

Third Day of Conference

talk by the bishop, whose words were listened to with the closest attention by the whole congregation. The sessions are attended not only by members of the conference but by many of the good people of Kinston as well, the galleries being full at each service, while they listen with the closest attention and interest.

The bishop had made the class for admission on trial a special order for 10:30 o'clock. This was one of the most important events of the whole conference, for as Uncle Betts said yesterday, the ranks are constantly thinning year by year and they must be replenished by these young preachers who came for admission to the ranks of itinerant preachers.

Devotional exercises were conducted today by Dr. F. N. Parker, Trinity College. Bishop John C. Kilgo, Durham, was introduced to his old conference and there were some lively passages of wit between the two bishops. Bishop Kilgo was glad to be in his old conference again, and thought he might he might be allowed to think it the best.

The following small class was admitted on trial, Robert Edwards, senior at Trinity and Robert Pittman from New Bern district, Nathan Strickland from Raleigh district; Roger Hasty from Rockingham district. The following were advanced to class second year: E. L. Stack, B. T. Harley, C. J. Harrell, J. F. Duval, J. M. Ormond, Lewis Hayman, Thos. Ellers, Geo. Bearden, John Blalock.

The following remain in class of first year: S. J. Kilpatrick, James Morris, John Frank, Wm. McKee, Chas. Vale, Giles Vlek. The following were admitted to full connection, Frank Culbreth, Geo. Biggs, Robert Carraway, Thos. Grant, Geo. Daigen.

The following remained class second year, Geo. Daniels, Walter Patton, B. H. Reed, Eugene Barnett.

Bishop Kilgo represented the interest of the building of the representative southern Methodist church at Washington. Committee of five was appointed to consider the subscription of $5,000 to this church, to report tomorrow.

The Second Day in Detail.
A second day in the hospitable city of Kinston has only endeared its good people more to the con-

KIDNEY TROUBLE RELIEVED IN TWO HOURS.

A SPEEDY CURE.

I derived so much benefit from the use of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root that I believe it will be most important for the public to know of its worth. Last November I was suffering severely with kidney and bladder trouble. The burning pain was terrible. I sent for you for one trial bottle of Swamp-Root and it relieved me in about two hours. After taking the small trial bottle, could feel no more pain, so purchased one fifty-cent bottle of Swamp-Root. After taking the contents have not felt one pain from the kidneys or bladder since.

You are at liberty to publish this testimonial should you wish to.

Yours very respectfully,
W. H. WARREN,
R. R. No. 2, Box 39, Gainesboro, Tenn.

Sworn to and subscribed before me W. F. Dodson, enacted Justice of the Peace of Jackson Co., Tenn., this 14th day of July, 1909.

Prove What Swamp-Root Will Do For You.

Send to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., for a sample bottle. It will convince anyone. You will also receive a booklet of valuable information, telling all about the kidneys and bladder. When writing, be sure and mention The Raleigh Daily Times. Regular fifty-cent and one dollar size bottles for sale at all drug stores.

ference, the members of which are being so well taken care of. Not only fried chicken but the fat of the land, the best the city affords is offered to make this gathering of the conference a comfortable and delightful one in every sense.

The beauty of the Queen street church grows as the sessions are held there from day to day. Of quiet and elegant taste, the dark green hangings, buff walls and mission wood furnishings are quietly restful and beautiful.

of the conference, in proving an ideal entertainer, doing all in his power to make the conference feel at home at his church and enjoy a profitable session. His church, which was dedicated and opened for worship by Bishop John C. Kilgo, of Durham, the 6th of last August, stands at one end of Queen street, the beautiful main street of Kinston. The town is well laid out with straight streets, Queen street being the broad and beautiful, in the middle of it stand for another session of the old North Carolina conference. Some, with white hair, and only waiting till the summons come, were here again to listen to the memories of younger and stronger members who have passed before them.

The devotional exercises Thursday morning began with the singing of "Come Thou Almighty King," and again after prayer by Rev. L. L. Nash, "When I can read my title clear to mansions in the sky," was sung. Bishop Hoss made a beautiful morning talk. The deep piety and simplicity of the presiding officer is impressing itself more and more on the conference as it sits under his presiding genius. He is also business like and alert keeping the business of the conference well in hand. The bishop is not without wit and humor, relieving what might be dry and uninteresting business, which is much enjoyed by the conference. Some lively passages of wit are made. A communication from the Anti-Saloon League and the report of Littleton Female College were presented and referred to the respective committees.

Dr. A. J. Lamar, publishing agent of the Nashville Publishing House at Nashville, addressed the conference. The bishop enjoys a good story and Dr. Lamar told how the title came to be changed from "book agent," as he was unintentionally referred to by the secretary to "publishing agent."

Rev. Mr. Griffin, of the Kinston Protestant church was introduced and spoke to the conference of the pleasant relations existing between his church and the Methodist church. Several years ago when his church was burned, Rev. D. H. Tuttle, then pastor of the Methodist church, offered his church for the use of his congregation until the Protestant church was repaired. This made a closer tie between the two churches.

The bishop in return spoke of the tie between the Methodist Episcopal church and all the branches of the church of England. He did not forget that John Wesley died in the church and Charles Wesley remained a minister in the church of England until his death. The bishop quoted with some humor the following doggerel written by Chas. Wesley, after the ordination of Bishop Coke:

"How easily now are bishops made,
By man or woman's whim,
Wesley hands on Coke did lay,
But who laid hands on him?"

The bishop declared the Methodists would say God laid hands on Wesley.

Dr. W. R. McMurray, of the board of church extension; Dr. C. D. Bulla, superintendent of the Wesley Bible Conference; Dr. Bates, of the American Bible Society; and Dr. Frank Parker, professor at Trinity, were introduced to the conference.

The name of T. G. Vickers was substituted for that of E. M. Snipes as assistant statistical secretary.

The twenty-second question was again taken up and dispatched as rapidly as possible. The bishop had words of commendation for many of these reports, finding many of them excellent and commendable.

The Raleigh district showed up well especially the Raleigh churches. Only when the report of no infants baptised was the bishop's disapproval expressed. One of the preachers said that too few sermons were preached on the subject, not only by the preachers but by the presiding elders as well. The bishop caused a laugh by declaring if any preacher would show him a good sermon on the subject he would make him a presiding elder.

The reports from the Fayetteville, Raleigh, Rockingham and Warrenton districts were heard in turn.

Memorial Services.
At 11:30 the bishop announced that the hour for the special order of the day having arrived, the conference might well pause in its business for its sacred and solemn rite. There was a hush over the body as the visions of beloved comrades, who had passed away since the last meeting together, rose before those spared for another session of the old North Carolina conference. Some, with white hair, and only waiting till the summons come, were here again to listen to the memories of younger and stronger members who have passed before them.

The service began with the singing of the hymn "Oh God help in ages past, Our hope in years to come."
James E. Bristowe.
The first memoir read was that of James E. Bristowe, who died at Washington, January 20, 1911. This was beautifully read by Rev. R. H. Broom, of Washington.

years of age, was read by Rev. E. C. McWhorter.

After the memorial service the twenty-second question was reserved, concluding with the Wilmington district.

Report of Orphanage.

Rev. John C. Cole read the report of the Methodist Orphanage.

Rev. H. M. North.

At 3:30 Thursday afternoon Rev. H. M. North, pastor of the Edenton street church, at Raleigh, preached one of the greatest sermons heard during the conference. He was listened to by a full church.

He brought a great message from the text, Hosea 11:4, "I drew them with the cords of a man and with bands of love."

It was a beautiful comparison of the love of God to the best and highest types of earthly love showing how much higher and greater the heavenly love is. It was such a sermon as the Edenton street congregation has the privilege of listening to.

Evening Service.

Rev. W. F. McMurry of the board of church extension spoke at the anniversary of the board Thursday evening.

Trinity Alumni Banquet.

The annual banquet of the Trinity College Alumni will be held at the church tomorrow evening after the evening service.

STANLY COUNTY FAIR

WAS VERY CREDITABLE.

Maj. W. A. Graham, commissioner of agriculture, returned today from Albemarle, Stanly county, where he attended the fair. He reported the exhibits very creditable, especially the wheat, and was pleased to see so many fine horses and mules in the community. The Stanly people are enthusiastic and propose to have even a better fair next year.

MR. JORDAN HAS SLIGHT CHANCE FOR RECOVERY.

Mr. B. S. Skinner, an attorney of Durham and also United States commissioner, was in Raleigh this afternoon. He stopped in Cary to see Deputy Marshal J. B. Jordan, who is critically ill here with pneumonia, and found him barely holding his own. If Mr. Jordan can survive through tomorrow, the physicians think he will recover.
