Members of North Carolina Conference Met This Morning for Its Last Time in Its Seventy-First Session—Old-Fashioned Methodist Love Feast Held Yesterday Morning in Queen Street Church—Strong Sermon by Bishop Hoss, Crowds Packed Themselves in Auditorium to Hear It—Epworth League Anniversary at the Afternoon Session.

(By Susan Iden.)

Kinston, N. C., Nov. 27.—The North Carolina Methodist conference met this morning at 8:30 for the last time during the seventy-first session in the Queen Street church at Kinston. Just six days ago the members of the grand old conference gathered here from their homes and their work throughout its bounds. Some were absent from the midst kept at their homes by illness and mighty troubles. Their faces were missed and a beautiful prayer was offered for them at the love feast by Rev. H. M. North. There had been joy in meeting together again after the year's separation and so when the time came to say goodbye and God bless you again to each other there was a tinge of sadness.

Not knowing what the coming year has in store for them, nor knowing in what fields their work will be cast, they awaited with confidence in their presiding bishop and faith in God, the reading of the appointments, sending them out to another year of work.

Rev. N. H. D. Wilson offered resolutions of thanks to the good people of Kinston for their hospitality, the chair voting also. Questions 23 through 46 were asked, giving the report of the statistical secretary, showing gains in almost all branches of the work. The number of members reported was 80,019.

Dr. F. N. Parker, of Trinity College, spoke briefly to the conference. The secretary read the minutes of the morning session. The appointments were read and the seventy-first annual conference adjourned to meet next year at Hay Street, Fayetteville.

CLARK READY FOR SESSION

Back in Washington in Conference With Other Leaders About Work of Coming Congress

PROUD OF RECORD

Says the Coming Session Will Be Long, Exceedingly Busy and Very Important—Says Tariff Revision Will Be the Great Issue of the Next Campaign—Denies the Published Report of Canadian Annexation Speech—Hopes the Coming Session of Congress Will Duplicate the Good Work of the Extra Session.

Washington, Nov. 27.—Speaker Champ Clark, after nine weeks of speaking and lecturing over nineteen states, returned today and began conferences with leaders of the work of congress which opens Monday. He said the coming session would be "long, exceedingly busy and very important," and the "quicker we get down to hard work the better for us and the country." He said tariff revision would be the great issue of the next campaign.

He declared the assault on him for his Canadian annexation speech was a misrepresentation for political effect, general and personal, "and said he had never even hinted at such a wicked and quixotic scheme" as forcible annexation, never dreamed of such a thing and would oppose it to the utmost.

"No new congress," he said, "ever made a more splendid record for constructive statesmanship than we did at the extra session, for which we have been almost universally praised by democrats, progressive republicans and independents, it being fair in our affairs of constantly and rapidly increasing force. We are personally proud of that record and we hope to duplicate it at the impending regular session. If we can do so we can read our titles clear to success next year."

"After seventeen long wearisome years of factional fighting," said the speaker, "democrats are united and by the blessings of God we will remain. To win next year the democrats must hold all votes we had in 1908 and gain about 800,000. Hence the great importance of such unity and wisdom among the democrats as will draw to us voters who do not belong to our party."

Hurricane on New Foundland Coast. St. Johns, New Foundland, Nov. 27.—A hurricane which has been raging here since Saturday has tied up the railway service and compelled shipping to seek refuge. It is feared considerable loss of life will result from the storm. An unidentified vessel was sighted sailless and without signs of life.

MISSIONARY WRITES OF CHINESE OUTBREAK

Montclair, N. J., Nov. 27.—Dr. Joseph Beach, connected with Cheng Tu, (China) Methodist Episcopal College, has written friends here describing the outbreak of the revolution. He says the viceroy, by article, made the prisoners/leaders of the rebellion, then began massacre in which eight thousand persons were slaughtered. "Uncounted hundreds of women and girls committed suicide. Suffering is beyond description."

Expected to Recapture Han Yang. Peking, Nov. 27.—Gen. Feng Kwo Chang, commander of the imperial forces at Hankow, reported today he expected to recapture Han Yang before nightfall. His troops drove the revolutionaries from Heshian and Meishan forts last night and captured Tortoise hill this morning.

Pierce Fighting at Nanking. Shanghai, Nov. 27.—Fierce fighting continues at Nanking. It is anticipated the whole city soon will be in the revolutionists hands as they hold several important defenses.

Reduced Fine Imposed on Trust. Jefferson City, Nov. 27.—The supreme court of Missouri today reduced the fine against International Harvester Company, from $50,000 to $25,000. Judges Graves and Woodson dissented.

THE NEW CARDINALS

Papal Nomination Confirmed at Consistory Today

Rome, Nov. 27.—The cardinals assembled in secret consistory today and confirmed the papal nomination of eighteen new cardinals which included three citizens of the United States, Cardinals Farley, O'Connell and Falconio. The pope crowned another cardinal whose name will be published at a later consistory when the pope wishes that to be done. In some cases the name of a prelate thus chosen becomes known only after the death of the pope. As the pope entered the consistory hall his step was less sure and his new-born face bore signs of his recent illness.

WILL NOT PAY REWARD

Government Not Likely to Pay Rewards Offered

Marshals Will Recommend That Rewards for Capture of Henrich's Assailant Be Not Paid—From Means To Defraud Government—System To Hold Big Meeting.

(Special to The Times)

Greensboro, Nov. 27.—It is learned here on reliable information that the United States government will in all probability refuse to pay two rewards of $500 each offered for the capture of assailants of Revenue Officer Robert Henry in Wilkes county several months ago when the officer was shot while raiding a blockade distillery and whose life for a time hung by a slender thread. It is known that the matter of the two $500 rewards has been investigated very recently by United States Deputy Marshal T. F. Rowland of Asheville and it is said that Mr. Rowland secured information that convinces him that there was some sort of arrangement, agreement or collusion between the "captors" and the men wanted for the assault and that he will in his report to Marshal Logan recommend that the reward be not paid. In fact it is alleged, according to reports reaching here, that (Continued on Page Seven.)

MR. JORDAN'S FUNERAL WAS HELD AT CARY

Many friends and relatives of Mr. J. B. Jordan, who died Friday night, gathered in the Methodist church at Cary yesterday morning to pay the last tribute to a brave officer, a kind and genial man. The church was packed and many persons could not get in the building. The services were conducted by Rev. G. W. Fisher, the choir singing several old familiar hymns, and Mrs. C. W. Scott rendering a beautiful solo. The floral offerings were many and varied and came from friends from Raleigh, Cary and Durham.

SEABOARD OFFICIALS GOING OVER SYSTEM

Fifty-two officials of the Seaboard Air Line Railway, including the president and general manager, passed through Raleigh yesterday en route for Florida, where they will spend a week inspecting the road and discussing matters of importance to the system. They took a special train at Savannah today in the coach, Mr. N. S. Melder, president, C. H. Hix, general manager, C. R. Capps, vice president, C. B. Ryan, general passenger agent, H. S. Leard, division passenger agent, and E. E. Hunter, commercial agent—the two latter of Raleigh—are among those on the special.

FINE SPEAKERS FOR MEETING

Treat in Store For Visitors to Auditorium Tonight and Tomorrow Night

IS AN ANNUAL EVENT

Professors Graham and Smith to Make Addresses Tonight, President Bondholder and Senator Lodge Tomorrow Night—To Award Patterson Cup—Business Session Tomorrow Afternoon in Hall of House Representatives.

Several hundred North Carolinians, many of them active members of the State Literary and Historical Association, arrived in the city today for the twelfth annual session of the association, which will be called to order by President E. K. Graham in the auditorium tonight. Since the public at large is invited, the large auditorium is expected to be comfortably filled.

Tonight President Graham will deliver his annual address and Dr. C. Alphonso Smith, professor of English in the University of Virginia, will deliver an address. Two able and more talented men are difficult to find and what they will say tonight will be of great interest to their auditors.

An event of unusual interest will be the awarding tonight of the Patterson Cup, presented each year by Mrs. J. Lindsay Patterson of Winston-Salem.

Tomorrow afternoon in the hall of the house of representatives a business session will be held. At this time Mr. R. D. W. Connor, secretary of the North Carolina Historical Commission, will make an address on historical activities of the year; Dr. D. B. Hill, president of the A. M. College, will read the bibliography; the plan of work for the coming year will be discussed; officers will be elected, and the Woman's Club will hold an informal reception.

TO FURNISH DINNERS FOR RALEIGH POOR

Tomorrow and Wednesday contributions for Thanksgiving dinners for Raleigh's poor will be received at the Associated Charities, where the ladies' committee will on Wednesday prepare over three hundred baskets to be sent out, each basket containing the materials for a bountiful dinner. Raleigh, so marked by prosperity and progress this year, certainly has added cause to give thanks and to remember the poor, and this remembrance will make the day and the season all the more appreciated. People who are blessed with means and comforts are asked to give liberally to this most worthy object for these Thanksgiving dinners mean a great deal to hundreds of people, who but for them would have pitifully poor fare. The Capital Club and the Elks Club have made generous contributions for this purpose. The public schools of the city will send their offerings to the Associated Charities rooms. A canvass of the grocers will be made tomorrow by a leading grocer and a lady member of the Associated Charities committee. Everybody in Raleigh has an opportunity to help the worthy poor.

THE PLAY WILL BE SEEN HERE

"The Girl From Rector's" Will Play With Board of Censors Present

MAYOR JOHNSON TALKS

Once Tabooed From Raleigh by Ex-Mayor Wynne, the Ilky Play is Once Again Scheduled to Play at the Academy of Music and Polite the Morals of the City—Mayor Johnson Will Allow It to Show Before Board of Censors—Other Papers Say the Play is Still Spicy and Rank.

When seen today by a reporter of The Daily Times, Mayor Johnson stated that he was going to allow "The Girl From Rectors" to show before a board of censors, with instructions that if it got too spicy to order it stopped. He has received letters from mayors of the various cities where it has played this season and they write him that it is no worse than others coming through the south. He wants to do what is right about it and members of the police force will be present to keep it within its bounds, he says.

"The Girl From Rectors," a play that was chased out of Raleigh by ex-Mayor Wynne, is billed to appear here tomorrow night. Whether it will be allowed to appear here this time is yet to be seen.

As everyone who knows anything about the play, knows, it is of the French type and rather "spicy." Judging from reports of the performance this season, it is just as racy and spicy as on former occasions, and yet the management of the Academy of Music has had the nerve to bill it for tomorrow night after once having been tabooed at this very house. The better class of Raleigh's theatre-goers do not care for shows of this type.

The play was presented in Asheville, Friday night, and Charlotte, Saturday night, and the papers have the following to say of it: "The Girl From Rectors" made its second appearance in the city last night and was welcomed by a very small audience, although it was deserving of a much better house. The show has a general reputation of being a bit too 'spicy' and for that reason may be tabooed by a large number of theatre patrons but there is really little about it now that should give it such a reputation. It is a very amusing comedy and was much enjoyed by those who were present last night. The company was given much well deserved applause and there were eight curtain calls for Miss Dorothy Dalton, after she sang the popular air, "Alexander's Rag-Time Band."

CHARLES W. MORSE IN CRITICAL CONDITION

Atlanta, Nov. 27.—The condition of Charles W. Morse, the convicted New York financier, was unchanged this morning, according to officers at Fort McPherson army hospital, to which he was sent from the federal prison yesterday. He is suffering from Bright's disease and the outcome of his treatment and examination by military surgeons is expected to decide whether he shall be pardoned or paroled.

Germany Withdraws War Vessels. Berlin, Nov. 27.—Germany has withdrawn the warships Panther and Berlin from Agadir, Morocco. This measure seals the settlement of the Moroccan crisis.

ARE PUSHING WORK FOR NEW BUILDING

The work of excavating for the foundation of the new state building to be erected on the corner of Fayetteville and Morgan streets was begun today and before night had progressed rapidly. The building will be completed by January 1, 1913, and the contractors will do some hard work in the next few months. Mr. Ashley Horne, of Clayton, chairman of the state building commission, was in the city today looking over the work.

—Senator Overman, of Salisbury, and his daughter, Mrs. Edwin C. Gregory, will arrive this morning to attend the meeting of the Literary and Historical Association.
