MAY PROVE FATAL

When Will Raleigh People Learn the Importance of It?

Backache is only a simple thing at first. But when you know 'tis from the kidneys;

That serious kidney troubles follow; That diabetes, Bright's diseases may be the fatal end,

You will gladly profit by the following experience. 'Tis the statement of a Raleigh citizen.

Mrs. L. H. King, 138 E. Cabarrus St., Raleigh, N. C., says:

"I gladly confirm the statement I gave in January, 1908, telling of my experience with Doan's Kidney Pills. I take this remedy occasionally when my kidneys bother me and I always get relief. At one time I suffered intensely from dull pains across the small of my back and I knew that this trouble was caused by my kidneys, for their secretions were unnatural. I used one box of Doan's Kidney Pills, obtained from the Bobbitt-Wynne Drug Company, and this was sufficient to remove my aches and pains and restore me to good health."

How to Keep Hair Soft and Beautiful

(Jane Tyrel, on Beauty.)

"Too much moisture saps the life of scalp tissues and hair roots, causing an excessively oily condition or a dry harsh, dandruff-laden scalp and dull, 'stringy,' brittle, falling hair.

"The most delightful results imaginable can be obtained, if a dry shampoo mixture is brushed through the hair once or twice each week. A thoroughly reliable preparation can be made at little cost mixing either 4 ounces orris root or corn meal with 4 ounces theriac. One tablespoonful is enough for a shampoo. After using this a few times the scalp is put in a healthy condition and the hair takes on a soft fluffiness, and regains its rich luster and natural color."

EXPERIENCE MEETING

Delegates to Colored Missionary Convention Relate Progress of Christian Lives.

(By G. Endom Taylor.)

In just about fifteen minutes after the opening of the first session of the Woman's Foreign Mission convention in the First colored Baptist church here this morning that body found itself in a spiritual uproar, the excitement of which prevailed for more than two hours before the delegation could get itself to a normal state for business.

The session, after devotionals started with an experience meeting and the more they testified to their Christian warfare the more intense the feeling grew.

Mrs. Joanna Moore (white) edress of The Hope of Nashville, Tenn., addressed the body. During her remarks she said, "We are all one in Christ regardless of color. The same spiritual feeling and that great love for Jesus predominates in all our hearts. The stranger must certainly hear the intimacies of the weaker. We must live near Christ if we want to be good and do good. We must also be both good and wise if we expect to do other good. O, what a glorious thing it is to live the life of a Christian and be identified with the great work of God."

There were several other white people present during the morning session. Dr. Shephard, president of the Western Orphanage also spoke.

During the Spiritual excitement that seized the convention this morning there was much shedding of tears and hand shaking of the foreign delegates. Some of the colored women actually broke down.

Rev. W. T. Coleman, the pastor of the First Baptist church, delivered the welcome address. Florence Young for the local missionary society, Marjorie Alston for the W. I. C.'s and Midge Cook for the Juniors. The body then went into the enrollment of delegates and appointment of committees.

After the reading of the constitution, the body took a recess. At this morning's session the delegation and visitors who come from other cities number about 550, yet not half of the crowd has arrived. Nearly every incoming train is bringing a throng.

The local committee is being ably assisted by Col. James H. Young, Peachy Shephard of Oxford is presiding.

ARGUE EXCEPTIONS IN RE DEPOT AT RUTHERFORDTON.

Exceptions to the order of the corporation commission requiring the Southern Railway to build a new depot at Rutherfordton were argued before the commission this afternoon by Mr. Henry W. Miller, of Atlanta, and Mr. James H. Pon, local attorney for the railway. Mr. M. L. Edwards, of Rutherfordton, argued for the people of that town. The Southern took exceptions to the commission's order because it has a depot at Hamptonville, just outside the incorporate limits of Rutherfordton.

Rev. Mr. Gamble at Epworth Church.

SEEK WEALTHY SMUGGLER.

Government on the Trail of a Well-known Banker.

New York, Oct. 5.—The federal grand jury today began an investigation of the customs service to ascertain responsibility for the lax conditions of two years ago, when smuggling was comparatively easy. This investigation was inspired by the disclosures made by Mrs. Heien Dwell Jenkins, resulting in the indictment of Nathan Allen, of Kenosha, Wis., and J. R. Collins, of Memphis, Tenn., for smuggling valuable jewels and other articles.

Allen and Collins, who were fined on Monday on their pleas of guilty, were subpoenaed to appear before the grand jury to tell how they worked their game. Mrs. Jenkins was on hand, too, to supplement any former information she had given. Allen, however, was the only witness called.

The principal object of the new inquiry is to determine who was responsible for the bribing of customs officers and corrupting employees to wink at extensive jewel frauds that are believed to have been perpetrated over a period of years, and it is said that the government in this connection is on the trail of a wealthy banker, better known even than the two men already convicted, and declared to be the chief offender.

More than twice as many passengers on incoming steamships made declarations of dutiable goods in September this year as during the same month a year ago, and the amount of duty collected on the docks showed an increase of more than $16,500.

This difference is believed to be due to the large number of recent convictions for smuggling and the knowledge that a closer watch on dutiable baggage is being kept by customs inspectors.

URGES COTTON-HOLDING.

President of Cleveland County Farmers' Union Addresses Gaston Farmers.

Gastonia, Oct. 5.—Mr. R. M. Gidney, president of the Cleveland county farmers' union, addressed the members of the Gaston county farmers' union at the court-house on the subject of holding cotton for a higher price. Mr. Gidney came to Gastonia as the accredited representative of the National Farmer's Union, which is encouraging by lectures and otherwise, the important cotton-holding movement. There were present a goodly number of farmers, and they heard with interest what Mr. Gidney had to say.

President W. W. Farris of the county union was present and presided over the meeting. No official action was taken regarding the matter, though it is understood that sentiment in this county, among the members of the union, is strongly favorable to holding.

Secretary Hal C. Paris, of the republican club today, said of the many special invitations issued, not more than fifteen letters of regret had been received.

DOE LEAPS THROUGH WINDOW.

Frightened Animal Lands in Hardware Store and Upsets Stock.

West Warren, Mass., Oct. 5.—A frightened doe jumped through a plate-glass window in the hardware store of Vigneaux & O'Leary, in Main street, late this afternoon, and after upsetting things in the store, attempted to leap out through another window, and was badly cut that it died from loss of blood.

The first seen of the animal was when it appeared in Main street bounding along in graceful leaps. When it reached a row of stores the doe became frantic with fear and, turning suddenly leaped through the window, landing among a display of hardware. It attempted to leap into the streets by another window, but succeeded in getting only part way through.

Makes Rough Skin Soft and Velvety.

(Welcome Friend.)

Much interest is centered on a mayotone lotion for the correction of complexion faults, and giving to the skin that soft, velvety, pink and white bloom of healthy maidenhood. With the aid of this lotion, wrinkles and blotches are banished, the skin is freed of pimples and blackheads, and a complexion once sallow and unlikable is given that natural health-glow and freshness so much admired.

This lotion, which is inexpensive, is made by dissolving an original package of mayotone in eight ounces of witch-hazel. With it the face, neck and arms are gently massaged each day, and soon the skin grows clear, firm and beautiful. The mayotone lotion is greaseless and will prevent as well as discourage hairy growths.

ALMOST BROKE UP MEETING.

Mr. Britt Had His Finger Pointed at a Postmaster.

Washington, Oct. 5.—Third Assistant P. M. General Britt almost broke up a meeting of the Postmasters' Association of North Carolina at Asheville a few days ago, said P. D. Gold, Jr., of Raleigh, at the New Willard, relating an incident that offered much amusement to those who witnessed it. "You know Mr. Britt comes from my State and he was invited to Asheville to address the State Postmasters' Convention," continued Mr. Gold. He has a very impressive way of speaking, and often points his finger at his audience when making a point.

"It is indeed a sorry public official," said Mr. Britt, in his speech, "who is satisfied simply by a performance of his duties, with no thought in his mind of the betterment of the service."

"Instead of greeting this statement with signs of approval, the audience laughed heartily, as if it were a good joke. Mr. Britt was greatly disconcerted. Afterwards he was told that as he made the statement he shook his finger directly under the nose of a postmaster who is notorious in North Carolina for his laziness, and who hires a clerk to do most of his work, and has apparently, no interest in the service."

URGES HEALTH STUDY.

Dr. Woodward Suggests Way of Preventing Disease—Child Training Important.

Washington, D. C., Oct. 5.—Conservation of the public health, through the wide teaching of sanitation and hygiene in homes and schools formed the topic of an address last night before the Columbia Citizens' Association, in St. Stephen's Hall, Mount Pleasant, by the district health officer, Dr. William C. Woodward.

"The infant," said Dr. Woodward, "is technically raw material, and is valuable as a producer only after years of care and expense. Training has much to do with the value of the developed man. If the rules of health, sanitation and hygiene are ignored, the product is a weakling."

"It admits fall to observe rules of sanitation and hygiene in the prevention of communicable and contagious diseases, such as tuberculosis, typhoid, malaria, and scarlet fever, then the government through its health officers, is fighting a losing battle."

"If the same amount of care were taken in the rearing of the human race as is applied in the breeding of thoroughbred stock, which is surrounded by every safeguard against dangers of disease, then the human family would advance more rapidly. The neglect of the average man of sanitation and hygiene results in an enormous waste of life. Education is the only hope to bring about the ends sought by the government health officers. I would favor making hygiene first in our schools after the rudimentary studies, and as a part of that important training of the children sex hygiene one of the important branches."

Reports of committees of the association recommended the establishment of a public playground at Florida avenue and Eleventh street, northwest; a new school house at Parkview, to accommodate the children of the 260 additional families located in that section; the abolishment of all back-yard wooden fences and sheds, and opposed the installation of water meters at the expense of the people.

A resolution favoring membership of the association in the Federation of Citizens' Associations was presented and deferred to the executive committee.

AUTOMOBILES NUMEROUS.

Atlanta, Ga., Oct. 5.—It is no longer a mark of distinction to own an automobile in Atlanta. They have become as common as pig tracks. You don't even have to be human any more to ride in them. You long since ceased to have to be rich or even respectable, for the city hauls its drunks and murderers to the police station in a beautiful green 50-horse power car; it hauls its injured to the hospitals in ambulance autos and its dead to the cooling board by the same route; within the past few weeks it has begun to haul its garbage and old tin cans to the dump in as handsome a red automobile as you can find chugging between here and New York.

Rotten cabbages, drunken crooks, and chain-gang convicts all ride in automobiles in Atlanta.

Approaching the idea from another viewpoint, many of the preachers of the gospel in Atlanta, Catholic and Protestant, may be seen of week-day evenings at the wheels of their own cars, when they are not conducting prayer-meetings.

Still more remarkable, at least a half dozen of the newspaper reporters of Atlanta own their own cars, and sometimes cover assignments in them.

The city has an auto to haul its rock-building materials, a big, broad-wheeled auto that pulls a whole train of cars behind it. The county police department has just purchased a big racing car which it finds even better than bloodhounds to run down escaped convicts.

At any time of the day or night you can see twenty automobiles to one horse or mule, on practically any thoroughfare in Atlanta.

The way for a man to be a hero to a woman is for him not to belong to her.

It would be a veritable God-send to the unfortunate who suffer from rupture if all could procure the Brooks Rupture Appliance and wear it. They would certainly never regret it. My rupture is now all healed up and nothing ever did it but your Appliance. Whenever the opportunity presents itself I will say a good word for your Appliance, and also the honorable way in which you deal with ruptured people.
