Raleigh and the whole state is glad that Governor Harmon is coming here for his week. The Ohio governor is one of the greatest democrats of the country.

Now that the auditorium is complete and plans are being made for the opening, a little of the early history of the building will be interesting. The bill, providing for the auditorium was drawn by Mr. W. B. Jones.

BUY AT HOME.

From time to time we have urged our people to buy always and all the time from the home merchant.

begulle one into making purchases elsewhere. The home merchant can supply anything that the mail order house can and does give as good a bargain.

The Record has always been a stickler for buying all you have to buy from home merchants.

The fall season is about to open. The Greensboro merchants are expecting, and will undoubtedly experience, good business.

Greensboro contains establishments equal to, and in many respects superior to, those in other cities. The latest fashions, the most attractive styles and goods, the novelties from abroad, are all to be secured here, and at reasonable cost.

Our merchants are one of the city's biggest assets. When we help them we help the city and help ourselves.

THE PRESIDENT'S TOUR.

President Taft made the start from Beverly this morning on his speaking tour of the middle and far western states. He went to Boston by motor car and will leave that city tonight.

The trip will occupy forty-six days, during which time the president will visit twenty-four states and travel approximately 13,000 miles. He is scheduled to deliver nearly 200 set speeches, in addition to innumerable impromptu addresses.

The first speech of the trip is to be made tomorrow morning at Syracuse. There the president will deliver an address to the farmers and others assembled at the New York State Fair.

Some of the larger cities and towns where he will stop, after visiting Syracuse and Erie, are Detroit, Bay City, Grand Rapids, Peoria, St. Louis, Kansas City, Hutchinson, Topeka, Waterloo, Des Moines, Ottumwa, wa, Omaha, Lincoln, Hastings, Cheyenne, Laramie, Salt Lake City, Pocatello, Boise, Walla Walla, Lewiston, Spokane, Tacoma, Bellingham, Everett, Seattle, Tacoma, Centralia, Portland, Sacramento, San Francisco, Los Angeles, Butte, Billings, Livingston, Sheridan, Deadwood, Lead, Rapid City, Pierre, Aberdeen, Mankato, Minneapolis, St. Paul, Green Bay, Oshkosh, Fond du Lac, Milwaukee, Racine, Kenosha, Chicago and Pittsburgh.

The itinerary. It is to be noted, covers the most of the states which may be regarded as debatable ground in the coming presidential contest, and the most attention will be paid to the sections where the support of the La Follette-Bourne organization is supposed to be strongest.

Press Comment.

Raleigh in 1860.

That clipping about Raleigh's population in 1858 being so disappointing led this writer to make a little census investigation for 1860. That census gave Raleigh a population of 4,780; Wake county, 28,627; Greenville's population was only 828; Pitt county, 16,080. There were only twenty-five incorporated towns in the State, according to that census.

Mushrooms, Edible and Otherwise.

Every year about this time, deaths from the effects of eating poisonous mushrooms are reported in the metropolitan district. The number recorded thus far—19 in three days, with some 30 persons critically ill—is in excess of the average, chiefly because the heavy local rains have produced an unusually plentiful crop of fungi.

South Carolina on Trial.

Ira B. Jones, chief justice of South Carolina, has sent his resignation of his office, to take effect January 9th next, to Governor Bleasdale, and has authorized the Lancaster News to state that "if Providence permits, I will certainly be a candidate in the primary next August for nomination as Governor."

It is hoped that there will be only these two entries for the race so that the State may prove to a censorious world the true quality of its citizenship and be judged finally and justly by the determination of this contest. That there will be a contest no one need doubt for a minute. Bleasdale will not abandon the field, and Jones, we are assured, will "be a difficult man to handle on the stump."

Judge Jones was born in Newberry county, of which county Bleasdale is also a native. He was graduated from Erskine College in 1870, was admitted to the bar three years later and was elected to the legislature in 1890, was speaker of the house of representatives for three years, was vice-president of the state constitutional convention in 1895, was elected associate justice of the state supreme court in 1896, and for the last three years has been chief justice of that court. His present term would expire in 1914.

A sound lawyer, a just judge, a strong man of the highest personal character, tenacious of his opinions and fearless in their expression, and clean in his living and thinking, we shall be deeply disappointed if the thinking and respectable people of the State without regard to factional differences do not flock to his standard and aid in the redemption of South Carolina from the shame of its present pitiful condition.—Times-Dispatch.

Pooling Tobacco.

The tobacco farmers of North Carolina are now discussing the wisdom of pooling their tobacco, very much on the order of their brethren in Kentucky, but unlike their Kentucky brethren, with reference to the lawlessness indulged in by the latter.

The night riding and barn burning injured the cause of the Kentucky farmers. They could have accomplished so much more by peaceful methods than by handling the proposition as they did.

We hope to see the farmers in time organizing stock companies and manufacturing the product of their fields. This it strikes a pool of tobacco for the entire State. Suppose the farmers of Wilson county would subscribe sufficient stock to locate a factory in Wilson. Those who could do so would pay for stock with the cash and those who could not could exchange tobacco for same.

Under the decision of the supreme court which will eventually separate the American Tobacco Companies into separate and independent entities there is every reason to believe that the opportunity awaits new capital and energy in the manufacture of tobacco and why should not the farmer handle the product from field to consumer? It is his property, because he made it "in the sweat of his face," and if there is a good profit in the manufactured article and from the experience of the American Tobacco Company "why should not the farmer get it?"

DON'T WANT FREE FERRY Brunswick Unwilling to Pay Her Part

But Legislative Enactment is Mandatory and Matter May Be Taken Into the Courts—White Man Arrested on Charge of Retailing.

(Special to The Times.)

Wilmington, N. C., Sept. 15.—Temporarily, at least, the proposal to establish a free ferry between Brunswick county and New Hanover county at some convenient point on the river front of Wilmington, with in easy access of both counties, has received a set back owing to the refusal of Brunswick at a conference held yesterday between representatives of that county, New Hanover and the city of Wilmington, to defray 30 per cent of the entire cost, which amount was assessed by legislative enactment. The probabilities now are that suit will be entered against Brunswick to compel them to join in providing a utility which is not only made mandatory by legislative enactment, but which would greatly advance the business and agricultural interests of both counties.

The session was held yesterday in New Hanover court house. New Hanover was represented by Chairman Duncan McEachern, Brunswick by C. Ed. Taylor, Esq., of Southport, and the city of Wilmington by Mayor Jos. D. Smith. Mr. McEachern was elected chairman, and Mayor Smith secretary of the committee, which is a permanent one. Mr. Taylor was accompanied to the meeting yesterday by Mr. R. C. Cool, secretary of the Southport chamber of commerce.

When the meeting was started, Mr. Taylor stated that he had been appointed to represent Brunswick with restricted authority and express directions. He said that Brunswick is not in a position to pay its cost of the free ferry. He stated that the board of commissioners there had been advised that it has not the authority to pledge the faith of the county, and is not in position therefore to proceed to comply with the legislative enactment.

Chairman McEachern stated that while he would not undertake to tell Brunswick county what to do in the matter, that the act makes the establishment of the proposed free ferry mandatory, and not optional. He stated that the people of the northern end of Brunswick county want to come into New Hanover county but that the present ferryage is prohibitory. He said that if Brunswick county is not willing to pay its small percentage of cost for establishing the free ferry, only 30 per cent, then Brunswick should give to New Hanover the people of the northern end of the county. New Hanover would then provide the ferry.

Mr. Taylor, Brunswick's representative, stated after the meeting that if there had been a proviso for a minimum ferryage charge, for maintenance of the utility he felt there would be little objection anywhere in Brunswick county. He thought that an entirely free ferry is not practical.

Following an affray last night near 11th and Castle streets, Walter Fell, a wheelwright, severely cut George Cameron, a printer, inflicting a gash about eight or ten inches long. Cameron was sent to the Walker Memorial hospital. Officers Coleman and Thompson arrested both men and they were first sent to the police station. Bell was kept in custody under charge of assault with a deadly weapon. Cameron will remain at the hospital for several days at least. The trial will be held in Recorder's court as soon as Cameron is well enough to attend.

William Thomas, a white man of Folkstone, Onslow county was arrested here yesterday by United States Deputy Marshall C. O. Knox, charged with retailing, and operating an illicit distillery. He was carried before United States commissioner George Harris, of this city. In default of $500 bond was remanded to the county jail to await preliminary hearing on Wednesday, September 20th. The warrant upon which the man was arrested was issued by Commissioner Harris, upon affidavit of Mr. J. H. P. Adams, deputy United States collector of internal revenue.
