

NORTH CAROLINA DAY

Program Gotten Out In Attractive Book Form

Friday, December 22nd Will Be Celebrated by Schools Throughout the State as "North Carolina Day"—Booklet Contains Much Valuable History of the State.

A very attractive booklet containing the program of exercises for North Carolina Day has been issued by the state department of education. It will be celebrated by the schools throughout the state on Friday, December 22.

The booklet is prepared by Mr. R. D. W. Connor, secretary of the North Carolina Historical Commission. It contains an address on "The Old North State," delivered by Charles B. Aycock at the first North Carolina Reunion at Greensboro, October 12, 1903, as well as some valuable history in names of counties of the state.

The booklet closes with a letter on "The Sir Walter Raleigh Statue" by Gen. Julian S. Carr, to the school children, school officers and teachers in North Carolina.

In the preface J. Y. Joyner, superintendent of public instruction, says: "As many of the schools are not in session as early as October 12, I have taken the liberty allowed under the law of fixing the date of North Carolina Day this year and thereafter on the last Friday before Christmas. It is earnestly desired that all the public schools of the state shall engage in this celebration on the same day. This pamphlet has been prepared and sent out to all busy teachers in the proper celebration of the day and to leave no excuse for failing to celebrate it."

Superintendent Joyner says further regarding the program: "Following the chronological order of the state's history, the subjects of the North Carolina day programs have been as follows: In 1901, the first Anglo-Saxon settlement in America; in 1902, the Albemarle section; in 1903, the lower Cape Fear section; in 1904, the Pamlico section; in 1905, the upper Cape Fear section; in 1907, the Scotch-Irish settlement in North Carolina; in 1908, the German settlement. In 1906 it was deemed proper to turn aside from this adopted plan of chronological study to devote the day to the study of the life, character and splendid service of Dr. Charles D. Mciver. In 1909 the mountainous section formed the subject of study. Thus the history of every section of the state has been studied, somewhat in the order of their settlement and development, and the entire period of the state's history has been covered. It is his work here on the first Sunday in December.

of local and county history and the biographies of the state's eminent sons. "These programs," continues Superintendent Joyner, "have been arranged with a view of giving the children of the rising generation a knowledge of the history of the resources, manners, customs and ways of making a living of the different sections of the state. It is hoped in this way to awaken a proper pride in the history of the state, to inspire a proper confidence in its present and hope in its future, and to give the people of the different sections of the state a better acquaintance with each other."

Supreme Court.

The cases from the twelfth district were completed yesterday afternoon as follows:

HEATING PLANT INSTALLED AT RAY SCHOOL HOUSE.

Superintendent of County Schools Zebulon A. Judd went out to Ray school house in Little River township yesterday to look after the installing of a new heating plant for the school building. The people are much enthused over their school and have put in an up-to-date heating plant, which will add much toward the comfort of the students.

A letter was received this morning by Mr. N. B. Broughton from Rev. Charles E. Maddy, the recently elected pastor of the Tabernacle and the entire period of the state's history has been covered. It is his work here on the first Sunday in December.

LOCAL BRIEFS.

—Mr. L. J. Sears, chairman of the board of education, is today meeting with the people of the Dutchman school district.

—An addition to the Fayetteville Street Baptist church, on the west side, is in progress, and will add about a third to the seating capacity of the building.

—Rev. R. F. Taylor, pastor of Jenkins Memorial church, will hold services at the Methodist church in Apex next Sunday both morning and evening services.

—The Shaw University football team left today for Washington, D. C., where they will play Howard University. They were accompanied by Coach John Bray.

—County Superintendent of Schools, Z. V. Judd spent several days this week visiting schools in Panther Branch, Swift Creek and St. Mary's township, and found them in good condition.

—Mr. Z. V. Judd found at Catawba Springs that the school had cultivated a school farm in cotton this year and made two bales. The money will be used toward making some needed improvements on the building.

—The electric railway to the Country Club and the new park and the residential suburb is being surfaced and put in fine shape. There will be a little station near the club building, and one at Glenwood and a third at the new park, which is very near Lassiter's mill. These will be very convenient for the public.

NEW POWER BUILDING.

Place on Salisbury Street Being Put in Shape for Electric Company.

On south Salisbury street, in the rear of Kirby's five and ten cent store, a contractor is getting the old brick building, long used as a warehouse, in shape for use by the Carolina Electrical Company, which will occupy it when the new year comes in. A glass front, a new interior and very attractive fittings will make the place worth while. Space will be left for a hallway from that street to the rear of Kirby's store.

DELEGATES ARE ELECTED TO STATE CONVENTION.

The First Baptist church has elected the following delegates to attend the Baptist State Convention, which will convene December 6 at Winston-Salem: Dr. T. W. O'Kelly, the pastor; Dr. R. T. Vann, H. C. Moore, J. E. Ray, C. J. Hunter, C. F. Messerve, L. Johnston, J. D. Boushall, T. B. Moseley, Henry Briggs, W. N. Jones.

THE GADFLY.

Good Evening:—No, indeed, I do not intend to keep putting you on the back all the time, but really, folks, in sizing up the town, I sure have found so many good things that I just can't help talking about them.

They tell me that two years ago Raleigh had a hard time to find quarters for the annual kind of a convention, and that the traveling men knocked our hotel something fierce, and with just cause. But look what we have today.

The handsome new Yarrowborough. They spent over $100,000 to make this as fine a hotel as there is in the state, and it is a beauty. 125 rooms, accommodations for 250 people, and excellent service, and best of all, a progressive public spirited management, proved such already, as just this week they were a personal letter to every man invited to a large meeting of insurance men to be held here December 21st and 22nd. Such letters make them want to come and proclaim a Wide-Awake Raleigh.

Mr. Cobb has given us a splendid hotel in The Raleigh. 165 splendid rooms, and up-to-date in every way. In fact, he has started the ball rolling for a Great White Way. Pass by the Hotel Raleigh any night and you will realize that the new arrival receives a favorable impression the minute he leaves the depot. That's what counts. That the Wright and the Gorsch are crowded every night certainly speaks well for our smaller hotels, and then the Grand will be a beauty, and Mr. Grand, who will manage it, is one of the most popular hotel men in the entire south.

Now that we have the hotels and the finest auditorium in one state, it's up to Raleigh people and the Chamber of Commerce to get all the conventions and other splendid hotels crowded all the time.

You have a duty here—don't shrink your part, and we will soon be known as the "Convention City" with the great auditorium and elegant hotels.

THE GADFLY.

Touring Party Here

Roads, has made various experiments which have shown the best types of road for the various kinds of traffic, but the results of these experiments are not generally known throughout the various states. Mr. Page, who aside from his official position at the head of the government office of public roads, is the president of the American Association for Highway Improvement, will tell something of these experiments at the road congress.

Announcements of equal importance will be made by road officials of the various states who expect to find profit in an exchange of views.

Every state in the union is vitally interested in the road building and maintenance problem and practically every state will be represented, either by its governor or some other high official. Road officials of most all the states likewise will be present.

Road maintenance has been almost entirely neglected in the United States with the result that deterioration of the best constructed roads represents a preventable loss aggregating millions of dollars annually.

Just now there is a tendency towards remedial action looking to the adoption of continuous and systematic maintenance and the great road congress at Richmond is expected to co-ordinate this part of the road movement, and help to bring about better maintenance of roads throughout the country.

It is also expected that efforts will be made to develop more uniformity in legislation passed by the various state legislatures and to show the advantages of bond issues for road building and maintenance.

Taft To Speak.

The official program, just announced, includes a "national day" at which President Taft will be the principal speaker. Among the other speakers on this day will be Governor Mann, of Virginia; Dr. Walter Page, editor of World's Work; W. W. Finley, president of the Southern Railway Company; General Coleman DuPont, who is presenting to the state of Delaware a $2,000,000 boulevard extending across the state, and Congressman J. Hampton Moore, president of the Atlantic Deep Waterways Association.

In addition to "national day," there will be an "engineer's and contractors' day," a "manufacturers' section," "road users day," and "association day." The governors of Virginia and West Virginia have issued a proclamation for a "good roads week" to precede the congress. By concerted action the farmers of the various states have shown what can be accomplished in actual road building in one week's time.

Out of Town.

The touring party was escorted out of town by a party consisting of Messrs. J. A. Park and C. B. Taylor, of The Times; E. E. Britton, of The News and Observer, and Col. Fred A. Olds.

IS MOVING FORWARD Greensboro Continues to Move Under Commission Form

Rapid Strides Being Made Under the Present Plan of Commission Form of Government—Murder Case Not Called—Suit for $1,000,000.

(Special to The Times.)

Greensboro, Nov. 17.—Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Wheeler and family of seven children arrived here last night from Wisconsin, traveling in an immense White automobile. The Wheelers are going to the Ruskin colony in Florida. They are in search of a place in these United States of America where neither intoxicants nor narcotics are tolerated. They are opposed to tobacco. They left Wisconsin to rid of the two alleged evils and hope to find their "paradise" in Florida. The family has shipped its household and personal effects to the "land of flowers" and decided to make the trip from the north to the extreme south by auto. They have traveled over 1,500 miles and found it rather rough sledding at times. They left today for Charlotte, the next stop, and from there will proceed to Florida. They talked interestingly of their trip while here, and also spent their plans and purposes, all of which had to do with a getting rid of whiskey and tobacco.

Greensboro continues to move forward in permanent improvement matters and under the present plan of commission form of government, is making rapid strides in the right direction. The streets of the city are being paved at a minimum cost; sidewalks are being laid, while the county convict force is employed on city street work. The commissioners are now completing the laying of trolley on Greene street and West Gaston, which will be completed shortly, and the block of which these two streets are a part will be paved with this material, which is giving perfect satisfaction here. The entire block has been paved at a cost of about $1,500.

Capt. W. H. Foushee, of Greensboro, has returned from Pittsboro, where he attended court as a witness in the murder case of Elsie and David Hunter, charged with the slaying of one Frazier. The Hunters were arrested here in July by Capt. Foushee one morning, almost immediately after they arrived from Virginia, where it is alleged, they went shortly after the murder ten years ago. Capt. Foushee, however, had his trip to Pittsboro for nothing as the case against the alleged murderers was not called at the present term of court on account of the inability by reason of sickness of the widow of the murdered man to attend court.

A. R. Callieut, of Alfred, Me., has retained two Asheville lawyers, J. Seroop Styles and Charles N. Malone, to represent him in suits instituted in the United States courts at Atlanta asking damages in the aggregate sum of $4,000,000 and a blanket injunction against a number of cotton manufacturers in the south. The suits for four million dollars grew out of alleged infringement of a patent. It is alleged that a patent was on a process of coloring cotton as it goes through the loom is being infringed upon by some of the large cotton manufacturers in North Carolina and other southern states. An investigation is being conducted, it is said, in an effort to ascertain to just what extent the patent rights are being infringed upon and by what companies or corporations. Subpoenas have been issued for a number of defendants whose names are not yet divulged. Callieut is a Frenchman and came to this country only a few years ago.

One bale of cotton to the acre in North Carolina is generally regarded as a fair yield, but not so with W. B. Bullock, of near Battleboro, Halifax county. Mr. Bullock is not satisfied with less than two bales to the acre and information from that section is to the effect that his efforts at doubling the ordinary yield has been fruitful of success. Mr. Bullock planted eleven acres in cotton and has just gathered his crop with the exception of several pounds of the scattering staple still in the field. The eleven acres netted 22 bales of 437 pounds each to the bale. With what is still in the field, Mr. Bullock expects to eventually have 22 bales of 500 pounds each from the eleven acres. At the present low price of cotton the eleven acres yielded in money almost $1,000. That is about the best yield reported in North Carolina this year.

Indications are that the industrial wave that is sweeping North Carolina is not confined to one particular section. It extends from the mountains to the sea coast and every day reports are had of new enterprises launched and new industries planned. Recently it was stated here that Bird S. Coler and associates of New York are planning an extensive interurban railway through the Piedmont section with a magnificent new hotel in Greensboro, while today news comes from the West that Dr. E. W. Grove, the millionaire manufacturer of chili tonic and cold cure

THE SECRET OF SUCCESS Genuine Merit Required to Win the People's Confidence

Have you ever stopped to reason why it is that so many products that are extensively advertised, all at once drop out of sight and are soon forgotten? The reason is plain—the article did not fulfil the promises of the manufacturer. This applies more particularly to a medicine. A medicinal preparation that has real curative value almost sells itself, as like an endless chain system the remedy is recommended by those who have been cured, to those who are in need of it.

In an interview on the subject a prominent local druggist says "Take for example Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root a preparation I have sold for many years and never hesitate to recommend, for in almost every case it shows immediate results, as many of my customers testify. No other kidney remedy that I know of has so large a sale."

The success of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root is due to the fact that it fulfills every wish in overcoming kidney, liver and bladder diseases, corrects urinary troubles and neutralizes the uric acid which causes rheumatism.

A free trial bottle will be sent by mail, absolutely free. Address Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., and mention this paper. Regular size bottles sold at all druggists—50c. and $1.00.

and likewise owner of the splendid Grove park in Asheville is preparing to erect on Sunset mountain near Asheville a $250,000 hotel. It is said that Dr. Grove purposes floating $250,000 in bonds for the new hotel and has asked Asheville banks to take $100,000 worth of the bonds. A committee of Asheville bankers and other public spirited men including E. L. Ray, of the Citizens bank, H. W. Plummer, general manager of the Asheville Electric Company, J. G. Merrimon, vice-president of the American National bank and Dr. Carl V. Reynolds, a large property owner of Asheville, have gone to St. Louis to confer with Dr. Groves about the matter. This new hotel project has been under consideration by Dr. Groves for some months and while he is amply able to carry out individually any such undertaking he desires that Asheville business interest be included in the project. It is learned that the new hotel is practically assured since the Asheville banks will agree to take a portion of the bonds.
