

A. & M. AND GUILFORD TO MEET TONIGHT

Tonight the quintets of A. & M. and Guilford will get together at the Raleigh auditorium for one of the hottest games of basketball that will be seen anywhere in the south this season. The A. & M. team has greatly improved from the last game and they are in perfect shape and then there is Guilford with a team that Wednesday night defeated the Carolina quintet 35 to 20, that's playing basketball.

The game tonight will be one that will be important in the championship of the state, if A. & M. wins, why they will have a look in for the championship; if they lose, well, they will be out of it. Coach Nat Cartmell, of the University track team, will be in charge of the game. He is a man who knows the game and the spectators can rest assured that both sides will get fair play.

The game will be called promptly at 8 o'clock. There will be no special reserved seats, as one seat is as good as another and the entire game can be seen from any seat in the auditorium. The admission will be twenty-five cents.

PARDON IS GRANTED TO ROCKINGHAM COUNTY MAN.

A conditional pardon was granted today by Governor Kitchin to Colin Cobler, convicted in Rockingham county in August, 1910, and sentenced to four years on the public roads in two cases for housebreaking, larceny and receiving. The prisoner has served 18 months and his physical condition is such that physicians recommend his pardon. The governor in his reasons says:

"Prisoner has served eighteen months. Owing to his physical condition he was sent to a hospital some time ago for an operation, where he now is, but it is expected that he will be out of the hospital in about two weeks. He has suffered from mastoid abscess and tuberculosis. The county physician and two other reputable physicians of his county state that further confinement will jeopardize his life—that humanity demands his release so that he may have better opportunity to recover. The prosecutors, the county commissioners and others recommend pardon. The solicitor favors this course. I therefore pardon prisoner on condition that he remain law abiding and of good behavior."

OLD BUCKLEDRER IN JAIL; IS A BAD CHARACTER.

H. M. Hancock, an old buckle-drer, of Chatham and Moore counties is in jail here. He was captured at his still near Siler City. Several months ago he assaulted a neighbor for informing on him and later escaped from the Sanford jail. There was a reward of $200 offered for Hancock's capture.

THE SONS OF JOVE.

Electricians Form Commercial Organization in Raleigh.

The Sons of Jove are the electricians, that name being taken by a social and economic organization, which has for its object improvement of trade conditions, and also good fellowship among the fraternity. What are known as "rejuvenations" are held in various cities of the country in order to initiate candidates. One of these rejuvenations is to be held at Raleigh, February 17th, and on that occasion there will be about fifty candidates from Virginia, South Carolina and twenty-five officers and members from various parts of the country. Several prominent officers and members will make speeches.

The slogan of this order is, "All Together, All the Time, For Everything Electrical." There are certain meetings of the order at which there are no initiations, and then there are the rejuvenations or ceremonies of initiations. The ritual is dignified and impressive and while the theme is taken from Greek mythology, there is nothing in the least objectionable to any religious creed. After the ceremonies of initiation there will be a banquet, which in the language of this order is known as a "rejuvenation." The electrical industry needs such a co-operative, get-together movement. The lumbermen have their order, the "Hoos," with a membership of over 15,000, and the electricians say their own order has unlimited possibilities for development. The business part of the session here will be held in the Chamber of Commerce and the ceremonies will take place in the Mechanics Hall. The Order of the Rejuvenated Sons of Jove was established thirteen years ago, at Austin, Texas. It provides a common ground for the electrical trade and it has a real value and a distinct purpose.

COSTS ARE REDUCED.

Gradual Reductions Made in Expense Incurred by County in Criminal Cases.

The costs paid by Wake county for the January term of criminal court amounted to $518.97. The costs for the same term in 1911 amounted to $725.95 and for January, 1910, amounted to $824.72. The credit for the reduction each term is due to Solicitor Norris and Deputy Clerk Royster, who have worked together with the end in view of saving the county every dollar possible. The biggest saving in the county, however, is in the manner in which Mr. Royster and the solicitor save on witnesses. The January term usually has about 100 criminal cases on the docket, with 300 witnesses. Mr. Royster arranges to have called for each day a specified number of cases and the witnesses in these cases are summoned to appear only on the day in which their cases will be called. About $400 is saved by this means.

Wake Farmers Meet.

The Wake County Farmers Union held a meeting at noon today in the court house. The session was secret.

PAUL JONES' NIECE STARVES.

Mme. Marianne Stuart Gombault Found Dead in Paris.

Paris, Feb. 2.—Marion Stuart Gombault, grand niece of John Paul Jones, the American naval hero, was found dead in her rooms of starvation. She was 67 years old and is survived by a grandson.

Mme. Gombault was wealthy in her younger days, but since 1893 she had been in dire poverty. She struggled valiantly against fate and time after time sought to obtain employment in the shops of this city. Her age militated against her and at last she turned to picking up such small sums as she could by acting as guide to American visitors to this city.

It is known that the dead woman possessed several relics of interest historically to the American people. Among them were the sword worn by Paul Jones and a locket containing a lock of his hair.

There is also among her things, it is reported to be true, a miniature portrait of the seaman. All these have been seized by Mme. Gombault's hotel-keeper, to whom she was indebted for her room and board.

Mme. Gombault was born in Charleston, S. C. She was educated in New York city. Her mother was a daughter of a sister of John Paul Jones. Nearly five years ago Mme. Gombault was found in Paris by General Samuel C. Lawrence, of Boston, who bought from her a number of Paul Jones' relics, among them the original document which Jones sent to the American congressional committee and in which he described the fitting out of the ship Ranger at Portsmouth, N. H.
