

ENTERTAIN MERCHANTS

Asheville U. C. T. Will Entertain During Fair Week

Asheville Council U. C. T. Making Arrangements to Entertain Merchants—Courses of Traveling Men Extended—New Road Policy Carried Out—Enthusiastic Over Good Roads.

(Special to The Times.)

Asheville, Sept. 6.—The wholesale houses of Asheville, having an established trade in this section, are arranging to entertain the retail merchants of the counties interested in the Western North Carolina fair, under the auspices of the Asheville Council United Travelers, while the fair is in progress.

Carrying out the new road policy determined on some weeks ago, by which the important highways are to be built and improved by contract labor, the board of county commissioners has awarded to contract to grade certain portions of the Burnsville road from Stockville to Democrat to J. M. Ramsey and Capt. Copenick, both well known contractors.

The distance between these two places is about five miles and it is one of the most important roads in the county. Part of the road, on the Democrat end has been graded by the convicts and the work of surfacing this part with sand-clay is to begin at once.

Some months ago a movement was started to have the commissioners borrow money to put the roads of the county in shape, it being evident that the convict force was not sufficient to build the roads that are needed and keep the present roads in repair.

According to J. E. Rector, who was in Marshall yesterday, the people of Madison county are very enthusiastic in the matter of good roads. In three portions of the county surveys have been ordered for roads and Benjamin H. Case has been appointed as county engineer to make these surveys and estimates of the cost of construction.

At the meeting of the county commissioners yesterday, at the request of certain prominent citizens of the county the commissioners ordered that a road be surveyed from Barnard through Hot Springs township to the Tennessee line. This route forms part of the Central highway. After the survey is made and the estimates are received an election will be called in this township to vote on a bond issue to build it. The road is about 15 miles in length.

They also ordered that a survey be made on a road about 17 miles in length from the Haywood county line through Spring Creek and Roaring Fork township to Hot Springs. An election is also to be called in these townships to vote on bonds. As parts of the roads are already constructed it is thought that the amount needed will not exceed $30,000, and it is likely that the issue will not exceed this amount.

NORRIS BEGINS FIGHT.

Nebraska Congressman Seeks Seat in the Upper House.

Washington, Sept. 6.—Representative Norris, of Nebraska, one of the insurgent leaders of the house, left for home last night to begin his fight to supplant Norris Brown in the senate. Mr. Brown is himself a progressive with a long record, but because he supported the President in his struggle for reciprocity the house progressive, who voted against reciprocity has declared war.

Mr. Norris said the only thing that will prevent his securing the nomination over Senator Brown is the present apathy among Republicans on account of the President's course on reciprocity. Mr. Norris said that if the Republicans turn out for the primaries he will be elected.

WASHINGTON NEWS.

Tobacco Season Opens Successfully—Era of Industrial Activity—Additional Building for Buggy Company.

(Special to The Times.) Washington, N. C., Sept. 6.—The tobacco season for this town and county opened in this city at the local warehouse today. The opening day proved a great success there being between ten and fifteen thousand pounds of tobacco on the floor at the first break. This tobacco was of very poor quality and brought from 15 to 18 dollars per hundred. Six buyers were present on the opening day, representing the American Tobacco Company, the Imperial Tobacco Company, the British American Tobacco Company, and a number of independent buyers.

This city is just now merging on another era of industrial activity, especially along building lines, and from present prospects all of the local carpenters, builders and contractors will have their hands full. Among the new buildings to be erected, are a large two-story brick building on M street by Messrs. W. B. Morton and Company, to replace their furniture store, which was burned several weeks ago. The Washington Buggy Company is now having constructed a large brick addition, 234x80 feet, and two stories high, which when completed, will nearly double the daily capacity of this manufacturing plant.

Reports coming into the city from farmers throughout the county are conflicting in regard to the damage done by the recent drought. Some sections report a very fine crop, while other report the crops damaged, especially the cotton and tobacco to the extent of thirty or forty per cent.

PASTOR SILENT ON LETTERS.

Curious Crowds Flock to Easton Church, Anticipating Statement.

Easton, Pa., Sept. 6.—There were unusually large audiences today at Christ Lutheran Church, of which the Rev. Elmer E. Snyder, the star witness in the sensational letter case, is pastor. It was mainly on his testimony that Miss Harriet Dewitt, accused of being the wielder of the poisoned pen, was held by United States Commissioner Hurner for trial in the United States district court.

The clergyman when asked if he would make any statement from the pulpit in reference to the scurrilous letters, said there would be no reference to them. He declared that he will give out a statement in a couple of days to define his position. Mr. Snyder said that he had naturally been annoyed by the charges made against him in the letters, but it was not until they restored the defaming his wife's character that he became anxious to learn the identity of the offending writer.

POLICE STOP DOG'S BURIAL.

Woman Wanted Carcass Put in Grave Beside Husband's Body.

Lexington, Mass., Sept. 6.—Herbert Wellington, superintendent of the local cemeteries, this afternoon enlisted the aid of the local police to stop the burial of a dog in the cemetery that shelters the bones of many of the most prominent of those who were present and assisted when the country was in its birth struggle.

Mrs. Sarah Bowman Vanness, a former regent of the Daughters of the American Revolution, wishes to have a dog buried in her family plot, beside her husband's body, but police action stopped her at the grave, and she was forced to take the dog's carcass back home and bury it on her estate temporarily at least, although it is believed she will correct the order.

WAKE FOREST OPENS

Today's Registration Shows 331, With Others Coming

Largest Matriculation in History of College—With 331 Already Enrolled, Every Incoming Train Brings More—Brightest Prospects Since College Began 78 Years Ago—Few Faculty Changes.

(Special to The Times.)

Wake Forest, Sept. 6.—If an opening day may be taken as a prediction, this will be the most successful year in the history of Wake Forest College, for the enrollment and general prospects for a bright year were never so evident. More students registered than on any first day since the formal opening of the college as a manual labor institute 78 years ago. Students from many states are among the student body but of course the majority hail from within the borders of this state. The registration at the close of the day was 331 and more are arriving on every train.

There have been few changes in the faculty. Prof. Jay B. Hubbell has been elected associate professor of English language to succeed Dr. Edward Payson Morton. Prof. Hubbell is a graduate of Richmond college, and has done graduate work in Columbia University beside having taught a year at the University of North Carolina.

Prof. Hubert Poteat, who has been spending the summer with his father, President W. L. Poteat, will leave in the near future for Hotchkiss School, at Bridgeport, Conn., where he is a member of the faculty. Prof. Poteat has recently been elected to the chair of Latin in Wake Forest but will not assume his duties until next year.

Miss Iola Temple, head nurse of the Morehead City Hospital has been elected head nurse of the college hospital. Bursar E. B. Earnshaw is superintendent for the current year.

WOMAN RUNS GAMING HOUSE.

Minneapolis Society Ladies Lose Large Sums in Resort.

Minneapolis, Minn., Sept. 6.—An ultra-fashionable gambling house has been closed by the police, after running for several weeks, during which time hundreds of women have been squandering their time and money in the place.

A highly respected society woman of the city ran the place. She was successful in her enterprise and the curb at 723 Nicollet avenue was constantly lined with limousines and the town cars of rich women. All sorts of games were played, the police say, a general raid would have been made, but for the select quality of the customers of the place.

The closing of the house was caused by the wrath of an irate well-to-do grocer of the city, who discovered that his wife had dissipated a large portion of his bank account in the beautifully furnished rooms at 723 Nicollet avenue. The owner was "brought up on the carpet" immediately, and closed the doors of the establishment to avoid trouble with the police.

The young lady has been under a doctor's care, and her parents are fearful of telling her of the sad event.

Her engagement to Rene Matas was announced some time ago. He was formerly of this city and was well known in social art circles. He returned to Spain a year ago. HONORS 30 YEARS DEFERRED.

Doctor Finlay Given Credit at Last for Yellow Fever Discovery.

New York, Sept. 6.—Scientists are determined that the rest of the world shall recognize in his lifetime the inestimable boon that Dr. Charles J. Finlay, of Havana, conferred upon mankind when he formed the correct idea of the yellow fever is transmitted, proved his theory by self-inoculation and forced it upon enlightened physicians and sanitarians after many had rejected it, regarding him as a nuisance.

It is now just 30 years and two weeks since Dr. Finlay read a paper before the Royal Academy of Havana in which he propounded the novel theory that yellow fever was propagated through the agency of mosquitoes, and it is just six weeks ago that a physician in Edinburgh, commenting on Dr. Finlay and his discovery, has given him full credit for his achievement.

Dr. Finlay was born in Cuba and has devoted his life to the inhabitants of the island.

MINISTERS CHIDE SMART SET.

Newport, R. I., Sept. 6.—The clergymen of the Episcopal churches of New England and Middletown met a few days ago and took combined action against the entertaining in the summer colony of Newport on Sundays. They drew up a circular letter and forwarded the same to the Bishop of Rhode Island, the Rt. Rev. James De Wolf Perry, by whom it was signed and indorsed.

Today in all the Episcopal churches, Trinity, Emmanuel, St. John's and St. George's and those in Middletown the rectors read the circular. Evidently the circular letter was brought about by the costume dance given by Mr. and Mrs. Leonard M. Thomas at the Newport Golf Club last week, which began Saturday night and ended at 6 o'clock Sunday morning.

Today the baseball park was thrown open and a baseball team of the New England League played the Newport team a packed audience, which included some of the clergymen, some of the aldermen and other officials and citizens.

32 GLASSES OF BEER FATAL.

Baltimore Man, Kills Himself in Effort to Dispose of 100 Drinks.

Baltimore, Md., Sept. 6.—Fataally mistaken in his estimate of his capacity, Morris Katz, aged 25, died here yesterday after drinking only 32 of the 100 glasses of beer of which he had planned to dispose. Coroner Abercrombie rendered a verdict of death from alcoholism.

Katz had won $5 on a wager. He was extremely fond of beer and decided to spend the whole amount of his winnings for the amber fluid. He consumed twenty glasses of the beverage, and his appetite was but little diminished. Following his disposal of the twelfth glass thereafter, he lurched out of the saloon and fell dead at the corner of Eden and Pratt streets.

Centenary of Noted Astronomer.

Washington, D. C., Sept. 6.—One hundred years ago today saw the birth, in Georgetown, of James M. Gillis, the world-famous astronomer, who, according to his biographers, "first in all the land conducted a working observatory, who first gave his whole time to practical astronomical work, who first published a volume of observations, first prepared a catalogue of stars and planets and carried into effect the construction of a working observatory as contracted with one intended chiefly for instruction." Dr. Gillis made numerous valuable improvements in astronomical instruments and it was under his charge that the government observatory in Washington became one of the best in the world. His death occurred in this city, February 9, 1865.

Maybe the reason a man will never write to his wife is the love letters he wrote her before she was.

ACTS OF LAWLESSNESS

Reign of Terror Seems to Invade Wilmington

Murder Follows Upon the Heels of One Another, and "Crime Stalks Abroad"—Walter Henry Shot by James Wilson—Pearl Pin Stolen by Hotel Waiter Found.

(Special to The Times.)

Wilmington, N. C., Sept. 6.—Still another murder to be added to the long list of negro killings here during the past six or eight months, occurred early Monday night, when Walter Henry, colored, was shot and killed with his own gun by James Wilson. The tragedy occurred at Henry's home near the Lingo box factory, east of the city, about eight o'clock last night. The difficulty resulted from a quarrel over ten cents. After killing Henry, Wilson fled, and has not been apprehended. Quite a number of city and county officers engaged in the pursuit.

From the facts in the case it seems that the two men were members of a hunting party Monday. They had returned to Henry's house and were engaged in conversation. Henry borrowed twenty-five cents from Wilson some time ago and they engaged in a dispute. Henry contended that he had paid fifteen cents of the money at one time and ten cents at another. Wilson claimed that he had received fifteen cents at one time, but had never been paid the remaining amount.

Finally Wilson is said to have shown a knife and to have called Henry a liar. The latter then ran around the house. Wilson seized Henry's gun and ran around the other way to meet the fleeing negro. When the front of the house was reached, Wilson fired the contents of the gun took effect in the back of Henry's head and neck. The latter pitched forward on his face and it is believed that death must have resulted instantly. Wilson then fled, taking the shotgun with him.

News of the shooting soon reached here, and city and county officers went to the scene. Search of the vicinity was made by a half-dozen or more officers but nothing was seen of the murderer's whereabouts was discovered.

Walter Henry, the negro who was killed, was about twentythree years of age, and he worked at the Lingo box factory. He is survived by his wife.

George Maides, a negro, is at the Walker Memorial Hospital with a badly battered skull as a result of being struck with a weight propelled by the hand of Mr. J. A. Riggs, last night. The matter occurred in Mr. Riggs' store in East Wilmington Saturday night. It is said to have resulted from slightly offensive language used by the negro. It seems that the negro purchased some tobacco from Mr. Riggs and then denied that it had been delivered. Mrs. Riggs said that it had been delivered, whereupon, the negro is said to have used insulting language toward her.

Mr. Riggs entered about this time and demanded an apology. Maides then made a lunge at Mr. Riggs, the latter picked up a weight and struck the negro on the head several times with the weapon. The surgeon at the hospital reported the matter to the police authorities, after Maides went to the institution for treatment. A warrant was issued for Mr. Riggs and he was recognized in the sum of $100 for his appearance.

Arthur Dingle, a negro, who was employed as a waiter at the Seashore Hotel on Wrightsville Beach during the summer just closed, was arrested yesterday at Marion, S. C., with a very valuable pearl pin in his possession. Inquiry of Manager Edgar L. Hinton, of the hotel, resulted in the information that the pin was stolen from Mrs. David Evans, of Chicago, a guest at the hotel more than a month ago. An officer was sent to Marion yesterday for Dingle. The trial will be held here as soon as the man is brought back. How the South Carolina officers became aware of the fact that Dingle had the jewelry in his possession, is a mystery, unless he was arrested under some other charge and it was then ascertained that he held the valuable article.

The following message was soon sent from Recorder Furlong's court: "Hold Arthur Dingle. Will send officer Sunday. Charge larceny of brooch."

It is expected that the preliminary investigation into the negro's case will be held some time this week.

The jewelry lost by Mrs. Evans was of very valuable nature and Manager Hinton is highly pleased that it has been recovered. He stated that the articles stolen were left dining table while Mrs. Evans and her daughter were at breakfast one morning several weeks ago. They left the dining room, but returned in a few minutes. A thorough search failed to locate the jewelry. Dingle was questioned closely at the time, as were all the other waiters. Each and everyone protested that he knew nothing of the pin. Mrs. Evans was so anxious to recover the lost jewelry that she offered a reward of $20 for its recovery. However, nothing was heard of the matter until the telegram of Saturday to Mr. Hinton. He has notified Mrs. Evans of the recovery of the property. The jewelry will be forwarded to the owner as soon as the trial is held.

Lizzie Madison, alias Lizzie Butler, a negro woman, was assaulted in terrible manner Monday afternoon and was beaten into unconsciousness by her assailant, George Blue. The affair happened just before the Ninth and Nixon streets near "Green Front," a little cottage just before the intersection of 9th street with the Coast Line tracks is reached. Blue made his escape after beating the woman with a heavy piece of timber. He was not captured until yesterday morning. He was found a short distance from the city by Mr. L. T. Tyndal, a deputy sheriff, and was brought in to the city hall, where he is being held pending the result of the woman's injuries.

MORSE UMPIRES PRISON GAME.

Famous Criminals Among Players and Spectators at Atlanta.

Atlanta, Ga., Sept. 6.—Charles W. Morse, former banker and steamship owner, umpired a baseball game within the walls of the federal prison here today. The opposing teams were made up of first-grade convicts, all of whom are entitled to privileges for good behavior.

Morse seemed to enjoy the fresh air and also to have forgotten none of the fine points of the game he used to love.

Among the players on the two nines were Lupo, "the wolf," a notorious black hand man, and Edward Valentine Lee, alias Carmichael, the former paymaster's clerk of the battleship, Georgia, who was recently caught at Buffalo.

Christopher Columbus Wilson and F. X. Butler, of wireless fame, who recently began their terms in the prison, and a dozen others whose names have been feared in the underworld, were among those in the grand stands.
