SUGAR TRUST COMMITTEE

Hardwick Committee Will Begin Hearing Again Monday After A Week's Rest

WHAT IT HAS LEARNED

Sugar People Are Divided Into Two Factions, Those Who Now Control the Corporation and the "Down and Outs"—The Law-breakers Have Been Kicked Out and a New Crew Put in Charge It is Declared—Old Leaders Are All Dead.

Times Bureau, Congress Hall Hotel, H. E. C. Bryant.

Washington, D. C., July 8—The Hardwick committee investigating the sugar trust, "the Lorimer committee," has taken a rest. Its labors will begin again.

The Hardwick committee has gone far enough to find that those interested in the American Sugar Refining Company are divided in two factions, "the reformers," who now control the corporation, and "the has-beens" or "down and outs." There may be method in this division. The new regime is headed by Edwin F. Atkins, who would have nothing to do with Henry O. Havemeyer and the old crowd is represented by John E. Parsons, Charles R. Heike and Lowell M. Palmer.

The law breakers have been kicked out and a new and honest crew put in charge of the old boat. That is the cry.

Six leaders in the maneuvers that made the sugar trust what it was in its palmy days have crossed over the river. They are Henry O. Havemeyer, the sugar king of the east; Claus Spreckels, the sugar prince of the west; Theodore A. Havemeyer, who was president of the Sugar Refineries Company, the first sugar combination; John E. Searles, Henry O. Havemeyer's man Friday; Gustav E. Kissel, the man that trapped Adolph Segal, and got possession of the Pennsylvania Sugar Refining Company for the trust, and Frank Hipple, the victim of Segal's wild cat schemes.

These men are beyond the laws of this land. They have been convicted many times over by witnesses that appeared before the Hardwick committee. Every strong and powerful lead has led to the grave. The only man to charge a living person was George H. Earle, Jr., of Philadelphia, and he names President Theodore Roosevelt and former Attorney General Bonaparte in connection with the Pennsylvania Company. He blames them for not accepting his tip and prosecuting certain persons whom he imagined he had found the goods.

Those who have testified so far are: Edwin F. Atkins, manager of the American Sugar Refining Company. He could not tell anything about the affairs of his corporation during the Havemeyer rule.

ON TRIAL FOR HIS LIFE

Daniel Moody Faces Serious Charge of Burglary

Crime is That of Entering Home of Mr. Owenby at Night—Lawyers Play Doctors a Game—Central Highway Promoters Map Out Road to Mars Hill.

(Special to The Times.)

Asheville, July 8—In superior court, special term for the trial of criminal cases, the morning session Friday was taken up with the selection of the jury in the case of Daniel Moody, a negro, who is to be tried for his life for burglary. A special venire of 75 men has been summoned, but at 12 o'clock the jury had not been empaneled. The negro is defended by Jones and Williams.

The crime for which Moody is being tried is that of entering the home of Mr. Owenby, on Montford avenue, one night several weeks ago. Mr. Owenby was awakened by a noise and when he investigated saw a negro on the second floor where the sleeping apartments were located. The negro ran and fell down the steps and it was thought he injured his cheek against the plastered wall. On this and other clues the officers arrested Moody, who was employed at a house near that of Mr. Owenby.

This afternoon the lawyers and doctors of Asheville are to oppose each other in a ball game at Riverside park. The proceeds from the gate receipts are to go to the Mission hospital. As there are really some good players in both professions in the city a good game as well as much amusement is looked for.

Tentative plans are on foot with reference to the improvement of the road from Stockville to Mars Hill. (Continued on Page Five.)

WAR ON TOBACCO SMOKERS.

Dr. Harvey W. Wiley Aids in Forming League to Stop Use of the Weed

New York, July 8—A national crusade against tobacco smokers, which is launched under somewhat distinguished and learned auspices, came before Supreme Court Justice Giegerich today for incorporation, but the court rejected the certificate on the ground that the incorporators failed to state that they had made no previous application. The association is to be called the Non-smokers' Protective League of America.

The list of incorporators is headed by Chancellor James R. Day, of Syracuse; President David S. Jordan, of Leland Stanford; Harvey W. Wiley, of Washington; Prof. R. G. Wilder, of Cornell; the Rev. Dr. Jenkin Lloyd Jones, of All Souls' church, Chicago; Prof. Thomas B. Stowell, of the University of Southern California, and Prof. W. S. Hall, of Northwestern University.

The purpose is to encourage and insist on the enforcement of all public laws, ordinances, rules and regulations against smoking in public and semi-public places, and to co-operate with the board of health, police, and other peace officers in the enforcement of these laws.

The organization will conduct lecture bureaus, publish books, and establish auxiliaries in all parts of the country in their crusade.

Dr. Ida C. Nahn, prominent woman physician of New York, who declares that "woman will be woman's friend when she ceases to make man her aim in life."

"Women don't like each other as much as they might, as I wish they would," she declares. "If we search for the basic reason for many women's dislike for women, I believe it would be found in men. If there is not an actual man in a woman's life, there is a possible one, present or future. The women favored in face or figure, or both, or who are endowed with charm, are regarded as possible rivals. And for the unfortunates that rivalry may cause, such women are disliked by the women whose thought is centered on man. Now, put man in his place, not as a god, or even a man-god, but just a plain human, and women will not dislike other women."

THE EVILS OF COCAINE

Wilmington Negro Stole to Get Money to Buy Drug

The Evil Growing Not Only in Wilmington But Other Sections—Efforts to Stop the Sale of the Drug.—Installation of Psychian Officers.

(Special to The Times.)

Wilmington, N. C., July 8—In the recorder's court yesterday the prevalence of the selling of cocaine among negroes of the city was again illustrated when William Bracey, a negro, who was charged with stealing from the Wilmington Grocery Company offered as an excuse for his crime his desire to secure cocaine for personal use. Bracey has been waging a systematic campaign of stealing from the company since the middle of May. It is believed that the value of goods which he secured will amount nearly to $150. The man was a driver for the concern. He would secure small orders of groceries and in most cases he would say that he intended to deliver them to new customers. However, it seems that the man would take the groceries from the store and then dispose of them, using the proceeds to secure cocaine and other things. It was stated that a dozen or more charges could have been preferred against him, but only two warrants were served upon him. In each case he acknowledged his guilt. Bracey was sent to the county roads for a combined sentence of twenty-four months.

Some time ago a negro woman was convicted of selling cocaine to members of her race. She was given a sentence at the county farm. Not only here, but elsewhere throughout. (Continued on Page Five.)

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR GOES TO LOS ANGELES

Atlantic City, July 8—Los Angeles, California, was selected as the place for holding the 1912 international convention of the Christian Endeavor Union. Indianapolis was the nearest competitor.

Children were declared to be the best producers of potential energy in the world by Judge Ben B. Lindsey, of Denver, speaking on the "Boy and How to Handle Him." "Children are the life blood of the state," said Judge Lindsey. "They are better producers of energy than coal or wood, better than steam or electricity."

The audience packed the hall to listen to Lindsey make the plea for handling the boys and girls through sympathy and understanding instead of by club methods. The so-called "happy children" of the country were sharply criticized for not doing their duty in the battle against the liquor evil by H. H. Spooner, superintendent of temperance department, Connecticut Christian Endeavor Union, at the temperance rally. "Indifference of the better element, especially in the east, has proven the greatest handicap the temperance cause must struggle against," said Spooner.

An effort will be made during the remaining days of the convention, which adjourns Wednesday to evangelize the casual crowd on the boardwalk and Atlantic avenue.
