

WAKE FARMS

Wake County is unquestionably the greatest county in North Carolina and on account of the big industrial development in and around Raleigh farms are going to be at a premium in this county. Raleigh is growing so fast that a sure market is to be offered for everything made on the farms of Wake. Now is the opportunity for a few hustling men to buy some good farms near Raleigh and then take things easy. If you want a farm in Wake County it will pay you to talk to us at once, as we have some bargains and we are in touch with the farmers and can get you any kind of farm you want.

SOMETHING BIG

Between Raleigh and Cary we have to offer three nice farms. These farms are right in the line of development and nearly in sight of the city. What more do you want? Two of these farms are small, but would probably be just the thing you want.

Farm No. 1 is a dandy. It contains 170 acres. One-half of it is in cultivation, nice five-room cottage in a white oak grove, within a mile of a high school, one and a half miles of the depot. This land is very fine farming land and every acre can be put in cultivation. There is now between 5,000 and 6,000 cords of wood on the land. Sell the wood and pay for the farm. There are two good streams on the farm, two good springs, and 20 acres in pasture. It is undoubtedly the greatest thing being put on the market in a farm in this section of the state.

NEUSE RIVER FARM

Here is something else that will look good to a man who wants a real farm. A fine farm containing 116 acres, located in Neuse River township, one mile from the depot, with 65 acres in cultivation, balance in wood. For water it has two streams, two springs and two wells. The woodland is covered with pine, oak, and hickory. The farm land is the best and is adapted to any kind of crop. There are three five-room cottages on the place and it is in a good state of cultivation. This place will surely interest any man who wants a farm in Wake county. The price, too, is a matter that will interest you.

If these farms do not suit you we have others just as nice and we can get anything you want if it is in land. We are in touch with the people and if you want a bargain in a Wake county farm, come to see us first.

WAKE FARMERS

If you have a farm for sale list it with us and it will be advertised and go on the market. We sell farms and it will pay you to tell us about your place. It costs you nothing to place it with us and we do the rest. Send us a postal saying you have a farm for sale and the balance will be easy. We do business quick. We have some good customers who have the money for you if you have what they want in a farm.

MERRYMAKERS KILLED AT HENDERSONVILLE

Hendersonville, N. C., July 12.—A party of merry-makers, proceeding in an automobile to Balfour, N. C., were precipitated over a steep embankment three miles from here early this morning. Miss Lena Bowman, of Sumter, S. C., and Robert Bettis, of Trenton, S. C., were killed. Other members of the party of eight people were slightly injured.

Damages of $60,000 Awarded Plaintiff

case. The motion was denied, exception was taken, and the case will now go through the regular channels to the United States circuit court of appeals. It may wind up in the United States supreme court.

Plaintiff Uncertain.
Speaking for the plaintiff, Mr. Daniels said that they found themselves in a very peculiar condition. The Ware-Kramer Company is in the hands of a receiver, is in debt $20,000 and the $60,000 allowed by the jury was not sufficient to meet its obligations. The plaintiff desired to communicate with the receiver and stockholders before announcing whether or not it excepted to the verdict. This question will come up this afternoon at 5 o'clock. Mr. Daniels said his personal inclination was to agree to the motion to set aside the verdict in the hope that plaintiff might get justice next time.

Judge Connor offered sincere congratulations to the twelve men who had faced carloads of depositions and withstood the fierce heat of June and July, to say nothing of the confinement for four weeks and a half. He thanked them for their patience and conscientious discharge of their duty and wished them a safe and happy return to their wives and families. The court was duly appreciative of the staying ability of the jurors and let them know of his high regard for their services. In departing the jurors beamed their thanks at Judge Connor for his kindly words.

Shake Jurors' Hands.
A number of the counsel for both sides rushed up and shook the hands of the jurors, and there was more smiling.

At 3:40 three distinct raps informed Marshal Claudius Dockey that something was doing. He opened the door to the jury room, and was told to "wait a minute." Three minutes later the raps were repeated and the marshal escorted the twelve men into the court room.

"Gentlemen of the jury, have you reached a verdict?" asked Judge Connor.

"We have," the answer came with a nod, and the issues and answers were handed to the judge.

And here are the issues and answers as returned:

Issues and Answers.

1. Have the defendants, or either of them, and, if yes, which defendants injured the plaintiff corporation in its business or property by making any contract or engaging in any combination in the form of a trust, or otherwise, or conspiracy, in restraint of trade or commerce among the several states or with foreign nations?
Answer: Yes, Both.

2. Have the defendants, or either of them, and, if yes, then which defendants injured the plaintiff corporation in its business or property by monopolizing or attempting to monopolize, or combining, or conspiring with any other person or persons to monopolize any part of the trade or commerce among the several states or with foreign nations?
Answer: Yes, Both.

3. What damages, if any, has plaintiff sustained?
Answer: $20,000 (twenty thousand dollars).

Over Four Weeks.

The actual trial of the case began Monday morning four weeks ago and continued without interruption until today, when a verdict was reached. One of the jurors, Mr. Daniel Long, of Person county, was struck by a street car on July 6, receiving painful bruises, but he did not cause a minute's delay.

The Conclusion.

The defendants did not introduce any testimony, their counsel relying on the evidence brought out in the cross-examination. The last speech was concluded yesterday at 1:45, this being made by former Governor C. B. Aycock for the defendants.

Judge Connor's charge to the jury yesterday was clear, strong and fair. Attorneys for both sides seemed well pleased with the charge, and when such is the case it is undoubtedly a compliment to the presiding judge.

Why Defendants Except.

The three errors, as alleged by defendants in their motion for a new trial, are as follows:

1. Error committed by his honor in the admission of testimony over the objection of the defendants as appears in the record.
2. Error committed by his honor in the exclusion of testimony offered

Commodore E. C. Benedict, of New York, photographed upon his arrival home after a two months' trip which included a voyage up the Amazon river and a seven days' shipwreck in his yacht, the Virginia, on the Colorado reef, off Cuba. Commodore Benedict returned appearing none the worse after his grilling experience. He and his friends, he says, enjoyed themselves delightfully, and time passed quickly. Cribbage, fishing and music were the only amusements possible. The Virginia, from which he and his party were taken by a tug, has since been floated.

Dr. Wiley to be Fired From Service.

evidence submitted by the committee of personnel clearly demonstrates the fact that Kebler and Biglow entered into a scheme to which Dr. Wiley lent countenance and assistance, to procure the appointment of Rusby at the rate of $1,500 annually under the express agreement with him that he was to do no more work under this appointment than would be paid for at the rate of $20 daily of 7 1/2 hours, when engaged in laboratory work, and $50 daily when engaged in court. The evidence clearly shows these gentlemen resorted to a scheme to create the appearance of compliance with the law, while at the same time distinctly agreeing not to comply with it. "Such agreement certainly merits condign punishment, and because of the facts set forth I recommend approval by you of the recommendations of the committee on personnel."

President Taft, it was learned later today, forwarded all the papers in the case to Dr. Wiley and will take no action until he receives personal statements from him. It is known the president has the highest regard for the pure food expert and for his administration of the bureau of chemistry. Dr. Wiley has been attacked by the "interests" almost constantly since the pure food law went into effect. He has not resigned and so far there has been no request for his resignation. It is believed with the publication of the technical charge against him there will be a great wave of protest against his dismissal. The president, before acting on the case, will grant a hearing to all involved and be guided only by his own judgment.

OCTORARO MILLS INSOLVENT.

Judge Pritchard So Decides in the Case of Chadbourne vs. Mills, 10,000 Gallons of Whiskey Seized in June.

(Special to The Times.)
Asheville, July 13.—Judge Pritchard today signed an interlocutory order and decree in the case of William H. Chadbourne, trustee, who sues in behalf of himself and all other creditors of the defendant who may contribute to the expenses of the case, vs. the Octoraro Mills Company, of South Carolina. The case is in the United States court for the district of South Carolina.

The order is to the effect that all alleged complaints are true and that the company is insolvent, the assets being wholly insufficient to pay the indebtedness and to discharge the obligations; that it is to the interest of the creditors that the assets of the company be sold and converted into cash and distributed pro rata among the creditors; therefore it is ordered that the property be sold under the direction of William H. Chadbourne, who is appointed commissioner for conducting the sale, which is to be for cash immediately after the sale is confirmed by the court. The assets consist of a stock of goods, real estate, mills and machinery.

It is also ordered that Thomas Harkins be appointed special master to ascertain and report to the court the names and the amounts due each creditor. The case is retained for further hearing. At a meeting of the board of directors of the local Y. M. C. A. Tuesday night, Frank A. Hawley, the assistant secretary of the association, tendered his resignation. He stated that it was his desire to enter the ministry rather than remain in the Y. M. C. A. work. The resignation was accepted. Mr. Hawley came here during the winter from West Virginia, leaving ministerial work there. In his work here he has made a number of friends.

FRENZIED CAT BITES SIX.

Heat-maddened Feline on Rampage in Streets of Baltimore.

Baltimore, July 12.—Six persons, five or six horses, and at least fifty dogs and cats were bitten this morning by a three-legged cat, which is supposed to have been crazed by the intense heat. The animal, after causing terror in a large part of Highlandtown, was finally killed, and its body sent to the Pasteur Institute for examination. There was no end to the excitement caused by the affair. The cat bit at everything it came near in its career through the streets. Soon the word was passed down the line that the feline was rabid, and then the scampering started. Those who were bitten are John Noble, Wilbur Debillus, Leonard Thomas, Charles Kahler, all lads 10 years old or younger, and two workmen employed by Frank Debillus, father of one of the boys. The animal was finally killed by a policeman.

Court Recognizes Indian Divorce.

Oklahoma City, July 13.—Oklahoma supreme court gave a decision yesterday recognizing as legal divorces obtained according to the old tribal customs of the Indians. In the case decided, a Pottawatomie left his wife and joined another woman of the tribe. Under the Pottawatomie law that constituted divorce.

THE WATER SITUATION.

Suggestions as to How Trouble May be Averted in the Future.

The article prepared by Col. Olds yesterday in regard to the water supply situation attracted no little attention. A number of suggestions have been made to Col. Olds as to methods of guarding against similar trouble in the future. One of these suggestions is that two dams be built on Walnut Creek, above the water works' intake, to impound the water and form catch-basins. One of these could be at the place where Yates' mill pond used to be, and another at some other point. When the stream, in a severe drought like the present one, diminished in flow, the water from the lower dam, could be let out through a sluice-gate in exactly the right quantity, and if it happened that the first reserve of water was exhausted then the gate of the upper dam could be opened and a fresh supply turned in. It should be borne in mind that in all these years the supply has come directly from the creek, without any dam at all. At the point where the intake pipe receives the water there is a rock ledge directly across the stream, the normal fall being about three feet and a timber a foot square also been bolted to this stone, so as to make a little basin, as large as a small room. The plan suggested will serve, it is asserted, for say ten years and can be carried out at a really trifling cost. At the same time, as suggested by Col. Olds yesterday, the very best talent in the country should be secured and a study made of the whole situation. It may be that water can be had in ample quantity by means of deep tubed wells, like the one at the penitentiary, for example, such wells to be in a cluster. Some tube wells in Texas are over three thousand feet in depth and give an inexhaustible supply. It has been asserted that at Raleigh it is not possible to get a large supply of artesian water, but perhaps one may be found. Col. Olds will this afternoon take a look at Crabtree creek and will tell about its condition.

There are almost as many formulas printed for shampoo mixtures as for face creams. Some of these are excellent, and others possess no special cleansing properties, while some are positively injurious and should never be experimented with. Here are a few formulas selected from a long list, and we can select from them according to our special needs.

Three eggs lightly beaten with three tablespoons of warm water. Rub the mixture into the hair and on the scalp, taking pains to cleanse quite as thoroughly as though you were using a soap shampoo. More eggs can be used if necessary, but the proportions of water should be a tablespoon to each egg. If the odor of the eggs is unpleasant to you, a little toilet water can be put in a half cup of olive oil soap, a level over the hair after the last rinsing.

An egg shampoo with soap jelly is sometimes more satisfactory than eggs alone, and the general rule is to use one teaspoonful of soap jelly to each egg, mixing them well; then fill a basin with two quarts of hot water, hold the head over it and suds the hair well with the egg mixture, using the water from the basin to assist in the cleansing; rinse in several waters and dry in the sun.

For blonde hair the following is advised: The whites of two eggs, four ounces of rose water, a half ounce of alcohol and a level teaspoonful of powdered borax. Rub into the hair as you would any other shampoo, cleansing both hair and scalp, and rinse well in several waters.

A simple shampoo consists of a half cup of olive oil soap, a level teaspoonful of baking soda and a generous pint of hot water. Let stand till cold when it will be a soft jelly. Wet the hair first with warm water, and shampoo with the jelly.

For very oily, dirty hair, take a tablespoon of green soap and dissolve it in one pint of hot water by constant stirring. Add a half ounce of alcohol. This is excellent where there is thick dandruff, as it is very cleansing to the scalp.

White hair is said to be greatly benefited by a shampoo composed of a small cup of shaved white soap in one and a half pints of boiling water, and when dissolved add a half pint of bay rum, a teaspoonful of powdered borax and twenty grains bisulphate of quinine. Keep in a glass jar. A few drops of laundry bluing in the last rinse water will help to prevent the yellow streaks which spoil many an otherwise snowy "crown of glory."

No matter which shampoo mixture you select, remember that the secret of successful shampooing consists of thoroughness in the washing and in the rinsing also. Three times for the rinsing are none too many and the last rinsing should be very complete. If the washing and rinsing are properly done, the hair will be soft, glossy, and full of life, and will be easily and quickly dried. Carelessness in the cleansing process is responsible when the hair is sticky, hard to dry and hard to comb.

Artificial hair should not be used to dry the hair. Sunshine and fresh air are best and the hair will retain its health and vitality much longer if dried in the sun. A few moments' brisk brushing is good, but the hair should never be pulled or the scalp irritated.

ANSWER TO QUESTIONS.

Tourist Readers: You will not need so long a list of toilet preparations for use on that trip. I will gladly make out what I think will be a complete outfit for your requirements, and will give you the addresses and prices for your convenience, and will also include a couple of formulas which you can prepare yourself if you wish. I would certainly suggest a good cleansing cream and a tonic or lotion as well. A massage cream which will also answer for a foundation for powder. A bottle of rose-water for use instead of plain water, which is often an irritant to a sensitive skin. A bottle of eye tonic, and a few other things, all of which can be neatly packed in a small toilet case and which will be a great comfort to you, as well as keep your complexion in fine condition. No charge is made for any advice from this department, and you are welcome to ask as many questions as you wish.

Busy Body: For very grimy hands use cleansing cream generously and thoroughly before scrubbing with soap and water. This will soften the dirt, and it can be more readily removed. If you will dissolve a little baking soda in a bowl of quite warm water and soak the hands in this for five minutes after using the cream you will soon be able to get the hands white. Use a mild soap, as very strong soaps wake the skin rough and the dirt is much harder to get out. Remember to rinse hands always in clear water. Apply a little cold cream immediately after washing the hands and before they are entirely dry, rubbing it well into the skin.
