempt to fly over Europe.

"The probabilities of another attempt to cross the ocean in a dirigible are very bright," said Mr. Salus. "Mr. Wellman has decided to make this city the base of action. The big hangar which housed the America will be kept intact for use again."

Mr. Wellman left for New York today to prepare for his lecture tour. All of the members of the America's expedition, with the exception of the navigator, F. Murray Simon, will soon start on theatre tours or vaudeville trips from New York.

"Jack" Irwin, the wireless operator; Louis Loud and Fred Aubert will enter upon their vaudeville engagements within a week.

AVIATORS WITHDRAW FROM RACE

Second International Aviation Tournament May End In a Fiasco

Flight of Foreign Aviators Against Holding Race For International Cup Developed Today—Americans Also Announce That They May Possibly Withdraw From the Race on Account of Dangerous Conditions of the Course—Nothing Can Be Done But Lay Out New Course, Says LaBlanc—No Formal Protest Made—Today's Program.

(By Leased Wire to The Times.)

International Aviation Field, Belmont Park, New York, Oct. 24—The second international aviation tournament, for the world's supremacy of the air, may end in a fiasco. A fight of the foreign aviators against holding the race for the international cup, the feature meet, developed today. Alfred Leblanc, of the French team, withdrew from the race, declaring the course was a death trap and the meet badly managed all round. The officials were on the ground early today trying to placate the angry entrants.

Hubert Latham, another member of the French team, and the most sensational flyer in France, backed up his colleague, Charles K. Hamilton and A. J. Drexel, of the American team, announced that they would possibly withdraw from the race on account of the dangerous conditions of the course.

owing to the failure to carry out Sunday's program, on account of high winds it was combined with today's. The wind was lighter early today and dawn found some of the international army of birdsmen busily tuning up for the preliminary spins about the course.

Mons. Leblanc took occasion to criticize the management of the meet, saying that the course is impossible. "The only thing that could be done to make this course acceptable to the French team," said he, "is to raze all the villages over which we must fly, chop down the forests, destroy the farm houses and eliminate the curve at the grandstand end of the course. It is not a curve at all; it's a corner. Nothing can be done on the course as it stands now. All that I can suggest is that a new course be laid out. There are places near here with wide meadows and unfenced fields, over which there would be no difficulty in laying out a five kilometer course."

"This ought to be done before Saturday, the day of the race for the international cup. My suggestion coincides with the opinion of my colleagues that new course be constructed."

"Under the present conditions I am not to be considered a contestant for the cup. Five days ago I wrote to the Aero Club of France setting forth my objections to the course and asking by cable for advice."

James A. Blair, a member of the American committee which planned the meet, declared today that no formal

WOMAN LIVED FIFTEEN MONTHS WITHOUT SLEEP

(By Leased Wire to The Times.)
Brookton, Mass., Oct. 24—"Now I shall sleep," were the last words of Mrs. Mary Turcotte, who is dead at the age of 100 years and 21 days, after having been without sleep for more than fifteen months. The case of Mrs. Turcotte attracted widespread attention. Five years ago her son Charles disappeared. She refused to place her head on a pillow. She slept but little.

Last July the son was located. He returned to the city. He placed his mother in her bed. Then it was found her condition has become chronic and though every remedy known was resorted to the spell of sleeplessness could not be broken. The fact she could live and never sleep baffled the physicians.

MAIL STEAMER WRECKED.

(By Cable to The Times.)
London, Oct. 24—The Portuguese mail steamer Lisbon has been wrecked with a loss of three lives, according to a cablegram to Lloyds from Cape Town, South Africa, today.
