The New Arrival.

There came to port last Sunday night The queerest little craft, Without an inch of rigging on-Hooked, and looked, and laughed: It was so singular that she Should cross the Unknown water. And moor herself right in my room-My daughter, oh, my daughter!

Yet by those parents witness all, She's welcome fifty times. And comes consigned to Hope and Love. And common metre rhymes; she has no manifest but this: No rag floats o'er the water; she'n too new for the British Lloyd's-

My daughter, ch, my daughter!

Ring out wild bells-and tame ones too-Ring out with the lover's moon, Ring out the If the worsted socks, Ring in the bib and spoon. Ring out the muse, ring in the nurse, Ring in the milk and water; Away with paper, pens, and ink -My daughter, oh, my daughter!

Baby's First Tooth.

Come, look at the dainty darling! A fresh as a new blown rose, From the top of his head so golden, To the de "liftle restlecs toes; You can tell by the dencing dimples,. by the amiles that come and go, He is keeping a wonderful secret You'd give half your kingdom to know.

New kirs him on cheek and forehead. And . is lim on "p and chin; The line red month is hiding he rame t f men is within: Ah, see! when the lips in smilling Have parted heir Do you see the tiny white jewel,

Now w' are are the sage reporters, Who wait by hamlet and kill, To tall the detening nation The news of its good or ill? Come weave with your idle gossip This golden is osman of truth-Just half a year old this morning, And the fittle pearly tooth!

Set deep in its coral be 1.?

The Hope of the Country.

The Rielmond Disputch has an article on the reeds of Virginia, present and prosper ve, witch we commend to those now stepp nor upon le arena of public life, in other States beside Virginia:

We are round of the young men of the land. To bear nemse ves well, and move w to the bundence and self rel ance They wa! soon have to bear the are burdens of the land, and to see that they at least are not man or ag themselves to those soc . Canges which are so trying to old age bet to which, fortunately for them, the you'd enables them with facility to

The times demand of the young men, for the repose of fitting themselves for terral v acreasing responsibilities, to view he so descon in a broad and comprehed eight. They should let no prejudies stad a fire way of their improvement in ney manner. Nor should they be slow to perceive the results of the great resolution which makes it indisproble to be projection of the commu y should be physically strong growth n numbers and wealth shoun be as rand as possible and that the source of the country should be made and able in the highest degree.

There some great fact that all young mer sho d val'ze. That is, that until Virg in is our upon a footing of equality with he other States in the facility of her common at a nter or v and with other tomm to she annot have an equality but a or of the general commerce ot to the Es other communi-

It will come, and come to stay. Thes you will advance the interests of our gar ous ed Virg cia, and make her

But, ou there be now young men in Virg a wo out to have lived a hunand wars ago. There be such in the Legislature of Virginia. They are like the terran o boused in their shells, and hever leve tuem. They cannot rise above the low 'eve of their ground, and can never detach emselves from the hard and impervious covering which confines their particed minds to the poor office of travelling in a very small circle.

It is imentable to see a young man who stand d'be so wide awake so hopeful -50 far-seeing - so generous -thus perverted, and in intellect prematurely putting on the or revitude and captiousness of a e, and its aversion to improvement

Let us young Virginians (we feel your youth though long past your years) adapt ourselves to the situation-adopt the most liberal and comprehensive views of policy; endeavor to be fair to all communitiesalike to those whose trade we seek or whose money we borrow, and to those who invest money; encourage railroad enterprises; make the business (for it has become a specialty) of railroading free everywhere in the State, and abolish all discriminations, all restrictions. Then we shall indeed separate from old fogyism.
