IN THE POLICE COURT

Easter Monday saw the police court doing business at the same old stand this morning. The program sheet was a little off for Monday's bill of fare, only nine defendants being on the police blotter. The fact that today is Easter and also an election day was entirely forgotten in the proceedings of the court, only the judge kindly reminding the offenders of the day by handing them beautiful Easter eggs in the shape of fines and the costs. Instead of joining in an Easter egg hunt the friends of the court had to witness another daily crime.

Frank O'Dell, white, submitted to the charge of being drunk and was taxed with the cost $2.75.

Edwin Richardson, white, was before his honor for being drunk on the streets and was taxed with the cost $2.75.

J. H. Spikes, white, faced the charge of being drunk and cursing on the street. Jeanetta Leake, a colored woman, said she heard Mr. Spikes in her back yard Saturday afternoon cursing. The cursing was so bad that she went after an officer. Liza Jones said she saw him and heard him cursing. Other colored people testified to the cursing. Mr. Spikes said he was not drunk, but admitted cursing. He was fined $3.00 and taxed with the cost $3.25.

Major Griffin, white, submitted to the charge of being drunk on the streets. He was let off with the cost $2.75.

Charley Ruffin, white, was before his honor for getting drunk and he submitted to the charge. He was fined $3.00 and the cost $2.75.

John Teddy and Moses Teddy were called out and upon their failure to answer, their bonds were forfeited.

H. G. Porter, white, was faced with several charges. He was charged with being drunk, disorderly, and carrying a concealed weapon.

Nancy Cotton, of police court fame, said she saw Mr. Porter, but did not know him and did not see the pistol. Jeanetta Leake said she heard him cursing but did not see the pistol. One or two of the colored women were not sure of the man and did not know about the pistol. Doc Leake told of hearing Mr. Porter cursing and saw him pull his pistol out of his pocket and threaten to shoot him. Officer Patrick said when he was arrested he had no pistol, but was a little drifty. He was fined $2.00 and taxed with the cost $2.25.

W. A. Smith, colored, was with the same crowd and was charged with the same offenses, being drunk and disorderly. He was fined $3.00 and the cost $2.75.

Wm. McClendon, colored, heard the charge against him of breaking into a cafe and taking some things. Officer Deming said Sunday morning about 1:20 o'clock he met him on the corner of Pine and Halifax streets and about 4:30 saw him come out of Art's grocery store and cafe when he rolled up his hand and shot at him. He ran dropping an armful of bread, lard, etc. A few minutes later he came around the corner, apparently out of breath, and was eating some bread. He then arrested him and brought him up to the station-house.

McClendon said he went out to West Raleigh, meeting a man rapping, and later met the officer who arrested him for breaking into a cafe. He declared that the wrong man had been arrested. He was sent down to face a Wake county jury under a $50 bond.

INCREASING IN POWER.
Revival Services at Fayetteville Street Baptist Church.

Revival services, conducted by Rev. F. D. King at Fayetteville Street Baptist church are increasing in power.

The Lord is greatly blessing this work, as he earnestly strives for New Testament evangelism. He preaches the Word and relies upon the Holy Spirit for results.

Last night there was a strong sermon on the "Power of Sin," as shown in the life of Sampson, as it "blinds, binds and grinds." Great interest was manifested and eleven united with the church, three by letter and eight by baptism. Total additions to date, fifty-one. Meeting continues this week. The church is being greatly revived and much personal work is being done by the evangelist and his co-laborers.

Gives Aid to Strikers.
Sometimes liver, kidneys and bowels seem to go on a strike and refuse to work right. Then you need those pleasant little strike-breaker—Dr. King's New Life Pills—to give them natural aid and gently compel proper action. Excellent health soon follows. Try them. 25c. at King-Crowell Drug Company.

No Selection Yet.
The executive committee of the Y. M. C. A. campaign, of which Mr. Carey J. Hunter is chairman, has held several meetings in regard to locating the site for the building. There have been a good number of propositions made to them but as yet no selection of a site has been made. The committee hopes, however, to announce the site for the Y. M. C. A. building within the next few days. This committee, along with the others, has been hard at work since the raising of the $75,000 and even since closing the subscription campaign, some further subscriptions have come in. Mr. L. H. Lumsden received a check for $25 a day or so ago from a New York firm and it has been added to the list.

VERY LIGHT DOCKET IN FEDERAL COURT

United States Marshall Claudius Dockety, District Attorney Herbert F. Seawell, Deputy Clerk George Tompinski and Office Deputy Ward have gone to Washington, this state, to attend federal court, which is being held there this week. Judge H. G. Connor left from his home at Wilson. There is a very small docket to be disposed of and it is probable that all cases will be tried by the middle of the week. Those Washington is to be tried for breaking into a postoffice with John Graham. The latter was able to find a way out of jail, and is at large.

FIRST CLOSING DAY RALEIGH OFFICE

Yesterday was the first Sunday in which the various carrier windows at the Raleigh postoffice were closed, and Postmaster W. G. Briggs said today that not over a dozen persons called for their mail. These were transients, for whose benefit the general delivery window is kept open an hour on Sunday. Evenly in Raleigh was informed of the new regulations as to closing and as a result there was no crowd at the postoffice yesterday afternoon.

LOCAL BRIEFS.

The usual splendid Easter music was rendered in the several churches yesterday and unusually large congregations were present to enjoy the services.

AMUSEMENTS

(Note—Criticisms of plays rendered are written by a member of The Daily Times staff. All other matter, particularly advance notices, is furnished by representatives of the theatre.)

"Polly of the Circus."

It is not often that we are tempted to find fault with a producer of plays for being too generous, but that is the kind of a play producer Frederic Thompson happens to be. He wants to give too much for the money. As a result of his extravagance he has made "Polly of the Circus," which is to be presented at the Grand Wednesday night a case of "Polly" and the circus. There are not too many who will object to this, however. There may be some who will agree with us that "Polly" is so much more important to the little drama of which she is a part, than a hundred circuses could ever be tant the snow scene should be eliminated, but probably there will be as many who will enjoy the sight of a real woman bareback rider turning somersaults off the back of a real horse ambling patiently around the inside of a real ring. It is not often playgoers object to being offered too much entertainment, even though the extra measure even though the extra measure proves a clear case of assault and battery with the poor old drama as the victim. "Polly of the Circus" is a pretty appealing story of hearts of the tried-and-found-true type, until the circus happens into it. Tuen in the last fifteen minutes it tapers off into a commonplace little show piece, in which Polly is sacrificed to scenery and drama to twinkling lights.
