WRIGHT IN TROUBLE

Before Court For Assaulting
Newspaper Reporter

Traction Magnate Struck Durham Sun Reporter on Court House Steps—Representative Citizen, S. M. Holton, Dies After Brief Illness—Leading Republican Lawyer—Death of R. A. Horner.

Times Bureau,
Herald Building,
W. T. BOST.
Durham, N. C., June 24—Col. Dick Wright, president of the Traction Company, was defendant this morning before Judge Sykes on a charge of assaulting city editor Rufus Isenhour, of the Durham Sun, the author of the article that gave the traction man such offense as to start a suit against the paper.

Mr. Wright yesterday made an attempt to strike Mr. Isenhour as Mr. Wright was going to court to make answer in the usury suit against him. He met Mr. Isenhour and asked if he were the "d—n scoundrel" who had written that article? and the city editor pleaded guilty. Thereupon Mr. Wright hit at the newspaperman but barely touched his arm. Friends interferred. This morning there was nothing before Judge Sykes but an attempt at assault and he imposed a small fine.

This fight, journalistically, has had considerable interest here and the paper, though threatened with suit, appears to be in no shape to make amends. Everybody is anxious to see what it is going to do.

Samuel M. Holton, Esq., known well over North Carolina, died last night between the hours of 9 and 10 at his home on Watts street.

This man of large and peculiar talents had been missed from the streets but a short time because it seemed less than a week since he was up town and in his office. But it was more than that. He has been declining as he knew through a period of fifteen or eighteen months, but it was an insidious malady that waited for the opportunity to strike and when it did few were expecting it.

The announcement of his death will come not only as a surprise but as a shock to all Durham people. He was such an original and entertaining man and his lurid and picturesque speech, expressed candidly upon every matter of law or politics that came up, will never be heard again because there is none like him.

Mr. Holton went to his room about five weeks ago but did not confine himself to his bed entirely. He had once before that time been forced to stay at home, but returned cheerfully and asked that it be said that he had recovered from a reported illness of gravity. He went to his office, but he was never able to do much work.

Samuel Holton was born in Guilford county fifty-four years ago. His parents were Rev. Quentin Holton and Miss Harriet Holland. The father was a Protestant Methodist moderator and taught this boy all that he learned in his books before beginning the study of law. The first practice of Mr. Holton was in Guilford and he moved from that county to Durham seventeen years ago. He practiced law throughout these years and was always more or less active in republican politics. Though born into that faith and considered a bitter partisan, he probably voted for as many democratic friends as any man in Durham. He was a great admirer of Judge Walter Clark and always pointed to his vote for Hon. James S. Manning in 1896 as patriotism above partisanship. Of late years he had not pretended to be of the county political machine and did as he pleased.

In 1887 Mr. Holton married Miss Aura Chaffin, of Mocksville. Eight children came of that union, six of whom now live. Four sons and two daughters with the mother of the family remain, besides two brothers, District Attorney A. E. Holton, of Winston-Salem, and Rufus E. Holton, of Yaddin, and one sister, Miss Laura Holton, of Black Mountain.

No man was a friendlier father and his children were his particular pride. He had the satisfaction of seeing two sons in college and his joy must have been great in their accomplishments. He was intensely affectionate and when often expressing sorrow over a shortcoming, his face was illumined by the reflection of his children's brightness and goodness.

Mr. Holton was a man of unquestioned ability, an order that came near genius. In the use of quaint and cutting speech, he was a master. Some of his sentences have taken legs and traveled the state. At home they will be remembered through generations. His jury speeches were filled with these bright utterances and his private conversation often reached the point of real eloquence. His criticisms of his own party often literally took the skin off, and they were strangely enough enjoyed by those who suffered the torture of his biting words. As strong as his brother, District Attorney Holton is, it is to be doubted if the noted prosecutor was more able naturally than his very unpretentious brother.

The funeral services will be held this afternoon from the home on Watts street at 5 o'clock. Bishaop John C. Kilgo and Rev. M. Bradshaw will officiate. The pall-bearers will be Messrs. W. D. Carmichael, J. J. Thaxton, C. W. Massey, Dr. W. I. Cranford, Professor R. L. Flowers and Prof. E. C. Brooks.

Mr. R. A. Horner, of West Durham, died yesterday afternoon about 6:30 after an illness of several weeks with typhoid fever.

Mr. Horner was working in the mills when he was forced to abandon his duties and go to bed. From the first hope was small. At the meeting of the crisis, he took a decided turn for the worse and there had been no chance for him since.

He leaves father, J. E. Horner, and a step-mother, one brother, Arthur Horner, three sisters, Mrs. Jennie Riggsbee, and Misses Lessie and Fannie Horner. He was twenty years of age, a member of the Junior Order and of the Baptist church and an excellent young man. The funeral services will be held Sunday afternoon, conducted by the General Lee Council of West Durham.

Lightning Kills Two.
In 1906 lightning killed only 169 people in this whole country. One's chances of death by lightning are less than two in a million. The chances of death from liver, kidney or stomach trouble is vastly greater, but not if Electric Bitters be used, as Robert Madsen, of West Burlington, Ia., proved. Four doctors gave him up after eight months of suffering from virulent liver trouble and yellow jaundice. He was then completely cured by Electric Bitters. They're the best stomach, liver, nerve and kidney remedy and blood purifier on earth. Only 50c. King Crowell Drug Co.

"The Liver Pills act So Naturally and Easily."

Such a statement, coming from the cashier of a bank, shows what confidence responsible people have in these pills. Mr. A. L. Wilson after trying them wrote:

"I have used Dr. Miles' Nerve and Liver Pills and also your Anti-Pain Pills, on myself, with good results. The Liver Pills act so naturally and so easily that I scarcely know that I have taken a pill. Frequently being troubled with headache I take an Anti-Pain Pill and get immediate relief in every case."
A. L. Wilson, Sparta, Ill.
Mr. Wilson was for a number of years cashier of the First National Bank of Sparta.

Dr. Miles' Nerve and Liver Pills are different from others. Many kinds of liver pills are "impossible" after one trial on account of their harshness. Dr. Miles' Nerve and Liver Pills do not act by sheer force but in an easy, natural way, without gripping or undue irritation. They are not habit forming.

HALF TIMBER AND CEMENT BUNGALOW, COSTING $2,500

DESIGNED BY CHAS. S. SEDGWICK, ARCHITECT.

The size of this Bungalow design is 41 feet 6 inches breadth and 24 feet depth. It is designed in the half timber and cement style that is very appropriate for a one-story bungalow. The height of outside studs is 10 feet, with double sills and plates. The first floor is set up only 2 feet above the grade, thus keeping the low appearance so much desired. There is space on the second floor for finishing a good room or two and leave storage space. The estimated cost, exclusive of heating and plumbing is placed at $2,500. This figure does not include any finishing on second floor.

The plan calls for a good sized living room, dining room and kitchen and two bedrooms, with a convenient bathroom. At left-hand corner is a wide, liberal entrance piazza. This can be screened in if desired and also glazed in during the winter months, making a fine sun parlor.

The exterior treatment is designed to be with half timbers and cement between on metal lath, put on with a pebble dash. The cement may be stained with waterproof wash green, brown or light buff, and the roof shingles stained red, brown or green to suit. Tile makes the handsomest and best roof, but the expense is much greater. Washington fir may be used for finish and also for floors and stained brown or dark mission with very pretty effect. The mantel will look best and be most appropriate laid up in rough sewer or vitrified brick or of field stone, using both large and small. The walls will be best in rough plaster and tinted in browns. The woodwork to be very simple, doors made low and on line with the windows and a wide plate rail carried around all of the first story. Clinging vines and foliage close around the outside will add much to the beauty.

will save the dyspeptic from many days of misery, and enable him to eat whatever he wishes. They prevent

SICK HEADACHE, cause the food to assimilate and nourish the body, give keen appetite, DEVELOP FLESH and solid muscle. Elegantly sugar coated.

Take No Substitute.

Does Advertising Pay?

Everything that goes into print with an imprint isn't advertising.

Imagine yourself these scorching hot days trying to get into your system stale meats, or anything that belongs to the inner man.

You are asking no more or less of your prospect when you poke and poke and re-p-o-k-e the same old "dish" at him.

Wake up, man. Yes, it pays to advertise—if you know how.

THE MODERN LAUNDRY,

like the modern bathroom, should be as clean, dainty, and inviting as sanitary science can make it. Porcelain enameled laundry trays are the ideal fixtures for the up-to-date laundry. Their smooth, hard surface absolutely prevents absorption of the wash water. Though possessing the strength and durability of iron, they are as easily cleaned as your table china. And they are made complete with wringer holders and every device to make the laundry work easier and more pleasant. A "Standard" laundry tray will solve your laundry problems permanently.
