"THE HOUSE BY THE SIDE OF THE ROAD."

There are the hermit souls that live withdrawn
In the peace of self-content;
There are souls, like stars, that dwell apart
In a fellowless firmament;
There are pioneer souls that blaze their paths
Where highways never ran,
But let me live by the side of the road
And be a friend to man.

Let me live in a house by the side of the road
Where the race of men go by—
The men who are good and men who are bad,
As good and as bad as I.
I would not sit in the scorners' seat,
Or hurl the cynic's ban,
Let me live in a house by the side of the road
And be a friend to man.

I see from my house by the side of the road
By the side of the highway of life
The men who press with the ardor of hope,
The men who are faint with the strife,
But I turn not away from their smiles nor their tears—
Both parts of an infinite plan—
Let me live in my house by the side of the road
And be a friend to man.

I know there are brook-gladdened meadows ahead
And mountains of wearisome height;
That the road passes on through the long afternoon
And stretches away to the night,
But still I rejoice when the travelers rejoice,
And weep with the strangers that moan,

Nor live in my house by the side of the road
Like a man who dwells alone.
Let me live in a house by the side of the road
Where the race of men go by—
They are good, they are bad, they are weak, they are strong,
Wise, foolish—so am I.
Then why should I sit in the scorners' seat,
Or hurl the cynic's ban?
Let me live in my house by the side of the road
And be a friend to man.

KENNTNESS BOOK CLUB.

Misses Studie and May Johnson Entertain Club at First Meeting of Season.

Misses Studie and May Johnson entertained the Kenntness Book Club yesterday afternoon at their home on North Person street. This was the first meeting of the season, a kind of reunion after the summer vacation.

The program of the winter, a study of the cities of Europe, was discussed.

Mrs. William Royall, who had been elected president of the club for the coming season, sent in her resignation, Miss May Johnson being elected in her place. Mrs. J. M. Winfree was elected in her place.

With Mr. and Mrs. Bergthold.

Last night at their home in Cameron Park, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Bergthold entertained the members of the cabinet of the Young Men's Christian Association of A. & M. College and a number of young ladies at a delightful party at their home in Cameron Park.

Rugs, sofa pillows and comfortable rocking chairs made the porch a most inviting gathering place. In truly hospitable southern fashion Mr. and Mrs. Bergthold received their guests on the steps.

Punch was served by Mrs. Bergthold from a punch bowl decorated in vines and bunches of grapes.

The guests were: Misses Lucile Johns, Gladys Yates, Christine Gower, May Montague, Naomi Alford, Pauline Hill, Henrietta Schwartz, Frances Park, Miss Brown, Miss Cooper, Miss Emily Walker, Miss Bass, of Raleigh, and Miss Jenkins of New Bern; Messrs. Marriage Celebrated in Beautiful Home Ceremony.

(Special to The Times.)

Durham, N. C., Sept. 27.—The marriage yesterday morning of Miss Margaret Cortez Elliott and Mr. David Thomas Dickey, both of this city, was a beautiful home ceremonial, performed by Rev. T. M. Grant, of the Mangum Street Methodist church and celebrated at the residence of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Braxton Elliott, at 510 McManon street.

The house was prettily decorated in golden red and ferns with a color scheme of yellow and white. At the hour of nine, after Miss Bessie Whitted had delightfully sung "Because I Love You," Miss Loraine Proctor accompanying her on the piano, Mendelssohn's wedding march was sounded, and the bridal party entered the parlor. First came the ribbon bearers, Misses Mozelle Newton and Eula Rosemond, carrying the white satin with which they formed an aisle, down which the party marched. Master Mantel Vickers bore the ring, and from the dining room came Miss Hattie Elliott, sister, and maid or honor. The groom entered with Prof. H. E. Spence, his best man, and Misses Ruth Elliott and Marguerite Jourdan, the second pair of ribbon girls, brought up the ribbon as the party halted. During the ceremony, the pianist played "The Flower Song."

The bride was dressed in a going-away gown of brown with everything to match. She carried bride's roses for a bridal bouquet. The maid of honor was dressed in white serge, with large picture hat and yellow chrysanthemums for a bouquet. They received a large number of handsome presents.

The bride is well known to Durham, liked greatly for the goodness and is an attractive young woman. She weds a splendid young man, one of the leading salesmen in the city. They will spend a few days on their wedding trip and returning will live with Mr. and Mrs. M. R. Vickers.

Invitations Out to Marriage of Popular Couple.

(Special to The Times.)

Durham, N. C., Sept. 27.—Invitations were issued yesterday announcing the marriage Wednesday morning, October 11th, of Miss Annie Mae Corbett, of this city, and Dr. L. S. Booker, also of Durham.

The engagement of this young couple was announced several weeks ago. The marriage will be celebrated at ten o'clock in the morning. The couple will take a bridal tour, a portion of which will include a visit to Dr. Booker's home in Richmond, from which place he came three years ago. This is to be a marriage in which Durham will be greatly interested.

Henderson Socials.

(Special to The Times.)

Henderson, N. C., Sept. 27.—Mrs. B. Frank Harris gave a beautiful card party to the Bridge Junior Club at her home on Church street, yesterday morning at 10:30 o'clock.

The parlor and hall were beautifully decorated for the occasion with ferns and flowers. There were two tables and artistic score cards. Elegant refreshments were served in courses.

Those present were: Mrs. Harris, hostess; Mrs. Watson, Misses Julia Cooper, Genevieve Cooper, Mary Perry, Maria Tucker, Jessie Harris and Helen Lamb.

Misses Hattie Cooper and Bessie Watkins, of Henderson, and Miss Wright, of Durham, left yesterday to attend school at Converse College, South Carolina.

Miss Fannie Cooper, of Henderson, left some days ago for St. Mary's School, Raleigh, N. C.

Miss Mary Hufham, daughter of the beloved Dr. J. D. Hufham, passed through Henderson on her way to Converse College, S. C., where she has been a teacher several years, in fact, since her graduation there. She is a favorite here and a very intellectual young lady. She has just taken a degree at Columbia University, New York.

Session Today Given Over to Manufacturers for Demonstrations.

(Special to The Times.)

Asheville, N. C., Sept. 27.—Little business transacted at the morning session of the convention of the Virginia-Carolina Photographers Association.

The session was given to the manufacturers represented at the convention for plate demonstrations, which were the Central Dry Plate, Cramer Dry Plate, Seed Dry Plate, and Hammer Dry Plate companies and the afternoon session was much the same. The Eastman Kodak and Ansco companies made paper demonstrations. There were flashlight demonstrations by the Towles Schofield Co. At last night's session a number of communications were read and the committees on nomination, meeting place, entertainment and resolutions appointed.

SHOT DEAD IN CROWD.

Dr. Pettit Murdered by Farmer Neighbor at Lovington, Va., Through Old Grudge.

Lovington, Va., Sept. 27.—In front of the Virginia hotel, here in full view of hundreds of country folks, Dr. James T. Pettit, a prominent physician of Roseland and a member of Gov. Mann's staff was shot this afternoon by Benjamin Hubbard, son of Col. James L. Hubbard, a wealthy Virginia landowner.

Approaching Pettit from behind, Hubbard shot him in the head, and then walked to his victim and fired five more shots from an automatic gun. Five of the six shots took effect in the head. Any one of them would have caused instant death.

Judge Gordon summoned a special grand jury and within three hours Hubbard was indicted and secretly hurried out of the county. His trial was set for October 6th.

Hubbard is fifty years old. He is a nephew of R. T. Hubbard of Buckingham county and a cousin of Edmund Hubbard, commonwealth's attorney of that county.

Dr. Pettit was forty-five years old and had for years been practicing near Hubbard's plantation, ten miles from Lovington. He was immensely popular.

The cause of the shooting cannot be ascertained.

Maj. R. T. Daniel of Weldon was in the city today.

First we wish for rain, then we wish it would stop.

Tremendous Force of Explosion.

Toulon, France, Sept. 27.—The tremendous force of explosions which destroyed the battleship Liberte Monday was again indicated today when a piece of the Liberte's armor-plate was drifted from the side of the battleship Republique upon which it fell. The broken plate weighed thirty-seven tons and was hurled 225 yards.
