At the request of Mr. Connor, of Wilson, the report of the commission appointed to investigate the Torrens land system was read. After reciting the appointment of the commission at the last session, the report calls attention to the fact that it had no funds to make a more extensive investigation and therefore could hold but one meeting of the commission. It declares that there is an urgent demand for legislation on the subject to make land title secure, and condemns our present antiquated and insecure system of consigning. The Torrens system, it states, has been endorsed by the Bankers' Association, the Building and Loan Association of the state and the Farmers' Union, to say nothing of civic organizations and private individuals throughout the state. The accumulation of records alone is a serious question and to provide room for them in a few years will involve a heavy burden on the people. Various curative acts have to be passed from time to time to make good the defects of our present system. Statutes like the Torrens system have been adopted in a large number of states and have been found to work well and they have been sustained by the highest courts of those states. The commission recommends that some law like the Torrens system be passed. The report was ordered printed. Bills Introduced. McGill of Cumberland: To appoint D. M. McLain justice in Cumberland county. Williams of Buncombe: Relating to investments of insurance companies. Bryan of Edgecombe: To grant new charter to Whittaker. Wilson of McDowell: To protect quail in McDowell. Kent of Caldwell: To enforce sanitary barber shop. Rabb of Catawba: To change boundary of tax districts in Catawba

Terrible Suffering Eczema All Over Baby's Body.

"When my baby was four months old his face broke out with eczema, and at sixteen months of age, his face, hands and arms were in a dreadful state. The eczema spread all over his body. We had to put a mask or cloth over his face and tie up his hands. Finally we gave him Hood's Sarsaparilla and in a few months he was entirely cured. Today he is a healthy boy." Mrs. Inez Lewis, Baring, Maine. Hood's Sarsaparilla cures blood diseases and builds up the system. Get it today in usual liquid form or chocolate tablets called Sarsatabs.

GOES AFTER KIDNAPPER. Requisition Issued by Governor for Extradition of Emma Green.

Governor Kitchin has issued a requisition of the governor of Virginia for the surrender of a negro woman named Emma Green, or "Reverend Mack," as she styled herself here, on the charge of kidnaping. The requisition papers name G. H. Barker as the agent of the state to bring the woman back, and he will be accompanied by William Avera, colored, father of the kidnaped child. This proceeding will be brought to justice a rather noted case, in which the motives for the kidnaping, as well as the events subsequent to the crime, have been much complicated. Lindsay Avera, the six-months-old colored boy, was taken from his home early last November, while he was left alone in the house with a colored girl. When the parents found the child gone they immediately fixed the crime on the Green woman, although there were no actual witnesses to the kidnaping. The father then began a long search in all nearby cities, and once located the Green woman in Greensboro, but they could not find the child and there was not enough evidence to hold her. Early this week he located both her and the child at Martinsville, Virginia, and on instruction from Chief of Police Stell she was arrested and held for extradition.

DEATH OF L. C. WINSTON. Was Crushed to Death Last Night Between Cars.

Mr. L. C. Winston, of this place, a hansom on the Seaboard Air Line Railway, was caught between two cars last night in Petersburg, Virginia, and crushed to death. From reports of the accident, the train had stopped at Petersburg to take on more cars and as Mr. Winston went in to couple them in some manner, his body was caught by the cars and badly crushed. He was found in a few minutes by members of the train crew lying on the ground, by the rails, where he fell. An ambulance was ordered but he died before it arrived. There being no eye witnesses to the accident, it is presumed to have been accidental. He was 27 years of age and worked for a number of years in Raleigh, his home, as a street-car conductor and as clerk in the office of Insurance Commissioner J. R. Young. His family are living here at present. His father, Mr. Moses Winston, clerked for some time at Mr. Gaston Powell's grocery store. He has a brother who is car inspector at Johnson street yard. The body will be brought here this afternoon at 6 o'clock on the Seaboard train, and the funeral will be held some time tomorrow.

It is said that he will make a number of stirring socialist addresses. There are more people dying for the lack of a kind word, a pat on the back and a little encouragement, than there are from disease.

OFFICER CATCHES WRONG MAN. Patrolman Pool Orders Mr. Pearce to Drop His Own Roosters.

One of the most amusing jokes yet pulled off on the ever-alert police officers occurred this morning about 5 o'clock. Mr. G. F. Pearce, who has been on a visit to his brother, Mr. J. B. Pearce, seems to be a great lover of game chickens. Last night upon returning Mr. J. B. Pearce told his brother that he had several very fine roosters, and if he wanted one or two he was welcomed to them when he got ready to leave. Early this morning, about 5 o'clock, he arose and got ready to leave on the 6:15 Norfolk-Southern train for his home in Wakefield. He went out to the coop to get his roosters and just as he was bagging them Patrolman Pool happened to pass along on his beat and saw someone in the chicken house. The officer yelled to him to drop those chickens, but Mr. Pearce, knowing he had business there, paid no attention to the officer. But the policeman would not be outdone, and not knowing who the person was, sailed over the fence, demanding that the roosters be let alone. After a satisfactory explanation the officer retreated and the game roosters were carted away to their new home.

ANOTHER EXTENSION OF TIME. Norfolk & Western Given More Time For Reducing Rates.

The North Carolina corporation commission received today from the interstate commerce commission notice of yet another extension of the time for the order of the interstate commission to be effective as to the reduction of freight rates by the Norfolk & Western, North Carolina terminals of the road, from western points. The latest extension is from February 1 to April 1. It was this suit started by the North Carolina commission through which they hoped to get an entering wedge for eliminating what is alleged to be discrimination by railroads generally against North Carolina shipping points as compared with rates given Virginia "gateway" points. However, the effort failed in this respect, although the interstate commission did make an order for some reduction of rates to Durham and Winston-Salem.

INSPECTION OF STATE GUARD. Orders Issued For Annual Inspection of State Troops.

THREE MONTHS ON ROADS. Sentence Given Dickeyman Young for Trespass.

The only case to come before Judge Stronach this morning was against Dickeyman Young, colored. He was first charged with the larceny of some dress-goods from the store of Boylan-Pearce Company, but the facts did not support the charge and it was changed to trespass. The driver of the store, testified that he saw Young with some dress-goods under his coat and he made him put them down. Mr. J. B. Pearce said he saw the man in the store, but did not see him have the goods. Judge Stronach gave him a sentence of three months on the roads.

TRIM THE TREES. Co-operation of the People of the City Asked to Get Trees in Shape Before Spring.

To the Editor of The Times: We are very anxious to get the trees of the city trimmed and shaped before the spring, and to that end we want to ask the help and co-operation of the citizenship. The city having full control of the trees on the streets has kept many property owners from trimming and shaping the trees on the street in front of their lots, and the city, always having such a limited amount in the street budget, have felt impelled to put every cent of it into the improvements of the streets, consequently the trees have been neglected. There are hundreds of trees on the streets that have had no attention since they were set out years ago. So we find everywhere the limbs low, very low, with undergrowth of small limbs around and under and among the main limbs. At this time, on account of the long neglect, it will take some pretty severe pruning to put the trees in fix to make them good, shapely trees in years to come. In trimming the rule should be to cut off all limbs that are less than ten feet in height. Only in rare cases should there be exceptions to this rule. However, each tree should be studied. In your imagination, try to see what the tree will be twenty-five years hence, and trim it accordingly. When limbs have a downward tendency, the trimming should be much higher and then the ends of lower limbs should be cut off to encourage an upward growth. In lots of cases it will appear that if a certain limb is cut off it will ruin the tree, made it one-sided. Nature will take care of such cases and will send out other limbs to fill up open spaces and will round out the foliage. Let us trim up—from the ground. We need that more than anything else. Cut off any limbs that will in years to come make the tree one-sided. Cut out part of the limbs when, in your judgment, they will be come too crowded. Be sure to cut all dead wood. Use a sharp saw, not an axe, and avoid splitting. Let the cut be clean and near the body of the tree. Paint over the cuts to keep out insects and the wounds will soon heal over. The city will undertake to do some trimming, but there are such vast numbers we cannot reach all, therefore we are asking each property-holder to help us in this vast undertaking to get all the trees well-trimmed and well-shaped, observing the points above. Do not cut down any tree until you have the consent of the street commissioner. In this connection I would like to state that it would be gratifying to see a great variety of trees—for shade, however having a uniformity of variety on an entire block or street. A patriotic citizen has volunteered to furnish and set out lindens on both sides of a street for two blocks where a change in grade of street is being made, making it necessary to remove the trees on this street. It would be gratifying to see Arbor Day observed here, perhaps getting the date forward to suit our climate. Let us all pull together for a beautiful and more excellent Raleigh. Respectfully, Wm. A. COOPER.

Do not cut down any tree until you have the consent of the street commissioner. In this connection I would like to state that it would be gratifying to see a great variety of trees—for shade, however having a uniformity of variety on an entire block or street. A patriotic citizen has volunteered to furnish and set out lindens on both sides of a street for two blocks where a change in grade of street is being made, making it necessary to remove the trees on this street. It would be gratifying to see Arbor Day observed here, perhaps getting the date forward to suit our climate. Let us all pull together for a beautiful and more excellent Raleigh. Respectfully, Wm. A. COOPER.

Electric Bitters Succeed when everything else fails. In nervous prostration and female weaknesses they are the supreme remedy, as thousands have testified. FOR KIDNEY, LIVER AND STOMACH TROUBLE it is the best medicine ever sold over a druggist's counter.
