TRIPOLI NOT CAPITULATED

Some Reports Say Italians Are In Possession of the City, Others Say Not

ITALIANS GET HUFFY

Tripoli Telegram to Rome Says Bombardment Was Continued Yesterday—Italian Delegation to Inter-parliamentary Union Are Expected to Withdraw—Report That Italian Battleship Was Blown Up—War Presages Second Coming of Christ, According to Pastor Russell.

Rome, Oct. 5—Sixty steamers engaged ordinarily in emigrant traffic have been made over into transports and are now ready to start for Tripoli. The army of occupation, generally is considered superior to the force actually necessary for the proposed operations. The plan is to conquer the country rapidly with an imposing strength which will require a great display of troops. Triangle constituted by province of Tripoli, is nearly four times Italy's size, each side being one thousand miles long. From the army of occupation the war office intends forming a special body to later garrison the province.

Italian Battleship Blown Up. London, Oct. 5—A dispatch to the Chronicle from Constantinople says a cablegram received there from Tripoli, via Malta, states the Italian battleship Conte-Di-Cavour was blown up by a Turkish sea fighter off Tripoli and the crew and troops aboard the vessel perished.

Bombardment Continued. Rome, Oct. 5—A Tripoli telegram states: "The bombardment continued yesterday. The fire was directed against the outer defenses. Sultan and Hamidieh batteries were dismantled. The cruisers Giuseppe and Garibaldi entered the harbor. They found the Turks had removed the sights of the guns and evacuated. No capitulation has been made."

Italians Get Huff. Paris, Oct. 5—Several members of the Italian delegation to the inter-parliamentary union are expected to withdraw because of the action of the council of the union in adopting a resolution criticizing the Italian declaration of war. The resolution submitted opened with a reference to postponement of the meeting of the inter-parliamentary council, which was to have met at Rome, on account of the "epidemic of cholera now existing in Italy." Italian delegates say there is no epidemic of cholera in Italy and asserted if the council did not meet in Italy the entire Italian group would withdraw. The resolution continued that the council expressed its strong regret that "so small regard has been shown for the guiding principles of peace and justice of the Hague conferences and that recent declaration of war by Italy has been so precipitated that even the opportunity for understanding has been rendered impossible."

BODY OF ADMIRAL RESTS IN ARLINGTON

Washington, Oct. 5—Naval honors seldom accorded to an American, characterized the funeral of Rear Admiral Winfield Scott Schley today, who died in New York Monday. The body rested in the family home during the morning, preparatory to the private services at 1:30 o'clock. The public services were held at St. John's Episcopal church. Cadets from Annapolis Naval Academy, sailors from the naval stations at Washington and Philadelphia, light artillery and army bands from Fort Myer and Washington barracks and the dead admiral's comrades and friends composed the procession that escorted the body from St. John's church to its resting place in Arlington. Imposing floral gifts filled the church, including a wreath from survivors of the Greely Arctic relief expedition, rescued by Schley at Cape Sabine in 1884; and from the Cuban legation and other sources.

FOR VALUE OF HORSE

Suit Instituted Against Grand Juror

Freeman and Lassiter Have Had Summons Issued in Suit for $300 Against J. C. Chamblee, Member of Last Grand Jury in Wake County.

A summons was issued today on J. C. Chamblee, a member of the last grand jury of Wake county, in behalf of Lassiter & Freeman, the liverymen, who has instituted suit for the recovery of $300, the value of a horse which Chamblee is alleged to have permanently disabled on Friday of last week. Chamblee and three other members of the grand jury hired a team from Lassiter & Freeman and drove to Wakefield to inspect a convict camp, returning by way of Zebulon. It is alleged that Chamblee was driving and that he drove so fast as to cause permanent injury to one of the horses. It is claimed that the other members of the committee took the lines from Chamblee and drove a part of the way back to the city.

The horse in question is the property of Mr. Percy B. Fleming, who has been keeping the animal at this stable. Since Mr. Fleming had little use for the animal he gave instructions to the liverymen to rent the horse out occasionally for his board. Since the animal was in their care, Messrs. Lassiter & Freeman have entered suit for the value of the horse.

It was reported from the veterinary hospital today that there was no chance of the animal's ever being strong and well again. Mr. J. C. Little represents the plaintiffs in the action.

Ask a butcher for a pin, and ten to one he'll produce a safety pin.

TRIED FOR LARCENY ANOTHER VERDICT

A Wake county jury, composed of young but intelligent men, gave Judge Peebles and Solicitor Norris a few pointers last evening and created much amusement in the court room. Lonnie Chamblee, a white man, had been tried for the larceny of a $75-dollar mule, but it seems that the son-in-law of the prosecutor got on a lark with the defendant, and the mule was in the son-in-law's possession when it mysteriously disappeared and was found later. Judge Peebles charged that to find the man guilty felonious intent must be shown, but the jury did not see felonious intent in the taking of the mule and found Chamblee guilty of embezzlement. Chamblee was discharged. Solicitor Norris asked if the man should be tried for embezzlement. "Turn him loose," ordered the judge. "The next time they would find him guilty of larceny."

CHAMBLEE WAS NOT TURNED LOOSE, HOWEVER, AS A CAPIAS WAS WAITING FOR HIM FROM DURHAM, WHERE HE IS WANTED ON THE CHARGE OF SELLING LIQUOR.

Mr. B. O. Beckwith went to the rescue of Chamblee and upheld his side in the trial.

FOUNDER'S DAY AT THE STATE NORMAL

(Special to The Times.) Greensboro, Oct. 5.—"Founders Day" is being fittingly celebrated today at the Normal and Industrial College. The leading address was delivered by Mr. Clarence H. Poe, editor of the Progressive Farmer. The basis of his remarks was as follows: "That the average child outside North Carolina has a 50 per cent longer school term, a 50 per cent better chance for an education, in spite of our decade of educational progress, than the average boy or girl inside North Carolina; that the citizens with one tenth our wealth are giving their country's children ten months' schools, while North Carolina doesn't give five; in short, that the great educational crusade in which Melver, Aycock and Joyner have been leaders is yet but half won."

Geneva, N. Y., Oct. 5.—The new comet recently discovered by Beliansky in Europe was observed this morning by Dr. William R. Brooks at Smith Observatory in right ascension, 11 hours 27 minutes 40 seconds north; declination, 11 degrees 12 minutes, or in the eastern part of the constellation of Leo. The comet is visible to the naked eye.

STRENGTH OF THE ARMY NOW ONLY 77,523

Washington, Oct. 5.—One of the most important lessons learned during the recent Texas maneuvers was the necessity of keeping all troops, battery, and company organizations at full war length. An order just issued, fixes the strength of the army at 77,523. This includes large detachments of scouts, prison guards, signal corps men, and others in non-free duty, so that the normal strength of the actual fighting force is reduced to 64,698, including all troops serving outside of the United States.

DR. KILGO AT TORONTO

Was One of Speakers At Methodist Conference

Evangelical Methodism as One of the Forces for the Attainment of World-Wide Peace—Bishop Ross Provoked Cheers by Telling Canadians We Want to Annex Them.

Toronto, Oct. 5.—Bishop Kilgo, Methodism as one of the most potent available forces towards the attainment of the ideal of world-wide brotherhood, was discussed from well-worn points of view by the delegates to the Fourth Evangelical Methodist Conference, Japan, Australia, and England, joined with the delegates from the United States, in discussing the topic.

The convention began the second day's work with five hundred delegates and about twice as many other visitors and began from various countries. During the session Rev. Henry H. H. of New Castle on Tyne, England, president of the Western Conference, presided. The morning session discussed "Methodism in the United States, Canada, and Japan." The speakers included Bishop J. C. Kilgo of Durham, N. C.; Rev. J. C. Sprague, Methodist church of Canada; Rev. S. O. Gata, of Japan Methodist church. Speaking of Canadians, High remarked, "I am delighted to see you here and to see a hand upon you. It seems these Methodists here are something to talk us, not only as to preaching, but as to speaking. Bishop E. K. Ross, Nashville, Tenn., asserted: "We of the United States do not and did not intend to annex you." This evoked laughter. Prize fighting was denounced by Sir Robert Farquhar, of London.

SCOTLAND NECK NEWS.

Water From Bored Well Good and Flow Abundant—Graded School to Open—Farm Male Hoop Now Over Good Roads Prospects.

(Special to The Times.) Scotland Neck, Oct. 5.—These of our people who are using the water from the new well on Main street, recently bored to a depth of 153 feet, pronounced the water fine and the flow abundant. The citizens in the end of town are loud in their praise of the town authorities for giving them this much needed necessity.

The fall term of the graded school will be opened Monday, the delay of about thirty days being made necessary because of the fact that the new school-house could not be completed in time. The handsome new building is now nearly completed, and the school will be opened in its new abode. It is said by those who have seen the building that Scotland Neck has one of the very best school houses to be found anywhere in North Carolina. When entirely completed and furnished the structure will have cost the taxpayers about $20,000, and will be a source of pride to every citizen of the community.

An old farm mule, one that looked as if he had seen many days of toil and heavy loads, became rather obstreperous upon the streets yesterday, and a bystander was asked why his muleship was kicking up so—was there something wrong with him? "What that mule?" said the man. "Why, he's the happiest mule in North Carolina today. He has just learned of the order passed by the county commissioners Monday, and his cap of joy is full and running over. He now hopes that instead of pulling his heavy loads through mud and sand, he will have real modern highways to travel upon." The bond election for road improvement will be held on November 14th.

A. W. MAY TRIES SUICIDE.

Likely to Die of Shot Wound.

Staunton, Va., Oct. 5.—Alexander W. May, clerk of the supreme court of appeals, attempted suicide here this morning, by shooting himself in the right temple. The bullet missed his brain, but destroyed the sight of both eyes. His chances of recovery is slight. He was conscious after the shooting, which took place in his home, but beyond saying "it was the biggest fool thing" he had ever done, he refused to discuss the matter. He has an excellent income and is reported to have enjoyed a particularly happy home life. He and his wife spent Sunday with a jolly party at a resort on Middle River. He appeared to be in the best of spirits this morning previous to his attempt to end his life.

WILL NORRIS

MAKE APPEAL?

Doubt Expressed As to Whether He Will Abandon Idea of Review By Higher Court

SAYS HE IS A PAUPER

Man Convicted of Murder of J. B. Bissett Sentenced to Twenty Years Says He Has no Funds—Verdict of Jury Has Been Received With General Satisfaction—Wake Superior Court Adjoined Since Die Today.

After being in session nearly ten days, Wake superior court adjourned sine die at 9:30 today. Only a few motions were heard on the last day, the jurors having been discharged late yesterday. During this term of court, which was presided over by Judge R. B. Peebles, the large docket of 125 cases was almost cleared. Several continuances were granted. Solicitor Herbert E. Norris prosecuted.

Mr. Bart M. Gatling, chief counsel for J. J. Norris, secured an order from Judge Peebles allowing Norris to appeal to the supreme court as a pauper, the convicted man making affidavit that he was without funds. The verdict and sentence in the Norris case have attracted a great deal of attention, and almost everybody agrees that the fellow was guilty, though some are of the opinion that the case was not quite strong enough to convict. Lawyers say that Norris made his greatest mistake when he took the stand himself. By doing this he allowed the jury to get a line on his character and had to admit to conduct that was almost inconceivable.

Doubt has been expressed as to whether Norris will prosecute his appeal to the supreme court. It is not believed that he can get a new trial and he will have to remain in jail that much longer in case he should fail. While his attorneys have gone through the form of appeal, they may abandon it later and allow the man to serve his sentence in the penitentiary. He got 20 years.
