Mephistopheles In a New Role

That of the "get-rich-quick" fellow-has certainly played havoc with some of the good American people, who otherwise would have followed in the footsteps of their forefathers, and instead of chasing elusive riches would now have had a home of their own. But he's been discovered, and the evil he did is fast being repaired-people are coming to see that, after all, the home is the mainstay in prosperity and success, and that it's best to anchor in a community where you know the real values.

Put your family on the road to future prosperity by buying one of the homes we are offering for sale. Property values in Raleigh are rising and they are going to be higher before frost, then why wait for a more convenient season to buy. Now is the accepted time. Here are some of the bargains we have to offer in nice cottages and homes:

70 YEARS OLD

The Able Vice-President of Southern Railroad Reaches Three Score and Ten Mark

A LIFE OF ACHIEVEMENT

Seventieth Anniversary of Raleigh's Distinguished Citizen Recalls His Valor on the Field of Battle and His Accomplishments in the Upbuilding of His State and the South-Remarkable Mind, Judgment of Men and Determination Responsible for His Splendid Suc-

Col. Alexander Boyd Andrews, as rave a soldier as ever fought for any cause, a railroad builder whose every effort was one of construction, and the foremost citizen of North Carolina today, was seventy years old yesterday. In all of these years Col. Andrews was active-or he should have been active if his career from the time he reached early manhood is an index to his childhood Col. Andrews was born near Franklinton, Franklin county, July 23, 1841. He was born a Tar Heel and will be one until he dies-an event which his thousands of friends hope will be far in the future.

Col. Andrews rose to the position of first vice-president of the Southern Railway, not through favoritism, but by means of a long series of accomplishments, of triumphs over obstacles that would have overcome a ess intrepid spirit. Of distinguished ancestry, he has done nothing that has not reflected credit on his breeding and on himself.

Col. Andrews enlisted as a private n Company E, First Notrh Carolina Cavairy. He was promoted to second leutenant, rose from that position to best lieutenant and was later made captain. He followed the immortar J. E. B. Stuart in many of his campaigns and no braver officer ever led a company than he. Capt. Andrews was with Stuart when this general made his memorable raid around McClellan's army. His horse was shot from under him at one time. but he was not injured until Septem her 22, 1863, when a bullet pierced his lung and shattered a part of his

His Greatest Achievement.

He was superintendent of the Raleigh & Gaston Railroad in 1867 and rose step by step to his present position of power. His greatest monument, however, is the Western North Carolina Railroad, which he had completed by his own indominatable will and resources, Col. Andrews fought obstacles erected by nature and overcame them. He promised the legislature that he would build that road and he kept his word. It was probably the most remarkable feat ever accomplished. The state and south were poor in resources at that time, but Col. Andrews was rich in determination and succeeded.

Strong In Body and Mind. It was said of Col. Andrews today that his phenomenal success in the railroad world has been due to noth ing more than his correct judgment of men. He displayed this judgment while a leader of cavalry in the War Between the Sections and today his judgment is great. His strong constitution was only exceeded by a stronger mind. Popular With All.

At seventy years of age Col. Andrews was in better physical condition than in five years. Like old wine, he improves as the years pass over his head. He has been most happy in his home life and his employes show a devotion to him that speaks well for his generalship. There be thousands of people who wil lwish for him many more anniversaries. Col. Andrews left today for a business trip to Washington.

To Remove to Norfolk.

Brought to State Prison.

Yesterday the sheriff of Lee cou y arrived at the state prison with three men, who have been given sentences during the past week. Superior court has been in session for the past week, with Judge Cook presiding. The three men, who have been brought to the prison are: R. L. Brady, given two years for receiving stolen goods; Heck Fore, given four years for highway robbery, and Clarence Moore, given three years for larceny.

It will be remembered that Clarence Moore is the man who stole a suit of clothes from a Sanford store and was captured by leaving a piece of paper in his old clothes, in the store, containing a Raleigh address. He was caught by Chief of Police J.

CURES OLD BLOOD DISEASES

Contagious Blood Poison is responsible for a great many old blood troubles, such as scrofulous affections, skin eruptions, catarrhal troubles, Rheumatism, ulcerating sores, etc. There is no such thing as ridding the system of these effects by killing the poisonous germs. Any medicine powerful enough to accomplish this would also destroy many of the delicate linings and tissues, and wreck the constitution. The only way to cure old blood troubles is to REMOVE the cause from the circulation, and for this purpose nothing is equal to S. S. S. It goes into the blood, and drives out every taint and poison, and makes this vital fluid pure, rich and nourishing. S. S. S. has long been known as the greatest of all blood purifiers and many thousands have rid themselves of old blood diseases by its use. It ALWAYS removes the impurity from the blood and cures these old disorders, whether inherited or acquired. Book on the blood and any medical advice free to all. S.S.S. is sold at drug stores.
