MAY INVADE MEXICO AT ANY MOMENT

American Troops Will Invade Mexico of There Is Further Fighting On Border

COMBATANTS WORRIED

President Taft Determined That There Shall be No Recurrence of the Affair at Agua Prieta When Americans on the Streets of Douglas Were Killed by Stray Bullets—Major General Carter Ordered to Be Prepared to Move Across the Border at Any Moment—No More Fighting on the Boundary Line Will be Permitted.

(By Leased Wire to The Times.)

Washington, April 15—United States troops are prepared to invade Mexico at an hour's notice. This action will be taken if there is any more fighting at Agua Prieta or at Juarez, across from El Paso.

Orders have been issued to Major General Carter, commanding the forces in San Antonio to be prepared for a forward movement across the border at any time.

Coinciding with this preparation, President Taft through the state department was warned by the Mexican government that if further fighting endangers the lives or property of American citizens across the Texas line, troops will march into Mexico immediately.

The Madero revolutionists, through Dr. Gomez and the department of justice have received a similar warning.

Should fighting occur today at Agua Prieta, Troop K, First United States Cavalry, stationed at Douglas, across the line from that town, will invade Mexico and stop the fighting, even if it has to engage both the Mexican federal forces and the band of "Red" Lopez.

President Taft has determined that there shall be no recurrence of the affair at Agua Prieta, where American citizens were slain in the streets of Douglas by flying bullets. The war department and the state department this morning were anxiously awaiting reports from Douglas and El Paso.

General Wood, chief of staff of the army, has called on the commander of the department of Colorado, who is now at Fort Huachuca, Ariz., for a detailed report of the situation at Agua Prieta and Douglas.

A report is also expected today from Major General Carter at San Antonio of almost equal importance to the forceful action taken by this government is the news received at the state department that an English warship landed thirty marines and a Maxim gun at San Quentin, in Lower California, to protect that town from an attack by insurgents. This information came from the American consulate at Ensenada where the so-called socialist party is threatening the lives and property of foreigners. This was the first instance of a foreign power landing an armed force in Mexico, and it was regarded as a further indication of the developing seriousness of the Mexican situation.

State department officials said today that the British government is with its international rights in landing marines to protect British subjects. The shrewdness of the insurgents, in making their attack from the north of Agua Prieta so as to force its defenders to fire toward Douglas, has aroused much comment here. They are believed to have recognized the possibility that such a movement might result in complications and entanglement of the Mexican government with that of the United States.

Dr. Gomez, head of the revolutionary junta here, said this morning:

"The revolutionary government deprecates the deaths of any American citizens in Douglas, resulting from the taking of Agua Prieta. Investigation will show, I am certain, that the persons killed or wounded were hit by federal bullets. All our commanders in the field have the most positive instructions to protect to the utmost property and lives of Americans."

Both Sides Notified.

Douglas, Ariz., April 15—Formal notice of the United States government's ultimatum that there shall be no fighting upon the international boundary line which would jeopardize the lives or property of Americans was today served upon both insurgent and federal leaders on the southern side of the Rio Grande forces of Antonio Garcia, Senor Balsario and "Red" Lopez reinforced with nearly 1,000 men. Federal reinforcements are reported to be drawing near prepared to throw out a line of soldiers around the town. The bloodiest and most to be imminent and many families are destitute battle of the war is believed preparing to flee from Douglas in fear of stray bullets.

Insurgent leaders declared today that a splendidly mounted and armed force of 1,200 men, most of them cowboys from Arizona, New Mexico and Texas would cross the line before night for the revolutionary cause.

The insurgents have thrown up breastworks south of Agua Prieta and established outposts. The federal reinforcements brought machine guns with them and several wagon trains of provisions.

Captain J. E. Gault, of the First United States Cavalry, who stopped the battle of Agua Prieta after two Americans had been killed in Douglas, has a strong patrol force along the Rio Grande to prevent Mexicans from crossing into Arizona while bearing arms.

The war department has issued several orders dealing with the situation in Douglas. The orders relating to the invasion of Arizona by armed soldiers will result, it is believed, in making every Mexican, the federal or insurgent, a prisoner of war who crosses the Rio Grande with arms while hostilities are in progress.

One relief corps which is pushing to the aid of the rebels in Agua Prieta, is commanded by the only woman officer of the revolution. She is Mme. Tolamantes, widow of an insurgent colonel who, with his two sons, was taken captive by the regulars at Sahuaripa, in Chihuahua, and shot to death. The widow, a woman of great wealth, to revenge the death of her husband and children, formed a company of rebels and is marching under the insurgent flag.

England Has Not Landed Troops.

London, April 15—Denial was made at the office of the admiralty today that England had landed a detachment of marines at San Quentin, Lower California, to protect the town against an attack by the insurgents.

MORE TROOPS TO BE SENT TO DOUGLAS

Washington, April 15—Orders were issued today for four additional troops of cavalry to proceed at once to Douglas to augment the forty-five men of Troop K, First Cavalry under Captain Gault at Douglas. The war department was advised today that 1,200 additional insurgents had entered Agua Prieta and have thrown up intrenchments. They have machine guns in their possession and are awaiting the attack of the federal forces who are said to be approaching Agua Prieta in large numbers. The additional cavalry will be rushed into Douglas from the nearest patrol stations on the border.

Rebels Defiant.

El Paso, Tex., April 15—In defiance of the United States government ultimatum the insurgents today are preparing to attack Juarez, directly across the river from here at the Mexican end of the international bridge. The war plans of the rebels against Juarez were held in abeyance pending the proposed negotiations of Francisco I. Madero, Sr., with his son, General Madero the insurgent commander-in-chief, relative to peace. Now that the senior Madero has turned back from Mexico, declaring that he will make no further efforts to end the revolution, the rebel leaders in northern Chihuahua have ordered a rendezvous of their troops west of Juarez near the Rio Grande.

It was reported to the junta here today that 700 rebels have gathered near Barreal, 50 miles south of Juarez, ready to march on the city.

The federal forces in Juarez are making ready for a desperate defense. Sentries are stationed at outposts a few miles outside the city limits, trenches have been dug, mines planted and cannon mounted on the roofs of the tallest buildings to sweep the approaches to the city.

The fate of Juarez will probably be determined by the outcome of a race between the insurgents and federalists under Colonel Antonio Rabago, who, with 800 to 900 cavalrymen supported by machine guns, is making forced marches from Chihuahua.

DEBATE WITH DAVIDSON.

Last of Series of Three Debates With Wake Forest.

(Special to The Times.)

Wake Forest, April 15—The debating teams composed of J. Ben Eller, of Buncombe county; S. C. Hilliard, of Wake county, and R. S. Pruitt, of Mecklenburg, as alternates will leave tomorrow for Greensboro where on Monday night the last of a series of three debates will be held with Davidson College. Each college has won a debate and the one Monday night decides who will have permanent possession of the cup offered by the Greensboro Chamber of Commerce. Wake Forest has the enviable record of never having lost a series and the debaters are determined to maintain this record. A special train will be run from Raleigh leaving that place at five o'clock for Greensboro and leaving Greensboro at twelve.

DR. DUBOSE DROWNED THE EASTER MESSAGE

Former Rector of St. Marys Meets Tragic Death

Was Out Duck Hunting on the Catawba River—His Two Sons Were With Him When He Was Drowned—Had Recently Returned to Morganton From a Trip to Florida.

(By Leased Wire to The Times.)

Charlotte, N. C., April 15—Rev. McNeely Dubose, one of the most prominent Episcopal clergymen in the south, was drowned today in the Catawba river, near Morganton, N. C., while duck hunting. He was accompanied on the hunt by two young sons. The body had not been recovered at noon.

Formerly of St. Marys.

The news of the drowning of Dr. Dubose will be received nowhere with more sorrow than in this city where for four years he was the rector of St. Mary's school. During his stay at that college Dr. Dubose won the love and respect of every girl under his charge and there will be widespread sorrow throughout this state, and other states wherever St. Mary's girls are found who knew Dr. Dubose.

He came to St. Mary's August 1907, succeeding his cousin, Dr. Theodor Dubose Bratton who resigned as rector to become Bishop of Mississippi. It was a high tribute to the personality of Dr. Dubose that the students who had been so devoted to Bishop Bratton felt no lack at the change and at once became as loyal to the new rector.

For four years Dr. Dubose was at the school, resigning to take up the work at Morganton. Last year his health began to fail and he spent the winter in Florida. He had only just returned about a week ago to his home where the sad tragedy occurred this morning.

Dr. Dubose was a South Carolinian by birth and was educated first in the district school of Swain County, S. C., where he was a classmate of Bishop Bratton.

His first work was done in Asheville where for 18 years he was rector of Trinity church, resigning to become rector at St. Mary's in 1907.

He is survived by his wife and five children. Mrs. Isaac Averett of Morganton, Mrs. McNairy Dubose, Jr., a student at A. M. College; Miss Ralston Dubose, a student at Fairmont College and two sons, St. Pierre and St. John.

MORE OFFICERS DETAILED.

War Department Details Other Officers to Mexican Border.

With the development of maneuvers on the Mexican border a second detachment of officers was made this morning through Adjutant General H. L. Leister. In the second detachment North Carolina gets one more officer than in the first, five being given this time. The detachment consists of one major, infantry; one adjutant, infantry; two company officers, infantry.

The officers named are: Maj. T. S. Pace as major infantry; Capt. S. C. Chambers, Durham, 2nd infantry; Capt. W. A. Jackson, Mt. Airy, 1st infantry; Capt. F. L. Black, Charlotte, 2nd infantry; Capt. Don. E. Scott, Graham, 3rd infantry.

REWARD OFFERED.

Governor Issues Reward for Capture of Jim Williams.

Governor Kitchin has authorized the offering of $100 reward for the capture of Jim Williams, charged with assault and battery. It seems that he walked into a store in Wallace where J. W. Sheffield was clerking and had some words with him. After insulting Sheffield to his face, he pulled his pistol and shot at him several times. Fortunately Sheffield was not killed. Williams then ran and has not been seen or heard from since in the state.

The sheriff of Duplin county secured the country thoroughly with his several deputies, but in vain. Recently the information has been received by the sheriff that Williams is in South Carolina. Every effort will be made to effect his capture.

AS IT WILL BE HEARD IN THE CITY CHURCHES TOMORROW

The Day Will Be One of Rejoicing and Glad Hosannas—The Message of New Life and New Hope—Church Choirs to Sing Beautiful Easter Music—Special Musical Services at Several Churches—Full Programs of the Easter Music and Special Sunday School Exercises.

Easter has come again with its joy and song, for it is peculiarly a season of jubilation and triumph. Easter has a message for all sorts and conditions of men. It is a message of new life and new hope and it comes just at that season of the year when the woods and the fields, the birds and flowers and all nature are proclaiming the glad news of new life making the message doubly impressive.

Easter belongs especially to the church, being one of the three great festivals of the Christian church, none of which is more glorious than Easter. It is a day that speaks of light and hope and love, of the open gates of paradise and of the life everlasting.

The church should lay jealous hold on this day especially and keep it from losing any of its solemn and beautiful meaning. Christian people should guard it carefully from the pollution and desecration of the annual spring fashion show, that is each year claiming such a large place at this season.

In the words of one of our old, let us say, "This is the day which the Lord hath made. We will rejoice and be glad on it."

And the rejoicing in the city tomorrow will be one of hosannas and jubilation.

All the city churches here made more or less extensive preparations to spread the Easter message. Not a church in the city, no matter how small, but what in some way will proclaim the message of resurrection and new life after death.

The music that hings around the message of Easter is peculiarly beautiful and many of the rarest and most beautiful of these compositions will be sung by the choirs of the churches in the city tomorrow.

CHRIST CHURCH.

Large Choir Augmented by Stringed Instruments to Sing Joyous Resurrection Music.

The most callous church-goer who attends Christ church tomorrow can hardly fail to feel the Easter inspiration and exaltation. Beautiful music, the fragrance of flowers, the symbols of life and light, and the festal adornments of white and gold, all give token of a rejoicing church, "Christ is Risen" being the keynote of the services.

The music will be sung by a large choir of selected voices with orchestral accompaniment of violins.

The first service is the early communion at 7:30. At 11 a. m. the music is as follows: Prelude for Violins—From Concerto D Major, Bach. Professional "Christ is Risen, Christ is Risen," Sullivan. Christ Our Passover, in F, Vogrich. Te Deum, Festival in G Flat, Macfarlane.

Jubilant Festival in G, D. Buck. Introit, Hymn 113, "The Day of Resurrection," Martin. Kysie Eleison, Cruickshank. Gloria Tibi, Paxton. Hymn "O 'Twas a Joyful Sound to Hear," Parker. Offertory, "Fling Wide the Gates," Sir John Stainer.

Suraum Corda, Cruickshank. Sanctus, Cruickshank. Eucharistic Hymn, Monk. Gloria in Excelsis, Cruickshank. Anthem—"God Have Mercy," Harker. Recessional 118—"At the Lamb's High Feast," Elvey. Christ Church Choir: Organist M.

and Director, R. Blinn Owen, Mus. M. Violinists, Miss Fannie Hines Johnson, Miss Louise Paulsen, Mr. Kimbrough Jones, Jr.

MAYOR GRISWOLD LOST DURHAM MAYOR LOST ELECTION TO HIS OPPONENT

W. J. Bregden Will be the Next Mayor of Durham—Spectacular Run Away—Two Marriages—School Closings.

(Special to The Times.)

Durham, N. C., April 15—The election yesterday resulted in the defeat of Mayor W. J. Griswold by W. J. Bregden and the election of W. M. Yearby police and fire commissioner, John W. Pope and W. L. Unstead, aldermen from the first ward; Dr. J. T. McCracken and J. R. Proctor from the second ward; P. W. Vaughan and W. A. Carr from the third ward, and J. C. Markham and J. L. Morehead from the fourth.

The defeat of Mayor Griswold was no surprise. It does not indicate unpopularity, but emphasizes the fact that no man can be elected in Durham to succeed himself if there is organized opposition to him. It has ever been thus and men elected yesterday have declared that they will not run again.

There was no local cause for yesterday's action. The administration of Mayor Griswold has been successful. He has proven a splendid business head of the city and there has not been one lousy kick. But the people love change here. It is a population that cannot be accused in the Psalmist's language, "Because they have no changes, they fear not God."

The election, which ratifies these choices will be held April 25. There appears to be no prospect of a fight this year. The republicans have lost all hope and will nominate no ticket this time.

A spectacular runaway yesterday afternoon on Corcoran street furnished for half a minute or less the greatest excitement. Jourdan's big wagon was pulling the rock crusher through the streets and the delivery horse of Christian and Harward took fright at the thing. It dashed off to the furniture wagon, ran about fifty yards, and as if to tie the score, it dived headlong into Chapel Hill street. The animal slid with the speed of the wind and bit into the sidewalk within a foot or so of a near-by saloon. It wedged itself so securely that it couldn't rise.

Everybody thought, of course, the handsome horse was dead as a hector. But when released from the shafts, there was not a scratch on its body. It walked off without a limp or hint of lameness. It is impossible to account for it.

Rev. Dr. J. W. Lynch will go the first Sunday in May to Atlanta, Ga., his new pastorate and preach to the First Baptist congregation to which he has been called. Dr. Lynch's pastorate here will have expired then, but he does not leave Durham for good. He will remain here until June, anyway, and perhaps into July. He has not entirely decided whether he will go abroad in the summer or spend the time elsewhere. His going to Georgia is at the invitation of the congregation and he will return on the following Sunday to his congregation here. While in the city Dr. Lynch will continue to preach to his congregation.

MR. AVENT RETURNS.

Mr. C. B. Avent, the popular West Durham druggist, has returned from Philadelphia, where he had been for hospital treatment. A malady of the most malignant type has settled upon him and it is conceded that his trip accomplished no good. To his friends in Durham this will be particularly distressing. He was given all that they had in the north. He was accompanied home by Dr. Clarence Judd, who will spend ten days here and at Chapel Hill, with perhaps other places.

A negro by the name of Tuck, formerly living here, was brought here last night from Roxboro and placed in jail for safe-keeping. The indignation of Roxboro did not drive him here, but it is understood that there is fear of his breaking jail. He is a powerful man and is quite well remembered in Durham, once having worked in the Corcoran Hotel.

The particulars of the crime are not now available but he is charged with murdering another black man in Roxboro a couple of weeks ago. It seems that the dead man passed Tuck's place of business, looked it and received the shot. The story may not be correct.

EXERCISES AT HIGH SCHOOL.

The high school yesterday had Good Friday exercises and Bishop Kilgo spoke. The opening number was "Holy, Holy, Holy," sung by the school, after which on Kilgo read a chapter and discourse in the verse of St. Paul's Epistle, "I have fought a good fight." He said the "need of the world is an organized army of righteous fighters. After the address Dr. M. T. Adkins and Mrs. W. M. Yearly sang a delightful duet.

TWO MARRIAGES.

Miss Drake and Mr. Phillips. Miss Nichols and Mr. Ferguson.

Miss Mattie Drake and Mr. G. P. Phillips were married yesterday morning at 8:30 at the Methodist parsonage, Rev. R. C. Craven officiating.

The ceremony was very quiet and after its performance they left for Goldsboro to spend a few days. They will live here on their return.

Miss Margaret M. Nichols, of Durham, and Mr. J. C. Ferguson, of Norfolk, were married Thursday night at the home of Mrs. M. J. Glidden on Wilkerson avenue.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. Mr. Bradshaw and after it took place they were given a reception at the home of the groom's parents. They left yesterday for Norfolk, where they will live.

SUNRISE PRAYER SERVICE.

The Methodists of Mangum Street church will tomorrow morning have one of their sunrise prayer services. The revival at Mangum Street church has been going on the past week and Rev. Dr. R. C. Beaman has been conducting it. There will be three services.

FIRST REAL DEMOCRATIC INSURGENT

California Representative Opposed to Resolution Regarding Election of Senators BUT VOTED WITH PARTY

Mr. Raker of California Thinks the General Government Should Have the Regulation of the Election of Senators and Made Speech Opposing Democratic Resolution—Voted With His Party, However—A Little Manifestation of Hot Blood in the Debate.

Times Bureau, Congress Hall Hotel, H. E. C. Bryant.

Washington, April 15—Representative John E. Raker, of the first California district, is the first real democratic insurgent developed by the present congress. He opposed in a vigorous speech the Rucker resolution, arguing that the federal government and not the states should have control of the election of senators are to be elected by the people. In thunderous tones he told the democrats that they were wrong in trying to take the power from the federal government and give it to the states.

"I believe," said he, "in leaving article four, section three of the constitution as it is. The democrats are making a mistake. Let the times, places and manner of holding elections for senators and representatives be prescribed by the legislatures thereof, but let congress at any time, by law, make or alter such regulations."

After concluding his speech Mr. Raker retired to the corridors, where a number of people who heard from the galleries congratulated him. Mr. Raker voted with his party on the resolution.

A little manifestation of southern hot blood cropped out in the debate over the Rucker resolution Thursday. In his speech, Mr. Young, who led the fight for the republicans, had intimated that in some states the will of the people might be thwarted by corrupt practices at the ballot box. There was nothing in the speech to indicate that he was casting slurs at any particular section of the country, nor to rile anybody but the way the speaker shook his head aroused the animosity of Mr. Slayden, of Texas, causing him to walk across the dividing aisle and ask, "What states do you mean?"

"Many states," said Mr. Young. "Well, don't shake your head at us; there is no corruption in the south," added Mr. Slayden.

While this was going on, without ever getting the floor, Mr. Clayton, of Alabama, was demanding something and reciting a bit of reconstruction history.

Seeing that Mr. Clayton was going to land himself into a furry, Speaker Clark pounded with his gavel and called for order.

An hour later, when Mr. James, of Kentucky, took the floor, he said that he deplored the sectional arguments that were injected into such discussions. He did not take any stock in the old cry about the danger of the south, and was tired of the bloody shirt.
