DIES UNDER HOLMES CURSE.

Detective Who Helped Trail Famous Murder Expires Suddenly.

Philadelphia, April 4.-One more conviction seventeen years ago of H. S. Holmes, the murder, died suddenly today, fulfilling the prophesy of the slayer that all who aided in his downfall would meet untimely deaths. CITY BANKS CLOSE AT NOON SATURDAY

Beginning Saturday all the banks in the city will close their doors at noon for this one day in the week, thereby enabling the employes to enjoy more freedom in the open. The savings banks will reopen again at 5 and close at 9 o'clock on Satur days, as usual.

In taking this step the Raleigh institutions are but following the example of banks in other cities, and it is suggested that many other business houses might take the same action. Several years ago retail merchants thought it unreasonable to close their stores until late at night, but the early-closing policy has been successful from every standpoint. It is not sought to have the retail stores close at noon, however, and these were cited merely as an example. Business men are coming more to realize the necessity for giving their employes plenty of time in which to take exercise, and it is hoped by the leaders in the noon-closing on Batur- with the handling of mails and many sixty passengers in the car.
