RALEIGH MUST HAVE THE HOME OFFICE

This City the Logical Place For Headquarters of Merged Jefferson Standard and Greensboro Life Insurance Companies

COMMITTEE WILL WORK OUT DETAILS

Twenty-four Men, Twelve From Each Company, to Arrange for Location of Home Office, the Name of the Company and the Officers Who Will Be in Charge—All Raleigh People Pulling for Capital City and Her Many Advantages Will Be Presented in One Form or Another—Both Corporations Have Been Successful and Union Would Mean Much for Them.

Interest in the proposed merger of the Jefferson Standard Life Insurance Company with the Greensboro Life Insurance Company centered today in the location of the home office. All other matters were lost sight of by the Raleigh public.

As stated in The Times yesterday afternoon the stockholders of the Jefferson Standard appointed a committee of twelve to take up the details of the consolidation with a similar committee from the Greensboro Life. The joint committee will hold a meeting at an early date, probably this week, when such details as the name of the combined company, the location of the home office, the officers of the company.

The stockholders of the Greensboro company several weeks ago voted to merge the two concerns and it only remained for favorable action by the stockholders of the Raleigh concern to insure the merger. This action was taken yesterday afternoon. The meeting was largely attended and the stockholders unanimously received the proposition.

Both Strong Companies. The Jefferson Standard was organized five years ago with Jos. G. Brown, president; P. D. Gold, Jr., vice-president and general manager; C. W. Gold, secretary and superintendent of agencies; Dr. Albert Anderson, medical examiner; Charles Camewell, actuary, and W. H. Pace, attorney. The capital and surplus amount to $500,000.

The officers of the Greensboro Life Insurance Company, which was organized more than 10 years ago, are J. W. Fry, president; Julian Price, secretary and manager; Klug & Kimball, general counsel; J. T. J. Battle, medical director, and C. W. Jackson, actuary.

Raleigh Wants Home Office. Although Raleigh people generally will have nothing to do with selecting the home office of the merged companies, they are as one in asking that headquarters be maintained here. Every business man, including men engaged in the insurance business, agrees that the merger will prove of benefit to the stockholders and policyholders of the two companies, and everybody

PRESIDENT CALLS ROOSEVELT'S GAME

Springfield, Mass., April 25.—President Taft, made answer to criticisms Colonel Theodore Roosevelt has made of him and his administration. In a speech bristling with indignation in which he named Roosevelt over and over again, Taft told the crowd that filled the public square how he believed Roosevelt had not given him a "square deal" and how he "misstated" and "distorted" facts concerning Taft's conduct and actions in the white house.

Killed Wife and Himself. Atlanta, April 25.—Judge Edward A. Robertson of Alpharetta, Ga., who shot and killed his wife yesterday, died in a hospital here from two self-inflicted bullet wounds. Jealousy it is said, caused the tragedy.

expresses the desire that the committee decide in favor of the capital city.

Should Be Here. There is not the slightest doubt that the representatives of the Jefferson Standard will insist that the home office be placed in Raleigh, and they will bring all the strong points possible to bear on the committee representing the Greensboro Life. But somebody will have to concede. It is the hope, however, that the wisdom of selecting Raleigh will seem so real that there will be little difficulty in reaching an agreement.

A number of prominent republicans were here, among them being E. C. Duncan, national committee.

MANY PICNICS FOR RALEIGH

Chamber of Commerce Sending Out Information About the City

The chamber of commerce is issuing its annual booklet, telling about Raleigh's attractions which seem to every Sunday school within a radius of something like a hundred miles of this city. This publication has proved in past years to be of interest and value. Raleigh is the chief excursion point in the future of the state, and this season will have even more attractions than usual, not forgetting the new path between the Country club and Chatham's creek, reached by the car line.

There have been two suggestions at the new park and the boat race, and the Chamber of Commerce has been requested to send out information about the city. A very large pavilion will crown the apex of the hill, from which there is a wonderful view. Some amusements will be found there which are not anywhere in North Carolina.

SAW FREIGHTER SINK IN THE ICE-FIELD

New York, April 25.—The Norwegian steamship Romsdal's officers, in the dock today, after a perilous trip through the field of ice, believe they witnessed the sinking of a freight ship of about eight thousand tons in latitude 45.50, longitude 57.00, four hundred miles north of the Titanic grave, March 20. The steamer's identity is unknown. The Romsdal, in attempting to respond to the freight steamer's radio calls for help, was wedged in the ice, as a result her hull was cracked.

DEATH OF MISS MOSELEY

One of Charlotte's Most Attractive and Popular Ladies. Charlotte, April 25.—The whole city was grieved yesterday afternoon to hear of the death of Miss Maud Moseley, the eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Moseley. Death was due to a complication of diseases, and it was expected for some time. Last month Miss Moseley was taken to the Presbyterian Hospital for an operation for appendicitis and before the operation she developed a case of typhoid fever and was recovering from that when pneumonia developed.

Miss Moseley was in her 21st year, and was one of Charlotte's most popular young ladies, a leader in the social set and a favorite of all who knew her. She had relatives in Raleigh, where she visited for much of her life. Mr. T. B. Moseley and Mrs. Harry Poole.

BOY OF 14 A MURDERER

Needed Money, So Shot Man Who Was Going Down the Road. Baltimore, April 25.—Wilfred J. Preston, 14 years old, yesterday confessed to the police that he killed Frederick Baer, a week ago in a suburb of this city. Robbery was the motive. Young Preston said: "I fired the first three shots at a target. Afterward I saw this man going down the road. Being a good shot and needing some money, I aimed at his leg, intending to cripple him, but the shot went high. After that I robbed him."

MEXICANS MISTREAT AMERICAN ENGINEER

Laredo, Tex., April 25.—How Mexican bandits held up his train, attacked the passengers, robbed and beat the men and women indiscriminately, was told by Peter McFarlan, American locomotive engineer, among the refugees arriving here. The train was held up April 11, between Silao and Guanajuato. Conductor Cane was killed.

MT. TEMPLE WAS CLOSE BY

Passenger Says He Saw the Masts of the Titanic From Deck of the Mt. Temple

200 BODIES RECOVERED

E. W. Zurich, Passenger on the Mount Temple Ship, Caught the Call of Distress Shortly After 12 O'clock, Monday Morning—Captain Headed for Titanic, But When He Arrived in Sight of Ice Flew Made No Further Effort to Reach Sinking Ship—Says Lights of Titanic Were Visible.

Strathcona, Alberta, April 25.—E. W. Zurich, who crossed from Anwerp to St. John on the Canadian Pacific Railway steamer Mount Temple, made a statement concerning what was observed from the Mount Temple at sea, the Sunday night the Titanic went down. Zurich says the passengers aboard the Mount Temple heard of the Titanic's distress at 12:15, Monday morning, when wireless call for help came. Captain Moore changed the vessel's course immediately, heading for the Titanic, lifeboats being swung from the davits and other preparations made for lending aid.

The northern course was not held long, Zurich says, because a great ice field loomed ahead. It was reported among the crew and passengers that the captain made no further efforts to penetrate the floes, asserting he could not afford to endanger the two thousand souls aboard his ship.

205 BODIES RECOVERED

New York, April 25.—Two hundred and five bodies of the Titanic victims were picked up at sea by the cable steamer Mackay-Bennett, and are being brought to Halifax, Nova Scotia.

The cable ship's captain confirms the identification of Geo. D. Widener, P. A. B. Widener's son of Philadelphia, in a wireless dispatch. The wireless said that the majority of the bodies will never come to the surface. Captain Lauren sent word through the Cape Race wireless station that the Mackay-Bennett has been drifting in the fog since noon yesterday.
