

The DAILY REGISTER is served to city subscribers at...

The WEEKLY REGISTER is issued every Friday...

Subscribers changing their post offices, will please state...

BOOK AND JOB PRINTING of every description exact...

THE WEEKLY REGISTER.

FRIDAY MORNING, NOVEMBER 20, 1863.

NORTH CAROLINA MATTERS.

OFFICIAL VOTE OF THE 3D CONGRESS-

Table with 4 columns: Name, Votes, and other columns. Includes names like Wayne, Johnson, Sampson, Craven, Onslow, Duplin.

From the above return it appears that Dr. Leach...

Dr. Leach, although elected, gave in his resignation...

Dr. Leach, although elected, gave in his resignation...

Dr. Leach, although elected, gave in his resignation...

Dr. Leach, although elected, gave in his resignation...

Dr. Leach, although elected, gave in his resignation...

Dr. Leach, although elected, gave in his resignation...

Dr. Leach, although elected, gave in his resignation...

Dr. Leach, although elected, gave in his resignation...

Dr. Leach, although elected, gave in his resignation...

The Weekly Register.

We are much pleased to see that the additional engines...

The Thirty-Ninth N. C. Regiment at Chickamauga...

FROM GEN. LEE'S ARMY. [Correspondence of the Daily Register.]

CAMP 12TH VA. REG'T, A. N. V., November 11, 1863.

Mr. Editor: On Saturday evening last, while seated...

FROM WESTERN VIRGINIA AND EAST TENNESSEE. [Correspondence of the Daily Register.]

DEPT. WESTERN VA. AND E. TENN., Camp of Oney Battery, near Blountville, Tenn., Nov. 10, 1863.

Mr. Editor: Some time ago I saw in your paper a notice...

Promotions: A correspondent of the 20th North Carolina Regiment...

notwithstanding our scanty supply of canvas, our experience in building comfortable huts...

Yesterday we were called upon to witness one of the most harrowing spectacles we ever beheld...

On Monday last we had quite a brisk fall of snow, which was followed by a fierce North wind...

Mr. Harrison reached us on Monday, and was greeted with his usual welcome.

The Louisiana occupied the lower part of the river, the pontoon bridge, the only place of crossing for infantry...

FROM WESTERN VIRGINIA AND EAST TENNESSEE. [Correspondence of the Daily Register.]

DEPT. WESTERN VA. AND E. TENN., Camp of Oney Battery, near Blountville, Tenn., Nov. 10, 1863.

Mr. Editor: Some time ago I saw in your paper a notice...

Promotions: A correspondent of the 20th North Carolina Regiment...

the retreat of our forces in East Tennessee, unless Burnside overwhelms our little force...

Yours truly, From the Richmond Examiner.

DISASTER TO GENERAL HOKE'S BRIGADE. AT OUR OLD CAMPS ON THE RAPID, November 10th, 1863.

To the Editor of the Examiner: A report of the brigade of the afternoon of Saturday, the 7th inst...

The Louisiana occupied the lower part of the river, the pontoon bridge, the only place of crossing for infantry...

FROM WESTERN VIRGINIA AND EAST TENNESSEE. [Correspondence of the Daily Register.]

DEPT. WESTERN VA. AND E. TENN., Camp of Oney Battery, near Blountville, Tenn., Nov. 10, 1863.

Mr. Editor: Some time ago I saw in your paper a notice...

Promotions: A correspondent of the 20th North Carolina Regiment...

A DISASTROUS BALLOON EXCURSION. There was a grand balloon excursion from Paris three weeks ago.

The balloon was called "The Giant," it was white, the car carried some legs of mutton, a lobster, champagne, carriage wheels...

From the Richmond Examiner. DISASTER TO GENERAL HOKE'S BRIGADE.

To the Editor of the Examiner: A report of the brigade of the afternoon of Saturday, the 7th inst...

The Louisiana occupied the lower part of the river, the pontoon bridge, the only place of crossing for infantry...

FROM WESTERN VIRGINIA AND EAST TENNESSEE. [Correspondence of the Daily Register.]

DEPT. WESTERN VA. AND E. TENN., Camp of Oney Battery, near Blountville, Tenn., Nov. 10, 1863.

Mr. Editor: Some time ago I saw in your paper a notice...

Promotions: A correspondent of the 20th North Carolina Regiment...

TERMS OF ADVERTISING. Advertisements will be inserted in the DAILY, SEMI-WEEKLY and WEEKLY...

TELEGRAPHIC REPORTS. Entered according to Act of Congress in the year 1863...

FROM CHARLESTON. CHARLESTON, Nov. 18 P. M.—Firing from the enemy has been rapid and continuous all day...

FROM THE ARMY OF TENNESSEE. ATLANTA, Nov. 13.—Nothing from the front. A party of Georgia State Troops and Indians killed on the line between Georgia and North Carolina...

GEORGIA LEGISLATURE. MILLEDGEVILLE, Nov. 14.—Hon. J. H. Lumpkin has been unanimously confirmed by the Senate...

FROM ABINGDON. ABINGDON, Nov. 14.—Nothing further from East Tennessee. The weather is cloudy and a slight snow is falling.

THE STRENGTH OF THE TWO ARMIES AT CHICKAMAUGA. The Army correspondent of the Richmond Dispatch, writing under date of the 5th instant, says:

Since the Federal press, following the example of Gen. Rosecrans, persists in attributing their defeat to Chickamauga, to the overwhelming numbers of the Confederates...

McCook's corps, three divisions, 18,000. Thomas's corps, four divisions, 20,000. Granger's reserve corps, three divisions, 15,000.

This is exclusive of Stanley's corps of cavalry, composed of three divisions. Some small detachments from this large force, say 12,000 in all, were on duty in the rear...

Opposed to this formidable army, Gen. Bragg did not have, exclusive of cavalry, exceeding 40,000 men. And yet his brave troops, equipped with the fighting cartridges nearly 8,000, exceeding 43 pieces of artillery, 25,000 stand of small arms...

On the route, Gen. I. was reinforced by the Home Guards of Rockbridge and the cadets of the Virginia Military Institute. The enemy having defeated Jackson and Echols, turned in the direction of Covington, about two miles from which point they were met by Imboden's forces.

From Staunton we have some further particulars of the movements of the enemy's forces under Gen. Averill, and the operations of our own forces in consequence.

On the route, Gen. I. was reinforced by the Home Guards of Rockbridge and the cadets of the Virginia Military Institute. The enemy having defeated Jackson and Echols, turned in the direction of Covington, about two miles from which point they were met by Imboden's forces.

On the route, Gen. I. was reinforced by the Home Guards of Rockbridge and the cadets of the Virginia Military Institute. The enemy having defeated Jackson and Echols, turned in the direction of Covington, about two miles from which point they were met by Imboden's forces.

On the route, Gen. I. was reinforced by the Home Guards of Rockbridge and the cadets of the Virginia Military Institute. The enemy having defeated Jackson and Echols, turned in the direction of Covington, about two miles from which point they were met by Imboden's forces.

On the route, Gen. I. was reinforced by the Home Guards of Rockbridge and the cadets of the Virginia Military Institute. The enemy having defeated Jackson and Echols, turned in the direction of Covington, about two miles from which point they were met by Imboden's forces.

On the route, Gen. I. was reinforced by the Home Guards of Rockbridge and the cadets of the Virginia Military Institute. The enemy having defeated Jackson and Echols, turned in the direction of Covington, about two miles from which point they were met by Imboden's forces.