

LAST CHANCE CONTEST ENDS

Monday April 24th at 9 p.m.
The Special Offer of Monday is Important to Those Who Are Interested

THOSE NOT INTERESTED

Those Not Interested Will Please Notify Manager So He May be Authorized to Take Name Off List—Judges—Coupons.

Don't forget to have your friends secure Monday's Times. There will be something in it for your benefit they will be glad to see. Make this last week the one best effort of your life. Contestants should solicit subscriptions entirely upon the merits of the paper, and should not make themselves disagreeable after a prospect. Many are under a false impression as to new subscribers. Discontinuances and renewals in some other name to the same address are not new subscribers and any attempt of substitution of new for old will result in the contestant thrown out of the race.

The contest is run "strictly on the square" and the Times has every reason to expect the same treatment both from its contestants and the public. It is very easy to judge whether a new subscriber is bona fide or discontinues the paper and starts it again for the evident purpose of evading the rules of the contest. It is hoped that the necessity of votes will not arise from this source.

At the close of the contest the manager will have his books and any subscriptions put in the last minute marked new that is not new will not have any votes issued on them but will be thrown out entirely.

Your Opportunity.
Not one minute should be lost for the counting at the close of the contest night will be close and one small subscription might make a difference in the prize you or your favorite would win. There will be three prizes so that whoever puts forth the effort and works with the determination of being a winner can certainly be successful.

The Pony.
Prince Albert has made friends wherever he has been, and is popular all over town.
If you wish to take a ride with Prince Albert notify the contest manager who will give you an order most any time.

The Girl.
We publish today a picture of another one of our hustling candidates who has the assurance of her many friends of being a winner.
Miss Simpkins is a bright, energetic little girl and will appreciate the earnest support of her many friends.
If there are any others who would like to have their likeness before their

WILL INVESTIGATE SCHOOLS.

Mrs. Victor Berger Will Investigate Washington Public School System.
(By Leased Wire to The Times)
Washington, April 15—Another step forward has been registered in the work of investigating affairs of the District of Columbia, which Representative Victor L. Berger, socialist member of congress, has undertaken, when it became known today that Mrs. Berger, wife of the representative, will begin a systematic inspection of all the schools in the district when they re-open after the Easter recess.
Mrs. Berger is well qualified to undertake this branch of her husband's self-appointed task of getting to the bottom of affairs in this city, by reason of her training as a public school teacher and member of the board of education of Milwaukee.

WILLARD L. DOWELL, Candidate For Office of City Tax Collector.

One of the best and most prominent bankers of the Democratic platform teaches ROTATION IN OFFICE and upon this plank Mr. Dowell launched his campaign.

When our present Tax Collector was first elected to this office Six Years Ago he told the people that no man should hold an office longer than six years, and that he believed in the Democratic principle of rotation in office and that turn about was fair play.
Our present Tax Collector has now held this office for six successive years, and according to his own argument he should not ask for re-election.
Willard L. Dowell was born in this City in the year 1881, and he is now in the prime of young manhood, having a clean and honest record of 30 years among his Raleigh friends. That the duties of this office will be carefully and faithfully fulfilled by Mr. Dowell is not a question of doubt by the citizens of Raleigh.
Rotation in office is the true Democratic spirit, and turn about is fair play. Your vote and support on Monday next for Willard L. Dowell will be highly appreciated.

To the Public:
For the last time I wish to call your attention to my candidacy for Police Justice; to tell you again that I am the candidate of no faction, or set of persons. I have made a clean campaign, trying to inform the public as to my fitness to fill the position satisfactorily, without resorting to mud slinging against the other gentlemen who are also seeking this honorable office. I respectfully solicit the votes of all good Democratic citizens. If elected will try and enforce the laws without fear or favor, reward or hope of reward, except the salary allowed by law and the plaudits of good citizens.
Respectfully,
W. C. (Buck) HARRIS.

TO HANDLE GREEN ESTATE.

Mrs. Hetty Green and Her Son Will Have a Chain of Banks.
(By Leased Wire to The Times)
New York, April 15—Colonel E. H. Green and his mother, Hetty Green, the world's richest and shrewdest business woman, today began the task of forming a string of private banks stretching from New York to San Francisco so that the vast Green fortune of $100,000,000 may be best handled.
After consulting the best legal talent in New York, said Colonel Green in his business suite at the Waldorf today, "we decided that our original plan of forming a trust company for the handling of the state would not hold title to real estate in Illinois and we found other difficulties. Our plan now is to establish the private banking house of E. H. Green & Company in New York. Then we will establish branches in Boston, Chicago, Dallas and San Francisco. In each city we will have our local representative in the firm. We believe that we will then be able to handle the Green estate with the best results."
Mrs. Green was with her son at the Waldorf helping him with a big day's work. Stenographers and secretaries were hard at it despite the fact that the eve of Easter is holiday in the financial section.
Colonel Green was staunch in his admiration of his mother's business methods. He said that he intended to follow them despite the fact that they were considered old-fashioned downtown. He said that his mother was not a hard woman in a business transaction and that she had never charged more than 6 percent for a loan. All the Green money in New York is hoarded on Fifth Avenue and Broadway real estate. Another thing about his mother's methods he pointed out, is that wherever the Green investments make money the profit is invested in the locality where the investment is made. Boston profits are re-invested in Boston, Chicago's in Chicago, and so on.
"Mother would not send her money abroad if she could get 200 percent on it," he said. "She hates the ex-propriate William Waldorf Astor and I am with her in that. Although I was born in England, I became an American citizen when I was 21."

IN THE POLICE COURT

The rain did not put a damper on the matinee this morning, instead, it seemed to encourage the business for criminal seats had more occupants than any other day during the entire week, of course, excepting Monday. Five numbers were on the bill and, saying nothing strange in the police court, the headlines were all the same. The same change of drunk faced them all.
L. D. Terrall, white, was on the bill again with the same charge against him—drunk. He was fined $5.00 and the cost $2.75.
Con Perry, white, was before the court under the same old charge, of being drunk and disorderly. He asked the court to fine him and not send him to the roads. He was given the cost $2.75 and a suspended judgment of thirty days on the roads, conditional upon his good behavior.
Jim Melin, white, did not like charge of drunk against him and would not submit. The state's witness was not present in the case was set for Monday morning.
Irwin Brewer, colored, was before his honor for being drunk, but he denied the charge and as the officer was not present the case was continued until Monday morning.
George Fowler and Samuel Leonard were called out and as they were not present their bonds were forfeited.
Mr. Wilford Adams is his name, and he writes: "I was confined to my bed with chronic rheumatism and used two bottles of Foley's Kidney Remedy with good effect. The third bottle put me on my feet and I resumed work as conductor on the Lexington, Ky., Street Railway. It will do all you claim in cases of rheumatism." It clears the blood of uric acid.
