

REPAIRING THE BRIDGES A GUN AS AN ACTOR

Ten Structures Over Neuse River Get Attention

Every Bridge Over This Stream in Wake County Has Been or Will Be Repaired During Year—To Build Steel Bridge Over Crabtree Creek on Central Highway.

Every bridge over Neuse river in Wake county has been or will be repaired this year at an estimated cost of $10,000, for the whole number.

Mr. W. L. Wiggs, road supervisor, today furnished a list of the bridges over Neuse river that had been or would be repaired this year. They are: The Hancock bridge on the Clayton-Shotwell road; Battle bridge on old stage road; Pool bridge on Pool road; Milburnie bridge on Tarboro road; Rogers bridge on Louisburg road; Penny and Hester bridge in Bartons Creek township; Lawrence bridge on Oxford road; Falls bridge on Falls road; Wake Forest bridge on Wake Forest road; New Light bridge—a new steel structure built—on Durham and Oxford road.

In addition to these ten bridges, all of which span the Neuse river, a steel bridge will be erected over Crabtree on the central highway, and it is expected that a steel bridge will replace the wooden structure, known as the Hancock bridge. All of this work has of course delayed road improvement, but it is the fault of nature rather than of the Wake county officials.

ORPHANS TONIGHT.

Arrived Here at Noon—Concert at Masonic Temple.

Today at noon the singing class from the Oxford Orphanage arrived here and this evening at eight-thirty will give the annual concert in the Masonic Temple. Tickets are being rapidly sold. The audience will be very comfortably seated, there being a fully supply of new chairs, and the occasion will be most agreeable in every way. Both elevators will be in use for those attending the performance. In the singing-class there are fourteen children and the talents they exhibit show not only a great deal of natural genius but also the admirable training which has been given them. There is not an orphanage in the country which stands higher in every line than that at Oxford, and the children always get warm welcome in Raleigh and liberal support as well.

THE WOMAN'S CLUB.

Meeting of Music Department Tomorrow Afternoon at St. Mary's. The music department of the Woman's Club will meet tomorrow, Friday afternoon at 4 o'clock, sharp, at St. Mary's auditorium. The program is in charge of Miss Martha Dowd and Mr. R. Blinn Owen. Musical numbers from Richard Wagner's earlier operas will be given, among them, arias to be sung by Miss Leonora Dumas and Mrs. Horace Dowell. A chorus of ladies voices will sing two numbers.

Revolver Takes Prominent Part In Play

The Son-of-a-Gun Didn't Even Miss—May Be Seen in Raleigh Tonight—One of the Dollar Fifty Drawing Cards.

The Richmond Times-Dispatch has some pointed remarks concerning an attraction that comes to Raleigh tonight at a dollar and a half—this price allowing the Easy Ones to see a whole week of show—they say Seven Days—in just one night. We reprint the following verbatim: And "Seven Days" has so recently amused us that Madoeur's method of communing with his father's spirit was strikingly reminiscent of Anna Brown's "psychic control" as the mighty Mr. Cardross and as the French chef—he made a better cook than capitalist. And speaking of French, the few words of that language that were used were pronounced in a manner that would have led even a patriotic Apache of Paris to battle, murder and sudden death.

In that same spirit of gentle charity, all names are omitted, except that of Margaret Shayne, the Sheila of this company, as was her sister, Edith, of last season's cast. Miss Shayne, well featured and pretty, and somewhat boyish, as she should be, presented a pleasing and pleased appearance. Besides Miss Shayne, there were two other pleasant features of the performance—the curtain fell by 10:30, and the revolver which Malcott "rashly acted" went off—bang! Just like that, without a misfire. A good actor—that revolver.

LOCAL BRIEFS.

The congregation of the Church of the Good Shepherd will meet tonight in the church for the purpose of hearing reports and discussing matters relative to the new building, now nearing completion. The hour of meeting is eight o'clock.

The registration for the market house election next Tuesday is between 1,100 and 1,200. The tickets will read: "For removal of market," "For sale of market," and "For remodeling market." Voters can take their choice.

Friends of Mr. J. N. Holding will be interested to learn that he continues to hold his own, though he was as well this week as usual. He has been out to his farm several times lately. Mr. Holding has been ill for many months.

The Superior Court. Half day consumed in trying $65 damage suit.

The entire morning session of Wake Superior Court was consumed in hearing the case of J. J. Tooms vs. L. R. Marcum, the matter at issue hanging on an alleged breach of contract, and the damages involved being less than one hundred dollars. The defendant Marcum was awarded damages in the sum of $65. The case was an appeal from a magistrate's court.

The court this afternoon was hearing the case of W. H. Candler et al. vs. Mollie Morris et al., the matter at issue being about 20 acres of land.

The Rev. Clarence V. T. Richeson, accused of the murder of Miss Avis Linnell, of Boston, Mass., as a divinity student. This photograph was taken of the minister when he was twenty-two years old. Richeson, who the police authorities say gave Miss Linnell a solution of cyanide, will be arraigned in court for examination on October 31st, the day he was to be married to Miss Violet Edmunds, an heiress.

Supreme Court.

The supreme court last evening handed down opinions as follows: Carraway vs. Lukens, from Carteret; affirmed.

Equitable Mfg. Co. vs. Willis, from Carteret; affirmed.

State vs. Pool, from Wake; an error.

McLean vs. A. C. L. Railway, from Harnett; affirmed.

Frazier vs. S. A. L. Railway, from Wake; affirmed.

Whitfield vs. Dunn, from Lenoir; affirmed.

Bell vs. A. & N. C. Railroad, from Carteret; affirmed.

Town of Murphy vs. Webb, from Cherokee; affirmed.

Dairyville vs. Cole, from Moore; error.

Jones vs. Huntley, from Anson; affirmed.

Fields vs. Bynum, from Chatham; no error.

LaRoque vs. Kennedy, from Lenoir; plaintiff's appeal; no error; defendant's appeal reversed.

THE ALMO.

Good Pictures at Raleigh's Exclusive Motion Picture Theatre.

One of the most interesting and most highly entertaining bills of the season was put on at the Almo Moving Picture Theatre last evening. "The Sheriff's Friend," a western drama of love and duty, was one of the particularly thrilling pictures. "The Price of Gold," a picture-story of the Klondike gold fields, was another that the large audience followed with breathless interest. In lighter vein, "The Spender Family," showed the troubles of a man with an extravagant family, and "Commy, the Book Agent," furnished amusement through the sale of three dull volumes of the same kind to the same man. Levin's orchestra furnished music, as it does every evening. There will be an entire change of program tonight.

NEW ACTS AT GRAND.

Singing and Dancing With Music and Pictures on the Boards. Harcourt and Leslie, singing and dancing specialists, are on the boards at the Grand for tonight, continuing through the week. Billy Davis, with feet like motion pictures, is another feature for tonight, and bids fair to be an attractive one. A good Pathé film will also be shown at each performance.

KILLED AT FAYETTEVILLE.

R. J. Chason Killed the Fair County Officer. Fayetteville, N. C., Oct. 26.—R. J. Chason, of Parkton, was shot and instantly killed here yesterday afternoon by County Constable Al Pate, after the latter had received knife wounds from Chason, which it is feared will prove fatal, and a youth-

THIRD DAY OF FAIR

Dr. J. E. Sheperd of Durham Speaks Today

Noted Colored Educator Delivers Address to Thousands—Attractions Good—Concert Tonight Will Be Well Attended.

With an address today by Dr. J. E. Sheperd of Durham, president of the National Religious Training School, the hundreds of visitors attending the negro state fair were treated to something uplifting, for Dr. Sheperd is one of the best and strongest men of his race. Several excursion trains yesterday evening and others today brought in several thousand persons and made today the best day of the fair in point of attendance.

A number of good races is run each afternoon and horses from three states participate. The midway has many attractive shows and the exhibits of agricultural products are highly creditable to the farmers.

The concert tonight in the auditorium will be well attended, judging from the number of tickets that have been sold. A section of seats will be reserved for white people.

NEWS FROM DUNN.

Child Killed Accidentally by Brothers—Opera House Ready for Opening—Building Going On.

(Special to The Times.)

Dunn, N. C., Oct. 26.—Mr. Chatham west of Sampson county had the misfortune of losing his four year old son last week by a very unfortunate accident. He sent his little son to the house to get his gun and on his return another one of the children accompanied the little boy; the children stopped to play with the gun and in some way it was discharged killing the little child instantly. The child killed was about four years old.

The finishing touches are being put on the new opera house and it will soon be in shape for the use of the public. The seats are being put in, the curtain and scenery have arrived and the contractors will turn it over to the city fathers some time this week. Messrs Wilson and Townsend, have a play billed for Oct. 31st and Granstark will have the honor of being the first play to appear on the stage of the new opera house which has not been named so far.

The sound of the builders hammer goes merrily on in Dunn and the houses that are being built will do credit to a much larger town. The following gentlemen are building nice homes and when they are all completed will add much to the looks of our town: Messrs W. D. Turnage, Aster Barnes, J. A. Blalock and C. B. Aycock. And others are considering plans and specifications for new homes.

SUFFERED MANY YEARS RELIEVED BY PE-RU-NA.

After Effect of Grip. Mrs. C. S. Sagerser, 1227 Bellefontain Ave., Kansas City, Mo., writes: "I feel it a duty due to you and to others that may be afflicted like myself, to speak for Peruna. "My troubles first came after a gripe eight or nine years ago, a gathering in my head and neuralgia. I suffered most all of the time. My nose, ears and eyes were badly affected for the last two years. I think from the description of inter-nal catarrh that I must have had that also. I suffered very severely. "Nothing ever relieved me like Peruna. It keeps me from taking cold. With the exception of some deafness I am feeling perfectly cured. I am forty-six years old. I feel that words are inadequate to express my praise for Peruna."

ADVANCE IN PRICE Special Offer Open Until November 1st.

As a matter of necessity, the price of the mail edition of The Raleigh Daily Times will be increased on November 1st, from $2.50 per year to $4.00. This is not being done to take advantage of anybody, nor to hurt anyone's feelings—it is simply because the paper cannot make a profit by selling at the present price. Operating expenses are higher now than they were several years ago, wages of employees are greater, and altogether, it costs more to run a daily newspaper now than it did several years ago.

In offering The Times at $4.00 a year to our out-of-town subscribers, we are doing so purely on the Paper's merits. If you candidly do not believe that our paper is worth $4.00 a year to you—then we don't want to take your money.

We are trying hard to improve the Times—we are spending good money on it—we are going to spend more and introduce more improvements.

Until November 1st, we will accept subscriptions from out-of-town patrons at $2.50 per year in advance. For $5.00 in advance we will send the paper two years by mail. After November 1st, the price will be $4.00 a year in advance.
