New York Cotton Letter.

(By Leased Wire to The Times.) New York, June 2-The government report showed a higher condition than expected but a smaller acreage, and proved to be without any material influence. Naturally with the crop getting such a good start on such a large acreage, the present prospect points to a very large yield with favorable growing conditions. FOR MEDICAL CONFERENCE.

Surgeon General Battle in Conference With General Leinster-Vaccination of Soldiers Main Topic. (Special to The Times.)

Asheville, N. C., June 2-Surgeon General S. Westray Battle left this morning for a conference with the and Tennessee Copper gained 1 and yesterday later positions ruled about adjutant general at Raleigh in regard to the medical department of the North Carolina National Guard. It is the purpose of the surgeon general to get the sanitary troops of the state in close touch with the medical department of the national government. There seems to be a steady progress in preventive medicine in the medical department of both the state and national troops. In annual report to the adjutant general Surgeon General Battle calls attention to his report upon anti-typhoid vaccination which he made last year. He states that immunizing against typhoid fever is going on in all the armies of the world; that last year he expressed the belief that typhoid fever, the scourge of the military camp, had had its day and that the mortality therefrom would in the ear future be all but a negligible factor. He states that the harmfulless of the procedure had been esablished and that the war departments of many nations are requiring t as a routine measure; that out of over 11,000 persons in the army who have voluntarily submitted to the treatment there have been three cases recorder as typhoid with considerable doubt as to the correctness of the diagnosis in two cases and no deaths. He recommends the treatment or procedure to the officers and former cashler to the defunct People's Bank, whose speculations exceeded half a million, will, after serving three years, go free. He was acquitted of the charge of larceny of $10,000 from the bank, the jury returning the verdict after deliberating for one hour and fifteen minutes. The case was submitted without-argument by the attorneys, after two days spent in the hearing. When the verdict was announced Judge Bain asked Commonwealth Attorney Bland if there were any more charges on which to hold the prisoner, and was informed that the commonwealth had no further charges to prosecute. The court then informed the excashier that unless Governor Mann remits the fine of $7,000 imposed at the time of Butt's conviction three years ago, he would have to serve three months in jail in satisfaction of the fine. Application has been made to the governor to have the fine remitted, but no decision has been reached on the application.

The attorneys for Butt assured the court that their client would hold himself in readiness to report to the court whenever wanted. At the request of Commonwealth's Attorney Bland today, in the Court of Hustings, Judge Bain entered an order nolle prossing the eighteen old indictments against Butt.

Unknown Party Sends Money to Business Man-Reasons for Sending Money Apparently Unknown.

(Special to The Times.) Asheville, N. C., June 2-A certain business man of Asheville, who for obvious reasons, does not want his name made known, has a conscience fund which promises to grow indefinitely. Just four months ago he received a letter, containing a ten dollar bill, accompanied by a slip of paper on which was written with a typewriter the following: "This is conscience money and I owe you a great deal more? There was no name signed and the gentleman stated that he had no idea who it might be who was sending the money. The letter was mailed on a grain. One month later he received another letter containing the same amount of currency, the slip of typewritten paper containing about the same wording as the first. On the first of the third month he received still another ten dollars containing the statement that it was conscience money. These letter, too, were mailed on trains and both indicated that more money might be forthcoming.

This morning he received the fourth letter, which differed from the others in that it was mailed in Asheville and it contained the statement that the recipient would never know where the money came from until it was all paid.

The gentleman says that he now has a faint idea as to who the sender might be and that he would not speak of the matter except that the sender of the money might see this story and if he would decide to make himself known, he would like to express his appreciation of the action and would give the sender any aid in his

It seems as though the man might be working on salary and that he sends an installment at the end of every month.
