Annual Contest Between the Classes Took Place Friday Night—The Question, Resolved, "That Party Allegiance is Preferable to Independence in Politics"—Dramatic Club.

(Special to The Times.) Chapel Hill, N. C., Dec. 19.—On Friday night, December 16th, the annual Sophomore-Junior debate between the Dialectic and Philanthropic Literary Societies was held in Gerrard Hall. The query was: "Resolved, That party allegiance is preferable to independence in politics." The affirmative was upheld by Messrs. R. W. Scott, '13, and R. A. Freeman, '12, of the Dialectic Society, while Messrs. R. L. Hamilton, '13, and L. N. Johnson, '12, upheld the negative for the Philanthropic Society. Mr. Scott was the first speaker on the affirmative and he made an excellent speech, bringing out some very good points. He had a very good delivery and also showed that he had the question well in hand.

Mr. R. L. Hamilton then spoke first on the negative. Mr. Hamilton had a good delivery and also showed that he had studied the question thoroughly. He made some very good points. Next Mr. Freeman spoke for the affirmative. Mr. Freeman is a good speaker and delivered his speech with a decisiveness and earnestness that showed that he was in sympathy with his side of the question and felt every word that he said. He had a very good speech and delivered it in good style.

Mr. L. N. Johnson, for the affirmative, was the last speaker. Mr. Johnson is a very good speaker, having been on several inter-society debates previous to this and he was in his usual good form. He showed by his speech that he was very well up on the question and knew what he was talking about. He brought in matter that pertained strictly to the subject and in such a way as to appeal to his audience. Mr. Johnson made an excellent speech and deserved the congratulations that he received.

All of the speakers were in good form on their rejoinders and showed that they knew how to think quick and say what they felt.

When the last speaker on the rejoinder had concluded his speech, the judges, Dr. F. P. Venable, Dr. Edwin Mimms and Dr. Isaac H. Manning, retired and after a short consultation returned and rendered the decision that the negative had won by a vote of two to one. They said also that this was the best Sophomore-Junior debate that they had had the pleasure of hearing and it was excellent in every respect. That every man showed that he had studied the question and had it well in hand and delivered his speech with credit.

Mr. W. C. George presided over the debate and Mr. L. B. Gunter acted as secretary.

On Thursday night the Winston-Salem Club held a social meeting, at which they were addressed by Dr. A. H. Patterson. Dr. Patterson made a very good talk which was highly enjoyed by every one present.

The following men have been selected to take part in the play "See Stoops to Conquer," which is to be presented by the dramatic club some time in February:

FIGHT ON LORIMER.

Fight on the Vindication of Lorimer Began in the Senate.

(By Leased Wire to The Times.) Washington, Dec. 19.—A fight on the vindication of Senator Lorimer began to brew today in the senate. Senator Beveridge, of Indiana, and Senator La Follette, of Wisconsin, are in the limelight to a considerable extent just now in connection with the case of Senator Lorimer.

Senator Beveridge is on the senate committee on privileges and elections. The sub-committee which investigated the Lorimer case has made its report to the main committee. So far the report is secret, though it is well known that it gives Senator Lorimer a clean bill of health, and takes the position that not enough members of the legislature are shown to have been concerned in the bribery charges to have changed the result of the election. Moreover, it is not shown, the sub-committee finds, that Lorimer had any hand in the bribery. In some quarters in the senate it is felt the sub-committee has been unduly lenient and that the members of the main committee ought to make the most careful study of the testimony for themselves.

Senator Beveridge is proceeding on the theory that nothing is to be taken for granted, and that it is up to him to explore the testimony for himself.

If there should be a minority report of the main committee, it is generally supposed Senator Beveridge will make it.

Senator La Follette is not on the Countess Alexandra von Bernstorff, only daughter of the German Ambassador to the United States, whose engagement to Count Raimond Pourtales, attache of the German Embassy was recently announced. In all probability the ceremony will be performed in Washington sometime in March or April. The announcement was a surprise to Washington society, as the courtship of the couple has been carried on without the slightest knowledge of even their closest friends. The count is twenty-eight. His father, Count Hermann Pourtales, was a soldier in the German army. Countess von Bernstorff was born in Berlin twenty-two years ago and since coming to America in 1908 has been a popular member of the younger set in Washington society life.

privileges and elections committee and is not taking part in the case. He cannot do so under the circumstances. But if there should be a report made to the senate adverse to the majority report there is not much doubt that Senator La Follette would get into the game and go into an analysis of the case. In more ways than one, Senator La Follette has indicated his disgust at the "jack-potter's" of the Illinois legislature, and nobody doubts he will give expression to his sentiments about the whole proceeding that culminated in Mr. Lorimer's election. If there is opportunity and what seems to be warranted for it in the nature of anything that comes out of the committee.

But no matter what the report no question is longer entertained that Senator Lorimer will keep his seat undisturbed. It is against precedence for the senate to expel anyone. While it would have expelled W. A. Clark, of Montana, at one time, he prevented it by resigning.

Senator Lorimer has seemingly taken for granted that he need be under no apprehension about keeping his seat. He has occupied his place in the senate as if there were no investigation pending, and has seemed little worried about any charges relating to his election.

The report of the committee will be sent to the senate tomorrow.

PAVING TRUST NEXT.

Damaging Evidence in Case Charging Conspiracy in Ohio Courts.

(By Leased Wire to The Times.) Cincinnati, Dec. 19.—A blow was struck today when Judge Cushing in the case charging conspiracy in restraint of trade decided to admit as evidence the contract between T. F. McClure, banker, and extensive paving contractor, and A. J. Eberhardt, and the Venable Brothers, of Atlanta, extensive granite quarrymen. This contract is a vital link in the state's case because it contains on its face the agreement entered into by the contractors and Georgia quarrymen for the control of the sale of Georgia granite in Hamilton county and also for the awarding of public contracts.

BOAT IN STORM.

Little Motor Boat Had Thrilling Trip in Gale.

(By Leased Wire to The Times.)

New York, Dec. 19.—A thrilling story of an eleven day fight for life in angry seas and howling gales was told today by the members of the crew of the speedy little motor boat Bernoy which arrived from Bermuda on the liner Dermudian. With their instruments broken, unable to ascertain where they were, the crew of six drifted about helpless in a heavy storm. Repeatedly they were compelled to heave to on account of the gigantic waves which swept over them. George Campbell, the mate, was standing on deck, trying to get his bearings during the height of the storm. A wave thirty feet high swept over the little craft.

Campbell saw the wave coming up in front of him but before he could reach safety, it had struck him. He was picked up and swept overboard.

The strong sea carried him quickly to the rear of the boat. The force of the wind drowned out his cries for help and death seemed certain. As he was being swept along by the waves, however, he managed to grab the stern rail and pull himself aboard.

In addition to Campbell the crew consists of Captain John B. Welton, A. Cederburg, Engineer M. A. Saden, and Quartermasters John R. McDonald and H. Halyea.

The Bernoy, which won the race to Bermuda last year, left Norfolk on December 9. Off Cape Henry she struck rough weather which continued until she docked at Bermuda on Saturday. Her rigging had been swept away, the heavy seas had torn off part of her railing and doors on lockers had been broken from their hinges and their tents washed overboard.

During the height of the storm their compass was broken. With nothing to guide them, they drifted about until a Norwegian tramp seamer was sighted. They drew up alongside her and the captain told them they were thirty miles south of Bermuda. This was last Friday and on Saturday they made port. The crew immediately boarded the Bermudian for this city.

The Easterlings were employed in a mine which recently exploded but were off duty at the time of the disaster. Nash cannot live.
